Quinet Hall Is Motif For Big Carnival Hop

Dwelle and Karl Koss, chairman for the Carnival Hop, are up with plans to make one of the highlights of the year. The dance will be at 8 p.m. and run through 12 o'clock.

Refreshments will be served in the evening in the suite of the castle banquet hall, which will be by Bob Percival and Joanne.

During intermission, Queen Gerri will make her grand entrance and announce the list of winners.

Plaque Goes To Winner Song Contest Tonight

Three dorms are expected to enter in the annual song contest, slated to be held at 8 o'clock this evening in the hall.

A plaque will be awarded to the dorm which presents the song with original words. Judges will be Mr. Lind, Mr. Norton, and Miss Rowe.

Two prizes were awarded last year for the best serious song, "The One," written by the women of Mitchell, and the best light song, "A Boy and a Girl," by the women of Smith.

Entrants whose titles were announced yesterday are John "You're the One," the Girls Not After Husbands; Reception Rooms Favored

Relax, Bates men: women do not come to Bates with the prime objective of hooking a man. And you are not "going steady" after three dates with a Bates coed.

Those two assurances were forthcoming from the joint Student Council-Student Government discussion of campus social life Jan. 18 in the Women's Union. The Stu-G members were quite vociferous in denying that marriage is this school's greatest attraction, and in dispelling any notion that Bates men are "stuck" after the third date. The women do not consider a man untouchable if he has taken a particular girl out several times. They won't refuse to date him on such grounds, says the Stu-G. A Stu-C member remarked, however, that peoples' judgment of whether a couple is going steady is also dependent upon "how they are draped over each other" while walking around the campus.

Committee Maps Drive

The meeting resulted in the formation of a committee to map a drive for expansion of campus social facilities.

The intent of the joint discussion was not "to revolutionize the campus," according to Stu-G President

Rae Walcott. It was prompted by girls' dissatisfaction with social life at Bates, especially among freshmen coeds. It is "mostly an attitude" which limits social activities, she said.

One proctor stated that the freshmen in her dorm felt that there was too much academic work and not enough social life here. After hearing, during Christmas vacation, of the good times their friends were having at other colleges they were "even more dissatisfied." Naturally, she continued, they want to go out and have a good time.

It was mentioned that the freshman girls seem to think that the freshmen men tend to stay together and go around in their own groups. Agreeing, Freshman Councilman Robert Lennon said, "It is true that the fellows stick together," emphasizing that living in one dorm has "gotten them together."

Bates Has "Sororities"

Lennon thought that "Bates really has sororities", in the form of separate house friendships and loyalties, "but not frats," which presumably would stimulate boy-girl relations on campus.

Geraldine Moulton was crowned Carnival Queen by President Phillips at tonight's ice show to get this year's four-day Outing Club winter carnival officially under way.

Gerri is a 20-year old senior from Auburn. She is a French major. She and her six-member court were elected by the senior class Nov. 28 from a list of 16 finalists.

Arrowhead Trip Featured Sunday

Skiing, skating, and tobogganing are the main attractions of the all-day outing to Arrowhead Lodge, Naples, slated for Sunday on the Carnival calendar.

Buses will leave from Rand Hall at 9:30 and 10:30 and will return to campus in time for supper. Lunches will be provided at the lodge and are covered by the general charge. $1.50 a person, for the outing. Tickets received on signing up should be shown to the bus driver in the morning and turned in at lunch time. For those providing their own transportation, the charge is $1.00.

The Arrowhead facilities feature ski tow, ice rink, and toboggan slide, as well as room for indoor relaxation.

Snow Sculpture To Be Judged Saturday Noon

Dormitory snow sculptures must be completed by Saturday noon and will be judged on originality, cleverness, and construction. The prize cup will be awarded by the judges: Prof. Berkelman, Mr. Andrews, Mr. Buccigross, Mrs. Miller, and Miss Golden. Last year Mike's cup went to Wilson House who erected a detailed drummer. This year any theme is permissible — although the Carnival motif is Royalty.

Co-chairmen of this affair are Robert Jones and Carol Patrell who are working with representatives from each dorm to take charge of the individual sculptures.

Women's Skiing Friday Afternoon

Women's ski events for Carnival will be held on Mt. David Friday from 1:30-3 p. m. under the direction of Maxine Hammer, president of the Women's Athletic Association. The events will include a short relay, a herring-bone-up and down race, and a slalom race.

Those participating are: Judith Litchfield, Edith Tobben, Wilma Layng, Nancy Coleman, Nancy Churchill, Larch Foxon, Barbara Earl, Mary Jo Green, Miriam Olson, Nancy Forbes, Charlotte Booth, Florence Dixon, Lynn Carlson, Jean Fletcher, Jean MacKinnon, Cynthia Keating, Lucille Mainland, Ann Parnell, Cynthia May, Elsa Buschner, Joan Seear, Harriet Howell, Barbara Chandler, Lois Dame, Nancy Reade, Connie Fales, Barbara Schenky, Rae Walcott, Nancy Norton-Taylor, Sylvia Stuber, Ruth Martin, Joan Holmes, and Judith Nevers.

Supervising the events will be Sylvia Bernard, Carol Hollingworth, Lyla Nichols, timer, and Barbara Chick, in charge of the slalom.

Candlelight Vespers Conclude Carnival

The last event of the Winter Carnival will be a candlelight vespers service held in the Chapel Sunday evening. According to Martha Rayder, chairman of the committee in charge, ski clothes may be worn. Featured in the program will be a vocal solo by Gene Harley with Virginia McKee as accompanist, a violin solo by Dorita Atkins, a reading by Elsbeth Thomes, and a prayer by James Pirie.

The Royal Court

The new queen was attended at the coronation ceremony by her court, which includes Marjorie Dwelle, 21, an English major from Arlington, Mass.; Catherine Evans, 22, of Lowell, Mass., an assistant in psychology; Maxine Hammer, 21, a French major from Marblehead, Mass.; Navarre Harrington, 20, a biology major from Tenny, N. J.; Lois Keniston, 21, a psychology major from Wellesley, Mass.; and Ruth Martin, 21, of Belmont, Mass., an assistant in the biology department.

The ice show, under the direction of Ruth Bunten Norma Chaffee, and Barbara Chandler, included skaters in a military number, a ballet, a waltz, and a comedy number.

Tobben, Koch, Gilbert

In Feature Spots

The military selection included Judith Allen, Mary Berryment, Mary Ann Braguen, Elsa Buschner, Grace Ellenwood, Nancy Elsbree, Virginia Forbush, Larch Foxon, Priscilla King, Audrey Oberheim, Miriam Olsen, Ruth Potter, Marilyn Shaylor, Ann Stackpole, and Rosella Wilcox.

The ballet featured the solo work of Edith Tobben and included Shirley Becker, Cynthia Black, Patricia LaFortune, Elaine Hubbard, Irene Illing, Irene McKenzie, Nancy Norton-Taylor, and Faith Seiple.

Featured in the waltz was the duet skating of Barbara Koch and (Continued on page four)

Three-Legged Couples Lured To Mount David

Friday afternoon will bring forth a race for the title of the "fastest couple on campus". The annual lollipop race, under the direction of Jeanne Pieroway and Ken Hilt, is a three-legged race open to couples only.

The actual contest is a race among the couples to see who can climb up the side of Mt. David and reach the prizes, two gigantic lollipops, first. Winners take all!

Orlandella Heads Royal Variety Show; King Carleton To Rule Monkey Shines

A variety show master-minded by Tony Orlandella featuring an evening of entertainment for the king will be the big event of Friday night. The show starts at 7:30 at her Majesty's royal palace (the gym to you) and lasts until 9:30. After the acts a Royal Rumpus will be held at Sir Chase's.

His Exalted Majesty King Carleton Crook will be feted with soft music, dancers, wandering minstrels, a grand wizard and an orchestra to provide background melody. It was leaked by usually reliable palace sources that the entertainment will be interrupted several times to solve problems of the king's loyal subjects.

Lincoln Barlow furnishes the orchestra, the grand wizard is otherwise known as David Merrill, the dances will be under the direction of Miss Rowe, and two piano duets feature Nancy Wellman and Virginia McKee and Carol Anderson and Rosella Wilcox. The wandering minstrels are William Wyman, Walter Stover, and John Lawson.

King Dispenses Justice

The king will try to solve such questions of justice as these, a skit by Cornelius Alexander and John Wadsworth concerning a medieval real estate problem. The mix-up comes over a misunderstanding of the letters W.C.

The second problem is an affair of love and marriage. The naive young knight Tony Orlandella believes he has been rooked by a scheming woman, Jean Moulton.

Editorials

Ski, Skate, Skool!

Exams are over, the marks won't be out for several weeks yet, and there's nothing to worry about but the weather. Life at Bates will be a royal affair for the next three days.

We couldn't very well get out a Carnival issue without knowing that a lot of people in the higher echelons of the Outing Club are tremendously concerned about staging the sort of Winter Carnival that everybody will enjoy and remember. The publicity crew has been on our neck for months, and we have done our best to co-operate with them. By now we are just about as worked up over the thing as they are.

Dick and Edie promise a good time for all. And we hope that more students than ever will be taking part in the big doings of this weekend, traditionally one of the gayest occasions of the year.

May Queen Geri Moulton reign in royal splendor. May the best song, the best snow sculpture, and the best lollipop racers win. And may everybody have a wonderful time.

Letter To The Editor

Abandon Varsity Track

To the editor of the STUDENT:

Several months ago David Turkeltaub in a letter to the editor of the STUDENT recommended that Bates give up varsity football. Athletic Director Lloyd Lux offered a good answer to this suggestion when he said that when it becomes apparent that Bates is competing out of its class, then Bates will seek other opponents. Mr. Lux stated that there would not be much difficulty in finding schools in a category similar to Bates.

107-9 Wallowing

Now I am presenting a recommendation that Bates College abandon its varsity track schedule. Perhaps the basis for this suggestion is the 107-9 wallowing the University of New Hampshire thrashed administered to the Bobcats on Jan. 21. This defeat by such a ridiculous score is nothing short of ignominious. Close scrutiny will have to be given the record books to discover the time when Bates was ever beaten by such a wide margin. The whole thing seems rather foolish when you consider that one man on the New Hampshire team by copying two events amassed more points himself than the whole Bates team.

Interest Waning, Anyway

Many, however, will contend that the competitive angle is stressed here at Bates, not the outcome. In part, this is true. One thing, however, is overlooked, and that is the fact that competitive interest in track has been on the downgrade. Interest in track is waning while on the other hand, a sport like hockey has many supporters at Bates year after year. We have not been able to field a team because of lack of adequate funds.

However, let me get back to my original proposal concerning track. In past years, while lacking depth, Bates has managed to have four or five outstanding trackmen around to provide a nucleus for the squad. I have in mind such stalwarts as Bud Horne, Bill Sawyers, Mike Lategola, Hugh Mitchell, Jim Mahaney and Hal Moores. This year the tracksters can claim but one outstanding competitor, Nate Boone. Nate, however, is limited by a knee injury sustained during the football season and is unable to run with his usual effectiveness.

Teams "Practically Non-existent"

I have to admire the boys that get out every day for practice and give their all. But the fact remains that Bates, as it now stands, can not present the array of all-around quality and quantity that opposing schools can. What Mr. Lux asserted concerning the scheduling of new foes when the caliber of opposition becomes too tough doesn't apply to the Bates track team. I staunchly maintain that college track teams in the present state of affairs are practically non-existent.

Hockey Talent Available

I sincerely feel that the money allotted the athletic department for the maintenance of the track team should be devoted to a sport where there is a growing interest, i.e. hockey. There are plenty of good hockey players in the school. They have been clamoring for years for a hockey team, but the school has not had the money to support such a team what with its allocations for the other competitive squads. Let's lend an ear to the pleas of these fellows now.

In the senior class alone, fine hockey talent in the persons of Norm Parent, all-New England center while in Lewiston High, Art Blanchard, Bill Cunnane, Walker Heap, Hod Record, and John Purkis has gone to waste. The other classes are also well represented by such men as Jean Harris, Larry Oviatt, "Lefty" Faulkner, Paul Belisle, Richie Raia, Bob Jones, and Mike Hennessey just to name a few that enter my mind.

The future for Bates in track is indeed a bleak one. On the other hand, a bright future looms for hockey at Bates College. Let's give this proposal some serious thought!

Water Safety Course Offered At Auburn "Y"

A seven-week advanced life saving course to be taught at the Auburn YMCA, beginning next Tuesday, is open to Bates men and women who wish to qualify as Red Cross water safety instructors.

Physical education credit for the third quarter will be given to men who attend the bi-weekly sessions and take the examination at the end of the course. Mr. Lux has announced.

Class meetings will be held Tuesdays and Thursdays of each week beginning next Tuesday and continuing through Thursday, March 30. Junior and senior life saving courses are prerequisites.

Instructors will be Mrs. Kimball and Robert Corsh. A representative of the national Red Cross office will conduct the final exams. A fee of $15 will be charged.

Registration for the course is already under way in the men's physical education office. Class membership is limited and will be made up in the order in which applications are received.

The course will be sponsored by the American Red Cross, in cooperation with the Bates Department of Physical Education.

Poise On Pen

Happy Carnival to one and all -- enter into the weekend just chock full of pleasant things to do -- our hearty congratulations to Queen Geri and her maids of honor -- they looked pretty snappy out there in their silver jackets tonight --

It was funny last week to watch the queen and her court sneak out of Rand Hall two by two to have their pictures taken -- we counted them off and tallied up the score of our guesses --

Let us give thanks and pray -- finals are over -- hope to see you all in the passing parade --

Speaking of finals -- "the ultimate reality" was taking an English exam and looked up to see Messrs. Fisher, Wright, and Woodcock standing in a row up front -- he suggested that one put his hands over his eyes, one over ears, and one over mouth -- get the picture? --

Then there is the rumor about an economics professor who unwittingly put this semester's final exam on sale in the bookstore -- amazing what money can do for you nowadays -- it talks and tells you now --

In the animal corner, we find cause for mourning -- one of Smith Hall's tropical fish died recently -- seems there were too many fingers in the pot --

'Twas a lazy afternoon -- and a coed living on the third floor in a local dorm was taking a nap -- slowly and quietly the window rises -- man puts leg over window sill, comes in, shuts window, and leaves room closing the door behind him -- and he didn't even say goodbye --

With the advent of the voracious and vari-colored machine in the Hobby Shoppe -- they say that the juke box is replacing the old-fashioned pinball machine --

They're dedicating a new book to Dick Bellows -- "Gullible's Travels" -- just before midnight the boys gave him a hot scoop that the daughter of Brink's president had turned the latter in for the robbery -- our boy sat up listening to the radio till the wee hours waiting for news flashes --

Chuck and Oscar left Thursday night 'mid the cheers of loyal followers -- we wish them the best of luck and know that they'll just wow all of Europe -- also was time for a bon voyage to Oscar -- his visit to Bates is over -- hope Bates made a big hit with him as he did with us -- he and Chuck had in common the interests that make open sesame in any man's land -- But without the mint leaf --

Spanos came to grief Saturday night with a broken leg in ice-skating accident -- we hope she will be up and around before too long --

Did you hear about the girl who came out of the exam -- walked up to the prof and invited him politely to "Drop Dead" --

Anything for a laugh -- Smith South was very active the other night -- Waldo Tibbetts took a nap and every clock and watch in the dorm was moved up two hours -- upon awakening, he dashed to the phone to make apologies to Kae who didn't know what he was talking about -- the boys were really laid out in the aisles that night --

We are happy to announce that the Bill Mobilia fund for the paneless went over the top -- he was throwing snowballs and didn't miss -- window cost 76 cents --

Geri Prefers Swimming To Skiing; Runners-Up In Varied Activities

By Betty Dagdigan

"My Carnival Queen, dear You're heaven's delight--"

Tis this that will replace the Stein Song for one Maine man, for Geri Moulton, queen of the Winter Carnival of 1950 is also the queen of a University of Maine senior, Dan Brady. They became engaged in September.

Geri, a local girl, is one of the twigs of an old Bates family tree. She has a brother, however, who has gone down to the city and is at Harvard.

As for other activities, Geri feels more at home in a bathing suit than skitags, for she says that she does more swimming than skiing. She has also managed sports seasons for the WAA, and is now getting her daily dozens by that hour a day, five days a week of practice teaching.

Ladies In Waiting

Margie Dwelley, of the heaven sent curly hair, is doing most of her waiting in the Hobby Shoppe, and usually in the company of that emigre from Devens, Mobilia, Mobilia, Mobilia.

Secretary of both the Outing Club and the Publishing Association, Margie takes up her spare time, any that is that may be left, in knitting, playing at skiing, and learning to play the cello.

Cathie Evans, the successful swimmer in last season's production of "Seven Chances" by the Robinson Players, is also having quite a successful time practice teaching at the Webster Junior High. She is president of the Psychology Club as well as being an assistant in the department.

Last year she was president of Wilson House which, if you remember, made a name for itself during Carnival by winning the trophy for the best snow sculpture.

Max Hammer, the president of WAA, is right in her element in Winter Carnival plans. She is in charge of the girls' skiing events.

Max was president of Chase House last year, and works on makeup for Robinson Players. When asked about her outside activities, she was quite frank about her answer. She also said she knits like mad.

Nicki Harrington is the gal in the court wearing the wedding ring. She and Bob were married after her sophomore year. They now have a house in Winthrop, and Bob is teaching at Monmouth Academy.

During her underclass years, Nicki was a member of Outing

Club, Robinson Players, and Jordan Ramsdell, for which she prepared an exhibit during last year's Science Fair. Nicki has also sung for the glee club.

Lois Keniston has only been at Bates for three years, having transferred from Stephens College. At Christmas this year she became engaged to Hugh Penny.

A psych major, Lois assists in the department and is secretary of the Psychology Club. (That seems to be quite a club). Last spring, Lois was a speaker at Ivy Day, and was on the committee for the class dance. For winter sports, she prefers skating.

Ruth Martin is the little girl of the court. She's only five foot one, but Rolly Keans doesn't seem to think he's being short changed.

Vice-president of Chase House last year, Ruth is following up as treasurer of WAA, and secretary-treasurer of Jordan Ramsdell. She also assists in biology.

Ruthie also comes from a Bates family, for her father and two brothers were Bates men.

Breakdown Of Court

As for general statistics of the court, they range from 20 to 22 in age, and from 5 feet 1 inch to 5 feet 8 inches in height. There are four brunettes, two blondes and a redhead. Five come from Massachusetts, one from New Jersey, and one from Maine.

Former Carnival Advisor Looks Back On Career

By Nan Kosinski and Sally Haynes

As a relief after the tension of study most people feel like participating in the relaxing benefits of the open air. In fact, there is no time, exam week or not, when outdoor activity isn't a helpful change -- so thinks Dr. William Sawyer, chairman of the biology department and former Outing Club and Carnival advisor. He practices as well as preaches this policy by successfully combining his hours of work in the classroom and laboratory with his rewarding outside interests of fishing, hunting, skiing, golfing, gardening, and mountain climbing. He has climbed Mt. Katahdin thirteen times -- let that still the tongues of those who complain after climbing the steps of Hathorn Hall.

When Dr. Sawyer entered Bates in the class of 1913, the college campus was centered around a considerably smaller area. The central heating plant had just been built, but there was no Chase Hall, Athletic Building, Chapel or Carnegie Science Hall. Dr. Sawyer's own present headquarters.

Tuition in 1909 amounted to $50 and the board was $2.50 a week. The age-old dissatisfaction of college students with institution food cropped up, and some of the students ran clubs to feed hungry members. They set up kitchen and dining-room arrangements in private homes, hired cooks, and even took in boarders. The spirit behind the clubs was strong but the strain on pocketbooks proved too much, and the popular practice had to be abandoned with regret.

Coed rules and customs, as we know them, have been relaxed a good deal since 1909. Then, if a boy took his girl to church on Sunday morning, it was equivalent to an engagement announcement.

After his graduation in 1913, Dr. Sawyer remained as a graduate assistant for a year and then went to Cornell, where he received his Master's degree in 1916. During the war he was trained at the Army Laboratory School at Yale, prior to being sent to France. He and two other men were assigned to establish a lab in a new hospital in Marseilles. When peace was declared, they weren't sent home. Finally, when they thought they must be the last American soldiers in France they received their orders to return to the United States.

Married Bates Grad

He came back to Bates and was married in 1921 to a Bates graduate. In 1929 Dr. Sawyer got his Doctor's Degree at Harvard, spending his spare time teaching at MIT and Harvard.

Dr. Sawyer became chairman of the biology department when Dr. Pomeroy retired in 1947.

Photos At Formal

Robert Hayes will be on hand to photograph couples at the Coronation Ball Saturday night. The price will be two (2) pictures in a suitable folder, for $1.

Sampsonville Scene

By Bill Norris

Winter Carnival is with us once more -- full house over in this section of campus as usual. There isn't room for a detailed list of house guests at Sampsonville, but as usual it is a long one. Most of the wives have successfully waged campaigns to get the old man dressed and dancing at the Carnival Hop. There are some hold-outs but the wives concerned are confident at this time.

Changes In Residence

Bill, Ginny and Susie LaRochelle moved out of our midst last week. Newcomers to Carcelon House will be Mr. and Mrs. Taylor (Sociology Dept.) and Pete Carsley with Ruth and daughter. George and Pat Brinkerhoff are getting settled over in Bardwell while Mr. and Mrs. Crosby will move into the empty apartment in Russell House. No other vital statistics from this neighborhood but we hear that Kathie and Jimmy Doe have their second son. The Doe family, residents of Carcelon House last year, are now living in Detroit.

June and Aaron Gillespie have been making repeated trips to Orono trying to find living quarters. They will spend next semester there while Aaron works with the Philosophy Dept. at the U. of M. The housing situation is rough in that vicinity we are told, but they have found a place to hang their hats.

Joys Of Parenthood

Bob Hatch and daughter Linda spent last Saturday afternoon to bogganing behind Bardwell House.

German Student, Recently Enrolled Tells Of Experiences Under Nazis

By Ray Sennett

The latest addition to the Bates campus is Dieter (or as he prefers to be called, Dieter) Von Der Leuhe. Dieter is a 24 year old German student who originally hailed from Doberan, a small town near Rostok in Mecklenburg province.

Father Arrested Several Times

Dieter told something of his childhood in Doberan. He said the town was near the Baltic sea and owned a resort there which the Nazi big wheels used to frequent before the war. Dieter's father was an evangelist of the Confessional Church, which opposed the Nazi attempt to subordinate the church to the party. His church activities got him arrested several times but he was never jailed for more than a few hours at a time.

Jugend

When asked if he had ever belonged to the Hitler Jugend he said that all German youth were compelled to belong. He declared, however, that save for the rigid political indoctrination and the military aspects of the Jugend, it was not as bad, except in localized areas, as many people in this country were led to believe; for instance children

He'd probably agree with the fathers that it sure is a build snowmen, throw snow go sledding -- just about all things that you are supposed to do. Overheard last week at the boy sat and watched his snowman, "What are you doing? We're making a snowman -- lots of fun isn't it?" sat and watched.

Had fun over at the square last Saturday eve. Neighbor did the calling -- well, too.

The next Wives Club will be Wednesday, February 23. That is the week we start school. The meeting will be at Ginger Jones' home -- No. 7 Carcelon House. The last meeting held at Elaine Bonney's and to Bob Foster we were able to tell of the get-together.

Very little social activity preoccupies with the Speaking of socializing -- has hit our section. The latest novation seems to be a game of nasta after supper (when there guests) to see who will do the es -- latest victims are Stan and George Kanna from North.

Speaking of exams, at this time we still have three left, so close this now. Shakespeare "To be or not to be" is not the question, either.

Dieter revealed that he had been drafted into the army in '43 and been taken prisoner at Anzio in after being wounded. He continues a dislike for everything military.

Prisoner Of War In US

After being sent to hospital Africa he was shipped to the States and put to work in Michigan employed mostly as a farm laborer. When asked what impressed him about the U.S. Dieter answered that he was surprised at the number of cars and wooden or frame houses. In Germany frame houses are as only as "weekend houses" or cottages.

Dieter declared that as a P.W. was treated very well, in fact receiving better food and rations than the German army. He asserted that by the time the prisoners in the camp were ready to be shipped back to Europe, except for a few Nazi calicrants, the majority were heartily in favor of American democracy and felt that the US could be depended upon as a friend of the German people.

Returned As French Prisoner

Dieter felt the US made a strategic propaganda blunder by sending these prisoners direct home but instead turning them over to the French government for whom they were forced to work for a period of two years, still as prisoners. Dieter remained in France for another year as a free laborer at the College Cervenol where he met Dr. Zerby and through him came to Bates.

Conditions In Germany

When he returned to Germany '48 after a short visit in '47, he declared that a tremendous change had been realized through the current reforms which had revitalized German economic life since his last there. Shops were again full of goods and reconstruction was well swung. Germans still are warried, however, by the realization that their improved well-being

Play Off On Monday; Top Scorers Announced

By Al Dunham

North and Middle each successfully defended their co-titles on Monday, January 19th, to wind up the first half of the 1949-50 Intramural basketball season. The Northerners, coached by Parker, won 63-39, and Middle topped the South, 54-47, and this tie game will call for a playoff between the two teams on Monday, February 6th.

There were three nights of basketball played last week. On Monday night, the 16th, J.B. opened the season's play by dropping the Northerners 48-43. The losers held a lead at half time, but the Northerners closed the gap in the second half to win in a 41-41 deadlock at final gun. In the 3-minute overtime, which followed the winners won 7 points to a pair for Sampsonville. Dick Westphal led the attack, while the J.B. combo dropping in 13 points. The Northerners followed by Chick Leachy's team in the second game of the night. Off Campus boys topped the Northerners 46-37. George Brinker was top scorer for the winners with 11 points, while Bob Wade McClement shared second honors with 10 apiece. Anderson was Parker's leader.

Games which were scheduled for Tuesday, the 20th, were played on Wednesday, and in the first of these games cinched a second place in the standings by downing Middle 60-49. There were two tie-games in this game. Bob Wade McClement and the Northerners made the mark for the winners. Bruce McClement followed up scoring 17 and 12 points. In the night-cap South the J.Bites 43-33. Fred Phillips again the high man for the winners with 14 markers, while Paul was close behind with 12. The Northerners won 10 markers. Dick Westphal led the winners.

On Thursday night that the Northerners made their last defense of their co-titles. In the first of the Northerners had little to do with Parker, dropping them. Although the losers drew in the tilt and matched the first eight minutes of the game soon became one on the Northerners. Shirl Hamel led the winners by 14 points, but Tom Northerners close behind with 13. Bill was high man for Parker. In the second tilt, the last of the season, Middle dumped the Northerners 54-47. John Duffett led the winners by 16. Wimp Larochelle added to the winners' losing cause.

Bobbittens Have 4-4 Record To Date

By Alan Hakes

With the basketball season half over, things are at last beginning to look up for the Bates Bobbittens.

Place	Team	Won	Lost
1	North	6	1
2	Middle	6	1
3	Off Campus	4	3
4	Bardwell	3	4
5	J.B.	3	4
6	South	3	4
7	Sampsonville	2	5
8	Parker	1	6

In the individual scoring department we find something which hasn't occurred in Intramural basketball play before, to our recollection. There is not one single-game high point aggregator, but there are four, all tossing in 25 points in a single game. Bob Wade of Off Campus, Rolley Keans of J.B., South's Fred Phillips, and Bob LaPointe from Bardwell's forces all netted single game highs of 25 points.

The final tally of individual total score for the entire first half has been compiled, and the winner's wreath goes to Bob Wade of Off Campus. Bob threw up a total of 132 points in the seven games in which his team played, and this works out to a 18.9 point per game average, which is mighty fine scoring in any league. Place money goes to Bob LaPointe of Bardwell who scored 125 markers, and third place honors are Fred Phillips, of South, who compiled 117. The complete list

Hockey Team To Play Collegians On Saturday

An informal Bates hockey team will compete this Saturday as part of the regular Carnival program. Opposition will be furnished by the Maine Collegians from Orono. The game will be played at the new St. Doms arena with the game time listed as 10 a. m. No admission will be charged. There will be buses leaving for the game at 9:45 from in front of Rand Hall.

Bill Cunneane has been in charge of lining up the Bates aggregation and will play in addition to his managerial duties. Others who are expected to see service include Norm Parent, Gene Harris, Herb Bergdahl, Lefty Faulkner, Miles Ferrick, Andy McAuliffe, and Fred Douglas. The roster is incomplete at this writing and is by no means official.

Special thanks are in order for the management of the St. Doms Arena for their very generous donation of the facilities. There will be adequate room for all and the game itself should prove very interesting.

Frosh Thinclads Notch Victory Over Cheverus

By John Ebert

The frosh thinclads bounded back from last week's defeat at the hands of South Portland last Saturday, to even their season's record at 1 and 1. Their victim was Cheverus High, whom they downed with the impressive score of 65-13 to 33-23.

The Bobbittens put in a good all around performance, taking 8 firsts and 6 seconds to the visitors' 3 and 5. Their depth was shown in sweeping the first three places in the 300 yard dash, and the 600 and 1000 yard runs. The best Cheverus could do was 1-2 in both the high and low hurdles.

Bob Abbott was again the stand-out, taking first place in both the 600 and 300, with times of 1:20 and 36:0 respectively. Other firsts were recorded by John MacDuffie in the high jump, John Kasius in the mile, Bob Goldsmith in the 1000 yard run, John Lawson in both the broad jump and the 40 yard dash, and Bob Goldberg in the shot put.

With a victory under their belts the frosh are now looking forward to the BAA mile relay at the Boston Gardens next Saturday. The four runners comprising the Bates team will be Abbott, Don Holstrom, Kasius, and Goldsmith, with Jim Thompson as an alternate. Abbott is the only natural quarter-miler on the squad, but the other three have been working hard conditioning themselves for the meet. The team doesn't know who they will run against, but figure to come home with another victory.

Varsity Track Team Swamped By 107-9 Score

By Ralph Cate

A badly outmanned Bates Track Team went down to a 107-9 defeat in Saturday, the 21st's dual meet at the College with the University of New Hampshire. The Bates aggregation just didn't have the power to bring home the track bacon. Without the services of Norm Hamner in the high hurdles and with Gene Harley still not up to par after his recent illness, the Bobbittens were literally swamped.

Nate Boone's victory in the dash was the only first place that the Bates tracksters picked up. However, the thinclads garnered four thirds as Hod Record got one in the 35 pound hammer. Don Roberts in the high hurdles and Cy Nealis in the 600 and the 1000. No other Bates men finished in the running as the one first and four thirds accounted for the squad's total of nine points.

The visitors swept the discus as Tupper, Gamble and McKilvie grabbed all the honors, finishing in that order. The winning throw measured 130 feet, 4 1/2 inches, a good toss in any meet. In the 35 pound weight event, Mullen and Grant of N. H. carried the first two slots as Hod Record of Bates managed to nab a third. Tupper, Ricci, and Mullen gave the New Hampshire lads another clean sweep in the shot put with the winning toss hitting 40 feet, 1 1/2 inches.

Nate Boone saved Bates' face as he romped to victory in the 40 yard

Tufts Here For Ski Meet During Winter Carnival

By Robert Purinton

Once again the weather man has been unkind to the ski team. In their first scheduled meet at Maine, rain cancelled operations and the team was forced to accept the hospitality of the Delta Theta Pi House in consolation.

The State Meet at Rumford was a different story. Racing against Maine and Colby, the team, the best potentiality in the state, ran into hard luck and placed third. This meet cannot be used as a criterion to judge the team, however, because Russ Woodin, the team captain, and the others were off their stride due to the lack of practice. With more favorable weather conditions the team could get the necessary practice and give a better performance. The team members agree that their jumping performance could have been better except for the fact that they have had little practice on such a jump as the one at Rumford. They feel that the Bates jump is inadequate for the competition they must meet.

On Feb. 3-4 the team will encounter Tufts at the Bates Winter Carnival. Jack Grein, Dana Jones, and Russ Woodin will do the jumping honors. Dom Casavant, Eddie Swain, Dave Sweeney, Jones and Woodin will race in the downhill dash in 4.7 seconds. O'Brien and Jacobsmeysers garnered the second and third places. The rest of the results were not overly impressive as New Hampshire took first and second in the high hurdles, 600 yard run, 1000 yard run and first, second and third in the two mile jaunt, the high jump and the broad jump. As for the pole vault, Bates had no entries; draw your own conclusions.

Having participated in sporadic workouts the past few days, the varsity basketballers today begin practice sessions in earnest for the Cats' forthcoming engagements with Boston University, February 9, in Boston Garden. This will mark Bates' first appearance at the Garden and the Garnet is determined to prove its merit in the preliminary game which will feature Holy Cross and Rhode Island State in the night-cap.

A newcomer has donned the colors of the Garnet and White. He is Norm Brackett, a transfer from Columbia University, who now becomes eligible after having worked out with the team for the past several months. Norm was a member of the championship Edward Little basketball quintet of three years ago and captained the Eddies in his senior year. Competing against the stellar Bates freshman aggregation of two seasons back, Brackett threw in 15 points as the Kittens took a squeaker from the Eddies, 45-44. Brackett is a good set and one hand shot and a good ball handler and passer. He will prove a welcome addition to the hoopsters and Ed Petro.

To date the Cats have copped four of their twelve contests. On January 18 at Orono, the locals found themselves unable to cope with the prowess of the rangy Maine quintet and fell by the wayside, 52-35. With a brief respite in the Garnet schedule, it might be interesting to take a gander at the scoring records.

Larry Quimby heads the list of event. Bob Crandall plus Casavant, Woodin, Swain and Sweeney will compete in the cross-country trek and the last four and Dana Jones will run in the slalom.

Following the carnival meet the squad will meet Bowdoin here on Feb. 11 and then will enliven the Colby Carnival by running against that team on Feb. 17-18.

scorers with a total of 176 points, a per game average of 14.7. This out-paces him second in total game scoring for the State behind Colby's Teddy Shiro and fourth in the State Series scoring race behind Shiro again. Deadlocked for second place behind Quimby are Bob Carpenter and Glen Collins. They both have registered 126 markers. The fourth member of the squad to have reached the century mark is Ralph Perry with a total of 102 tallies. In the percentage department, Quimby has made a fine 37% of his field goal attempts. Perry is next with 36% while Collins and Carpenter trail with 35%. Technically speaking, "Lefty" Faulkner has the highest percentage of any player in the country. "Lefty" has attempted three shots from the floor and netted all three of them to give him an unbeatable 100% though "Lefty" likes to think of it in terms of 1000%. In the matter of foul shooting, Bob Carpenter takes top honors, having cashed in on 24 of his 35 foul shots for a commendable 69%. He is followed by Glen Collins with 65%.

Bates as a team has converted 31% of its floor attempts and 60% of its foul tries for a game average of 59 points. Bates opponents, on the other hand, have caged 33% of their attempts from the field and 63% of their charity tosses for a game average of 66 points. Quimby holds the individual game scoring record for the year with 26 point performance against Colby. In reference to foul shooting it is interesting to note that "Slim" Somerville has a streak of nine straight going. Quimby had a skein of fourteen in a row earlier in the season.

As for the State Series, it has materialized into a duel between Maine and Colby. Colby by virtue of its 59-48 triumph over the Black Bears moved to within one game of the Orono lads. Colby will be strengthened at midterms by the Jabar brothers and thus Maine and Colby should have a keen duel for the remainder of the way.

Fourteen Leave; Will Receive June Degrees

Fourteen seniors completed requirements for graduation with conclusion of final exams this week. Registrar Mabel Libby stated that the students will not receive their diplomas at this time, but will return in June to participate in the regular graduation ceremonies. The size of this group, continued Miss Libby, is smaller than those of previous years. Next year will see an even smaller group graduating in February.

Seniors who are now, in effect, Bates grads are: Arthur Blanchard, history and government; Weston Bonney, economics; Jesse Castanias, economics; Shepard Cortell, economics; William Cunnane, history and government; Myles Ferrick, economics; Robert Gumb, physics; Wayne Lago, history; Wallace Leahy, history and government; Malcolm Leslie, physics; Joyce Lyon, English; Norman Parent, history and government; Stanton Smith, economics; and Waldo Tibbets, economics.

Travel Book On Sale By N. S. A. Association

"Work, Study, Travel Abroad, 1950" has been put on sale by the publications bureau of the National Student Association, 304 N. Park, Madison, Wis.

The 10,000-word booklet, which follows similar booklets for 1948 and 1949, gives agencies to contact for traveling during the summer months, outlines their programs and provides general year-round facts on going abroad.

The booklet is being sold to students at NSA-member schools for 25 cents a copy. All others pay 50 cents a copy. Student governments and campus NSA committees may also order copies in bulk at greater price reductions.

The booklet outlines NSA's programs abroad as well as those of more than 100 other groups that cater to student travelers.

depends upon the US and they wonder what will happen when the Marshall aid ends. Dieter emphasized that most Germans deeply appreciate US private aid such as CARE and church relief which began almost as soon as the war ended.

The chief problems facing Germany today are the refugees—over 12,000,000 from the eastern provinces seized by Poland—and the tremendous housing shortage.

Of Americans Dieter said their friendliness and lack of social distinction appealed to him most strongly. He asserted that, though he had been at Bates only a short time, he already felt that he belonged.

Turner Speaks On Opportunity In Health Field

Public health is a growing field. The opportunities in this type of work today have never been greater; the future looks even brighter for the chance of finding employment in one of the many branches of work dealing with public health. Dr. Clair E. Turner, 12, member of the Bates Board of Trustees, cited hospital administration, sanitation, laboratory work, and nutrition as a few of the things a public health worker could do today.

Dr. Turner, speaking before a group of biology majors in Jan. 20, was introduced by Professor William H. Sawyer, Jr., Biology Department head.

Dr. Turner, one of the leading public health authorities in this country, said that public health education is one of the newer fields in this work. He pointed out that this field includes newspaper and radio work, studying the behavior of people, and various other activities dealing with the public.

Recently, the United Nations' World Health Organization asked Dr. Turner to advise several activities in that department that were currently being dealt with. Dr. Turner said that the World Health Organization has two major functions; to systematize the classification of diseases, and to educate and aid the people of the world in various health problems. He pointed out the great health problem in the country of Iran. Facilities are lacking, and disease is taking a tremendous toll of the people. He said that a seven-year health plan has been inaugurated in that country to combat disease and lack of public health education.

ed what he thought were bitter rivalries between girls' dorms, specifically mentioning Cheney House and Roger Williams Hall. Rae Stillman rushed to the defense of the houses, denying that there were any serious breaches between Cheney and Roger Bill, or between any other houses. The Stu-G backed her up in the denial.

Commenting on her observations, Martha Rayder said that some men in the freshmen class also seem to feel that social life at Bates is poor. A member of the Stu-C added that the supposed unsatisfactory social life here is due to "the entire warped attitude of Bates College". William Dill averred that "in any school there is a considerable block" of men "who don't date".

Chase Dances "Degenerated"

President Walcott pictured the Chase Hall dances as having "degenerated" in the last few years, with attendance falling off as a result. The dances were hit by other Stu-G members as "too formal and stilted". Not many stags of either sex appeared, they declared. Dill said the trouble may lie in the feeling of men that they might be "stuck" with a girl for the evening if they asked one to dance.

The two governing bodies came to the conclusion that open houses are beneficial and enjoyed by the men; likewise coffees; and that for some reason the men are hesitant to go to the Women's Union although they are welcome there.

Men's Reception Rooms?

The governments appeared unanimous in the opinion that reception rooms were needed in Parker, John Bertram, and Smith Halls, and that the Chase Hall dances must be made more appealing. Some members also felt that the Chase Hall lounge should be open to women as well as to men, and that there should be more exchange dances like the Sadie Hawkins Dance. A committee under Lennon's leadership was set up to map a campaign to overcome administrative opposition to certain desired objectives, goals which it is hoped will make the social picture at Bates more congenial and intimate. Rae Stillman, Martha Rayder and Richard Scott were named as the other committee members.

Rae Walcott said that it was necessary to "break down the attitude that there are two sides of the campus". A Stu-C member stated that possibly it was not only an attitude, but perhaps an administration policy. Indicating tough sledding for the proposed joint campaign, he alleged that President Phillips once asserted that he would establish separate men's and women's unions if possible.

"Throw Back" Stanton Ride Tales

Another Stu-C member declared that the students should "throw back at" administration officials the annual Stanton Ride tales of Bates growth and progress. Opposition to student proposals for further expansion such as opening Smith and Parker reception rooms, could presumably be attacked as a backward step in the march of progress.

In line with its policy of providing increased social possibilities, Prexy Walcott mentioned that the Stu-G will sponsor an all-college ice skate the evening of Feb. 18, with a dance afterward.

Square Dance Nets $17.61 For Campus Chest

"Swing your partner up and down" was the cry of Richard Packard, caller for the Campus Chest square dance. The dance took place in Chase Hall, Saturday night. In the middle of the evening, Walter Stover, William Wyman, and James Leamon sang two selections, and then James Anderson led a community sing while Karl Koss played the piano. Hugh Penny sold refreshments.

George Gamble, head of the Campus Chest and chairman of the dance, said that the dance profit for the Chest was $17.61. He also said that the goal hasn't been reached yet so that any more pledges would be cheerfully accepted.

Richard Goldman, John Rippey, Kathleen Kirschbaum, and James Leamon have been appointed to editorial positions on the STUDENT staff, effective with this issue.

Warren Carroli has been added to the list of staff reporters. As one of seven assistant editors, Goldman, now in his first month on the staff, will have charge of science and publications coverage. Carolyn Wells, whom he replaced, will manage exchanges and filing.

Rippey, also an assistant editor, will cover Student Council and inter-government news. He has served as Stu-C reporter for the last four months. Kathleen, who has worked since November, is now making-up editor. Leamon will fill the position of staff cartoonist.
