ENGLISH 4a PLAYS TO BE ON TONIGHT

Third Program of Players In Little Theater

Tonight the third program of the English 4a Players will be presented in the Little Theater, Hathorn Hall. The group of plays to be given is an extremely attractive one, and the program would grace any stage. Three one act plays will be presented. They are ultramodern, and represent the best in contemporary American drama of this type. Bates little realizes the great privilege which it has in the opportunity to see plays like these, produced in the approved Little Theater fashion. The trend in the larger cities and colleges is directly toward productions of this sort, and Bates is a pioneer among colleges with her facilities. A recent issue of the Yale Record bemoans the lack of a Little Theater on her campus-Bates should congratulate herself.

If one were in Boston, he would consider it a privilege to see the Harvard Players in their Little Theater. If one were in New York, recently, he would hasten to see the Little Theater Tournament, and once there, would see "The Trysting Place," one of the comedies to be given at Bates. If one were in Los Angeles, he would jostle with screen and stage stars to get into the Los Angeles Little Theater. At Bates an equal privilege is presented, and it should call forth an equal approval.

Three plays will be given. The first is "What They Think," by Rachael Crothers. It is a problem play, the specific problem being that of the modern jazz age. Miss Crothers is one of America's most distinguished and popular playrights, and "What They Think" is a fine example of her work. The cast is a capable one, and is:

"CYK" WINS AT NEW ENGLANDS IN TWO MILE

Bates Nets a Total of Twelve Points

Bowdoin College annexed the N. E. track and field championship last Saturday, when F. Bishop scored the winning points with a victory of 11ft. 3 inches in the pole vault. M. I. T. and Williams were strong contenders until this final event. Bates scored 12 points securing seventh place. Some very fast races were witnessed and thrilling finishes were many.

The quarter-mile race was one of the fastest of the day in which Stowers of Williams equalled the meet record of 49 1-5s, held by Jake Driscoll of Boston College. This also tied the track record held by Tom Halpin of the B. A. A. Smith of Tech came second with Tierney of H. C. third. Archibald who had been running from behind throughout the race was in sixth place as he passed the bleachers, but by a tremendous effort was able to gain one point for the Garnet.

The mile was an exceptionally interesting event. Tom Cavanaugh of B. C. led for two laps. On the third lap Sanborn of Tech challenged for the lead and the pair sprinted down the back stretch opening a large gap between and the field. At the gun lap, Sanborn had 25 yards on Cavanaugh and an additional ten on the others. It was then that Ben Sargent stepped from fifth place into second and began to cut down the engineer's lead; but though he gained on Sanborn, he saved his final sprint too late and in a thrilling home-stretch finish crossed the line but a scant yard behind the Tech flyer. Merriam of Boston University was third, and Cavanaugh fourth.

"Cyk" McGinley had things pretty much his own way, for though the competition was good, the Garnet Captain (Continued on Page Three)

A BATES BAND

It is high time that the lack of a college band here at Bates was remedied with emphatic action. Efforts, during the football season, have been made to get together such an organization and for a time things have looked fairly promising. But a college the size of Bates needs a band—and a real band—at other times of the year besides the football days of each fall.

Three of the Maine colleges at the recent State Meet in Orono were represented by genuine bands, furnishing real music and lots

Maine, Bowdoin, and Colby had their bands. Bates had none. Shouldn't such a condition stir up those who are capable of making such an organization a going concern here? Why not put one over and put it over big!

Time and time again, during the college year, occasions arise when a band would serve to fill in just the right place. Celebrations of victory, baseball games, track meets, and all the rest, would be pushed over in a better style if a real band were only present.

We hope that, when fall comes again, a leader is ready to take hold and push this matter to its logical conclusion.

Bates College should not let another year go by without a permanent band.

Boost a Bates Band!

CARE OF THE TENNIS COURTS

The tennis manager has kept the courts in first class shape all the spring and it is most certainly up to those of us who care to use Ray out in front. them to do so with a proper degree of regard for "the other fellow." The manager has done his share,-let the rest of us do ours.

Every man and woman in college knows when he or she is doing damage to the courts thru careless footwear,-but not all college men and women seem to have the proper spirit of refraining from doing such damage to the courts.

From now on, try and remember that the courts are the property of all the college and that all the college cannot get the most out of them if some of us abuse our privileges.

Let us watch our step!

OUR SOCIAL LIFE

We repeat here the closing paragraph in the article under our "Jottings" of last week. It went like this:

"As far as facilities and materials to work with are concerned there is no reason why Bates College should be one mite behind the other colleges of the country in either college life or college spirit. The one begets the other. Life in the dormitories, dinners at the Commons, dances at Chase Hall are what we as individuals make them. So it is, with the more personal things which appertain to culture; dress, deportment and speech. The joyous part of it is, that all of us can be standard-bearers, if we want to be!"

The college wishes Professor Chase a most happy voyage. We are sure he will bring back to us a message, from the old world, well worth hearing.

"Cyk" showed 'em how it is done down at the New Englands last looked upon with much interest. week. Great stuff!

The faculty said "No!" in regard to the hike to Mount Katahdin Perhaps another year will find that assemblage looking upon the idea more favorably. It's a hike that should be made.

At the Penn Relays for 1922, Ray Buker "jerked" the runners, pacing them out fast and then slowing them down again. It seemed last Saturday as though "Cyk" McGinley had also mastered this trick, Too bad Ben didn't start his sprint a little sooner. It seemed to us that his arm went out by Sanborns shoulder in an attempt to reach the tape.

Congratulations to our newest candidate, eligible for the Varsity Club, Mal Luce. If one of his throws had attained slightly less height it would probably still be going.

Archie managed to pull out of a box just in time to "cop" a place.

"Jack" Magee is also to be congratulated on the showing his athletes made to celebrate his tenth annivers ary as track mentor at Bowdoin Col

But six Bowdoin athletes figured in the scoring, but they collected 291/a points. 13 of these, along with the New England hammer record, are to the credit of Captain Tootell. Here's hoping he becomes Intercollegiate champion next Saturday.

We'll have to start a home-run club column in the Student if Captain Kennelly's boys continue their bat-fest of last Saturday.

The Garnet ball tosses insist on an even hit and run column. 16 hits for 16 runs against Bowdoin, and 6 hits for as many runs against the Bay State Farmers.

To hold a team to three hits or often less, and then lose through his teammates inability to score seems to be Peanut's usual hard luck, not only in his college carreer, but even in his prep school days and summer baseball,

Attempts are being made to have Joie Ray compete in the Yankee Stadium Memorial day and in the Harvard Stadium June 9, in an effort to lower Norman Taber's world's record for the

By that time, Norman Taber's record may be already erased as tomorrow at the Stagg National Interscholastic Championships the "chesty blonde" will run a special feature race in an attempt to set a new world's mark. Paced records are not allowed, so E. E. Krogh, track captain at the U. of Chicago, will earry Ray at a fast pace for the first half, and from there, Ray Buker, will be called on to furnish the speed for the last half-mile. Here's hoping for a new mark wth our own

LAURA WARREN, Editor

Thursday evening a Camp Maqua Booster banquet was held at the Y. W. C. A. on Pine Street at 6.30. A delicious menu was served. Miss Vivian Milliken gave a toast to Camp Maqua and Laura Warren gave one to the Industrial girls. Miss Caroline Granquist acted as toast mistress. The Bates girls and Y. W. C. A. had charge of the entertainment, stunts etc.

Mrs. Fannie Dyer of Fryeburg was the week end guest of several Junior girls. Her daughter was formerly a member of the '24 class.

The girls who are out for tennis are playing off their matches as well as the weather will permit. More interest is being shown in tennis each year.

Y. W. C. A. ON HOUSE PARTY

About twenty-five girls, outgoing and incoming officers of the Cabinet of Y. W. C. A. to-gether with Mrs. George Chase and the Dean of Girls at Deering High, enjoyed a week-end house party at Gertrude Lombard's cottage at South Freeport.

The purpose of this annual house party of the old and new Cabinets is to give the girls an opportunity to discuss campus problems and to get an insight into the work for the coming year. On Saturday evening a concert and entertainment was given in the local church by the girls. The Sunday morning service was also under their auspices.

The fine weather, wonderful eats, sait water and boating made Freeport a place that will long be happily remembered by the Bates delegation.

Y. W. CABINET DINNER

Last Thursday evening the members of the old and new cabinets of Y. W. C. A. were the guests of Mrs. Gould, Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Leonard at dinner it Mrs. Gould's home. Baskets of dainty spring flowers were in the center of the tables and at each place a small may basket filled with confections tempted the girls. Dinner was erved cafeteria style. After dinner each girl was asked to guess the names of twenty-two famous buildings and sites of the world-pictures of which were placed around the room. Miss Robertine Howe was given a basket of yellow jonquils, having eighteen correct guesses.

The home atmosphere, the delicious home cooked food, and the thotfulness of the faculty ladies meant much more to the girls than they can express.

ran the race the way he wished and the field allowed him to. "Cyk" was second. Occasionally he would sprint a little and the field would follow him: Or he would relinquish the lead to others and at times was in sixth place, but never in danger. Hendrie of Tech, out of a sick bed, made a gallant effort in the first mile but was too weak to do his best. "Cyk" kept the field distance 111ft. 7in., fourth. guessing no longer than till the crack of the pistol. He then uncorked a remarkable sprint, and was travelling at top speed when he broke the worsted. Cobb of Amherst finished second, Mc-Keeman of Maine third, and Leonard, a youngster from Boston College who looked dangerous on the seventh lap, Luce was the only man to place for the Garnet in the field events, and gave a very creditable showing. His throw of 153ft. 4in, was the high mark, until the final throw made by King of Wesleyan, who beat Luce by less than two feet.

On its second invasion of the Bay State, the Bates College nine trimmed the Massachusetts Agricultural College, E. Tubbs, ch. 6 to 2. Six hits and several errors by W. Carll, rh. the local team counted for six Bates runs. "Silent" Martin was the twirler who pitched Bates to victory, and he received considerable backing, when the Garnet made but 3 errors out of 42 chances. Jordan's fielding was worthy of notice as the first-sacker handled 15 chances cleanly. Cogan and Rowe led the hitting, with a pair each.

The Mother, Norine Whiting The Father, Elton S. Young "The Curtain" is the second play. It is written by Hallie Flanagan, produced widely and with much success.

The cast is: Ruth Norton Mr. Norton Officer Lestrande Richard Waddell Sadie Leah Shapiro Waldo Reis and

Daniel Turner "The Trysting Place" will occupy the important part of the program, and should prove to be very fine. It is by Booth Tarkington, and his name alone should be a sufficient recommendation. It was produced in New York recently at the Little Theater Tournament, and is recognized as a masterly play. It appears to be the most attractive vehicle which the 4a Players have thus far chosen to present. The cast is a stellar one, and an important role is taken by Walter V. Gavigan, '24 of

A typicl John Ward modl that combines in-bilt quality with every attribute of conservativ correctness that the wel-drest collej man coud desire.

Time 2 hours 14 min. of the company's programs thus far. Mr. Gavigan is at present considering an offer to play in a touring stock company during the summer season of "Peanut" Hamilton pitched a great 1923. His presence in the cast insures game against Brown Wednesday and professional verve to the production.

Coaches of the plays are, in the order by Hamilton 3, by Neubaur 2. Struck that the casts were named, the Misses Norine Whiting, Alice Blouin, and Alice Wild pitch: Hamilton. Time: 1 hr. 40 Jesseman. Professor Grosvenor May Robinson has had the undertaking under general supervision. Professor Albert Craig Baird, state of Maine director of the Drama League of America has arso assisted in promoting the program. Business manager is Elton S. Young, and Wilbur Batten is chairman of the organization. The plays will be given at 8.15, Friday night, May 25. Admission will be 35 cents.

The Little Theater organization is now on the road to success, and the programs previously given insure admirable work. The group deserves unqualified support. Next year even more ambitious plans are forecasted. It is planned to take the company on tour, and thus spread the worth of Bates' theatrical prowess. Indeed, it is very likely that the program to be given tonight will be presented again, this spring, at an out of town stand. The organization deserves to grow.

SCIENCE CLUB Junior and Soph. Members Elected

At the meeting of Jordan Scientific, Wednesday night the following officers were elected for the coming year.

Elberton J. Tiffany

Arthur W. Pollister

Executive Committee Chairman Linwood B. Hilton Rudolf T. Kempton

President

Secretary and Treasurer Stanton D. Ross

The following new members were elected to the club: Junior members, William Raymond, Elmer Watson, Wilbur Luce, Gerald Rose, Arthur Bragg, Guy Rowe, Victor Reed, and Donald Buck; Sophomore members, Stanley Wilson, Carroll Bailey, Albert Dimlick, Frank Dorr and Raymond Jones.

IVY HOP

Advance information concerning the Ivy Hop to be given by the Junior Class on June 5th marks it as the crowning social event of the year. The committee in charge composed of Wallace Fairbanks, Mrs. Emroye Burns and Dorothy Lamb promise an event bigger and better than anything the campus has seen. The student body seems to have appreciated this for the advance sale of orders is larger even than was expected. It will be an affair that few intend to miss.

It has been kept some what secret as yet but it is dimly known that the favors this year will be something entirely new and very elaborate. The music will be furnished by the "Collegiate Syncopators'' who have shown their wares at the other successful college dances of the year and incidentally have gained an enviable reputation in the two cities as well. The decorations for the hall are to be in the class colors garnet and gray and nothing will be spared to make the hall a proper setting for the affair. The affair is to be formal one, the report to the contrary notwithstanding, following the precedent set by the Hop of last year.

Best of all the dancing will extend an extra hour from eight to twelve. The fact that there are no classes or exams the following day means an opportunity to fully recuperate and gain the reserve strength needed for the trying period.

The chaperones will be Dean and Mrs. Pomeroy, Miss Lena M. Niles, Professor and Mrs. O. F. Cutts, Professor and Mrs. Chester A. Jenkins and Mr. Evan A. Woodward. The guests of honor will be President and Mrs. Gray.

The dance orders are now on sale by Wallace Fairbanks and Mrs. Burns and can be obtained on deposit of the requisite sum, $3. It is imperative that all who attend to be present should obtain their orders at once in order that the committee may plan for the favors and refreshments.

DEUTSCHE VEREIN

Monday evening an open meeting of Hall. This last meeting of the year proved to be the best in several ways. Kenneth Conner's outline of L'Arrabbiata set every one in a humorous mood for the evening. A short skit of a scene in a German Restraurant was cleverly enacted by four members of the club. The chief feature of the evening was the screen pictures dealing mainly with scenery concerning William Tell. Dr. Leonard added to these by informaly describing each one in a most infteresting manner. Programme is as follows:

Music-Ruth Leader, Ruth Flanders. Mein Little Yancob Strausz Albie Small

Outline of "L'Arrabbiata"-

Kenneth Conner The Island of Capri-Lelia Emerson Music-Ruth Leader, Ruth Flanders Skit-Schulzes in Restaurant;
