NEW HAMPSHIRE WINS CLOSE DUAL MEET FROM BATES 64-62

QUARTER AND TWO MILE THE FEATURES OF CLOSE AND INTERESTING COMPETITION

Gregory Establishes New Bates Record

New Hampshire State College managed to nose out a victory by the small margin of two points in the dual meet with Bates on Garcelon Field last Saturday afternoon. The two teams battled on almost even terms throughout the entire afternoon until the discus throw, the last event on the program. At this time Bates was six points behind and needed a first and second place to win. Pinkham hurled the disk 118 feet 4 inches for a first, but Quimby lacked a few inches of beating Bennett of New Hampshire, and Bates had lost the most interesting meet witnessed on Garcelon Field for several years by the closest of margins.

The result was as gratifying as a win to Bates followers, not only because the absence of one of two mishaps might have turned the tide the other way, but also because the work of the locals was a revelation to everyone and gives promise of good results next Saturday in the State contest. Some very good times were made in the races, and unexpected strength was uncovered in the field events. Lawrence, handicapped by a bad start, took the lead in the quarter about midway in the course and showed his heels to the field in the very fast time of 52 4-5 seconds, only two-fifths of a second slower than the time made in the State meet last year.

Gregory, who won the two mile race in the Bowdoin meet, established a new Bates record in this event, beating the mark made by Bosworth, '08, by about thirteen seconds. This race was probably the feature of the afternoon. Gregory took the lead at the start and headed Nightingale by a stride or two for seven laps. On the last lap Nightingale took the lead and maintained it for three-fourths of the distance in spite of two fine sprints by Gregory. Just as the Bates rooters began to fear that their favorite must be content with a second place, he started a sprint which carried him into the lead and across the tape yards ahead of his opponent. The time 10 minutes 5 1-5 seconds gave him a college record, and a fine opportunity in the event next Saturday at Brunswick.

Meanwhile White had been plodding along nearly a quarter of a lap behind Dustin of New Hampshire. Just before the last turn down the home stretch a wonderful thing happened. Aroused as if the result of the meet depended on this third place White tore around the bend with an incredible burst of speed, overtook his man, and crossed the line a scant foot ahead. His gameness and display of reserve strength drew round after round of applause from the spectators.

The half mile was also close and interesting. Capt. Boyd lead the field around the last lap until he reached the home stretch when he showed the effects of the gruelling pace. Wentworth then forged ahead and won by a fairly good margin in the fast time of 2 minutes 4 3-5 seconds. Snow ran a very good race, and finished a few feet behind his captain, thus giving Bates a second and third.

The 220 yard low hurdles was the event which unfortunately lost the meet for Bates. Quimby had won the high hurdles in fairly easy fashion and was running well in the low when his leg, which has been bothering him for some time, went back on him and he fell. Consequently, New Hampshire won the first two places and the meet, as it proved later.

"Doc" Barrow won the 100 yard dash easily and his running in this event should find a place for him in Maine Intercollegiate competition. The 220 yard race was a little too much for (Continued on Page Two)

GENERAL PROBLEMS OF SECONDARY SCHOOL ATHLETICS DISCUSSED

A large number of students were very much interested Monday evening in Dr. Page's discussion of secondary school athletics in general and, in particular, of the system at Andover. In his opinion the High and Preparatory Schools are the ideal place for physical work, and the demand for coaches and directors far exceeds the supply. He mentioned various aims: the inter school, the intra school, and the combination of the two which he showed was the best. The physical department when possible should consist of three parts; first, a committee of trustees to have charge of the finances; second, a faculty committee to have charge of the eligibility rules; third, the student committee of captains and managers to carry out the various athletic programs. There are three types of coach; the faculty coach, the paid coach, and the student coach. Of these the first type is the best as it serves to link the academic and physical work.

The organization at Andover was interesting. In the fall immediately after the opening of school each student is given a thorough medical examination. Next, each student is required to enroll for some form of athletics or simpler exercise, but unless he can pass a certain test he must take gymnasium work. The school supplies all the athletic equipment, but demands that each student shall sign for what he uses and return the article or its value.

Dr. Page mentioned a few dangers, as newspaper notoriety and the relation of athletics to studies. Lack of exercise is rather to be feared than too much exercise. Care should be taken not to give a boy too hard exercise nor allow him to play on too many teams, thus sacrificing him to the school. In naming the qualifications of a good coach he spoke of all the best qualities of character, joined to a good knowledge of athletics and ability to impart it. As a life work it demands a medical preparation. All thru his lecture he stressed the importance of physical culture for all the students, a purpose well worthy of forming a part of the ideal for the education of all the children of all the people.

NEGATIVE WON UNANIMOUS DECISION ON MILITARY INCREASE QUESTION

Quimby the Best Individual Debater

The men's division of the Sophomore Championship Debates was held last Friday evening in Hathorn Hall. The question under consideration was: Resolved, That the United States should have a navy equal to that of Great Britain, and an army of at least six hundred thousand men. The speakers for the affirmative were Mark E. Stinson, Lewis A. Baker, Julian D. Coleman, with Floyd Norton as alternate. The negative was upheld by Brooks Quimby, L. W. Witham, and Ralph W. George, with Donald W. Davis as alternate.

The judges, W. H. Clifford, Franklin Fisher, and F. H. Thurston, awarded the decision unanimously to the negative, while Mr. Quimby of the negative team was unanimously declared to be the best individual debater.

There was a rather small attendance of Sophomores present at the debate, but a fair number from the other classes made up an audience. Prayer was offered by Dr. Bartlett of the Pine St. Congregational Church. Professor Carroll was Presiding Officer, and the timekeepers were Henry Johnson and Dana Russell. Music was furnished

MISS FIELD AND MISS CLARK ADDRESS GIRLS AT VESPERS

WORK OF THE EIGHT WEEKS CLUBS DISCUSSED

Last Sunday Bates girls were visited by Miss Jessie Field, Town and County Secretary of the National Y. W. C. A. Board, and Miss Anna Clark, County Secretary of the Northeastern Field. Both women are well known among college girls both for their charming personalities and the articles written by them for Association Magazines.

At Vespers Dean Buswell presided and introduced first Miss Clark. Miss Clark showed the girls pictures of Eight Weeks Club girls, and then said in part: There is a great need to-day in country work for the right kind of leaders, especially of groups for community service. The Eight Weeks Club is a kind of laboratory for college girls. Many such clubs have been formed by girls in different parts of the United States, and various activities have been engaged in. Here is a splendid chance for a college girl to try out her power of leadership and to bring her contagious personality and her enthusiasm in touch with other people.

Miss Field then said: When I see an evening star I wish that every girl might be the kind of a woman that her mother wants her to be. I once asked a boy what the most beautiful thing in the world was. He said, "It is right along here by the road." The most beautiful thing is always right around us in the lives of people—it is so great a desire to serve that you put others before yourself and do it gladly. The hard things are given us to make us grow stronger and finer and purer within. There should be something in us to remind people of their biggest ideal of the love of God. We should be "the best that we can of the kind that we are."

Miss Clark and Miss Field met the Eight Weeks Club girls in a group meeting and it is expected that a number of Bates girls will organize such clubs next summer.

Y. W. C. A.

Despite the call of "The New Henrietta" there was a good attendance at the Y. W. C. A. meeting on the evening of May 4. The subject was "The Y. W. C. A. and the College Girl." The two speakers, Margie Bradbury and Gladys Logan, expressed the feelings of all the girls in telling what the society had given them, and what they hoped it would give others. Ruth Dresser led the meeting, and the special music was a duet by Ruth Chapman and Blanche Wright.

during the long interval between the close of the debate and the decision of the judges.

The debate was hard fought and had a clear clash of opinion from the very beginning. The affirmative contended that our present defenses were inadequate to maintain our rightful position as a great nation of the world and that their proposal would remedy these defects and at the same time be practicable. The negative declared that our present international relations and the conditions for possible warfare both in our own and in foreign countries did not warrant such a program and advocated instead changes in our military establishment. Some clever work was shown in refutation in the main speeches, while the enthusiasm and timely illustrations of Mr. Baker were a source of amusement for the audience. All the men showed a willingness and ability to directly attack the arguments of their opponents.

BATES AND MAINE TIE IN SECOND CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

EXCITING CONTEST STOPPED AT END OF 13th INNING BY DARKNESS WITH 4-4

Purvere Strikes Out 14 Men

Maine and Bates played a 4 to 4, 13-inning tie game yesterday afternoon before a large crowd of enthusiastic spectators. It was one of the most exciting games seen on Garcelon Field for a long time. Both teams fought hard during the extra innings for the winning run, but finally the game had to be called on account of darkness. Bates has to be thankful to Purvere who pitched an excellent game and struck out fourteen men. Frost pitched a good game, although relieved by "Mike" Driscoll in the ninth inning.

The Maine infield showed up badly and made seven errors, of which two were very costly. The scoring started at the beginning of the game when Lawry, the second man up, got a hit, stole second and came home on a bad throw to catch him at third. Maine also scored again in the third, two two-base hits coming together. Bates made up for this handicap in its half of the third by scoring three runs. Purvere received a base on balls, was sacrificed to second by Davis and scored when Pendleton fumbled Logan's grounder. Logan was out at second on Harvey's hit to Rowe. Lord got on base on Hackett's error, and both Lord and Harvey scored on Duncan's single which Gorham fumbled.

From the third to the ninth inning Purvere had the Maine batters under his control. In the ninth Maine tied the score with a base on balls, combined with two errors and a single. From then on Maine was never dangerous while Bates had men on bases in every one of the extra innings except the tenth.

Duncan scored the fourth run for Bates in the sixth inning, when he singled, went to second on Frost's error and scored on sacrifices by Marston and Harvey.

The features of the game for Bates were spectacular catches by MacDonald and Davis, and Talbot's throw which cut off a man at the plate.

Errors figured largely in the scoring on both sides, each team falling down at a crucial moment. The score:

BIGGEST BATES NIGHT EVER

STUDENT COUNCIL PLANS INNOVATION FROM CELEBRATION OF FORMER YEARS

Classes Will Appear in Appropriate Regalia

Plans are being made by the student council for a Bates Night to take place May 26th which shall be somewhat of an innovation from the usual Bates Night of previous years.

Invitations to attend have been sent to the senior classes of Jordan, and Edward Little High Schools, as well as to forty or fifty sub-freshmen from out of the city. Each class of the college will be expected to wear some sort of regalia and form on the campus to march to the hall, where the classes and school delegations will give their cheers, and cheer each other. Following the cheering, there will be three good speeches by prominent alumni. After these each class will be expected to stage some vaudeville act which shall have been thought out before hand. The evening will be closed with extemporaneous cheering and refreshments.

BATES WINS FIRST CHAMPIONSHIP GAME AT ORONO

UNIVERSITY OF MAINE DEFEATED 2 TO 1 BEFORE LARGE HOME CROWD

Pitching of Purvere a Big Factor

Bates started its championship baseball series exceedingly well last Saturday when it pulled Maine down from first place in the league by the score of 2 to 1. The game was played in Maine territory and before one of the largest crowds that ever witnessed a college baseball game in the State. It was Junior Week at Orono and every available seat in the grandstand and bleachers was taken.

The Bates team played errorless ball and supported Purvere excellently. Frost of Maine also pitched a fine game, and the contest was really a pitchers battle. Both pitchers kept the hits well scattered and without the fast base running of Davis the game might have gone on until dark with a one to one score. The features of the game were the running catch of Lawry's short foul fly back of third base by Marston, and the perfect way in which Maine broke up a double steal in the fourth.

Purvere's only weakness seemed to occur in the first inning when Lawry and Hackett were passed after Phillips had struck out. Purvere, however, got out of this bad place when Lawry was caught off third on an attempted steal and Rowe struck out. In the second Frost was lucky to keep from being scored on as there were three Bates men on bases and none out, but by catching Marston off second and keeping Talbot and Harvey from hitting he prevented a score.

Maine scored first, and its only run of the game came in the fourth inning when, after hits by Hackett and Rowe, Hackett scored on Ruffner's sacrifice fly. Bates kept in the game, however, and in the sixth inning after MacDonald had been passed Duncan hit a long two bagger to right field, bringing "Mac" home.

Bates won the game in the eighth inning. Davis was safe at first, stole second, and scored when Pendleton missed Reardon's throw. This ended the scoring and hitting for the afternoon.

The score:

To parade or not to parade, that is the question. Shall we make it a policy to don the time-honored regalia of nightly revel and preambulate the congested thoroughfares of the Twin Cities with brass band and fry array in jubilant celebration of any and all athletic contests which we may capture; or does it seem a little more in keeping with our College Spirit to engage in such extremes of nocturnal bilarity only after such victories as are of the greatest importance? The latter course seems to indicate the saner attitude. To think that small triumphs require as much demonstration as great ones is a bad habit to fall into. If we become accustomed to celebrate all victories alike, interest and enthusiasm will soon deteriorate and we won't have any power left on hand when it comes time to fire the big gun. Familiarity breeds contempt; overdoing a thing is worse than underdoing it. The wisdom of the policy pursued in celebrating the recent victory over Brown has been questioned. Perhaps, in the future, it would be better to confine our "violent demonstrations" to the victories which mean the most.

Most of us are always ready and able to find fault; unfortunately few of us feel that we can afford the time to cultivate a little constructive attitude of mind once in a while. If the privilege of considering every knock a boost were not free, some would find this a sad, sad world indeed. During the last two weeks the board at the College Commons has been steadily on the improvement. How many of us have taken the trouble to note this fact? Most of us are still grumbling over the trifles; most of us are so wrapped up in the trivial concerns of our own petty individual interests that we go through life wholly unconscious of the things most worth while. The Commons, if it is to be successful, must have our co-operation. Unsatisfactory conditions may occasionally arise; such conditions can be remedied. But "deserting the ship" is not one of the means. The "anvil chorus" sometimes accomplishes something; the constructive policy of co-operation always does.

Magazine Subscription Fakirs

We recently received the following news letter from the University of Maine:

For several months magazine subscription fakirs have been operating in sections of Maine, particularly in Penobscot and Somerset Counties. These men usually claim that they are college students who are compelled to work their way through college. A small deposit to bind the agreement is made by the subscriber and the agent leaves a receipt for the same. Quite often it is the case that neither the magazine nor agent are heard from. In their willingness to assist a worthy boy or girl who is striving for an education the public should make sure that he or she is a bona fide student in some institution. If the subscriber would insist on the agent showing a letter from the president of the institution in which the student claims to be enrolled such fakirs would soon do no business. Do not be an accessory to a fraud. If the agent states that he is a student in some institution insist on his showing a statement verifying that fact.

OBSERVANT CITIZEN

Limitations of time, place and circumstances are reducing tennis joys and clipping the wings of champs-in-the-making.

Recall what a good banquet we had last time. The one coming is going to be even better. By that time we will have played five games of the series and be on the eve of the sixth.

Gregory has made a name for himself.

There were lots of "if's" floating round after the meet. It is weakness to talk about what we would have done if such and such a thing had or had not happened. New Hampshire won by two points. They are to be congratulated in view of the fact that Bates men took a majority of the first places. A second place may not make the winner of it famous enough to go down in the history of college athletics but we had a demonstration of the fact that even such a small matter can swing a meet against us.

Judging from the conduct of New Hampshire State College men both at home and abroad we would say that the man and the gentleman are combined in everyone of them. They have always given our teams and musical clubs the most hospitable and courteous entertainment at Durham and have never failed to do the square thing when on our campus. Nor did this estimate come from the New Hampshire Club.

Institutions furnishing music for athletic contests where the reputation of a college is at stake should be operated on the principle of simultaneous action and joint responsibility, centered in a leader who will see that all instruments are in tune before commencing to play a selection, and count out the four beats preliminary to an attack. Imagine horses with a heavy load each starting up at a different time a few seconds apart. Those who blow with others in public should act together, not one at a time like people in a country church when they rise to sing the doxology.

The Lake Andrews Quartet gave a concert last Sunday in Frog Pond.

Ours is still identically the same team that beat Maine last Saturday.

We have confidence in our team and are going to stand behind our athletes in every way possible to the very end, be that end bitter or sweet.

In our enthusiasm over early victories we should bear in mind that some men can't stand a great deal of praise and notoriety, at least psychologists say so.

Is there anyone in the audience bold enough to stand up and affirm that our tennis courts have ever been rolled, lined off, and cared for generally in a more efficient and faithful manner than they are being cared for this season, considering the weather we have had?

Somebody ought to show the freshmen how to do the snake dance. Mr. cheer-leader, can't we practice this out on the campus some night after supper?

It wasn't because he really needed the quarter for he had five cents in his pocket, but George Dunean, Bates 1918, was eager to exhibit the versatility of Gardner men and prove that they are good finders as well as good losers.

George was about to board an electric car in Worcester with his team-mates, when suddenly he cast his glimmers upon something shiny in the street being swept up with the accumulation of the day. "Dunc" didn't know whether it was the cap off a bottle of ginger pop or a tin seal from a compressed block of the filthy weed, but he thought it wouldn't do any harm to investigate, for if it was money it might as well accompany the nickle in his jeans as to be lying idle out in somebody's vegetable garden. So he jumped off and beat it for the pile of street sweepings. He wasn't long in disseminating the said pile for he knows something of farm life. Nothing succeeds like Success. His labor was not in vain. Sure enough it was a real Uncle Sam quarter and, pity the dear thing, he squeezed it so hard that the eagle fairly squawked. All this was accomplished in a jiffy, otherwise George would have been left behind in a big city with only thirty cents.

The choir sang so well Sunday that many have requested a repetition of one of the numbers at chapel.

him and he was forced to allow Ross of New Hampshire to take first place after a hard run. Barrow's time in the 100 was 10 3-5 seconds.

More than one surprise was sprung in the running high jump. Pinkham tied Rollins for first place at 5 feet 8 inches, this mark being almost as good as any in the State thus far this year. Gibbs, who had been practicing only about two weeks, surprised everyone by taking third place with a leap of 5 feet 7 inches. These two men must be reckoned with in the coming meet.

A new dual meet record was made in the pole vault, Brill of New Hampshire clearing the bar at 11 feet. Drew went over at 10 feet 9 inches, but unfortunately the pole in falling struck a hurdle, which in turn struck the uprights knocking off the bar, and he had to try again. This time he failed to go over and was only credited with vaulting ten and a half feet. Millward and Tucker shared third place at a little over 10 feet.

The weight events all went to Bates. Ross came within about a foot of equalling the Bates record in the hammer throw and incidentally won his letter for the first time. Adam won the shot put with the encouraging heave of 37 feet 7 inches. The result of the discus throw was a distinct surprise. No one supposed that there was a man in college who could throw the disk 118 feet 4 inches, yet this is what Pinkham accomplished in addition to winning four points in the high jump. Keaney won the broad jump handily at 21 feet 1 inch.

The mile run was all New Hampshire. Doe of Bates having to be content with third place.

Taken as a whole the result was as good as a win. Bates men secured first place in eight of the fourteen events and tied for first in another. The times and distances were much better than many had dared to hope, and all feel that a much better showing than last year will be made at the State championships next Saturday. Much confidence has been infused with the return of Coach Ryan, and he may be depended upon to apply a fine polish to the men in preparation for the final meet of the Maine track season. Incidentally it is expected that a lifesized delegation will journey to Brunswick day after to-morrow to cheer its representatives on to victory.

MILITARY SCIENCE CLUB

Discussion of the European War and Scientific War Methods

The regular meeting of the Polymnia Military Science Club was held Thursday evening, May 4.

Mr. Stettbacher, '17, read a paper on "Weapons of the European War." He said: The present war is the most primitive, as well as the most scientific, of all modern conflicts. Every device by which man has killed man, from the boulder in the hands of the cave-man to the machine gun, is in deadly use on one or another of the battlefields of Europe. The desolating fire of machine guns has turned the battle-fields into facing lines of almost impregnable trenches, so that hand to hand conflict has again become almost the only decisive form of fighting.

He described some of the weapons of the war, among them the great German howitzers, which throw shells weighing more than a ton for nearly seven miles; the Hale grenade, used by the English; and the German gas bombs.

Mr. Sullivan, '17, gave a talk, showing the various strategic movements in the capture of a fort. He described how the gunners get the range, through the observing stations. He said that there are three methods in reducing a fortress: First, gentle bombardment; second, removal and destroying of mines; third, heavy bombardment, during which the ships try to get around to the rear of the fortress. He said that usually the fortress stood a much better chance of victory than a fleet of battleships, and that capture of the stronghold was an exception.

ALUMNI NOTES

1871—Mr. George W. Flint has very kindly called our attention to an error. It was stated in the last issue of "The Student" that Albion Newton Marston was of the class of 1870 instead of 1871.

1872—George H. Stockbridge, Esq., of New York City, who died at the New York Medical Hospital on April 26th, at the time of his death had not finished an opera, "Priscilla," upon which he had been engaged. Besides being the author of a book of poems, "Balder the Poet," Mr. Stockbridge was a contributor to leading magazines. He had given valuable books to the College Library. He is survived by a wife and his daughter, Dorothy, is a student at Barnard College.

1885—Dr. W. V. Whitmore, who served as president of the University Club of Tucson, Arizona, for the year 1915, at the third annual meeting of the club stated that while he had held a number of positions, he regarded his selection as president of the University Club by a hundred college men of Tucson as the greatest honor ever conferred upon him. Dr. Whitmore has recently sent a beautiful leather pillow cover to be used in the alumni room in Roger Williams Hall.

1886—Dr. Frank E. Parlin, of Chelsea, Mass., who recently conducted the Pima County Teacher's Institute in Tucson, Arizona, gave two addresses, "Making Brains" and "The Essentials of Good Teaching." The County Superintendent declared the institute an unqualified success.

1904—Egbert A. Case is principal of the Willimantic, Conn., High School. Five other Bates graduates,—Carrie Ray, '11; Harold Clapp, '14; Agnes Dwyer, '11; Amy L. Weeks, '13, and Kathlene Tuttle, '13, are associated with him as teachers.

Principal F. M. Hammond, of the Phillips High School, has been elected president of the Franklin County Teachers' Association.

1910—The Thomaston High School, Thomaston, Maine, has an enrollment of three Bates graduates, upon its teaching staff. Ray Harriman, '10, principal; Marguerite E. Lougee, '13, head of the English and History Departments, and Mary E. Audley, '12, teacher of Latin, French, and German. Mr. B. E. Paekard, Bates 1900, is superintendent of schools for Thomaston, Camden, and Warren.

1911—Georgia M. Cooper is engaged in laboratory research work in New York City. She has a position with Dr. Draper.

1912—Walter Thomas, formerly of 1912, has recently removed from Tutu to Wellington, Maine.

Ernest H. Brunquist is attending the Medical School at the University of Michigan.

Clinton Bonney is teaching Latin, Greek, and American History in the Wilbraham, Mass., Academy.

Mary Pingree is teaching Book Keeping and Commercial subjects in the high school at New Britain, Conn.

1913—Charles B. Tibbetts is Professor of Mathematics in the James Milliken University at Decatur, Ill.

Ray A. Shepard teaches American History, Commercial Arithmetic, and English History in the M. C. I., Pittsfield, Maine. Mr. Shepard is also director of athletics.

Franklin Manter is principal of the Nute High School, Milton, N. H.

Hon. Payson Smith, State Superintendent for the Schools of Maine, who received the honorary degree of Litt.D. from Bates in 1909, was named as Commissioner of Education for Massachusetts by the Board of Education. The appointment is subject to confirmation by the Governor and Council.

BATES 2, BROWN 0

Bates defeated one of the fastest college ball teams in New England when it won from Brown a week ago Wednesday by the score of 2 to 0. Purvere, who was, by the way, pitching in his own home town, held the Brownians to a single hit, while the Bates batters were able to gather eight from the Brown pitcher. There was a large delegation of Purvere's friends out to see him pitch, and although the home team didn't win they went away feeling proud of their former townsman.

It was a close contest from start to finish and Bates was not able to score until the eighth inning. In the ninth Brown tried hard to get a run across, but Purvere was a little too much for her and she had to accept a whitewash.

Outside of one slight slip up the Bates team played errorless ball and deserved much credit for an excellent game. The score:

Brown	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0	—1	—3

Batteries, Purvere and Lord; Richards and Feinburg.

BATES 2, NEW HAMPSHIRE 3

Bates lost the first game of the second long trip at Durham, Tuesday, May 2. The score was 3 to 2. New Hampshire got its first run on a very poor decision by the umpire. Hall made a perfect throw and cut a man off at the plate, but the umpire called the man safe, which even the N. H. people admitted was an unsatisfactory decision. Davidson pitched a good game, but was not given very good support. The features of the game were a spectacular catch by Duncan and the ability of Capt. Lord to catch base runners in attempts to steal second. By beautiful throwing the captain caught six of the seven men who attempted to steal.

The score:
N. H. STATE 0 1 0 0 0 0 2 0 X—3
BATES 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 1 0 0—2
Batteries, Mooney and Brackett; Davidson and Lord.

WORCESTER TECH 9, BATES 3

On Thursday, May 4, the baseball team journeyed to Worcester, and played the Worcester Polytechnic Institute team, but did not give a very good exhibition, losing 9 to 3. Fowler pitched a good game but was not supported. Tomblen, an old Bates man, pitched for the home team and his work was commendable. The game was called at the end of the eighth inning to allow the team to catch a train.

The score:
Worcester Tech 0 6 0 0 0 0 0 3—9
Bates 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 2—3
Batteries, Tomblen and Woodman, Stone; Fowler and Lord.

BOWDOIN WINS DUAL TENNIS MEET

Bowdoin defeated Bates in a dual tennis meet yesterday 5-1. The Bates players succeeded in winning only one match. Eddie Purinton defeating Flynt in the singles. The men were evidently off form.

DOUBLES

Greely and Flynt defeated A. Purinton and E. Purinton 1-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Bartlett and Woodman defeated Stillman and Mills 9-11, 6-1, 6-3.

SINGLES

Greely defeated A. Purinton 6-3, 6-2.

E. Purinton defeated Flynt 6-4, 6-2.

Bartlett defeated Mills 6-2, 6-2.

Woodman defeated Stillman 4-6, 6-1, 6-3.

BOWDOIN 1; COLBY 0

Bowdoin defeated Colby 1 to 0. The score came in the fourth inning, when McElwee and Finn hit two-sackers in succession. Colby failed to score against the coolness and versatile pitching of White. Deasey and Smith of Colby and Phillips and Finn of Bowdoin figured in feature double plays.

It is the time now that the Freshmen begin to get acquainted with that time-honored custom known as the night shirt parade. Now that our ball team has begun its good work, they will soon regard this as a common occurrence. With the celebration over the Brown and Maine games last week to start off the fun, may the coming weeks only add to the number.

What do you think of our baseball diamond? Isn't it some improvement over the wet expanse of clay we have seen on Garcelon Field since the snow has been off the ground? If you think so, say so. Someone worked for that field and someone saw to it that the work was carefully carried out. Who these people were does not have to be announced.

The Maine Central Institute boys were guests at the college before and after their game with us. Ray Shepard was with them and gave Adam a few points with the shot, putting better than 43 feet with his coat on. He had Emery, the big weight man, with him and the big chap did some fine running on the cinders in front of Roger Williams Hall. A race between him and "Doc" Barrow would be a great attraction.

Adam must have profited by his work with Shepard as he won his "B" in the New Hampshire meet. Other men to be congratulated on the possession of this honor are Ross, Barrow, Lawrence and Gregory. The three last named repeated their wins of the Bowdoin meet and thus have a double claim to the coveted honor.

All devotees of our National Sport will be interested to know that our baseball diamond on Roger Williams Field had the honor to be the meeting place of the Lewiston Athletic and the Cercle Canadian last Saturday, the latter winning.

Professor Baird is again able to meet his classes after a short illness.

Professor Ramsdell has been away to the meeting of the Conn. Valley Association of the Alumni.

Paul Kennison is recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

Harry Halliard, assistant cook at the Commons, has been home on business.

Smith B. Hopkins has been at his home in Vinalhaven for a few days.

Harold Gleave accompanied Waldo DeWolfe to the pastorate of the latter in Casco last Sunday.

John McKeen was away on a business trip last Saturday evening.

Waldo DeWolfe entertained in his room recently. Christian VonTobel furnished music and M. A. Slade catered.

Ralph Leavitt of Hebron has been visiting Brooks Quimby.

Alton W. Bush spent the week-end with his room-mate Lawrence Thompson at the latter's home in Wales.

Bates was represented at the Life Work Conference held at the Boston Y. M. C. A. recently by A. B. Harvey, '16, and H. W. Buker, '16. Bates was the only Maine College to send representatives.

May-day will be observed by the girls this year on the afternoon of May 17. Several new features are planned and this occasion, always so enjoyable, promises new charm this spring. The affair is in charge of the Women's Athletic Association and will be held on the hockey field and the side of Mt. David.

Miss Barbara Gould recently entertained her mother at Rand Hall.

Geology walks have begun! Tuesday of last week Dr. Tubbs took a large party to Mt. Apatite. On Friday another smaller crowd, but just as enthusiastic, went out and came back loaded with specimens and mayflowers. All the Juniors agree that Geology tramps are "heaps of fun."

"The darkies have come to town." They were out in full dress uniforms last Saturday night at Rand Hall, at the minstrel show. The faculty ladies and girls of the college saw a performance which was well worth the price of the ticket. The program consisted of several chorus pieces, monologues, negro dances, and solos. "Rastus" and "Chloe" made touching speeches, and "Lindy's" address on matrimony was another hit. Jokes on the students and faculty were given, the end-men showing themselves especially witty. The costumes were quite amusing, and altogether the visit of the darkies was a successful one.

Miss Mina Smith of Hallowell spent the last week-end with her sister, Miss Celia Smith, at Cheney House.

Representatives of the Bates College Equal Suffrage League attended the lecture given by Mrs. Huston, National Organizer of Woman Suffrage Work, at the W. C. A. Rooms last Saturday afternoon. They gave a very enthusiastic report of Mrs. Huston's address and of her powerful personality.

Miss Nancy Farris spent the last week-end at her home in Mechanic Falls.

Miss Gladys Mower recently visited in Winthrop.

At Conference last week Mrs. Miller of the Personal Work department of Filene's spoke to the girls. She took up the problem of scientific planning of clothes. The former haphazard method of keeping account of money after it was spent was touched upon and then the new later way of making a budget of expenditures. Mrs. Miller touched on different questions involved in the clothes problem, such as choice of materials, cut of garments and the like. She spoke of the influence of a woman's clothes, the fact that by them she revealed her good or bad taste, and the necessity of taking good care of the clothes. Several questions were also answered and the general opinion of the girls was that Mrs. Miller had given a talk of real practical value.

GIRLS' MUSICAL CONCERT

Entertaining Program Given in Hathorn Hall Thursday Evening

On Thursday evening the students were privileged to hear a joint concert given by the Girls' Glee and Mandolin Clubs in Hathorn Hall. The selections were given in a very pleasing and effective manner and showed interest and unlimited practice by the members of both clubs.
