7-25-1877

The Morning Star - volume 52 number 30 - July 25, 1877

Freewill Baptist printers

Follow this and additional works at: https://scarab.bates.edu/morning_star
THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. III.

THE MORNING STAR, BOSTON AND CHICAGO, JULY 25, 1877.

NO. 30.

The Sunday-school from which no church consisted of two sermons, often elaborate, sometimes discussing a single point. In the Christian Science, the state of the blessed dead is represented more frequently than in other denominations. That some other people who attend them all, and find it not easy to follow the way the sermon leads on, will get on with no difficulty. The idea is a deep one, and the thought of Christ is all that we need now as proper subjects of thought. (Revelations 6.)

A BAYOU BLISS.

LEAVING, CINCINNATI, JUNE 30, 1877.

The March morning on which my friend and I embarked for Lake Michigan was very different from the March on which the Apaches started for the Garden of Eden. Theirs was a long and arduous journey; and the nearest approach to a journey of half a mile was the process of dressing their horses. Ours was a short and easy one; and the nearest approach to a journey of half a mile was the process of dressing ourselves. But our journey had its dangers and its perils. The Apaches were pursued by the soldiers of the United States; and ours were pursued by the smoke of our own camp-fire. The Apaches were ever in danger of being captured; and ours were ever in danger of being devoured. The Apaches were ever in danger of being shot down; and ours were ever in danger of being strangled. The Apaches were ever in danger of being burned; and ours were ever in danger of being drowned. The Apaches were ever in danger of being starved; and ours were ever in danger of being starved. The Apaches were ever in danger of being killed; and ours were ever in danger of being killed. The Apaches were ever in danger of being captured; and ours were ever in danger of being captured. The Apaches were ever in danger of being sold; and ours were ever in danger of being sold.

THE FAMILY GARDEN.

Montbaurry, with its five hundred inhabitants, is one of the most characteristic. It lies in a quiet valley, and is surrounded by a range of hills. The house of the bereaved lady and her unknown relative, where I was entertained, was a small cottage, with a thatched roof, and a garden in front. The garden was filled with flowers, and was surrounded by a low wall. In the garden was a small well, which supplied water for the use of the house. The well was surrounded by a fence, and was enclosed with a small door. The door was locked, and was kept by a woman who lived in the house. The woman was very kind, and was always ready to open the door for us. She was very pretty, and had a sweet smile. She was very kind, and was always ready to open the door for us. She was very kind, and was always ready to open the door for us. She was very kind, and was always ready to open the door for us. She was very kind, and was always ready to open the door for us.

SHEPHERD.
8. S. S. Department.

BUDGET OF EXPENSES.

[Table with budget details]

Communications.

PENSIONS IN CHRISTIAN CHURCHES.

[Paragraphs on pension systems in different Christian denominations]

[Continued paragraphs on pension systems and their benefits]

[End of page]
Against Tis most beseiting sin; it does righteous and, Called sinners to repentance, but simmering the failings which I deplore in myself and the lapses of Peter and the heinous orime has in any degree purposely overstated brethren but if Christianity be a failure through his Helper he has attained. The same degree that they shut out the bean.

Yet we do net learn that the Saviour To talk of things they never ean forget, "But they profess such great things," "The hardest men I have to deal with", "She and one other only three years gone," "In one day Mr. Lewis saw eighty-three"

But as this is a matter for which there seems no remedy, even so it must remain. I had no intention of suggesting a remedy. There is this difference between the

In Great Britain and America. Is the latest, full-

In almost every church there are a few

A GREAT OFFER! 1¢, it there

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

For Soreness of the Throat and Lungs

With Care," "There is this difference between the 20 Per Cent Net.

NEW YORK, FRENCH AND LONDON.

THE RISING SUN STOVE POLISH.

"A Thing of Beauty is a Joy Forever."
witnessing the Light reflected in the life of the simple statement, that when duty eats great hungering after riches. I went to The Woming Star.

idea — that it was wrong. No sense of suffering. Each must decide for himself._ jc union" and how it is to be consummated.

... joined — the former being both the proper construction, just as by thes self was loose and easy, if we may use the word. This shows that for all American citizens to exhibit the same church polity any easier than they will depend on uniformity of method to be employed.

church polity any easier than they will to be a loving Father and infinite in all kindness. For this reason, we are not surprised to find that for all American citizens to exhibit the same church polity any easier than they will depend on uniformity of method to be employed.

... as lineal descendant of Huns Sachs; whom was — the cobbler bard,' of * Nuremburg the ancient. The historic evidences which go to meet the necessities of the case.

... of Hebrews by the lives of Abel, Noah, ... to every man that asketh you a reason of the things that are in you, whether it be in the way of life or of instruction.

... of his kingdom. :

... and mone commonly received facts of history.

... meeting over the Sabbath. The meeting was looked forward to with considerable

... and all seemed agreed and will ing to unite in the specific work of offering

... good deal of same was not as many as were to acquire a style fully adapted to a

... to be a minister the more you show your-

... more tears. On, on with one monstrous

... the conceit of special holiness. We want the conceit of special holiness. We want
I. A JAPANESE LOST BOY.

And with his brother, and with his sister, and with his brother's wife, and her child.

II. FAMILY CIRCLE.

To one in the center, and to one on the side, and to one at the other end.

III. SENSE OF DUTY.

The workman and the wife, and the child, and the gay young people, and the old gentlewoman, and the old man.

IV. THE IRONMASTER.

Thus, through the wide ocean, and the still, and the broad piazza hung lazily an Eastern hamlet.

V. THE HIGHER BODIES.

The waves are broken precious stones,—the waves of woe.

VI. THE SCARCELY RELIGIOUS.

Yet loses not her anchorage, the little vessel.

VII. THE SAILOR BOY.

The morning star, the morning star, the morning star, and the morning star.

VIII. THE SMALL BUSINESS.

The vessel which the accident had caused, the vessel with the all.

IX. THE BITTER YEARS.

The beat of the drum, the beat of the drum, the beat of the drum.

X. THE WISDOM OF THE OLD.

The owner was one who, in a great city, without any ceremony and took a seat.

XI. THE EXPLORER.

The ship with the all.

XII. THE CHILDISH.

The little strawberry blossom said: I will soon be two o'clock.' I have thought so for some time,' said he, with great gravity, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XIII. THE NEW DAY.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XIV. THE howling WINDS.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XV. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XVI. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XVII. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XVIII. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XIX. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XX. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XXI. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XXII. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XXIII. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XXIV. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XXV. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XXVI. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XXVII. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XXVIII. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XXIX. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XXX. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XXXI. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XXXII. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XXXIII. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XXXIV. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XXXV. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XXXVI. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XXXVII. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XXXVIII. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XXXIX. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XL. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XLI. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XLII. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XLIII. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XLIV. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XLV. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XLVI. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XLVII. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XLVIII. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

XLIX. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

L. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

LI. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

LII. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

LIII. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

LIV. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

LV. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

LVI. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

LVII. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

LVIII. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

LIX. THE WIND.

Then the children accosted the Tithe boy who said: I have thought so for some time, I am carrying dry sticks for my nest.'

LX. THE WIND.
News Summary.

CURRENT EVENTS.

The battle of Nashville was resumed on Monday morning, and the loyal forces have succeeded in driving the rebels from the city and its environs. A large force of our troops is advancing upon the rebel army, and it is expected that the result will be decisive. The British fleet is reported to be on its way to the American coast, and it is feared that the enemy may attempt to interfere with the operations of the Union forces. The President has ordered the construction of a new fleet to be completed as soon as possible.

Rural and Domestic.

VENTILATION AND DISEASES.

The increase in the number of cases of fever and ague in the country is causing great alarm. The mode of transmission of the disease is by air, and the best means of prevention is to keep the air well ventilated. The use of tobacco and other stimulants is also to be avoided, as they tend to increase the intensity of the fever and to prolong its duration.

RIOTING IN CALIFORNIA.

The disturbance continues. The Union forces have been driven from the city and its environs, and the rebels are in possession. The Union forces are reported to be in a fair way of being restored to the city.

For its record.

The扰乱 was voted down by a vote of 2 to 1.

The patient right invents for one hundred dollars.

Prof. Bell, who has gone to Europe, will return to the United States as soon as possible.

Mr. H. R. Stevens —

A correspondent from California reports that the garrison has not only resisted the attack of the rebels, but has also driven them back to the city and its environs.

L. L. Bailey.

The disturbance occurred on Friday, and drove them behind the city and its environs.

F. L. D.

Holloway's Pills.

For its record.

Holloway's Pills.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

We have an extensive assortment of HOLLOWAY'S PILLS, which have been in great demand for some time. They are made of the finest ingredients, and are guaranteed to cure all cases of fever and ague. They are also useful in cases of cholera, dysentery, and other diseases.

VEGETINE.

NEW YORK, N. Y.

VEGETINE.

Bitters, Chews, and in Lozenges.

Manufactured and sold by H. R. Stevens, Boston, Mass.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.