Present public housing program, un- three of them under the USHA. der the United States Housing Ar thority, is successful, as far as it goes, but in 1937, for instance, we built only one-third as many houses as were needed.

What does this housing problem mean to us as college students? This was the question which the New Engand Student Christian Movement scught to answer at a recent conference on housing, and most of the delegates carried away from that conferthe a feeling tht there IS a job to be done, and that we can and should do

Backward States

The crux of the matter is that Maine and New Hampshire are the only states east of the Mississippi whose legislatures have not passed the Enabling Act necessary to permit a city to borrow under the USHA plan. Why is this so? Dr. Edith Elmer Wood, for many years an authority on housing, calls Maine and New Hampshire "the backward states". Certainly one of the main reasons why we lack such a law is ignorance of the true situation. Probably many of you have never thought of the problem before ditions are in our own city of Lewis- except in a vague sort of way. And that is precisely where we can help. Our greatest job is that of education-education of the public to facts which, though under its nos for years, have been ignored through laziness or indifference. It cannot be done by a few of us, nor can it be done by a student group working alone. "Escape" is a drama of light and shade with only a brief scene of comedy to relieve the tenseness. It is deeply impregnated with mood and provided from a fund established in dramatic irony, such irony as in the convict's line, "I was going to be a parson." Since "Escape" is a social problem play that has a universality in its theme, the staging technique is being treated with this in mind. The aim is toward suggestion rather than realism.

The proof of a good play comes during the work of production. If a play can grow in meaning and significance after four concentrated weeks of rehearsals, and still hold a new depth of meaning for the actors, chances are "the play has something." As John Marsh said after rehearsing the last scene, "Even Shylock didn't get me more then this!"

First Primaries To Take Place Monday

Stu-C Completes Plans For Annual All-College Vote

The student body will cast their flral ballots for officers of Bates orginizations in the annual all-cellege election Monday, March 17, from 9 a.m. to 4 p. m. The first nominating will take place at the morning chapel service March 3 under Student Government supervision.

The pre-election nominations in chapel services involve only those for the three lower class officers and Stunominations at their respective meetings, but vote for their nominees at

On March 3, the class member will write the names of three candidates for each class office on a special printed ballot. From that balloting the three highest candidates for each office are classified as "pre-nominees". The meeting of Friday, March 7, reduces these to two candidates for each Student Council nominations are selected in much the same manner but only the male portion of the student body may participate. Since the new Student Council assumes office after Easter vacation it necessitates the present freshman, sophomore, and junior classes to elect one more person in addition to the number which they now have. This will bring their totals to the proper number when their status changes to sophomore, junior, and senior classes respectively. The Student Council includes one freshman, two sophomores, three juniors, and four seniors.

Present Freshmen To Have Six Pre-Nominees

At the pre-nomination meeting three men are nominated for each office on the Council. The present class therefore is entitled to six pre-nominees; the sophomores, nine men; and the juniors, twelve men. This totals twenty-seven names to be p nated. The approved list of candidates will appear in the STUDENT on Wednesday of the same week.

The selection of two candidates from the three offered for each appointment completes the nominations in the same way given to the nomination of class officers. So that each club may participate in the all-college election, Student Council President John Haskell has requested all club secretaries to submit a list of its nominations to him by March 10. This includes the Women's A.A., the Publishing Association, and the C. A.

The STUDENT of March 12 will contain a complete listing of the candidates of all participating organizations which will appear on the ballot as

The Student's Place In The Draft

Mr. Harry W. Rowe's chapel address of Monday was heartening to us in many ways. We are glad to learn that the College is keeping well up on the current situation as it affects us in College, and Mrs. Paul Sweet. and as it affects the status and activities of the College. We are pleased to learn that such an organization as he mentioned has been formed to take the part of the American college in Washington. Furthermore, it is a good sign that Mr. Rowe saw his way to appear before the student body and report the situation to them as completely as he did. We hope he continues to do so in the future as he learns of other developments of governmental policy which are of immense and practical importance to college students.

His optimism as to the position that some Juniors within the draft age now find themselves is undoubtedly well based. However, we would like to remind these Juniors that despite the optimism of many administration officials in this and other colleges, they have no exemption beyond this year in the legal sense of the word, under the Selective Service Act. Furthermore, well-informed sources of information do not believe at the present time that it is likely that legislation will be forthcoming to remedy their situa-

The point on which any optimism must be based, is this: that under the Draft Act the state and local boards have been given widely discretionary powers in regard to exemptions. And beyond this, some boards have been quite liberal in their interpretations of the law. They may in the future interpret the law and their powers under it to mean that college Juniors in some cases can fall under a deferment classification, possibly because of their "necessary" character. This would most logically apply to those Juniors engaged in scentific and technical training.

It should be stated again, however, that the various local boards throughout the country have shown wide discrepancies in the execution of their powers. Therefore, favorable action by one board on an exemption claim by a college junior will not necessarily mean that other boards will follow suit.

All of these considerations must also be modified by the influence of current events in the War during the next six months.

Mr. Rowe stated Monday that in his opinion the actual "war situation is perhaps closer to this country than many people realize." His view on this matter is based on his observations of activities in Washington. Many other men close to national and international affairs in Washington have voiced the same opinion.

As far as the armed forces are concerned, one has only to look over activity in one of the new Army training camps to see the magnitude and earnestness of its purpose. Putting two and two together, we quite agree that this country is very much nearer the "actual war situation" than most Americans realize.

Draft age Juniors should take these factors into consideration before forming any opinions as to their possible status next year. In all fairness to them, and to any person eligible for military service, these ideas and opinions close to sources should be clearly
