GARNET WINS FIRST GAME OF SEASON FROM FORT MCKINLEY 7 TO 0

FORT TEAM HOWEVER PRESENTED STRONG OPPOSITION AND THREATENED TO SCORE

Kennedy Secures The Touchdown For Bates

Bates started her 1916 football season last Saturday on Garcelon Field by winning from Fort McKinley by a score of 7 to 0. The Bates team was somewhat slow in getting started, but once they got possession of the ball in an anywhere near suitable position, they took it across in short order.

The Fort team was a much different proposition from former years and the predictions indulged in by those familiar with the two teams were by no means strongly in favor of awarding the decision to Bates. But, once the Garnet warriors fully realized that only superhuman effort would save them from defeat, they rallied and scored a well deserved touchdown in the third quarter. The soldiers were all in fine condition owing to their recent trip to the Mexican border, and presented a very heavy line and fast backfield men.

On the other hand, the Bates men had scarcely played together at all even for signal drill, and many of the men were woefully out of proper condition. Several of the veterans had just come back to college and had been out only a few times, Stonier having scarcely donned a uniform. But all these things, though unfortunate, are not lasting in effect and next time we shall see an entirely different game put up by the Garnet.

The Fort team repeatedly tried forward passes, getting away with one for a gain of 31 yards, but on the whole this style of game only resulted in no gain and forced them to kick. The first period the soldiers had the ball in their possession most of the time and by repeated runs around the left end of the Bates line and through it, they slowly made their way down the field. Bates held like demons though when the ball was on her 4 yard line and the soldiers could not even succeed in an attempt for a field goal. The work of Apple at fullback was good for the soldiers.

For Bates, Kennedy at halfback starred. Repeatedly he knocked down forward passes and once it was only his speed that prevented Fort McKinley from getting a touchdown, when Sanders got away with a forward pass with an open field before him. Moulton was also right there on the defense and both tackles played a steady game. Arata intercepted a forward pass cleverly and Davis, with the Bates line holding like a wall, got away some pretty punts.

A brisk shower completely drenched the players and wet things down so in the last period that some fumbles were made. None were serious, however.

First Half

Bates kicked off and Fort McKinley began to gain heavily. Embleton repeatedly tearing through the left side of the Bates line and around the end, but Bahr could not gain around right end. Hamilton broke through and tackled a man behind the line. Embleton made the distance on the fourth down and put the ball on Bates 17-yard line. Fort McKinley fumbled and recovered, then made 10 yards through the Bates line. Bates finally held on her four yard line, when the period came to a close.

Bates twice held for no gain and Arata intercepted a forward pass. Davis kicked to the middle of the field. A forward pass, Apple to Sanders netted 31 yards. Fort McKinley failed in an attempt for a field goal. Davis again kicked to middle of field where Fort McKinley lost the ball on downs. Moulton fumbled and the half ended with the ball in Bates possession at the middle of the field.

FALL TRACK WORK BEGINS UNDER THE DIRECTION OF COACH RYAN

CROSS COUNTRY HOLDS THE CENTRE OF INTEREST AND UNUSUALLY GOOD MATERIAL IS AVAILABLE

Dual Meet Included In The Schedule For The Long Distance Men

The prospects for a winning track team are somewhat brighter this year than they have been for several years past. At present the interest is centered on cross-country and in this department of track work we should have a strong team. "Hi" Lane, who left college in the middle of last year, is back again and as he has kept in training all the time his work this year should be even better than the wonderful work he has done in the past. Gregory, DeWolfe and Smith are all back in good condition and with the material offered by the freshman class a good team should be developed. The schedule for the cross country team will begin with the Interclass Run on the 19th of October, followed by a dual intercollegiate run, the Maine Intercollegiate, and the New England Intercollegiate.

While cross country work will be the most important part of the track work this fall, nevertheless, general track events will not be neglected and track work of all kinds will continue daily under Coach Ryan. To keep up interest in general track work this fall, two meets have been scheduled. The first of these is the Triangular Meet to be held on Garcelon Field on Thursday, October 5. The contestants in this meet will be the Bates freshmen, Lewiston High School, and Edward Little High School, and the results of this meet should be a very good indicator of the material in the freshman class. The other meet scheduled for this fall is the Interclass Meet which is to be held on Wednesday and Thursday, October 11 and 12.

Coach Ryan is anxious to have all men who are interested in track work of any kind to report to him at once.

Second Half

Kennedy ran back the kick-off from his five yard line to his 40 yard line. Bates could not gain and kicked. McMillan fumbled a forward pass after he had caught it and Bates recovered. Bates was forced to kick, as was also Fort McKinley to their own 25 yard line after repeated failure to work the forward pass. Moulton gained through center, Davis gained on a fake forward pass. Kennedy and DeWolfe gained through the line. Davis made it first down and Kennedy carried the ball across for the touchdown and Davis kicked the goal.

The period ended after Fort McKinley failed to gain after running the kick off from their 10 yard line to their 35 yard line.

McKinley kicked to Davis, Bates could not gain and kicked, Davis' punts being very good. Line plunges and a 35 yard penalty to Bates for an illegal substitution brought the ball to the middle of the field. Several fumbles marred this part of the game, owing to the heavy shower. Bates blocked a punt, DeWolfe recovering the ball. Davis kicked. The game ended after Fort McKinley, failing to make a forward pass, kicked and Davis made a short pass to Moulton over the center of the line.

IN MEMORIAM TO CHRISTIAN H. VON TOBEL

"E'en as he trod that day to God, so walked he from his birth
In simpleness and gentleness, and honor and clean mirth."

Christian Herbert Von Tobel, late a member of the present senior class, died at the Hebron Sanatorium July 5, 1916. Mr. Von Tobel was one of a large family of children of German descent. Early in life he felt the call of the foreign field and in October, 1909, he left his home and friends in Tremont, Illinois, for Boston, Massachusetts, where he entered the Gordon Training School and soon made friends. During his course there he busied himself outside of class hours by work in the city during the week and by preaching on Sunday wherever an opening offered. While at Gordon School he became pastor of the Litchfield Congregational Church of Litchfield, Maine. Upon graduating from the Gordon School Mr. Von Tobel entered Bates College in the Fall of 1913, retaining the pastorate of the Litchfield Church.

During his three years at Bates, he entered into the athletics of the college as much as his outside work would allow. He was not too well prepared for college work and his first two years especially were a severe test of his courage and endurance. His interest in Church and Y. M. C. A. work was not, however, diminished by his extra heavy load, and he proved himself an enterprising if not an excellent student. During the week, in addition to his regular work, he prepared two sermons for Sunday beside taking an active part in the work of the Y. M. C. A. On Saturday afternoon he went out on the Waterville car to Thompson's crossing and from there walked to Litchfield, a distance of about five miles, where he spent the evening calling on his people. On Sunday he preached two sermons, conducted the Sunday School, took an active part in the Christian Endeavor Society which he had started for the young people, and often took long walks with the Boy Scouts whom he had brought together and organized under his personal supervision as Scout Master. After the evening service he walked back to Thompson's Crossing to get the eleven o'clock car for Lewiston where he arrived weary from his exertions of the day.

Early Monday morning he would be up and studying hard to prepare his lessons. Tuesday evenings he conducted a college prayer group of ten or twelve men from Roger Williams Hall and in the spring of 1916, as chairman of the Religious Education Department of the Y. M. C. A., he arranged for the Wednesday evening meeting of that organization. He was especially active during the Robins-Childs Campaign as chairman of one of the busiest of the committees. In fact, as President Chase has so well and ably said in Chapel Friday morning, Mr. Von Tobel was in every way an industrious, conscientious, painstaking young man. He will long be remembered by his classmates and associates in Bates College, not so much for what he did but more for what he was.

In the spring of 1916 Mr. Von Tobel contracted a severe cold which changed to "La Grippe," confining him to his room for some time. He never fully recovered from the weakness left by the sickness. One of our Professors, noting Mr. Von Tobel's condition, urged him to have an examination of his lungs. Upon examination it was found that the first stages of tuberculosis had set in, but it was that by all that a brief

FIRST VESPER SERVICE OF THE YEAR HELD IN CHAPEL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

REV. A. T. SALLEY OF THIS CITY THE SPEAKER

Points To The Present As The Golden Age For Achievement

Sunday afternoon, September 24, at four o'clock, the first vesper service of the college year was held in the Bates College Chapel. The afternoon was fine, and a moderately large audience attended.

The service opened with an organ prelude by Miss Christensen. President Chase gave the invocation. Then the choir sang the anthem, "Praise The Lord, O My Soul," and Hubert Davis played a thrilling violin andantino. The Rev. J. G. Osborne, pastor of the Bates Street Baptist Church, read 8 Romans, 1-16, and, following his prayer, the choir sang the response, "Holy, Holy, Holy." President Chase then read the college hymn, "O God Beneath Thy Guiding Hand," which was sung by the choir and the congregation. After the singing of the hymn, President Chase introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Rev. A. T. Salley.

Dr. Salley took for his text Matt. 11:12. In his sermon he brought out the idea that the kingdom of heaven is not a future state of holy lounging—not a kingdom for lazy dreamers. In substance Dr. Salley said: "The kingdom of heaven might as well be called the Kingdom of To-day's Work, or the Kingdom of the Strenuous Life. The aim of the kingdom is to produce perfect types of character, to bring out of human nature all latent possibilities and make them realities."

Power is a virtue if employed in the field of service. Every human need is the finger of God. We have a duty to all humanity—the negro, the Indian, the dago. Service includes more than "Me, my wife, my son John and his wife, we four and no more."

Dr. Salley closed by reading a poem of Gilder's which shows us that we must not look into the past or into the future for the Heroic Age—"These are the great days, and this the Heroic Age."

After the sermon, Hubert Davis gave a violin selection, and the choir sang, "Light of the World, We Hail Thee," Miss Hussey and Mr. Quackenbach taking the solo parts. After the Organ Postlude, President Chase pronounced the benediction, and the audience went home feeling that the service had been an especially helpful and inspiring one.

stay at the Hebron Sanatorium would make him well and strong. On June 17, 1916, he left college for Hebron expecting more confidently than we all that he would return this fall to college. It soon developed that he had tuberculosis of the spine (meningitis) from which there was little hope of recovery. The last two weeks of his life he seemed in a kind of stupor, refusing to open his mail, declaring he was too busy. The end came on July 5th.

A brother of Mr. Von Tobel came and arranged for the funeral and had the body sent to Tremont, Illinois for burial.

Mr. Von Tobel was especially esteemed by his classmates. He was honored as an earnest Christian man, a true friend, a cheerful and enthusiastic searcher for truth. He will always be held dear in the memory of all who knew him. There are few men in college to-day who are held in higher esteem by students and professors alike than was "Chris" Von Tobel. He was respected by all, and none of us can express satisfactorily our feelings at our loss or our sympathy for the mother whose son we learned to love. Surely his spirit of devotion, sincerity, and reverence will long be cherished by us whose privilege it was to be acquainted with him.

FALL TENNIS TOURNAMENT TO DIFFER FROM THAT OF FORMER YEARS

FRESHMEN TO COMPRISE SEPARATE DIVISION IN COMPETITION FOR A SPECIAL CUP OFFERED BY THE COLLEGE CLUB

Captain Purinton Urges All Who Play To Enter Either Division

Today begins the fall tennis tournament. Contrary to the usual custom, the Freshman will have a separate division and compete for a special cup. This cup will be given to the winner by the College Club; through its treasurer, Dr. Richard B. Stanley of Boston. Dr. Stanley has always been an alumnus who enjoys athletics and hopes that this cup will help to create interest in tennis.

Notices have already been placed on the bulletin boards asking all those interested to enter their names with Captain Arthur Purinton, '17, or Manager Frank Googins, '18. Both divisions will be played off as soon as possible. The courts are in good shape, owing to their lease through the summer to Mr. Alley. Everything is ready for a fine tournament.

With Arthur and Edwin Purinton still in college, there appears to be no doubt who will fight out the finals in the division for the upperclassmen. These men were state champions last year and are growing better every day. Mills, '17, and Stillman, '19, who composed the second doubles team for the college last season are also on hand to make the competition interesting.

The result of the Freshman tournament is a gamble, with several good men available. But as no one has had much practice, there is a chance for all and every fellow who wants to show himself a redbellied Bates man should enter this tournament, providing participation in other forms of athletics does not prohibit.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE FOR REMAINDER OF SEASON INCLUDES HARD BATTLES

STATE SERIES OPENS ON GARCELON FIELD SATURDAY, OCTOBER 21

Harvard Game at Cambridge Next Saturday

Next Saturday Bates football warriors journey to Cambridge to play their second game of the season. Harvard, after a year's absence from the schedule, is again included among the list of opponents. Harvard defeated Colby last week by a small score and will go into the Bates game determined to make a better showing. The Bates players suffered practically no injuries against the heavy soldier team, and have been putting in a hard week's practice in preparation for this difficult contest. Interested followers of the team will watch the outcome of the game with considerable concern. If the men return in good condition development for the opening game of the State series with Maine should progress rapidly. Coach Parks has the faculty of getting the greatest amount of work possible from the men, and a fast and fighting team should be the result.

Holy Cross follows Harvard on the schedule, this game taking place at Worcester, October 7. The next opportunity for locals to see the team in intercollegiate competition occurs October 14, when New Hampshire State College appears on Garcelon Field. This will be the final game before the championship series, and is followed by the University of Maine contest on the same field. Bowdoin at Brunswick is the attraction for the October 28 date, and the season closes at Waterville with Colby, November 6.

The second team schedule consists of a game with Westbrook at Lewiston, Sept. 30; Hebron at Hebron, Oct. 7; and Gardiner at Gardiner, Oct. 14.

EDITORIALS

IMPORTANT NOTICES

With this, the first issue of the Bates Student for the year 1916-17, the attention of our subscribers is respectfully called to the following announcements.

The Magazine Section of our publication, instead of being issued the first Thursday of each month as hitherto, will be published the last Thursday of October and, on account of the Thanksgiving recess and the Christmas vacation, on the fourth and second Thursdays of November and December respectively. Following out this plan, the dates for the appearance of the Magazine Section are: October 26, November 23, and December 14. We hope all those who are accustomed to receive the Student will remember this change.

We wish, also, to call the attention of the members of the Class of 1916 to the fact that subscriptions to the Student, unless otherwise arranged for, hold good during the rest of the "Student year," i. e. until the Christmas vacation. If you will communicate with the Business Manager and acquaint him with your address, you will receive your Student as usual. If you do not care to have your subscription continued, you should make it known to the Business Manager at your earliest convenience.

WELCOME TO 1920

We are glad to see you—men and women of the class of 1920—on our campus. We congratulate you upon your choice of Bates as your alma mater; and, as members of the upper classes, we extend to you a sincere and hearty welcome. The very fact that you have seen fit to select Bates in preference to some other college, shows that you believe she has something of value to offer you personally. We, who have been here one, two, and three years, know that you will not be disappointed in your belief provided you are willing to do your part. Bates has something for every one of you, if you will take it; but what have you to give to Bates in return? What you will get out of your college life will be in proportion to what you put into it. Just as much as you are willing to give, just so much will you receive. The various and varied interests of your college are clamoring for attention. You cannot afford to ignore the demands which they will make upon you. You may think you can do so now, but you will soon see and regret your mistake. It is your privilege to be a Bates man or woman, but it is your duty to give of your best in support of the activities which are representative of your chosen college. Scholarship, athletics, societies, the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A., the "Bates Student," the Musical Clubs, debating and forensic speaking—all these hold their opportunities wide open before you. How are you going to meet their challenges? Loftiness of ideals and steadfastness of purpose make for real success. Remember, Bates expects every one of you to be a "Bates man" first, last, and always.

JUST A HINT

What about the cheering we had, or tried to have, at the Fort McKinley-Bates football game last Saturday afternoon? Rather a feeble attempt at supporting the team, don't you think? Not a very good showing of college spirit for a college that can boast as many full-throated royal roosters as Bates, was it? Wonder what was the matter. Was it because the band was absent, or was it on account of some other reason? Anyway, let us hope that at the next football game we may have some real cheering worthy of the name.

OBSERVANT CITIZEN

It is the unanimous opinion of all Bates men that much credit and appreciation is due those who are responsible for the greatly improved conditions at the Commons. Our dining room is now a fine place for a rousing big banquet.

Probably the most noticeable feature about the halls is an attempt to keep these buildings sanitary by posting little reminders in conspicuous places.

As the years go by Sophomores and Freshmen are becoming less barbarous.

Isn't it queer! You can always tell a Sophomore—but you can't tell him much.

Coach Ryan was highly admired the other day when he lead the cross-country team over the course, coming through fresh as when he started and ready to turn around and go back again.

This year the freshmen are taking real pride in their handleless caps. One man is especially proud because the colors are those of his "prep" school.

Another member of the faculty is running an automobile. Well! We wonder what will happen next.

The big idea in digging a trench back of Roger Williams Hall is not for purposes of military training but for the alleviation and, it is hoped, the final abolition of heating difficulties in the Freshman Dormitory.

Frank McDonald had a most successful season as captain and manager of the Belfast team.

As usual the Fort McKinley game was played in a pouring rain.

The soldiers were on the Border when Manager Green negotiated for the game.

"Pop" Mills thinks college is not a bad place after all. He has been in the militia.

The latest acquisition to the comfort and convenience of Bates men is a barber shop. Will the women install a manicure parlor in Rand?

Dealers in wall paper, radiators and chapel seats are finding business rather dull.

Two important questions. Did you have a good summer? How do you like the Commons?

The new Student Committee of the Y. M. C. A. met all the trains on the three days prior to the opening of college.

The class of 1920 has the heaviest man on the football team—and twins.

We learn that the freshman girls are an unusually wise and sophisticated bunch; that many of them have suspicious and inquiring natures. Four freshman girls were walking up from down town with a couple of Seniors the opening day of college. When questioned as to the chapel hour, one of the Seniors replied, "8.40." The Freshman queried, "Are you sure?"

Freshman girl the perpetrator of a holdup!! They say she walked deliberately into the Greek room and held a five minute conversation with the Professor in the midst of his recitation.

They say that some of the freshman girls have airy, fairy, little feet, or, shall we say, evanescent and ethereal? A senior girl, when sent to consult one of the Freshmen as to the size of her shoes received the following indifferent reply: "Oh! 3-3½, 4, 2, 4½, anything!"

Is the Figure Eight a Truck Co.? We wonder if the freshman boy who brought his trunk on the Figure Eight had it checked.

'Tis rumored that there is method in Prof. Baird's madness when he raises the price of argumentation menus (or manuals) from 15 to 65 cents. There's a reason!

An outsider on learning of the number of new clubs formed in the college was heard to remark, "They are clubbing the college to death."

According to Doc Britan the head is the business end of an animal.

The Juniors' impression of "Monie,"—a perpetual interrogation point.

Has everyone seen the fine new picture of the chapel in the library? It was taken and enlarged by Miles Greenwood, '91, and presented by him to the college at Commencement time. It shows the chapel from an unusual angle, and is altogether worthy of our notice and admiration.

President Chase gave the students an excellent talk Monday morning, one which we will long remember. The sight of the beautiful tablet in the vestibule of the chapel, with its simple, but significant inscription can not but remind us of the life of a good woman and of the gratitude which we owe to her.

SOPHOMORES WIN ANNUAL FRESHMAN-SOPHOMORE GAME 9 TO 2

CONTEST VERY CLOSE UNTIL TIRE TROUBLE MARRED THE FIFTH

Much Cheering and Enthusiasm A Feature

Earlier in the week the Class of 1919 took ample revenge on the Class of 1920 for former indignities, both physical and mental, or to confine the discussion to athletics, last Monday the Sophomores won the annual Freshman-Sophomore baseball game by the score of 9 to 2. The backstop bore the 1919 numerals and the 1920 donkey showed in white on a tasty red background. The Sophs had a big pennant, Murray Watson having recovered sufficiently to lead the victorious cheers; in short it was Sophomores' Day.

But the conflict did not start that way when the first two men to face Elwell singled and things began to look rather ominous from a Sophomore standpoint. But Elwell was the prime factor in negotiating a double play which killed the Freshman chances for the time being. The Sophomores also began to start things in their half and were more successful, Maxim scoring the first run. From then on for four innings the game was unusually close and fast for such a contest. The pitching was excellent and the fielding was good enough to prevent any scores.

But in the fifth inning the fun started. Turner and Moulton of 1920, and Elwell, Maxim and Stone of 1919 were all equally guilty of the tying Freshman run and the counter that put the Freshies in the lead. The first two contributing the swats and the last three two errors and a glaring error of judgment.

And then the battle began to get real interesting. "Hippo" Elwell came near throwing his curve ball overhand; umpire Davis was cheered to the echo; and "Brit" Coady believed that he had picked a winner and offered to bat for the Freshmen. About this time Coach Ryan's cross country squad was given an insight into the real art of the ancient Greeks when the co-eds beat the gun for a quick start and finished strong on the Rand Hall steps. Truly, they should have stayed for the last half of the inning.

For then pandemonium broke loose indeed. Three bases on balls, a hit batsman and four hits meant six runs, and these six runs meant revenge for the previously humiliated upperclassmen. They ran up and down the side lines, cheered everyone in sight, and waved their banner so violently as to cause many Freshman supporters to fall prostrate from the breeze. The Freshman caps which had lately so gloriously soared into the air, fell back upon reduced brows and the final outcome was no longer in doubt.

Lee went in for two innings for the Sophomores and merely struck out five men and tossed out the last one at first. Both teams made few errors and some promising candidates for the varsity appeared to be in uniform. Stillman led at the bat and L. Tracy was right there in center field. The game and the period immediately succeeding

LOCALS

Welcome to 1920.

The opening of the fall term finds all the dormitories full to overflowing. Owing to the scarcity of rooms, a great many students have been obliged to find lodging in private houses in the vicinity of the campus.

The new system at the College Commons is meeting with general approval. We now have a dining hall in which we can truly feel pride.

Everyone about the campus will be glad to know that "Hi" Lane '18, the long distance track star has returned to college.

Don Stimpson, formerly of 1918, is teaching this year at Caratunk, Maine.

The assurance that we have a local chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, the honorary scholastic fraternity, is of great interest to all friends of the college.

"Monte" Moore, '14, now director of athletics at Deering High School, was up for the Fort McKinley game last Saturday.

It will be good news to all to know that the Freshman class contains a number of promising athletes as well as a large amount of talent along musical lines.

Roger Greene, formerly football coach at Bates, visited friends on the campus Sunday.

John and William Neville, star football men and formerly of 1918, have entered Catholic University, Washington, D. C.

To the great regret of all concerned Prof. Stanton was obliged, on account of rain, to postpone his annual class ride to the freshmen which was to have been held Saturday.

Freshman caps have already appeared on the campus.

Y. M. C. A. STAG RECEPTION

Entertainment Proves One Of The Most Successful Ever Held

Speeches By Men Representing Various College Interests Furnish Enjoyable Program

On Wednesday evening September 20, the annual Y. M. C. A. Stag Reception was given to the freshmen in Roger Williams Hall. Both the faculty and upperclassmen joined in making the men of the entering class feel that there was a place for them in Bates College.

The first part of the evening was passed in getting acquainted; freshman with freshman, freshman with upper classmen, and freshman with faculty. A short program followed, opening with a piano duet by Upham, '17, and Stillman, '19. Wilson, '17, then spoke briefly on the Student Council and its work. R. Purinton, '17, manager of baseball, spoke on the major sport with which he is connected. Conch Parks spoke of the football prospects, and Hatch, '17, of the "Bates Student." Hinton, '17, then sang a solo. Chayer '17 told of Bates' record in intercollegiate debating. Captain Lawrence, '18, prophesied a successful season for the track team, and Bacon, '17, made a few remarks concerning the musical interests of the college. The program was concluded by President Purinton of the Y. M. C. A. He outlined briefly the aims of the Association. After singing the Bates "Alma Mater," punch and crackers were served in abundance and the forming of acquaintances continued until the hunger of each one was appeased.

Much credit is due Mr. Stone, '17, chairman of the Y. M. C. A. Social Committee, and his associates for their efforts to make the affair a success.

ANNUAL RECEPTION TO FRESHMEN HELD IN RAND HALL SATURDAY EVENING

LARGE NUMBER ATTENDED IN SPITE OF INCLEMENT WEATHER

Christian Associations Responsible For The Fine Entertainment

The annual reception to the Freshman Class was held Saturday evening in Fiske Room, Rand Hall, at 7.30. The affair was carried out with the usual success and everyone appeared to derive the benefit of forming new acquaintances, which is the primary object of this early meeting.

In the receiving line were Mr. Arthur Purinton and Miss Ruth Lewis, presidents respectively of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.; President Chase; Miss Elizabeth Chase; Dean Buswell; and Mr. and Mrs. Ryall, Mr. Brown, Mr. Sawyer, and Miss Ruth Hammond, the new members of the faculty.

After more than an hour of informal talk, the following program was given: Piano Duet,

Mr. Upham '17, and Mr. Stillman '19
Words of Welcome, President Chase
The Y. W. C. A., Miss Lewis '17
Reading, Miss Lawson '19
The Y. M. C. A., Mr. Purinton '17
Vocal Solo, Miss Ingersoll '18
Reading, Mr. Bacon '17

Singing of Alma Mater

Following the program refreshments of ice cream and fancy cakes were served.

Upon entering the room each person received a card upon which was to be written his name and home address, followed by the names of those whom he met during the evening. This plan was a novelty to many and served to break up any formality, as well as furnishing a deal of amusement.

Too much credit cannot be given Mr. Stone of the class of 1917 for the time and effort which he sacrificed in arranging for the program and the details attending it.

MT. DAVID SCENE OF OPENING RECEPTION TO FRESHMAN GIRLS

Various College Activities Discussed
By Y. W. C. A. Members

The Y. W. C. A. gave an informal reception to the girls of 1920 on Mt. David, Thursday afternoon, at 4 o'clock. Each Freshman girl was escorted by an upperclass girl, each one wearing a card bearing her name and the number of her class. The first part of the afternoon was spent in becoming acquainted with the girls and ladies of the Faculty. Later, a short informal program was carried out. Ruth Lewis, '17, President of the Y. W. C. A., welcomed the girls of 1920 and introduced Blanche Wright, '18, who told about the good times at Bates. Mrs. G. M. Chase gave a welcome in behalf of the ladies of the Faculty. Aileen Lougee, '17, President of the Girl's Athletic Association, told of athletics at Bates. At the end of this, a hearty cheer was given for Miss Bell. Elinor Newman, '17, welcomed 1920 in the name of Student Government, and Mary Cleaves, '17, spoke on Silver Bay. The program ended with a short talk on the meaning of college and college ideals by Dean Buswell. Punch and dainty wafers were served as the girls once more gathered in groups. When the pleasant afternoon ended, the guests departed, feeling assured of the hospitality and friendliness of the upper-classes.

1920 GIRLS ENTERTAINED AT MILLIKEN HOUSE

Sophomores The Hostesses
On This Occasion

On Wednesday evening the first party in honor of the girls of 1920 was held, when they were entertained by the Sophomore girls at Milliken House. A large number of the dormitory girls responded to the invitation. The evening was spent in getting acquainted with one another and with the hostesses, who did their best to make the new girls feel at home. The cooking and serving of chafing-dish refreshments added to the general informality and enjoyment of the occasion. Later in the evening the whole party joined in the singing of college songs. At the hour for departure the Freshmen were reluctantly escorted home, declaring that their first party at Bates had surely been a success.

ALUMNI NOTES

1913—Miss Grace Jarvis Connor of Auburn and Grover C. Baldwin were married July 31 by Rev. G. E. Kenney, pastor the Sixth Street Congregational Church, Auburn. Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin met at Bates where Mrs. Baldwin was graduated in 1913, and where Mr. Baldwin attended college in 1912 and 1913. For two years Mr. Baldwin was employed as reporter for the Lewiston Sun. Afterward, he enlisted in the United States Navy where he now qualifies as a second class electrician, and is assigned to the flagship of the Atlantic fleet, the Wyoming.

William H. Sawyer is instructor in Biology at Bates College. Two years after graduation, Mr. Sawyer served as laboratory assistant at Bates. Since then he has completed a year's study at Cornell, and has received his A. M. degree from that University.

1915—Earle A. Harding and Viola B. Nevens were married Wednesday, September 20, at the home of the bride's parents. After October 15, Mr. and Mrs. Harding will be at home at 52 Jefferson Road, Princeton, N. J. This year Mr. Harding will continue in his position as instructor in Chemistry at Princeton.

Carleton F. Fuller is submaster of the Bridgton Academy where he is teacher of mathematics and sciences, and assistant instructor of athletics.

1916—Mabel Googins is teaching Latin, French, and Bookkeeping in the high school at New Gloucester. Miss Googins visited the college Sunday.

Alice G. King is teaching in the high school at Farmington, N. H. Harriet Johnson is teaching in Amesbury, Mass.

Shortly after graduation, Roland Wakefield was married to Miss Gertrude Jones of Auburn. After a wedding trip, the young couple went to Richmond, Va., where Mr. Wakefield is pro-

CAMPUS IMPROVEMENTS

Have you paused yet long enough to notice any of the improvements made in our buildings and on our campus last summer vacation? If you have not, then it is time to take a few minutes and look about you. Things have not remained at a standstill around here during the last few months by any means. The changes which greet us on all sides show plainly that somebody has been mighty busy, and the results achieved furnish adequate proof of the quality of the work. Parker and Roger Williams have been thoroughly cleaned and painted and the rooms put in good condition. In the basement of Parker, we have a new institution, a college barber shop, where a first class haircut can be secured as cheaply as anywhere down town. Cheney House has hardwood floors. Hedge Laboratory has received similar attention, and some paint in addition. The Astronomy room in Hathorn boasts a fine hardwood floor and a new ceiling. But the most important of all the renovations in our buildings is that which is going on at the present time at the Commons. The Commons we knew last year we now know no more. A splendid new dining hall, well lighted and ventilated and of ample proportions, and a well appointed kitchen, separated from the dining room by swinging doors, have made possible a college commons of which any college might justly feel proud. Under the efficient management of Miss Craighead, the eating problem for the young men is rapidly approaching a satisfactory solution. Work on the Commons is going forward with all speed and its termination will see a boarding place second to none.

The hand of improvement has left its mark on our campus, also. Garcelon field fence, the eye-sore for so long, is fast disappearing, and soon we shall see the stately iron fence of Bardwell Street continued around the three remaining sides of our athletic field. A pile of cinders by the side of the oval promises an excellent cinder track in the near future. The unsightly footpaths running about helter-skelter in all directions over our campus lawns have faded from view, and a fine, broad walkway now leads from the chapel entrance to the terraced flower garden before the library steps.

These are some of the changes wrought for our benefit since last June. These improvements have cost considerable money and sacrifice on the part of the college. We, as students, should not be lacking in our appreciation. Surely it is not asking too much of any of us that we treat college property with the respect which is its just due.
