Dramatic Club To Give Three One Act Plays

Unusual Productions Have Many New Faces In Casts

The first offering of the 4-A Players this year is the presentation of the three one-act plays, "Unnatural Scene," "The Birthday of the Infanta" and "The Seventh Man," tomorrow and Friday nights at eight o'clock in the Little Theatre. A large attendance is expected.

Choice Very Good

The choice of plays this year is remarkably fine because each one has a particularly outstanding quality to recommend it in addition to being excellent plays in themselves. "Unnatural Scene" by Kathleen Davy is outstanding because of its fine characterizations. The difficult task of creating developing characters has been well met in this play and the results are seen in the parts of Miss Brown and Miss Conway.

"The Birthday of the Infanta" by Stuart Walker is remarkable for its character creation of a little hunchback and the quaintness of the subject matter, which the author has treated so well that there is no trace of sentimentality.

The emphasis in "The Seventh Man," by Michael Redgrave, is more upon the situation itself. This play affords a more intense emotional excitement than either of the two preceding. The conflict is that of man against nature.

Provide Opportunities

Not only are the plays themselves a particular attraction, but the fact that they provide acting opportunities for many very capable members of Healers who have never had a chance to show what they can do should be of special interest. In addition to these new faces there are some veteran actors such as Edward Harvey '37 and Henry Farnum '39. The occasion will also mark the first directorial efforts of Margaret Melcher '37 and Robert Crocker '38. Millicent Thorp '37, who is directing "The Birthday of the Infanta," also directed last year's spring play, "Granite".

Tickets are now on sale in the bookstore and sell for the nominal sum of 35 cents.

The complete casts of the plays follow:

Bobcats Lose As Dave Soule Is Sensational

Polar Bears Look Good To Repeat As State Champs Again This Year

The Bates eleven's lead of 6-0 at the end of the half melted away when Soule of Bowdoin ran back the opening kick-off of the second half to score the first of four touchdowns by the Polar Bears in the annual State Series classic on Garcelon field last Saturday. The final verdict was 25-6 after 60 minutes of thrilling play. By their victories over Colby and Bates, the Polar Bears seem likely to repeat as the Maine State champions.

Bates Has Statistical Edge

The score was no indication of the Gagnet play, for the statistic sheet shows Bates with 12 first downs to Bowdoin's 7, yards gained by rushing Bates 161, Bowdoin 115, and forward passes tried by both teams 12--received 4. Bates gained 66 yards to Bowdoin's 50 on these passes.

Defeated GOP Candidate His New Deal Supported Democratic Candidate

Alfred M. Landon

Alfred Mossman Landon, Governor of Kansas, and Republican candidate for Presidency of the United States, was born in West Middlesex, Pennsylvania, on Sept. 3, 1887. He received his education at Marietta Academy and the University of Kansas, and was awarded honorary degrees from Washburn College and Marietta College.

Gov. Landon started his professional career as a bookkeeper in a bank at Independence, Kansas. He remained in this profession until 1912, when he became an independent oil producer. During the World War, he served as First Lieutenant in the Chemical Warfare Dept. He organized his county for Theodore Roosevelt, and managed Gov. Clyde Reed's Campaigns. He has been governor of Kansas since 1933, having been in office for two terms.

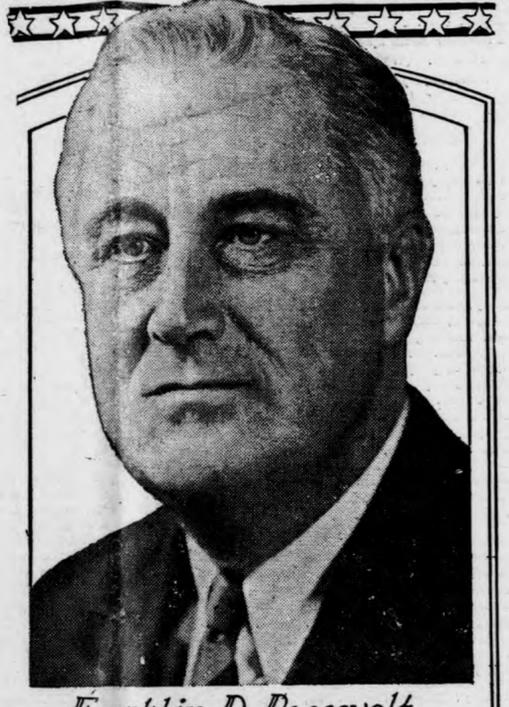

He has been married twice, and has three children.

His fraternal organizations include Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Delta Phi, the Masonic order, and the Elks.

Landon is a man who has been shaped by the mid-west oil industry.

He grew up as the son of an independent oil producer with ready spending money in his pocket, but yet he did not become extravagant. His excellent handling of the finances of Kansas during the bad years of the drought which struck the state in 1934 gives evidence of his appreciation of money value. He is clever at juggling political groups, playing one against the other for the good of the whole. He is not naively provincial, and doesn't expect to run the United States on the same plan as the State of Kansas.

In his campaigning, Landon is friendly and unpretentious, often wearing an old battered hat and no coat. He has difficulty speaking when he is "thinking on his feet," frequently hesitating and fumbling about. At these times, his south-western drawl is particularly noticeable. He has a good mind, but is not spectacularly intellectual. One of his most admirable qualities is his sincere interest in all people, and his love of talking to them.

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin Delano Roosevelt, thirty-second President of the United States, was born at Hyde Park, in Dutchess County, New York, on January 30, 1882. He was educated at home, with frequent trips abroad, at Groton, at Harvard in the class of 1904, and at the Columbia Law School.

In 1910 he had entered politics, and as a member of the State Senate to which he was elected in that year, made his memorable fight against Tammany. In 1913 he was called into Woodrow Wilson's official family as Assistant Secretary of the Navy and served in that capacity throughout the war, resigning in 1920 to participate in the campaign of that year as the running-mate of James Cox of Ohio. Defeated in the election, he turned back to private affairs and business; but he hardly made the shift when he was stricken in 1921 with infantile paralysis while on a brief vacation in New Brunswick.

Mr. Roosevelt's courageous fight for recovery from this tragic illness, which curtailed his physical activities for the next six years, is of great significance in his life for two reasons. In the first place, it gave him a long period of time for reading and study and quiet reflection, and many of his friends and acquaintances have testified that he emerged from this compulsory retirement a changed man--less impetuous and more serene--with a working philosophy that was a product of his struggle and study. In the second place, this period of seclusion gave him an opportunity for extensive correspondence to develop his idea of a Progressive Democratic Party.

Among the personal qualities and capacities Mr. Roosevelt has displayed in his years of political work are: a genuine enjoyment of the job, the fine art of dealing with men by friendly persuasion, an unusual ability in holding the good-will of the reporters in his daily press conferences, a very fortunate technique in radio address, and the habit of extensive correspondence with political leaders, on all levels, throughout the country.

Freshmen Will Play Last Game Fri. Afternoon

Strong Yearling Team Shows Improvement Despite Many Injuries

This Saturday, the Bates Bobkittens will have their last opportunity to lose their "frosh" skull caps when the Freshman Football team meets Maine Central Institute on Garcelon Field. If the "frosh" are victorious, they may shed their caps. If not, they must continue to wear them until Christmas.

Because of the Bobkittens very impressive showing in their last two starts against Ricker Classical Institute and the Kents Hill Preparatory, they are generally favored in the coming conflict. The Bobkittens outplayed and tied the strong Ricker ball club 0-0, and tied Kents Hill 6-6.

Four Freshmen Injured

M. C. I. has been defeated by the Ricker team 21-0, and tied by CoBurn 0-0. However, these statistics should cast no reflection upon their ability as they are reputed to possess a "scrapping" ball club.

In the clash with Kents Hill last Friday, Dick, Edminster and Merrill were injured and will not play against M. C. I.

The probable line-ups will be as follows:

Bates	M. C. I.
Cool, le	le, Garland

Now That It's Over

President Franklin D. Roosevelt is reelected without question. The overwhelming majorities in all but three states definitely attest to the vindication of the New Deal policies by the people of the United States.

That the United States is still far from a state of normalcy, however, is a fact accepted by both Democrats and Republicans. Democratic leaders, "in" for another four years, are pledged to deal with problems of monopoly, maximum working hours, minimum wages, child labor, and other working conditions. They are likewise pledged to a sound, unfluctuating currency; to have State and local cooperation in the national handling of unemployment; to continue soil conservation, crop restriction with payments, enforcement of anti-trust laws; continuance of reciprocal trade agreements; to preserve neutrality; to reduce expenses of government; and the extension of civil service.

The government has an ambitious program for the next four years. If such heated opposition and such clear-cut delineations in parties as have existed during the campaign continue after the smoke of the battle has cleared, the way will be difficult if not impossible. MOST of the country favors the New Deal. ALL the country must cooperate in making Mr. Roosevelt's next four years as satisfactory as possible in view of the possible crises which must be faced.

Democratic Candidate Has 523 Electoral Votes Against 8 For Landon

F. D. R. Second Democrat Ever Re-elected -- Carries All But Maine, Vermont -- N. H. Leaning Democrat At 5 A. M. -- Democrats Gain 4 Seats In House.

Taking a huge lead even in the earliest election compilations last night, President Franklin D. Roosevelt carried forty-six out of the forty-eight states to become the eleventh President of the United States to be re-elected. Roosevelt's probable electoral total at five o'clock this morning was 523 as against 8 for the Republican candidate, Gov. Alf Landon.

First indications of a Roosevelt landslide came when the New England Republican strongholds failed to give Landon expected majorities. "As Maine goes . . ." was blasted when Maine and Vermont became the only states to favor the Republican candidate.

Maine, however, gave Landon its five electoral by a 42,000 majority. Landon in nearly complete returns at five o'clock, had polled 166,603 votes as against 124,401 for Roosevelt and 7,315 for Lemke.

When Pennsylvania went Democratic with its 36 electoral votes, Roosevelt's total started to mount beyond its near-record 1932 proportions. Reports from all sources heralded a record march to the polls by voters of both parties. In Maine, where there had been little campaigning recently, the vote was heavy except in Lewiston, a Democratic stronghold.

Second Largest Electoral Vote

By his splendid victory yesterday, Roosevelt beomes the second Democrat to be reelected. His electoral sweep is also the second greatest on record. In 1820, Monroe received 231 out of the 232 electoral votes. Sixteen years earlier, Thomas Jefferson had taken 162 electoral votes against 14 for Pinckney.

Roosevelt not only took his home and key state of New York by almost a million votes in early returns, but also had a 171,511 to 162,511 lead in Landon's Kansas, which had been listed previous to the vote-counting as "sure Republican."

Although Democrats were being swept into office throughout the country on Roosevelt's tide of overwhelming victory, there were only four Democratic gains in the House of Representatives. In yesterday's elections, 74 Democratic Representatives were elected, 18 Republicans, 2 Laborites, 1 Progressive, and 1 Independent.

Curley Loses in Mass.

Massachusetts politics became more confused than ever this morning with the announcement of the results of the state election there. Democratic candidates were elected to the offices of governor and auditor, while the Republican candidates will fill the offices.

Mothers Of Bates Women To Visit Here

Intensive Program Scheduled By Student Government And Women's A. A.

By Carol Wade

Mothers of Bates women will be entertained on Saturday and Sunday, November 7 and 8, at the first Mothers' week end to be held at Bates.

This innovation is sponsored by the Student Government and the Women's Athletic Associations. The organizations have planned a varied program for the entertainment of the mothers on Saturday and Sunday.

Invitations were sent to all the mothers of Bates women, inviting them to be the guests of their daughters and the college on these two days and to enjoy the campus and the activities planned for them.

Mothers Attend Classes

The mothers are invited to attend classes on Saturday morning. Girls will play hockey, tennis and archery on Rand field in a demonstration of sports on Saturday afternoon. Following this, tea will be served to the mothers and their daughters. Faculty women have been invited as guests and pointers.

Dinner in Fiske Dining Hall on Saturday night is to be in honor of the mothers. Kathryn Thomas '37 will welcome the mothers who will be toasted by Marian Welsh '38. Evelyn Kelsner '37 will give a toast to the college.

At a meeting on Saturday evening the campus movies will be shown and Roberta Smith '38, newly elected co-ed song leader, will direct group singing. Guest tickets can be secured for the mothers interested in attending the Chase Hall Dance.

A service will be held in the Chapel on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. All faculty and students are invited to attend the service which will be conducted by Dr. Zerby.

Dinner at Fiske Dining Hall is the final item on the scheduled program of Mothers' Week End.

A joint committee from the Student Government and Athletic Association, headed by Muriel Tomlinson '37 and Ruth Bowditch '38, have organized the week end for mothers which will undoubtedly become a popular annual event.

Fenton Brothers Will Play At Junior Cabaret

The date of the Junior Cabaret has been definitely changed from November 21 to Saturday, November 14. This has been done in order to make possible a reappearance of the Fenton Brothers' orchestra that created such a fine impression on their last visit to the Bates campus. This orchestra, fast rising to popularity in the east, comes again to Bates after being featured at Lakewood Casino and the Totem Pole, Norumbega Park, Massachusetts.

In addition to being the first formal dance of the year the Junior Cabaret will present something new in refreshments and decorations. Reservations are already coming in, and may be made with either Mary Dale or Burt Reed.

Bowdoin-Bates

Unforeseen and totally unnecessary circumstances almost precipitated a crisis in Bowdoin-Bates relationships last week. Bates would-be smart alecs, possibly influenced by rumors that Bowdoin was "out to get the bobcat", visited Brunswick, appropriated the Bowdoin goal-posts.

Fearing attacks from Bowdoin retaliators, Bates men kept watch until Saturday when the outcome of the game would determine the conclusion of possible hostilities.

Administrations and Student Councils of the two colleges, in the meantime, cooperated in an effort to stop the possibility of reprisals. The Bates Council apologized for the whole affair. Bowdoin's Dean Nixon, acting through fraternities and the Student Council, gave express orders that any Bowdoin men involved in ungentlemanly action after the football game Saturday would be subject to administrative discipline.

The Bowdoin attitude was made known to Bates men.

Came the game. Bates led at the half 6-0. Bowdoin, however, was ahead at the end of a hard, clean game by a score of 25-6. After the game, there was much applause and well-deserved cheering for both teams—nothing more.

Bowdoin not only deserves congratulations for winning a fine football game, but also for its cooperation with Dean Nixon and with Bates in restoring to normalcy a splendid time-honored intercollegiate relationship.

To a certain Bates minority should go condemnation for a regrettable incident and words of caution with regard to the potentialities growing from minute beginnings.

Student, STUDENT, and Election

Some campus publications, in the light of one of the most important elections in years, have abandoned the traditional non-partisan policy for one of either Roosevelt or Landon. The tremendous interest in this fall's presidential election, has carried over into practically every college in the country.

Here in Maine, the Colby "Echo", before and after conducting a poll which went decidedly pro-Landon, editorially preached the gospel of Roosevelt and New Dealism.

The STUDENT, however, remains a non-partisan spectator, waiting, along with the rest of the college student bodies and with the rest of the voting and non-voting populace, for the outcome.

The day of judgment has come—with proper emphasis on the judgment. For months, the population of the United States has been buried under an avalanche of campaign literature, news stories of the campaign's progress, speeches by candidates and leading orators, promises, counter-promises, threats, and a wealth of conflicting "facts".

Included in the Republican-Democratic exchange of bombshells was a tremendous number of statements by national figures telling why they favored Roosevelt or Landon, or, more important, why they were breaking staunch allegiance with one party to vote for the other's 1936 candidate.

In all the confusion, voters (of whom it is estimated about ten per cent really study the issues) have been unable to separate truth from exaggeration. With expert political theorists divided about evenly on the two sides, the rank and file of the voters has been at a loss to know which candidate to support.

Now the ballots have all been cast. Millions of people, including thousands of college students have been anxiously awaiting word of the outcome.

The STUDENT, wishing to maintain its political impartiality, felt that the best service it could render in the way of participation in this critical campaign, was to present as soon as possible figures indicating the result.

Bates Week End

It was quite stimulating to underclassmen to see the demonstration of college loyalty shown over the week end by the many alumni who returned for National Bates Night and the ensuing program. The class of 1936 especially turned out well, full of optimism for the most part, yet glad to be back. Students and faculty members were glad to welcome them all to a most successful home-coming.

WEEK IN CHAPEL

Wednesday: "The man who is to have that unexplained remainder—a great soul—develops it not only through spirits he finds companionable, but also through the faculty of great convictions—through attaching himself to the Eternal."—Dr. Edward Babcock, Auburn.

Thursday: "As each and every one of us is going along the road of life, we are meeting various people along this road. We see these different types of people represented by the men closely connected with the life of Christ. But it is an individual like John who stands for the great people of life, who are there, quiet and dependable, when the test comes; and citizens like him are needed in the world today."—Mrs. Grace Poole, Dean of Stoneleigh Junior College, N. H.

Thursday: "The United States has more mineral wealth than all of Europe and in conjunction with the resources of the British Empire, these two countries should be powerful elements for peace because of a fifty-five per cent control of the mineral wealth of the entire world."—Dr. Fisher.

Saturday: Ralph Winslow '05, Supervisor of Music in Albany schools, in contrasting the Chapel services held in Hathorn in the early 1900's with those of today, made us realize how fortunate we are to have the opportunity of meeting in the present Bates College Chapel at services not only religious but intellectual and musical.

Monday: "We should congratulate ourselves; we are decidedly in the lead of most colleges in regard to our Chapel building." Professor Berkelman concluded, after an illuminating description of the exterior and interior architecture and arrangement of the Bates College Chapel, including an explanation of the new stained-glass window-figures.

CLUB NOTES

Spofford Club
The Spofford Club held a meeting on Tuesday evening, November 3, in the form of a cabin party, at Thorncrag. The program, which consisted of games, was in charge of Denham Sutcliffe '37. The refreshment committee consisted of Doris Howes '37 and Betty Stockwell '37.

Prof. and Mrs. Robert Berkelman and Dr. and Mrs. Peter Bertocci were the guests.

Der Deutsche Verein
Glidden Parker '35 was the speaker at the meeting of Der Deutsche Verein held last night at the home of Dr. Leonard. He has spent the last year studying in Vienna and spoke informally of his experiences there.

The new members who were not present at the cabin party were initiated into the Verein.

Politics Club
Kenneth Cuthbertson, a graduate (1935) of Massachusetts State College, spoke as a representative of the Emergency Peace Campaign at the recent meeting of the Politics Club. Since he spent the summer campaigning in Minnesota, Mr. Cuthbertson was well qualified to discuss the work being carried on by this peace organization.

New members were initiated at this meeting. Those of the Senior class were George Chamberlain, Eugene Connell, Seranush Jaffarian, Margaret McKusick, Cora Meservey, Aleta North, Donald Nims, Granville Onkes and Ernest Robinson. From the Junior class: Howard Becker, Robert Chalmers, Nancy Haushill, Marjorie Jansen, William Luukko, Mary McKinney, Martha Packard, Nedra Small and Pauline Turner came into the club.

Phil-Hellenic
The second meeting of Phil-Hellenic was held on October 27th in Libbey Forum. Opening with a short business meeting plans were made for a tea to be held at the Women's Union on November 10th.

Professor Angelo Bertocci gave an interesting talk on "Why Greece Got Me." A committee, composed of Lucy Morang '39, Wesley Nelson '38, and Roger Jones '39, was selected to make definite arrangements for securing Phil-Hellenic charms.

Roosevelt Leads Landon In College Straw Ballot Vote

According to reports from the Daily Princetonian, following a tabulation of straw votes from colleges of thirty-three states, Roosevelt has a plurality of 3,269 votes over Republican candidate Alfred M. Landon.

Vote In Several Colleges

The ballots were conducted in all the colleges on a plan similar to that carried out at Bates. The results of the polls were then sent to the editors of the Princeton publication where the tabulation was handled.

As readers of the STUDENT will recall, Bates favored Landon over Roosevelt by 216 votes to 66. The only other Maine college to participate in the poll was Bowdoin, where the Kansas governor was also favored. At the Brunswick school, however, the vote was much closer, being 395 to 215.

Only One N. E. College for Roosevelt

It is interesting to notice that of all the New England colleges that entered the voting, there was only one which favored Roosevelt. This was Radcliffe. The Cambridge lassies went for the New Deal by a count of 264 for the New Deal by a count of 264 to 220. The state total of the eight schools entered from Massachusetts, however, failed to follow the lead set by Radcliffe, so Landon enjoyed a plurality of close to 2,000 in the Bay State.

As a general rule the colleges went about as the states in which they are located usually vote. The South was distinctly Democratic, the West was also pro-Roosevelt, while the Middle West favored its own product, Landon. The only college from the Republican nominee's home state to report was Port Hays, a co-educational institution located at Hays, Kansas. One would suppose that Landon would carry his home state by a large majority, but he received only 463 votes to Roosevelt's 263 in this school.

"Big Three" Favor Landon

The vote at Harvard was almost a tie. Here Roosevelt garnered 1,220 and Landon's vote was 1,384. Yale, on the contrary, was anti-New Deal to the tune of 1,313 to 704. Princeton, the third member of the "Big Three" and the home paper for the tabulation, followed Yale and voted 1,129-405 for the G. O. P.

Out of the total votes cast in this straw ballot, which was 80,598, Roosevelt was the victor. He received 38,977 votes while his opponent was not far behind with 35,708. Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate, obtained only 2,520 with Bowdoin, Communist entrant, following him by only a few hundred. William Lemke trailed the field with a total of 1,115 votes.

Debating Notes

For the purpose of gaining experience the Freshmen will participate in exhibition debates before high school audiences, scrub among themselves and against the varsity, and possibly meet several freshman teams from other colleges. Professor Quimby is quite well pleased with the new material this year and has stated that he is counting on several new members to fill the places of those lost by graduation last June.

At the first meeting of the Council held on Thursday, Oct. 28, it was decided to retain the school's membership in the Eastern Intercollegiate Debate League. Bates was uncrowned champion last year, defeating both Wesleyan and Bowdoin, previous winners, thus adding another to its long record of League victories. With the return of decisional debating to the League this year, the determination of the final champion should be accompanied by more interest and action than was apparent last season.

Although debate trials are now over for the present, another opportunity will be given to those who do not now belong to either squad at the beginning of the second semester through regular trials and the Freshman and Sophomore Prize Debates.

With the final debate trials completed on Tuesday evening, Oct. 26, the membership of the 1936-37 Varsity and Freshman squads was announced by Professor Quimby last week.

The Varsity squad is as follows: Harriett Durkee '37, Margaret McKusick '37, Lawrence Floyd '37, Everett Kennedy '37, William Metz '37, Ernest Robinson '37, Donald Welch '37, Ellen Craft '38, Grace Jack '38, Elizabeth Kadperoni '38, Howard Becker '38, Frank Coffin '40, Willis Gould '40, John Smith '38, Paul Stewart '38, Donald Curtis '39, Eugene Foster '39, Hoosag Kadperoni '39, Leighton Dingley '39, Caroline Pilsifer '39, Marita Dick '39, Barbara Buker '39, Perry '39, Mary Gozonsky '40, John Maney '40, Rufus Prince '40.

By virtue of their achievement in attaining membership on the Varsity squad the foregoing people will also belong to the Bates Debating Council.

Teachers Have Large Groups At Convention

The Maine Teachers' Association held its Annual Convention in Lewiston and Auburn last Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday with a registration of 5,347.

A Hallow'e'en frolic was prepared for the early comers on Thursday evening. Bates people on the committee were: Miss Eaton, Dr. Fisher, Betty Fosdick '35, Barbara Leadbetter '35, and Miss Margaret Alice Blouin.

Dr. Chase Addresses Group

Dr. Mary E. Chase addressed the general session Thursday. She said that books teach us to evaluate our own experiences by showing us people; therefore she advises all to spend 15 minutes daily in reading good literature. Cameron Beck stated that he considers the problem of civilization more vital than the economic problem.

Departmental sessions occupied the afternoon. Dr. Mabey spoke on "Science at the Harvard Tercentenary." Miss M. Alice Blouin of Lewiston High and a Bates graduate spoke on the procedure of forming a dramatic club. In the Latin division Prof. Sills of Bowdoin presented important reasons for the continuance of Latin. At the meeting in the evening Commissioner Bertram E. Packard explored the fact that Maine spends the least for education of any state north of the Mason-Dixon line. Additional funds must be provided immediately.

Bates Professors Participate

Bates professors participated in the sessions on Friday. Prof. Quimby presented "The Case for Oral English," advocating that more attention be allotted in the curriculum. Prof. A. Bertocci's subject was the development of French society and French literature. A demonstration of the development of volleyball was conducted by Prof. Walmesley.

Friday evening was All-Maine night, presenting a fine musical program. The closing address, "The Teacher's Part in the New Education," was presented by Dr. Florence Hale, past president of the N. E. A. She emphasized the need for more attention to oral reading, and for mastery of the best poetry and prose.

Varney Chosen President

At the representative business session Benjamin H. Varney of Jonesboro was elected president and Portland was chosen for the convention city in 1937.

N. E. Basketball Tournament May Be Played Here

The possibility of the New England Basketball Tournament's coming to Lewiston this year is still in the air, according to announcement made during the M.T.A. convention held in Lewiston last week.

Although Lewiston seemed to have two advantages over Portland, the other of the two possible Maine cities for the holding of the tournament, when the matter came up last spring, the underwriting of the tournament by the Portland Chamber of Commerce to the extent of $350 to pay for hiring the Exposition Building nullified the Lewiston argument of a free Armory.

Lewiston, however, which is pushing its cause through the medium of the I-A Junior Chamber of Commerce, still has the advantage of being the seat of an educational institution. Colleges usually are asked to nominally support the tourney being held in their city, and Bates has been given the sponsoring privilege this year.

The location of the tourney will be definitely decided by the Maine High Schools Principals' Association at their meeting in Pittsfield later this month.

Women Meet For Pre-Game Rally In Little Theatre

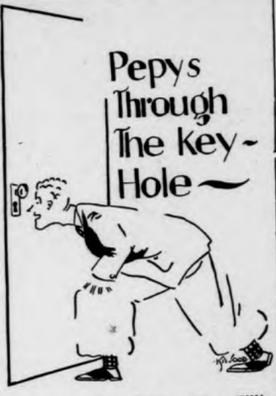

Undergraduate and graduate women of the college met in their initial program of the week end's activities in Little Theatre last Friday evening for entertainment provided by alumnae.

Mrs. Ray Thompson presided at the meeting and introduced Miss Mabel Eaton who spoke about the Bobcat, the splendid spirit, and the new recreational rooms on campus.

Professor Walmesley carried the audience back through the years of styles through her readings while modelers of the clothes brought the ideas into actuality. Many of the dresses and outfits shown were actually worn at college by faculty members' wives.

President Gray and Coach Spinks were guest speakers of the evening. Dr. Gray pointed out how the superficial things of Bates had changed as well as the women's clothes, "it is these changes that make us appreciate the things which are fundamental and enduring in such an institution."

The group adjourned to Chase Hall where refreshments were served.

Here we are folks, Aunt Tillie, Uncle Sam, and Junior after a two weeks' sojourn for the quest of truth (as Larry Butler would say). In our wandering into various nooks and corners we found out some other events which have happened besides the advent of the new Bates spirit. But, nevertheless, closely associated with it... How, oh how does that football her of ours, Bertie Reed, capture the hearts of our dear little innocent freshman lassies? ... We certainly would like to know just what the attraction was in Bangor (and it must have been powerful) that made our dear friends Roy and Barbara prefer to ride home in a bus rather than keep company with the rest of the Bates rooters at Maine... Congratulations, Barney. Your success is beginning to extend beyond the confines of the football field... or is it, Dot?... and while the Doc's away the mice will play... There's thirteen in a baker's dozen, so you get a little more from the baker... but how about the baker's daughter, Maxine? What do you think about it, Cotton... you blond terror of the highway...

Bates has always held the reputation of being a modest and conservative college... the moral code of both the students and the faculty has been of the highest order. Our reception rooms have been the places where our eds and co-eds have had the opportunity to indulge in friendly conversation... but lo and behold!... it seems this year that we have had an invasion... of parasites. Will it be necessary for us to send for Emily Post?... or will you—our disturbers of the sanctity of Bates College—please refrain from a public demonstration of the art of how to make love?

Does Charlie like to be taken for a ride, Barbara?... Tsk! Tsk! Shame on you... Dankner and Dickinson; and you too, Wakefield and Turner... DO YOU CATCH ON?... we hope you do... Izzy Bates seeks...

In Flander's field, where poppies grow, And X-country runners plod to and fro, There seems no Hope for him at all The proctor of East Parker Hall.

But our stalwart Danny plods on and on Victory will be his anon, If he can keep his Hope chest free From all this foreign mess of debris.

TO DROOP... the best copy for this column that has ever matriculated at Bates... and she'll love this...

Dear Droop, how did you enjoy the ride on the hayrack—aren't the boys big and heavy!... Are you trying to make a night-club out of our science building? At least you have good assistance (or assistants)... What brings you to the "Firehouse"... is it that football and tennis hero... or can it be that you are trying to make a gigolo out of our pellican? tsk! tsk!... a dime isn't 10% of thirty-five cents anyhow... And Friday nite if you were looking for the Bowdoin men, you ought to have realized (even you) that they wouldn't be found in J.B.... Furthermore, we wish that you would stop pestering the upperclassmen with requests to write your letters... hoping you'll keep up your fine supply of copy... we remain... Uncle Sam, Aunt Tillie, Junior, and Junior's new girl friend.

Prof. Robert Berkelman of the English department will speak to the regular staff meeting of the STUDENT tomorrow. The meeting, which all staff members and aspirants are expected to attend, is scheduled for Room one, Hathorn Hall, at one o'clock.

Back-To-Bates Affair Draws Many Grads

M.T.A. Convention Here A Big Factor In Success Of Home-Coming

Back-to-Bates and Maine Teachers' Association held on the same week end were the factors which brought so many Bates graduates to the campus at the same time. Over two hundred Maine teachers, alumni of Bates, attended the Teachers' Dinner in Chase Hall Thursday evening from six to seven-thirty o'clock. Professor Kendall, chairman and toastmaster, introduced President Gray who, after greeting the guests spoke of the place of Bates in secondary education. Professor Harms, who has directed Summer Sessions most successfully for the past ten years, pointed out the importance of summer school. Dr. Bertram Packard, Commissioner of Education in Maine, gave an address of education in this State today. One of the features of the evening, according to Professor Kendall, was the STUDENT, a copy of which was given to everyone; it was gratifying to learn that the last issue was regarded as the finest of the present year. Currier and Simpson were caterers for the dinner, and Grant for the Stag Luncheon.

Alumni See Frog Game

Garcelon Field, Friday afternoon, was the scene of the Freshman football game with Kents Hill. The number of students and alumni at the game was indicative of the renewed Bates spirit which sent so many fans to the big game Saturday afternoon.

Separate Rallies

After a co-educational rally downtown, the men went to Chase Hall and the Women to the Little Theatre. At Hathorn, Mrs. Thompson introduced Miss Mabel Eaton who, quaintly dressed in an old-fashioned brown silk gown with a touch of lace at the throat and wrists, welcomed the women of Bates, past and present. Then a style show of clothes worn on and off campus from 1870 to 1936 was held. Professor Walmesley introducing the models. President Gray and Coach Spinks afterwards spoke to the audience. At Chase Hall, the men reassembled to chat with former college mates and have a bit of refreshment.

Stag Luncheon Before Game

One of the most popular activities of the get-together has proven to be the Stag Luncheon at Chase Hall on Saturday before the game. Mrs. Kendall and Mrs. Sawyer were hostesses to the women who met in the Music Room. Downstairs, Dr. Sawyer, Mr. Robert Ross, and Professor Kendall had charge of plans for the men's informal meal. About one hundred twenty-five people were present many of whom came from distant points. In fact the total registration at Alumni Headquarters showed a return of 360, the oldest class that of 1891.

The W.A.A. tea, under the direction of Ida Miller '38, given at Chase Hall after the game, served over three hundred guests, a larger attendance than ever before.

Varsity Club Dance, managed by Richard Loomis '37, was held in Alumni Gymnasium chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Rowe, Coach and Mrs. C. Ray Thompson, Coach and Mrs. Norman Ross, Prof. and Mrs. Oliver F. Cutts.

500 at Varsity Club Dance

Over five hundred attended, more than average. The soloists with the Bobcats were William Hamilton '37, William Fisher, Winston Keck, and Eric Maurer '38. The gym still had the decorations which were used for the commercial exhibit and the display of flags lent an air of gaiety and appropriateness to the evening, reminding all of the Bates-Colby game on Armistice Day.

Frosh Football Team Plays Tie With Kents Hill

Merrill Again Stars As The Freshmen Fail To Get Rid Of Caps

In their second attempt to get rid of their garnet and black Freshman caps, the Bates Frosh football team was unsuccessful as the Kents Hill team in a late rally was able to tie the score. This was due to the fact that the Bates team was hampered by the removal of Dick, Daikus, Whitmore, and finally Merrill, due to injuries received in the game.

Penalties Hamper Hilltoppers

If it had not been for penalties imposed on the Hilltoppers they would have scored a victory. Although both teams resorted to running plays, the only touchdown made by Kents Hill was on a pass. During the first part of the last quarter the Hill had possession of the ball on Bates' 37 yard line. Maloney faded back and threw a completed pass to Hebert in the Bates right halfback zone. The fleet-footed Hebert outdistanced the Bates runners and ran for a touchdown.

Merrill Outstanding

Merrill was beyond doubt the outstanding player of the game, scoring the lone touchdown for Bates. He repeatedly cut loose for large gains, and got off some beautiful kicks. The game, however, was pretty evenly contested, as each team made five first downs, kicking distances nearly even, and two quarters going to each team.

Bobcats Lose As Soule Is Sensational

On an advance of four first downs in the first period with Barney Marcus carrying most of the time the Bates eleven scored their only points early in the game. From that point until the half the ball was in both teams' territory about equally. As the half ended Bowdoin had lost possession of the ball on downs after trying three passes from the 9 yard Bates line.

The turning point came on the first play after the half when Soule raced 95 yards on the kick-off behind interference to score 6 points. He also place-kicked the extra point. A few plays later after a pass interception by Smith of Bowdoin Frye kicked to the Bates one yard line. Morin punted from behind his goal line to the 22-yard line where a run-back to the 16 was made by Reed of Bowdoin. The scene was then set for the advance by Reed and Frye to push the ball over for the second touchdown.

Bates Lacks Punch

Gaining new life Bates put on a gallant advance with three first downs terminating in the ball being on the Bowdoin 9 yard line. The lines were brought out and Bates had lost the ball an inch short of a first down. This was the turning point of the game. If the ball had been over for a first down in all probability the

SPORTS SHOTS

By Barney Marcus

Once again Bowdoin finds itself on the threshold of the state championship. After polishing off Colby by a 13-7 score and then Bates by a 25-6 victory, all they have to do is take over a high-riding, rattle-dazzle Maine team this Saturday. According to comparative scores of the games played so far in the state series this year, the two teams are fairly evenly matched. The big question mark lies in the personage of the extraordinary passer from Maine, Fran Smith. If this blond marksman is able to play in the Bowdoin game, we are inclined to favor the State university. Smith's passing, with Joe Hamlin and Rod Elliott on the receiving end, is a combination which should offset the hard running of the Bowdoin backs. However, with Smith on the sidelines, Soule, Reed and Frye will carry the ball for a victory for Bowdoin.

For the second successive week Bates lost a heartbreaking game to intra-state rivals. Although the score of the Bowdoin game found the Brunswick team on the long end of the score, yet statistics show that Bates outplayed Bowdoin in every department of the game, obtaining 13 first downs to Bowdoin's 7, and out rushing the Polar Bears by some 40 yards. But we must agree with the aged saying that it is the score that counts in the final reckoning and hence we offer our congratulations to Bowdoin.

Frosh X-Country Team Wins From Portland High

Al Rollins is still undefeated as a result of his fine performance yesterday afternoon in leading the Freshman Cross Country team to a 21 to 34 victory over Portland High. Rollins' winning time was 10 mints 55 seconds.

Summary:

Bates Freshman:	1, Rollins; 2, Shepard; 3, Graichen; 7, Morse; 8, Dube; 13, Clough; 14, Sutherland.
Portland High:	4, Glen; 5, Kil; 6, Lau; 9, Portas; 10, F. Cruickshank; 11, Brewer; 12, R. Cruickshank.

Other speakers included Dr. C. E. K. Mees, vice-president of Eastman Kodak Co., and Rudy Vallee, an enthusiastic cinema amateur.

Meet Miss Fahrenholz

Miss Margaret Fahrenholz, a very striking, tall brunette, with a fine personality and much intellect. The new instructor in the department of physical education. Born at Weehawken, New Jersey, Sept. 4, 1913. Partly German by descent. No relatives in New Jersey. Got her Physical Education degree at Russell Sage, New York. Taught for two years at Halton Arms School, private school in Washington, D. C. Subjects included biology, physical education, music.

Spends summers as counselor at Camp Lenore, Pittsfield, Mass. Coaches land sports.

Is an ardent baseball fan. Is crazy about swimming. Dancing her favorite activity. Sings and plays piano (for own amusement, she modestly maintains).

Impressed by extreme friendliness, wholeheartedness, and serious mindedness of Bates men and women. Admires immensely the aggressiveness and "stick-to-itive" hard-working spirit of the Bates football squad.

First impressed by outstanding beauty of foliage on Bates Campus. Thinks honor system and development of individual responsibility are fine assets for development of better men and women.

Student proctor plan at Bates new to her. Approves wholeheartedly.

Favorite musical preference, New York Symphony-Philadelphia Philharmonic.

Admires intellectual honesty and strength of character. Dislikes disinterestedness. Has her heart all set on improvement and progress of her new "Dance Club". Prefer blondes or brunettes? Oh! Redheads, by all means!

Frosh X-Country Team Wins Two Staying Unbeaten

Led once more by Al Rollins, the Bates Freshman cross country team downed the Wilton harriers last Monday afternoon to win its seventh straight victory in as many meets. Wet and cold weather hampered the runners a good deal and forced the Rollins' winning time down to 11:13, his slowest yet in actual competition.

Following closely on the heels of the second-place Billy Remick of Wilton, were the two Bates dependables, Charlie Graichen and Harry Shepard. In finishing third and fourth respectively, these two practically cinched the meet for the Frosh.

The summary:

Bates Frosh: 1, Rollins; 3, Graichen; 4, Shepard; 6, Morse; 8, Dube; 11, Sutherland; 14, Gray; 16, Kennedy; 17, Clough.

Wilton Academy:

2, W. Remick; 5, Winters; 7, Trask; 9, Lovett; 10, Stevens; 12, Welch; 13, Adams; 15, H. Remick; 18, Gardiner.

Defeat Lisbon High

The undefeated Bates Freshman Hill and Dalers continued their winning ways on Wednesday afternoon at the expense of the newly-organized Lisbon Falls team. In addition to being the eighth straight win in as many meets the victory also marked the eighth time that Al Rollins has come in first. On this occasion Rollins had little difficulty in leading the pack across the line in 10:57.

Graichen and Shepard of the Bates Yearlings once again took third and fourth place honors. The two seem to have a monopoly on those positions, this being the fifth time they have finished that way. Dearnley in placing second for the inexperienced Lisbon Falls harriers, showed considerable promise of blossoming into a first class runner.

The summary:

Bates Frosh: 1, Rollins; 3, Graichen; 4, Shepard; 5, Morse; 6, Dube; 11, Clough; 12, Gray.

Lisbon Falls:

2, Dearnley; 7, Anicetti; 8, Baumen; 9, Butler; 10, Roberts; 13, Kick; 14, Danforth.

First Hockey Game Of Garnets And Blacks Is 1-1 Tie

A 1-1 tie was the outcome of the first big Garnet and Black hockey game of the season, played Wednesday on Rand field. Early in the game Kitty Thomas '37, W.A.A. president, made the first score for the Garnets after her running mates had carried the ball down the field. It was not until the last half that Betty Stevens '37 tallied a goal for the Blacks. The game was comparatively slow, perhaps, due to the darkness.

There must be at least two more games to complete the series as either Garnet or Black must be definitely named victors. The same line-ups will play each time and, with a little practice, the next games should be much faster.

The final game will probably be held on next Saturday afternoon as a part of the Mothers' Day Week End. This will be a chance for the girls to show their mothers another reason why they never have any spare time.

The line-ups:

runs its last race of the season at Boston on November 9th in the New England. The whole squad is pointing to this race and hopes to make it a successful climax to the season.

Are you interested? As soon as the W.A.A. rooms in the Women's Union are finished (furniture has to be made to order), we are planning a house warming. These rooms will be for all of you. Card sharks, ping-pong fans, checker fiends, here is your opportunity!

Basketball will be taken over entirely by W.A.A. this year. The groups will be divided into experienced and inexperienced players in order to have fairer games and to give more people a chance. There will be more Garnet and Black games which may or may not change the tilt of the present score, Black 2, Garnet 1.

Did you go to the W.A.A. tea after the game? Everyone was back. One interesting group was composed of Dot Wheeler, '36 W.A.A. president, Ann McNally's big sister, Virginia, '35 W.A.A. president, and Professor Walmsley. Connie Redstone and Val Kimball, last year board members, were back too.

Bates Band Has Reached Top Under Prof. Crafts

By Mark Lelyveld '40
For years, Bates has boasted a band to lead it on at games and rallies and, all in all, to keep the real warm Bates spirit alive.

The earlier bands were but collections of all the men of the college who could do so much as blow a note. These were in a sad minority, too, as you can readily see by the pictures in the music room at Chase Hall. The tried and true band men of years ago hardly knew what a uniform was, and when he did attempt one, it usually bordered on the ridiculous.

Collections Taken

In those days the band was not supported by the Athletic Union, and, before every out of town game, a collection used to be held at Chapel. Cars were loaned to take them to the game, and one of the chief worries of the music director was as to just how many men he'd be able to assemble at game time; for all along the way, the cars of the bandmen could be seen at temporary rest due to anything from motor trouble to "simple" flat tires.

Our band, after a difficult struggle for its very existence, reached its peak as the best college band in the whole state, and then, for unknown reasons, began to glide down the ladder so that about twelve years ago, we see the band in a very sorry state.

Prof. Crafts Steps In

It was then that Mr. Crafts took charge and began the long, hard fight to the top again. His first two or three years were trying ones. Chapel collections were still necessary to send the band on trips, the college owed no musical instruments, and the question of money for the support of the band kept popping up.

About this time the Varsity Club and the College Club, recognizing the value of such a musical organization, began to actively support it. Money was raised for the purchase of instruments and uniforms. Then, due to the influence of these clubs, and Mr.

Crafts persistent efforts, the Athletic Union took over its support. Since then, the band has had a real chance to develop, and under Mr. Crafts' guidance has come far.

At first, it was in the full charge of the musical director, but with Gilbert Clapperton in 1932, a new plan of student leadership was inaugurated. Since Clapperton, the student leaders have been Fred MacDonald (1933), Charlie Povey (1934), Ed. Small (1935), Arthur Axelrod (1936), and our present leader, Bill Hamilton.

Hamilton The Leader

Our snappy, baton-swinging leader, Bill, certainly deserves special credit for the fine showing of the band this year. Bill was the first drum major in the state to really strut out some expert baton twirling, and although they tried hard this year, it is safe to say that Bill still holds the crown as the State's outstanding leader. Credit is due him for the marching as well as the playing of the band for without his inspiring leadership these essentials would certainly have fallen down.

And there you have a brief history of our merchants of march. Their value to the school is immeasurable; their work at games and rallies is as essential to the whole college spirit as the play of the teams on the field. Imagine rallies without stirring martial music, and then realize how interwoven with college success the work of the band is.

W.A.A. Holds Annual After-Game Tea

The Women's Athletic Association followed its annual custom of holding an after-the-game tea last Saturday afternoon in Chase Hall, in order that all returning alumni might have the opportunity of seeing their friends. Ida Miller was general chairman, with Margaret Melcher, Carol Wade, and Kathryn Thomas acting as pourers.

Carol Wade To Attend Student G. Convention

Carol Wade '37, president of the Student Government Association, leaves tonight to attend a Student Government Conference at the University of Maryland.

The Women's Intercollegiate Association for Student Government is holding its annual conference on November 5, 6, 7 and 8 at the university, situated eight miles out of Washington, D. C.

Well known speakers on subjects of interest to colleges and an opportunity to exchange ideas with other student government presidents should make the conference a worth while one. In addition to the addresses and discussion groups, trips to Washington and Annapolis and a tour of the Bureau of Investigation are scheduled for the delegates to the conference.

Interscholastic Cross Country Meet Here

Bates will hold an interscholastic cross-country meet here Armistice Day morning, with at least eight invited schools from the vicinity participating. The meet, which is being directed by Coach Ray Thompson, will be over the freshman two-mile course augmented by an added turn of about a half mile.

Dr. Call, of the class of 1900 at Bates, an ardent athletic fan, has donated medals to be awarded to the first five men placing in the meet, while the Bates Varsity Club is giving a silver loving cup to be known as the Varsity Club Trophy, to the winning team.

Schools which have already signified their intention of having runners on the mark behind the gymnasium at 10:30 next Wednesday include: Lisbon High, Lisbon Falls High, Wilton Academy, Thornton Academy, West Paris High, Lewiston High, Canton High, and Jay High School.

Meet Dr. Leonard

German professor at Bates since 1901, Dr. Leonard, chairman of the faculty, graduated in 1892 from Brown University and was an instructor there for some time. Before coming to Bates, he studied in Germany.

Perhaps his most endearing characteristic is his ever willing cooperation and understanding of his students. He is delighted with the new spirit which has permeated the college and hopes it will stand up in spite of possible disappointment and temporary discouragement. As opposed to our noble athletes, Dr. Leonard did not have a chance to star in organized athletics for they were not in prominence in his day. He did, however, excel in fencing. He believes every student should have extra-curricular interests and activities. A Phi Beta Kappa key is a valuable possession but not worth much when it is obtained at the expense of all forms of pleasure possible in college, he maintains.

Unless a student has no capabilities he cannot escape absorbing a great deal through daily associations. Dr. Leonard's favorite form of relaxation is retiring to his small country farm five or six miles out of Lewiston. He and his wife spend many lazy hours there working in the garden and enjoying life to the fullest. It is there that "Dutchy" is careful in viewing the moon for; although he professes not to be superstitious, he prefers to see that new moon over his right shoulder. He can appreciate almost anything edible. His favorite foods are fruits and sea foods (because he was brought up on the banks of Narragansett). His especial delights are "Knock Knocks". The supreme compliment he can give a person is to call that person wholesome. He believes happiness comes as a by-product. He who seeks that solely, seldom finds it, but when one is helping someone else often happiness sneaks up around the corner and grasps him.

Perhaps Dr. Leonard is one of these few supremely happy people!

PURE... and of finer texture than most anything that touches your lips...

We all agree on this... cigarette paper is important. For Chesterfield we use the best paper that we can buy. It is called Champagne Cigarette Paper. It is made from the soft, silky fibre of the flax plant. It is washed over and over in clear, sparkling water.

A lot of the pleasure you get in smoking Chesterfields is due to our using the right kind of cigarette paper. Chesterfield paper is pure, and it burns without taste or odor.

Chesterfield

They're Milder and They Satisfy

Remember this... two things make the smoking quality of a cigarette—the tobaccos and the paper. The Champagne cigarette paper on Chesterfields is tested over and over for purity, for the right burning quality. Another reason why Chesterfield wins.
