BATES WINS FIRST GAME OF STATE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES ON GARCELON FIELD 6 TO 0

SHATTUCK'S TWO FIELD GOALS IN LAST HALF GIVE GARNET VICTORY IN THRILLING GAME. WINNER'S GOAL LINE NEVER IN DANGER

Capt. DeWever Star On The Offensive While Whole Team Plays Great Defensive Game

The Bates football team showed marked superiority over the University of Maine representatives last Saturday and won by a score of 6 to 0. The victory was the first over Maine in five or six years and gives Bates a good start toward the State title.

A good crowd attended the contest in spite of the threatening weather of the forenoon, and witnessed as interesting a game of football as anyone could desire. The Garnet men failed to score a touchdown, but no one witnessing the contest could fail to see the difference in the two teams. For the first half the Maine team managed to keep the play about even, although their backs failed to gain and their attack was not as hard as had been expected. During this time, Bates, too, was unable to get within striking distance of her opponents' goal. But in the last half the Garnet offense began to work, and after the first of two field goals by Bates the defense of the Maine team crumbled, the line weakened, and the backs fumbled badly.

Not once during the game was the Bates goal line in any danger. The only time the ball was anywhere near it was when French kicked off and punted over the goal line in the latter part of the game. Maine had the honor of gaining a first down, about the only one they were able to make. When it came to punting, however, French showed that he was the man for the job as some of his 65 yard hoists will testify. He also showed some speed, but was tackled for far more losses than he made gains.

Captain DeWever was in a class by himself when it came to carrying the ball, gaining as much as any three Maine backs. The line opened up big holes for him, and as the game wore on, his work improved. In the last few minutes of play, he made two first downs in succession in five charges directly through the Maine line, and then, aided by another gain by DeWever, Quarterback Talbot went through on the seventh play for the third first down.

"Jimmy" Shattuck also shares part of the glory, for he succeeded in two out of three attempts at field goals. The first try was in the third period and came after a punting duel and gains by DeWever. It was from the 40-yard line and was blocked by White, a Maine end. But Maine was offside, and soon after Davis and DeWever took the ball to a favorable position and Shattuck made a fine goal from the 27-yard line. The score was made from the same line in the fourth period after Bates appeared to be in a position for a touchdown, but was set back by penalties.

Davis was a worthy second to DeWever in carrying the ball, and only the wet condition of the field prevented him from even longer end runs. There were no particularly sensational plays, though Wiggin of Bates made some fine tackles. Allen did not have a chance in the line against Hamilton, while Knight's defensive work was a feature. The Bates line appeared to be much stronger than Maine's, the only Maine man to show off to any advantage being Hussey. In the backfield, the Maine quarterbacks showed more ability in running back punts.

The game was very clean and most of the penalties were for technicalities.

During the last period, the Maine backs played rather ragged and for a time the game appeared to be more of a debate than a real earnest contest. Bates lost a fine chance for a touchdown by a penalty for the coach standing by the bench. Then as an afterthought, the Maine bench was cautioned. Be all this as it may, Bates won a well-deserved victory and is a worthy contender for championship honors.

First Period

Gorham kicked off to Hamilton on Bates' 20-yard line. DeWever made three yards, Davis 3, DeWever failed to gain and Davis punted outside to Gorham on Maine's 23-yard line. Stewart failed to gain. On the next play he fumbled. Gorham recovered and Baldwin punted outside on Bates 47. DeWever gained a yard, but Bates was penalized five for offside. DeWever made two yards, then Davis punted to Spiers on Maine's 28. He ran it back five. Stewart failed to gain and Baldwin punted 40 to Bates 37. Davis skirted Maine's right end for 7 yards. Talbot lost one and DeWever made 2. Davis kicked to Spiers on Maine's 16. Stewart made 4, Gorham 5 around Moulton, and Spiers made three for first down. Gorham made two and then Baldwin punted 50 yards outside on Bates 20. Davis made 2 and lost as many on the next play. Davis punted 31 to Maine's 42-yard line, Spiers running the ball back three yards. Gorham made 2, Stewart 3 and Baldwin punted to Talbot on Bates 17-yard line. On a fake kick formation DeWever made 10 yards. Kennedy, who replaced Cutler, failed to gain. Davis punted 55 yards, the ball rolling to Maine's 5-yard line. Baldwin punted outside on Maine's 40-yard line. DeWever made a yard and repeated. A forward pass failed as the period ended.

Second Period

Bates tried a forward pass, but Baldwin intercepted it on Maine's 20 yard line. Knight broke through and blocked a kick, DeWever recovering on Maine's 27-yard line. DeWever made 3 and 1. Davis lost 3. Stewart intercepted a forward pass on his 25-yard line. Gorham made 4 and Spiers lost half of it. Baldwin punted 40 yards to Talbot. DeWever made 9 yards and 3. Davis made two on a Tufts play with the center facing his own team. With more than one man in motion, Bates was penalized five yards. Davis fumbled Shattuck's pass but fell on the ball for a 10 yard loss. Davis punted to Gorham outside on Maine's 24-yard line. Higgins tried to skirt Bates' left end, but lost five. French replaced Baldwin and lost five on the first play. French punted 60 yards outside on Bates 23. DeWever made 3 in two plays. Davis kicked to Higgins, and French tore off 11 yards, but Maine was penalized 15 for holding. Higgins failed to gain. French punted 37 to Talbot on Bates' 48-yard line. Davis made a yard as the whistle blew for the end of the half.

Third Period

Gorham booted the ball to Stonier on the 40-yard line. DeWever reeled off 13. Davis failed to gain. DeWever made 5 and 3, and Davis punted over the goal line, Maine scrimmaging on the 20. Baldwin lost 5 and punted to Talbot on Bates 45. Davis kicked to

GAMBLING AND BETTING THE TOPIC AT Y. M. C. A. MEETING OCTOBER 18

DR. BRITAIN EXPLAINS IDEAL ATTITUDE OF COLLEGE MEN ON SUBJECT

Motive As Well As Result Should Be Considered

Mr. C. C. Chayer, '17, presided at the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. held in Libbey Forum, October 18. After the opening prayers and brief prayers by Secretary Rowe and others the speaker, Dr. H. H. Britain, was introduced. The Committee was very fortunate and foresighted in choosing such a man for the subject, "Gambling and Betting." Dr. Britain gave a very interesting, carefully thought out talk on the subject, after which the meeting was opened for general discussion. The outline of the speech was so clear and well arranged that it is only necessary here to give a brief of the talk for those who read to understand the speaker's point of view.

Dr. Britain said, by way of introduction, that every question of morals and ethics must be considered from the standpoint of motive as well as from the standpoint of result. A man may throw a rope to a drowning man and, in order to throw the rope far enough, may tie a stone to one end. Then in the tying the stone hits the drowning man on the head causing insensibility, and the man drowns. The motive was right but the result was unfortunate. Thus it is with gambling and betting. Four motives for betting among college men may be considered. The first is to get money; the second is for the excitement of it; the third to back up the team; and the fourth, just for the fun of it. Perhaps the motives are not entirely bad, but the results are unfortunate. In the first place, there is the betting or losing of money involved in the bet. Second, it promotes professionalism in that the men on the team, knowing that their friends have money on them, will not hesitate to use unfair means to gain the victory to save their friends. Then there are certain bad habits which are detrimental, to say the least, to society. It creates a desire to get money easily and distaste for work, and makes the victim a parasite on society. But in many cases it leads to a life of gambling, which involves many other vices all too prevalent in the society of the world.

There are further certain moral and social principles disregarded in a life of betting and gambling. Respect for honest labor is taken away and the individual expects to get something for nothing, that is, he is unwilling to work for what he gets. There is also the consideration of the influence on others. Neutrality on moral principles cannot be maintained, and a moral responsibility is involved.

In the United States attempts are being made, and have been nearly successful, in doing away with lotteries. State lotteries are still found in Brazil, but the evil effect is being felt and they are being removed. One man is said to have dreamt that he had the right number. He put all his money into it and failed. He was so excited and worked up over it that he blew out his own brains in his madness.

It is a social wrong and is demoralizing to character. Men cannot build character on chance. In the balancing up it is found that both motive and result are against it. It behooves college men to let it alone. Even if it does not work a harmful influence on the individual it does on others. College men ought to be and are the leaders of the coming generation. There is no doubt that college men set the ideals to high and grammar school boys. Why not set the ideal as high as possible?

The question was then thrown open to the house and an interesting discussion enjoyed by all until time was called by the presiding officer.

DR. GALLOWAY GIVES INTERESTING LECTURE TO STUDENTS OF COLLEGE

THE HYGIENE OF THE IMAGINATION DISCUSSED IN CHAPEL ADDRESS

Other Addresses Given In Afternoon And Evening

The young men and women of Bates enjoyed a special privilege Wednesday morning in the splendid talk which Dr. Galloway gave at the regular chapel exercises.

Dr. Galloway took for his subject, "The Hygiene of the Imagination." He began his discourse by a definition of imagination and said much as follows: What do we mean by the imagination? The imagination is that quality of consciousness that enables us to re-image incidents, experiences, and points of view of the past, on the one hand, and, on the other hand, to project the present into the future, to image possible future happiness and bring it into the present. Thus we can see what a wonderful enrichment imagination brings to the present. It brings to the present all that has stuck to us from the past, future possibilities, and the joys of the moment, hence making the present trebly meaningful.

The present realm is that in which our senses must operate. The present is the time in which we must live. In the future, we will have only the present. Thruout eternity, we will have only the present to live. We all know that hygiene is a consideration of healthful functioning. The Hygiene of Imagination, then, is the functioning of the imagination in such a way as to mean most to the present and so that the future will not be unfavorably conditioned.

What is the meaning of imagination in personality? What does it mean to us to have it? The immediate effect of imagination is to reinforce every desire, appetite, and state of mind beyond its biological past. The problem is holding these biological impulses down thru the imagination. This is what Adam came up thru. We have faith to believe that he came thru all right.

The question is, can we stand this enrichment? It may prove to be like turning on too much gasoline in running an automobile. This enrichment brings a subtle temptation to live only in the present—to rest in its satisfactions and present imaginary satisfactions. It also brings a temptation to live a life that is more or less divorced from the present. We tend to imagine things that cannot be put into execution on account of the more or less artificial restraints of society. The imagination, however, must be controlled from the inside rather than by social conventions.

It is true that imagination influences our external life. Our conduct and choices are molded by it. Imagination determines what a man shall turn down. The wish to do an imaginary thing is as bad as doing it.

It is a human duty to be integer. We cannot afford to have a group of qualities that are running riot within us. The self-restraint as practiced by human society is of value, right in this connection. We have the opportunity to make good in this integration of self.

This richness of imagination may have two effects. It may produce an accelerated effect pushing the individual on to activities that are unsound, or it may enable a man to think of the whole situation. The ability to turn down a tremendous impulse in the interest of the whole interest of life is the beginning of morality. Imagination may take a man on and enable him to stand up in his integrity and sway these particular impulses that come to him.

To recapitulate. There are three attitudes that may be taken by the imaginative person. He may repress with a firm hand aroused impulses, which by the way is not good psychology, he may allow his impulses to run riot, or he may

BATES STUDENTS ALL JOURNEY TO BRUNSWICK SATURDAY

SECOND GAME OF CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES TO BE PLAYED THERE

Team Fit And Confident Of A Second Victory

Day after to-morrow our victorious football team stages the second championship game of the series with Bowdoin at Brunswick. Much depends upon the outcome of this contest. A win for Bates means that the team has an excellent opportunity to defeat Colby for the state pennant, provided of course that Colby beats Maine next Saturday. Bowdoin-Bates traditions favor our team. For the last ten years the Garnet has carried away the spoils in the games at Brunswick, while Bowdoin has reciprocated by winning the games here. Two years ago our light team demoralized the opposition in the last period of play and won 27 to 0, a large score for Bates-Bowdoin games. Last year on our field Bowdoin won with a single touchdown.

The Garnet will not line up next Saturday, however, with the expectation that tradition will award the victory. The Bowdoin team gave Colby a big surprise last Saturday and came near securing a tie. The line showed ability to hold fast under the shadow of its goal posts, and the backfield developed promise of offensive strength. Therefore, the game will be closely contested and an interesting one to watch.

All the Bates men came out of the game with Maine in good condition and will be in readiness to play the games of their lives. The backfield combination last Saturday worked very well, Talbot running the team at quarterback like a veteran. DeWever showed the same wonderful ability to penetrate the line that he has displayed all season. An added pleasing feature was the way the men held onto the ball. There was no tendency toward fumbling.

The old weakness at the ends was not in evidence. Moulton and Wiggin both played a remarkable game, the work of Wiggin in tackling the runner before he could get under way bringing back memories of the playing of Capt. Danahy. He is fast and a sure tackler. No better evidence of the ability of the line to hold could be offered than the game last Saturday.

A special train will leave Lewiston at 12:40 to convey the students and others to Brunswick. The return train will leave Brunswick at 5:30 o'clock. No doubt every student will plan to attend the game.

JORDAN SCIENTIFIC SOCIETY MEETS FOR SECOND TIME

NEW MEMBERS ELECTED AND OTHER BUSINESS TRANSACTED

The Jordan Scientific Society met in Carnegie Hall last Monday evening. No papers were read, but several business matters were considered. Mr. Allen, chairman of the executive committee, announced the sending of an order for some of the society writing paper and solicited applications for the same. Secretary Wilson brought up the matter of society pins. Mr. Allen then explained the measurement of gravity by means of the pendulum, an experiment which he had been working on in the laboratory.

G. E. Green, E. H. Connors and H. J. Stettbacher, members of the Senior class, and H. A. Strout of the Junior class, were elected to membership.

The next meeting will be held three weeks from last Monday night to avoid conflict with other society schedules.

To relate the two aspects so that the whole dominates. To bring it about that the totality of life dominates the present is religion. That is what the Eternal is after.

OCTOBER 31

Competition Will Be Chiefly
Between Lower Classes

The annual interclass cross country run will take place on Tuesday, Oct. 31, at 4 P.M. The object of this run is to give a hard workout for the varsity men, and, at the same time, to give those men not fortunate enough to make the varsity team a chance to get into competition and do something for themselves and their class. The competition between the Freshman and Sophomore classes bids fair to be especially keen, since each of these classes boasts of four varsity runners. The result of the race no doubt lies between these two classes, with 1919 a favorite owing to
