BATES SCORES WIN OVER OREGON TEAM

Limitation of Supreme Court Opposed by Audience

Oregon State Agricultural College met Bates College in debate in the chapel last Monday evening, on the question: "Resolved, that Congress should have the power by a two-thirds vote to over-rule a decision of the Supreme Court declaring an Act of Congress unconstitutional." Oregon upheld the affirmative. The audience voted on the merits of the question, the negative being favored, 230 to 99.

Robert M. Kerr, opening the discussion for Oregon, pointed out that ours was a government of checks and balances; that of the three branches of government, the Supreme Court alone was unchecked; and that Congress was better fitted to carry out the duties of the court.

Fred Young showed that the actions and the attitude of the Supreme Court was entirely consistent with the principles of American democracy; that an analysis of the court's record shows that it has adapted itself to new conditions, and to changes in public opinion; and that there were ample checks placed upon the Supreme Court. In short, the speaker showed that the change was unwarranted and unnecessary.

The final speaker for Oregon, Blair L. Stewart maintained that the non-application of checks and balances to the Supreme Court had jeopardized the safety of the country. He cited several instances in which one man, by virtue of a 5 to 4 decision, had decided the unconstitutionality of an act. In a democracy such as ours, it would be better to vest this power in an elective, truly democratic body, such as Congress.

Tracy M. Pullman, last speaker for Bates, demonstrated the evils which would result from the adoption of the proposed policy. Congress should not have the power to decide the constitutionality of its own acts, since it is a changeable, political body. It would weaken the rightful power of the Supreme Court, and would make the Chief Executive a mere figurehead.

The rebuttals were generally good, Kerr being the outstanding speaker.

Dean Fred E. Pomeroy acted as presiding officer.

LOVING CUP PRESENTED TO PROF. BAIRD AT BANQUET

The presentation of a silver loving cup to Prof. Baird from this season's debaters was an unexpected feature at the banquet at the DeWitt Hotel prior to the Oregon debate last Monday evening.

Erwin Canham, toastmaster for the occasion, spoke briefly and simply of the esteem with which Prof. Baird was regarded by those who had worked under him and with him. Mr. Canham expressed the wish that Prof. Baird might meet with every success in the great western country to which he was soon to journey.

Prof. Baird replied feelingly to this tribute from his debaters, expressing his appreciation for the co-operation which the undergraduates had always displayed in conducting the forensic affairs at Bates.

SOPHOMORE MEN'S DEBATE NEXT THURSDAY EVENING

For the affirmative, Fletcher Shea and John Scammon will speak, while Leon Townsend and Elmer Campbell are to speak for the negative.

WORK ON CAMPUS COMIC PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

BOB-CAT SOON TO APPEAR

At last Bates is to have a college comic. The "Bates Bobcat" is progressing by leaps and bounds. This magazine which is being edited by the "Student Board" will be published within the next few weeks. The board is working hard to make the first issue a success. They realize that they have a hard task ahead of them but they are not discouraged. They have adopted for their slogan—"Long Live The Bobcat."

Not only is the "Student Board" working hard to make this comic a success. They are receiving wonderful support from the student body. Many contributions have been received. The drawings are very clever and deserve to be ranked with those in the best of college comics. The jokes are witty and original, and one will be sure to get a good laugh from them. All in all everything seems to point to a happy future for the "Bobcat."

OUTING CLUB ASKS FOR NOMINATIONS

New Board Member to Be Elected for One Year

At this time each year the student body nominates and elects the following members for the Outing Club Board of Directors:

From the present Junior Class, 7 men, 3 women. From the present Sophomore Class, 5 men, 2 women. From the present Freshman Class, 4 men, 1 woman.

These directors will hold office until May, 1926.

It is the duty of each member of the Outing Club to see that there are those people nominated who have shown that they will take an active part in planning and carrying out the activities of the Club.

The following extract from the Constitution gives the rules for the nomination and election of these directors:

ARTICLE IV

Sec. 4. For each succeeding year student members of the Board, excepting those from the incoming class, shall be elected from the membership of the Club. Voting shall be by secret ballot before May 15th, members in each class voting for not more than the allotted quota chosen from among those who have already been nominated as representatives from their respective classes. Faculty members of the Club shall be free to ballot for any ten candidates.

Sec. 5. Nominations for this election shall be made in writing. The signatures of at least seven members of the Club shall be required on each nomination paper, and in order to validate a nomination such a paper bearing the requisite signatures must be deposited with the Secretary of the Club some time prior to 6 p.m. on May 1st. When May 1st falls on a Sunday, the nominations shall close at six o'clock p.m. on Monday, May 2nd, so that there may still be ample time to have the names of all nominees printed at the head of the official ballot.

Y. M. C. A. HEARS TALK BY STATE SECRETARY

JEFF SMITH ON "LIVING"

Jeff Smith of the State Y. M. C. A., not one of the Smith Brothers, brought the students a discussion on the ways of living this week at the "Y" meeting.

"He that saveth his life shall lose it and he that loseth his life shall save it." Most of us have to live, but nevertheless, we give little real attention to living. It is not a question of procuring three square meals a day, of obtaining many luxuries, in paying our bills. It is a question of service; help the other fellow. What would Saint Peter say to us if all the credentials we had to offer were, 'I paid my bills'.

Christ went about doing good. He did not graduate from any school or college. His was the simple life, but he put into life something finer and better than had been in it before. 'He went about doing good'. Is this your motto? You cheat yourself out of the finest opportunities, you limit your usefulness, your living if you think in terms of yourself. Live for others as well as for yourself. Is this a better college because you are here? In terms of real living it should be.

Even since the day preceding the opening of school after the spring recess, the garnet willow wielders have been getting in a large amount of practice. "Wig," is spending most of his time at batting practice with the hope that the squad will come out of the so termed "hitless wonders" class. Incidentally the manner in which some of the boys are socking them, it looks as though this very thing is about to take place.

There are three berths open in the infield and Coach Wiggin is trying out a large number of men at the various positions in attempting to get together the right combination. "Capt. Johnnie" Baker is the only veteran and without doubt he will be kept at his old position on the hot corner. "Johnnie" will also be the mainstay for the garnet with the stick. Being regarded as a fence buster, "Johnnie" will figure to a great extent at the bat. There are three aspirants left from the cut for the initial sack with "Kippy" Jordan as the pick of the lot. However McGinley and Collins are both eager for the position. At second Dimlick is back at the game. Holman and Hinds are also making bids for the position. "Al" is an exceptionally fine fielder and with a slight improvement in batting he will make a valuable man. Probably the best looking prospect of the new men is Elliot Small, brother of "Charlie" who is making a strong bid to hold down shortstop. He is a left-handed hitter and busts 'em on the nose consistently.

Without doubt "Doc" will hold down the receiving end in most of the games, although Kanally is making a strong bid along with Wing and Palmer.

Charlie Ray and "Red" Menneally are both hitting hard as per usual and with last year's experience, they will be depended on to do part of the slugging this year. The other position in the outer garden is a problem. Possibly one of the pitchers will be used in this place.

"Pete" Burrill who has been hitting 'em to all sections of the field may possibly occupy one of the outer-garden berths.

"Peanut", "Hap" and "Charlie" comprise a strong pitching staff with Bowen also capable of making a strong appearance.

On the Convention System

The Sophomore Women's Debate is to be held Tuesday evening on the question: Resolved, that in the State of Maine the convention system for nominating state candidates should be substituted for the direct primary system.

The Misses Hussey, Townshend, and Seiber, will uphold the affirmative; the Misses Bunk, Geary, and Flanders, the negative.

AN IDEAL

"College men and college women!" How often have we heard speakers use these words. How often is it said that we ought to know this; and ought to do that. How frequently does the popular speaker, replete with platitudes about "doing your own thinking", stand on the platform and point his finger to the right and then to the left, bellowing: "Young men and young women now is the time when youth must realize its responsibility and come into its own."

And then we file out of the hall brimming over with enthusiasm about "coming into our own". Then follows disillusionment. Our proves to be less than nothing. If we dare our attempts are doomed to scorching criticism. Our attempts are ridiculed and our mistakes magnified. In fact we are not men or women and one is highly imaginative who says that we do our own thinking.

This brings us to our main theme: the ideal college. We would have the ideal college controlled by students to the very limit of discretion. We would have extra-curriculum activity freed from faculty supervision. We would place responsibility squarely upon the shoulders of students. If they failed, theirs would be the same punishment received by failures elsewhere. True this would lead to costly mistakes, but time would teach students to choose as their leaders; the capable. As long as the students feels paternal supervision, either in studies or extra-curriculum activity he will succumb to the weaknesses of a child. He will be weak-willed, irresponsible and inefficient. He will feel that college work is just a game between himself and the faculty; convince them that he knows a subject and his conscience is clear. He does not feel responsible to his fellows and they in turn look upon him as cleverest, who best wins in the little game with the professor. The need of the present day is to remove from the small liberal college the paternalistic air of the prep school.

THE OREGON DEBATE

With clever logic and remarkable oratory an entirely new Bates debating team upheld the tenets of New England: that conservative and democratic government should prevail, against the proponents of a more popular government, the Oregonians. The debate was as interesting as any this year and to the new debaters belongs all the praise that we can give them. This debate is another tribute to Bates debating and the man to whom, more than any other, its success is due.

Baseball is in the air. And Track. And Tennis. Let us not forget that men on these teams are foregoing many a pleasant afternoon along the river bank in order to put the name of Bates to the fore. We must take an interest in what they are doing, because they are doing it for us. If we had poor teams we should support them. And since we have good teams, yes, championship teams, we should back them to the utmost.

Gr-r-r-r—THE BOBCAT!

Sport Notes

Palmer Hinds, Editor

Well, the garnet opens her baseball season with the annual exhibition game with Bowdoin on Garcelon Field, Monday. Although Ben Houser's colts have the advantage of having played several games on their Southern trip, "Wig" expects the bobcats to come through with a win.

I'll say, it seems good to see the garnet ball tossers step up and sock 'em in the true big league fashion. There is no reason why we shouldn't cop the State Championship this year.

The new mail boxes at Chase Hall are quite an improvement over the old style of handing out letters. Before the new individual boxes were installed, there was a daily rush following chapel service for the post office in the store.

Have you noticed the growing interest in the game of golf at the institution. It is quite a common occurrence to be walking along the paths and hear someone yelling "fore." We would suggest that the athletic association be touched up as to the possibility of an 18 hole course being layed out for the benefit of the Bates golfers. (Yes).

The Munkee A. C. staged quite a Track Meet last week. Reports say that a more extensive program is to be carried out Thursday with the press and official judges on hand.

Thursday evening the rally was a success and each Thursday unless there is a game during the week there will be a short rally for the Ball Club and the Track team. These two teams are of the highest calibre and they really merit the student support.

For the benefit of the cheering section there will be set aside a portion of the stand where all the cheering students will sit en masse. The two cheers that are to be used a lot are new to us and they are printed below. Learn them and learn to put the pep into them. Remember that you are trying to spur the players on and the more pep and enthusiasm you put into your yells the better the ball players will be. You owe this to the two teams, it is part of your job while you are here, so lets hop to it and crash thru with a bang.

Here they are, now lets have them right,
Rah Rah and a Boom Rah
And a Rah Rah Boom Bates Boom Rah
Wow Wow Bates.
B-A-T-E-S
B-A-T-E-S
Rah Rah Rah
Boom-er-laka
Boom-er-laka
Hit Bates Hit.

Let's all be over Thursday night and get these things done right, because we can't pass up any chances to help the Ball club take Bowdoin over Monday afternoon.

ON TO VICTORY

Here's to Bates Bob Cat,
The loyal cat, the royal cat.
Our faith in thee will for ever be.
We will take the pains for we
Have the brains,
And back you through and through.

Hail to Bates: Hurrah for Bob Cat.
We've been good sports, we'll be Good sports.
We will fight for you,
Fairest of all Bob Cats.
Finest spirit you always see,
We will praise you for ever,
Glorious you will be,
Hail to Bates: Hurrah for Bob Cat,
On to Victory.

The Summer School might be the berries for making up a semester of French but how about the delinquent who has two semesters of snowshoe hiking to make up.

All in all this P. T. problem is a tough proposition. But then what good is a college degree to a man who can't turn a double flip-flop on the horizontal bars?

What good would a teacher of mathematics be if he couldn't chin himself twenty-four times?

Think how convenient it would be for future Bates' teachers to be able to illustrate geometrical propositions and vector forces by going through contortions before the class.

It would relieve the monotony of the English class if the teacher would drop the discussion of Hamlet for a few seconds and do a backward somersault and a few handsprings.

Bates co-eds ought to learn how to swing Indian Clubs. By the time they graduate they would be in good condition for clouting their future spouses with a rolling pin.

There are two ways of getting P. T. credit. Those who are not friends of the manager of some athletic team are out of luck and have to take Ollie's gym classes.

Some guys who have been receiving P. T. credit regularly never play anything more strenuous than poker.

One senior who has credit for four years of baseball when asked what position he played, replied, "I played batter."

We are going to apply for P. T. credit on the basis of the work we have done dodging golf balls on the campus.

When we get the new gym P. T. will be a pleasure. A fellow can go over to the old gym and wrestle and train on the mats and feel consoled by the fact that whether or not he gets P. T. he is sure to get T. B.

One fall on the mats and the victim thinks he's in Pittsburgh. If it weren't for Jimmy Gray appearing on the spot with a shovel many a good Bates man would have been buried alive.

After a few weeks of P. T. in the old gym a fellow is well on the road to hell-th.

Another phase of this P. T. question is the cross word puzzle effect of the catalogue class index. More pure, innocent freshmen have learned how to swear trying to look up names in the college catalogue than ever learned the art of profanity by finding that the morning they had picked to sleep over was the morning of one of Nola's choice double-cut days.

There is one sophomore that has cut P. T. so much that according to Nola's records he is still in grammar school.

After perusing the catalogue for some hours we have come to the conclusion that something has got to be done to prevent athletics from interfering with P. T. Some fellows spend so much time on varsity athletics that they neglect to get any physical exercise at all.

Sombody ought to give us P. T. credit for writing this column. As it is they give us everything but.

HAPPY THOUGHTS

All of us are laughing
All of us are gay

Their joys and their sorrows and thrills.

DR. TUBBS TELLS OF HENRY CLAY'S LIFE

On Monday evening Dr. Tubbs gave the first of a series of lectures which he will continue to the end of the semester.

Dr. Tubbs chose for the theme of his first lecture, the life of Henry Clay. "This name," said Dr. Tubbs, "will endure thruout American history." It is a name to be revered. It has always impressed me since I was a lad. Every college man and woman should read the life of this eminent man, that they may profit by so doing.

The key to the life of Henry Clay is to know that he was a man of great emotional temperament. He had very little control over himself. Unlike Clay, Washington was a man of tremendous passion, but only two or three times did it get the better of him.

Clay was a man very similar to our own "Uncle Johnnie" Stanton. Emotion governed the life of both of these men.

Henry Clay will be known in history as the great compromiser. Some men would rather die than yield. Clay, however, was pliable; he was friends with everyone. He could take all nine sides of a question. "I am fully convinced," said Dr. Tubbs, "that it was thru the work of this emotional man that we have a union today. He could see all sides of the terrible controversy which threatened to split our country into two parts. But for his compromises the union would have been dissolved.

Clay was very quick-witted. One day while campaigning he ran across a group of hunters. He asked them to vote for him. To get rid of him they told him that they would vote for him if he would shoot for them. One of the party handed him a gun. Clay took aim and hit the bull's-eye. They wanted him to shoot again. He told them that he would shoot when they did better than he did. They laughed and later voted for him.

One day when he was well advanced in years a compromise bill came up in the Senate. Clay, altho physically unable to talk, went to the Senate. He wished to talk for three minutes. Two hours later, almost exhausted, Clay sat down, but not until he had finished that which he wished to say.

Clay belongs to an entirely different generation from that in which we are living. "He had his faults like all other men, but his good qualities completely overshadowed these, and it is for this reason," said Dr. Tubbs, in concluding his lecture, "that we are willing to forget them."

MUNKEE A. C. STAGES THRILLING SOCCER MATCH

Thursday afternoon the Munkee A. C. hied forth to the Girl's Athletic Field and gave the Soccer fans their interpretation of the game as it is played in "Dear Auld Scotland." Two teams were chosen, Andy Sinclair, star of The Westbrook Wandering Wanderers being Captain of team A, and Big Bobbie Chandler, the illustrious leader of team B.

There were several stars, present on both teams and the game was no crocheting party. Both teams toed the line in the pink of condition. It is well that they were in such fine condition as the game proved a severe test on their stamina, and was a great help for rheumatics.

A great crowd was on hand but it was hardly as large as that which attended the British Internationals at the Wembley Stadium. Motion picture concessions had been given, and several motion picture contracts have been offered to these athletes.

The track meet held by the athletic club last week was a huge success and another is planned for the near future.

SPRING ATHLETICS STARTED BY CO-EDS

Miss Francis Supervises— Tennis Rules

Under the supervision of Miss Francis and Vivian Milliken, the co-eds have already begun their practice in spring athletics which consist of soccer as a major, and tennis and track as minors. The class and interclass tournaments probably will not be held for two weeks, but all preliminary practice which the co-eds can get in will be advantageous.

MISS FRANCIS

The rules concerning the use of the tennis courts are posted on the women's Athletic Association Bulletin Board. It will be appreciated if the Bates men will be courteous, as always, and refrain from playing golf on the soccer field or tennis courts; in order that they may also become acquainted with and observe the rules concerning the courts, the following regulations are published here:

1. No tennis during chapel time.
2. No use of courts if marked with a red flag.
3. No use of courts during required teams classes.
4. No student may play on the courts more than one hour in the morning or one hour in the afternoon.
5. Courts not claimed by at least one player within ten minutes after being assigned are considered vacant and may be used without signing.
6. Men use the courts only upon invitation from women students or with permission from Physical Education Department.

DEBATING CUP PRESENTED TO DEERING HIGH

All Schools Do Fine Work

MISS SOUTHARD IS CHOSEN BEST DEBATER

For the third consecutive time Deering High School was the victor of the Bates Interscholastic Debates held on campus last Friday and Saturday, thus making the coveted cup the permanent possession of Deering. Miss Eugenia Southard, captain of the Deering team, was declared best debater.

The debates as a whole were fine. The teams seemed to have as their slogan this year, "Beat Deering", and the earnestness and interest of the debaters made every moment keenly interesting. There was not a dull moment at any debate, for every one knew his subject thoroughly, and the teams showed many alert thinkers, excellent rebutting and well-directed team work. Bates is proud of this League, and of the twelve schools who came here Friday and Saturday. We are looking forward, with high hopes, for future Bates men and women from these teams.

Y. W. C. A.

The Wednesday evening meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was managed by the freshman class, in accordance with the custom that each class should lead one meeting during the year. Betty Dingley was in charge. The features of the program were a talk on successful women by Olive Flanders, a piano solo by Marion Heath, and a song by Elva Duncan. The freshman committee which arranged the meeting was composed of Beatrice Milliken, Marion Carll, Annette Callaghan, and Olive Flanders.

EUROPEAN DEBATES ARE STILL PENDING

Oxford and Cambridge To Be Met. Others Yet Undecided

The plans for Bates forensic invasion of England and Scotland during the months of May and June are rapidly taking shape as the schedule nears completion and the fund which the Lewiston "Journal" has undertaken to raise climbs steadily towards its goal.

The team, of which three members, Canham, Walker, and Davis, have already been announced, will leave Boston on the 10th of May. It is quite probable that a fourth man may be selected to join the trio already mentioned. The three or four representatives of Bates, will make the trip to Europe on the "Samaria", one of the newest of the Cunard liners. Liverpool will be their port of debarkation.

There are two questions offered by the Bates team for debate, recognition of Russia and the banning of opium traffic. Both of these questions are especially fitting questions for international debate, dealing as they do with matters on which Great Britain and the United States have somewhat different views.

The schedule of debates, which is very nearly completed, will bring the Bates men in contact with some of the best known universities of England and Scotland. Oxford and Cambridge, already experienced in International debating, are, of course, to be met. Other institutions which will be visited on this extensive tour include Liverpool, Manchester, Sheffield, Birmingham, and the two great Scottish universities, St. Andrews and Edinburgh. Debates with other colleges, Glasgow, Aberdeen, and the University of London, are pending.

This trip is being made under the auspices of the International Institution of Education. While these men, who are so well known on the Bates campus, will be representing their own institution, they will be, at the same time, representative of all American colleges and universities.

MORALITY PLAY GIVEN BY Y. W. C. A. FRIDAY EVENING

Y. W. PLAY, "THE QUESTIONER"

The program committee of the Young Women's Christian Association presented "The Questioner", a morality play, in the Bates Chapel on Good Friday evening at seven o'clock.

Alice Swanson was "the Questioner." To her aid she called "Gold", Elsie Morey; "Pleasure," Ruth Flanders; and "Doubt", Dorothy Hoyt. She believed that all of life was gold and pleasure and she doubted the divine origin of Christ.

"Wisdom", Margaret Lombard, told the Questioner about "Reason", "History", and "Experience". Ruth Nutter, Bernice Mayhew, and Helen Lovelace were introduced as those characters. Beatrice Wright took the part of "Nature".

The Questioner feared "Death", Ellouise Townsend, but "Wisdom" showed her that this attitude was not right.

"Death" came to the "Workman", Alice Aikens and was accepted easily, even gladly. The Mother, Ruth Wass died and went to heaven. Her daughter, Mary Fogg, spoke of the actual beauty of death. The Questioner was a witness of all this.

The three little children of the Questioner, Elanor Seeber, Elizabeth Williams, and Bernice Jordan entered. "Death" came to take the little boy, Elanor Seeber and his sister, Elizabeth Williams, did not try to stop him for she knew that the garden of death was beautiful and that the angel of death was kind.

"Sorrow", Lucy Wells, was the companion of the Questioner after the departure of the little boy. Finally "Love", Belle Hobbs, converted the Questioner. She came to believe in Christ and no longer to fear death, not even her own death, which was the consummation of the play.

Several solos by Alice Swanson were

LANTERN LECTURE TO FRENCH CLUB

Miss Townsend Tells Beauty Spots of France

Miss Townsend gave a most interesting lecture before the last meeting of the French Club in the Lecture Room at Carnegie Science Hall. Her topic was "Paris et Ses Environs" and was illustrated by one hundred views, some of which are quite remarkable.

Her first topic was Notre Dame which is the geographical center of Paris. She called attention to the beauty and antiquity of this monument, which has been the center of Catholic faith since the Middle Ages. This building has been the scene of many historical events among which is the wedding of Henry of Navarre which was performed under the porch because not being a Catholic, he could not be married inside the church. Here, too, was the marriage of Napoleon I and the worship of Reason during the Revolution.

Miss Townsend described the Conciergerie, the prison in which Marie Antoinette was confined before she was taken in the rumble cart of the executioner to the public square in which stood the guillotine.

From there, she took her audience to Sainte Chapelle, said to be the most beautiful building in all France. It was built by Louis IX to receive the relics of the Holy Land brought back from the Crusaders.

Miss Townsend then described a visit to the Louvre, one of the world's most famous art galleries, the Place de la Concorde, the world's most famous square, Napoleon's tomb and museum.

A trip to Versailles was next described. On the way to the train she explained the remarkable markets and the unique book-stalls along the embankment of the Seine. When she reached Versailles, Miss Townsend gave a wonderful description of the palace and gardens.

The twenty-five views of the fountains in these gardens were particularly good and most interesting.

COLLEGE GOLFERS MEET TO ORGANIZE

Martindale Club Assists With Fine Offer

The Bates golf-hounds, co-eds and all, met last Tuesday evening in Hathorn Hall to discuss the forming of a college golf association. In the absence of Prof. Ramsdell, one of the faculty advisers of the new movement, George McGoldrick took charge of the meeting. The following committee was chosen to look into the matter:

Faculty advisers, Mildred Francis, physical instructor for the girls, and Prof. Ramsdell, head of the department of mathematics, John P. Stanley Jr., '26, Harold Simpson, '26, George McGoldrick, '28, and the Misses Betsy Jordan and Beryl Irish, both '27.

The Martindale Country Club offered to let the college take out a membership for $150, but the matter was taken up too late for the necessary amount to be placed in the budget. This will in all probability be done next year, however. The directors of the club have very generously offered to let the golfers of Bates play from now until December for the small sum of five dollars. These agreements exclude the right to play on Saturday afternoons and on holidays.

A real interest has been shown in the sport and it is hoped that a further opportunity for playing may be had.

pleasing features of the entertainment. The girls' choir, led by Grace Brackett assisted. Evangeline Tubbs was the organist.

Elsie Brickett, chairman of the program committee, directed activities in preparation before the spring recess. Since that time Katherine Burke has been in charge. Genevieve Hincks and Eleanor Sturgis have been attending to the properties.

Advertising in College Papers

—is like radio broadcasting which is delivered to an unseen audience, and the "broadcaster" knows nothing of the message registration unless responses are sent in.

In December the John Hancock ran in this paper an advertisement headed "Do College Students Read Advertisements?" Here are some of the responses:

"Your advertisement in the Dartmouth was an unusual one, and I want to express my approval."

"If there were more ads like the one you ran in the Princetonian this morning it would be a pleasure to read a paper of nothing but ads."

"The students here in Han-over not only read the advertisements but also patronize the advertisers."

"The advertisement in the Illini is written from the college students' point of view. I believe in insurance because of the sound economic principles which underlie it. There remains then only the kind of policy and the company. What have you got?"

The John Hancock Mutual is particularly interested in insuring college men and women and obtaining ambitious college graduates for the personnel of its field staff.
