No. 23

Y. M. C. A.

Dr. N. E. Richardson, of Boston University, spoke last Saturday and Sunday in the interests of the course in Bible Study which has been inaugurated by the Y. M. C. A. Dr. Richardson was a very powerful and popular speaker.

Saturday morning he spoke in chapel on the place religious education takes in a college man's life. He said that the ideal aim of education is not simply to obtain information; not the discipline of the intellect; not the acquisition of personality, raising the college man to the nth power; but the great aim is the adjustment of personality to environment. Religious education is one of the requisites in this ideal education, since the great work in the world to-day for college men and women is the "building of kingdom conditions."

Saturday evening Dr. Richardson met leaders of Bible Study classes and others interested in that movement in Roger Williams chapel. He spoke of the qualities necessary for a leader of a group of men. First was reverence for the truth; second, love for human things, for men; third, a mastery of the method of bringing the truth into human life; fourth, the making of oneself a living example of the truth. Further, no one of these qualities must have predominance over the others or a philosopher, a philanthropist, a man of letters, or an egotist will result instead of the true leader.

Sunday morning Dr. Richardson preached at the Main Street Free Baptist Church and in the afternoon he spoke in the college chapel on "The Psychology of Pentecost."

Dr. Seerly, of the Springfield Training School, will be here next Sunday and Monday and will speak twice to the men of the college. What Dr. Seerly may have to say will be well worth listening to, as those of us who have heard him in past years can testify.

Mr. L. Wilbur Messer, Secretary of the Chicago Y. M. C. A., visited Bates Monday and spoke in the evening in Roger Williams Chapel. Mr. Messer is a warm friend of Bates and has done much to help the college. Mr. Messer and his wife are about to start on a trip around the world, visiting Y. M. C. A.'s, especially those in the Orient.

SOCIETIES

On Friday evening Eurosophia-Polymnia and Piæria offered very interesting programs. At Eurosophia the following program was given:

Selection	Orchestra
Vocal Solo	Mr. Hadley, '14
Reading	Miss Mitchell, '16
Selection	Orchestra
Vocal Solo	Mr. Kenniston, '16
Piano Solo	Mr. Sanford, '16
Selection	Orchestra

Every number was thoroughly enjoyed and special pleasure was taken in the orchestra as is always the case. At the end of the program refreshments were served.

Piæria's program took a more personal but no less interesting form.

Piano Duet	Misses Smith and Roberts, '15
My Experiences as a Book Agent	Miss Green
Vocal Solo	Mr. Hinton, '17
"Other Summer Experiences"

Perhaps in no other occupation is there so great an opportunity for amusing and varied experiences. Miss Greene and Mr. Mansfield delighted the audience with tales of their own encounters.

Polymnia opened the program with a piano solo by Miss Martin, '17. Following this Mr. Harms talked very informally to the members of guests of his trip abroad. It was both humorous and interesting as one may be sure when listening to a talk from Mr. Harms. A duet by Misses Smith and Roberts, '15, closed the entertainment.

After the regular meetings the societies joined in a general merry social time.

The girls of the Y. W. C. A. will hold an indoor picnic in the gymnasium, at 7.30 o'clock, on Saturday evening, October 18. It is a children's picnic—for children and their mothers and nurses. So please come, like children, ready for fun.

THE HELPLESSNESS OF AN UN- LOVED SOUL

Oh, the pain and awful hardship,
All around in this sad world!
Praise the Lord, the mighty Savior
Has His banner red unfurled;
Red with blood He shed to ransom
All in sin's seductive snare,
All who live in dire bondage,
All who fear corroding care.

Little children cry for succor,
Trembling hands of age-appeal,
Sighs arise from wrecks of manhood,
Fallen woman suppliant kneels.
Beds of pain await the watcher,
Homes of sadness look for balm,
Lives beset with selfish pleasures,
All alike need holy calm.

Here in land of peace and plenty,
When they fail to win the fight;
There in lands of heathen darkness,
Where they perish without light.
In the work of my Redeemer,
I will do the best I can;

Live, by help of heaven, serving;
Die a consecrated man.

Where He wills, I'll do my duty,
Just the toil He wants of me.
Living, dying; serving, praising,
Blood of Jesus all my plea.
Yet I falter, wan and trembling,
Eyes grow dim with bitter tears,
Hands are helpless, feet are palsied,
Heart is faint with many fears.

Love and sympathy for sinners,
Fills my soul with holy zeal;
Yet love cannot find expression
Till the touch of love I feel.
Have compassion on my weakness;
Let me linger at thy side;
Bid me live for hope's fruition,
When with thee I'll e'er abide.

1913.

Y. W. C. A.

NEW HAMPSHIRE STATE GAME

Bates won its first victory in football for the season by beating N. H. State at Durham Saturday, by the score of 7—6. The field was soggy and there was much fumbling throughout the game. New Hampshire scored in the first period, but failed to kick the goal. Bates' score came in the second period when Butler carried the ball over for a touchdown. Cobb kicked the goal.

MAINE GAME

We wish to call the attention of the Bates students at this time to the fact that on October 25, Bates plays Maine at Orono. This is one of the most important games of the season and the team wants the support of every student at this game. Special rates are to be arranged for and the band will accompany the team.

Seniors ought to take this trip as it is the last opportunity they will have to visit Orono and witness an athletic contest, all others ought to go and keep the old Bates spirit alive.

ABOUT COLLEGE

INITIATIVE NEEDED

Among the many opportunities that college life has to offer we should not underestimate or forget the chance to learn respectable manners. One of the most important places to put into practice the manners thus acquired, is the dining room. Not the least important purpose in view in organizing the Commons was that of providing a place where at least the common decencies might be observed. But this aim will not be realized if we continue in the old ruts formed in the boarding clubs. If we continue to urge the waiters to greater speed, and they, in turn, incite us to increased rapidity, how will the Commons improve the old conditions? The lower-class men naturally follow the example of the upper-class men in such questions. At present, we doubt if the upper-class men are setting an example at the Commons, worthy for the other students to follow. Many of the entering class have come to Bates from boarding schools that would not tolerate such table manners as are in vogue at the Commons.

But they will instinctively fall in with the way of the crowd unless the crowd changes its way. Some of our seniors are going out to apply for a job next year. Do we stop at think how important a factor our table manners will be in delivering our success. From the mere standpoint of pecuniary end we ought to form the habit of good table manners.

Have we forgotten the effects of rapid eating upon health? Do we pause to appreciate what impressions we are making upon visitors to the college? We believe that a little initiative on the part of the upper-class men would be of material value in improving present tendencies at the Commons.

IVY ODE

TUNE: Juanita.

Sunshine is streaming brightly through the branches high,
Flowers are gleaming, birds are in the sky,
As we bring to thee, Bates, our gift of love
to-day,
Love which consecrates the ivy for aye.
Ivy, oh ivy, now our voices gladly raise
Ivy, oh ivy, carols to thy praise.

May thy leaves increase as each June follows
the spring,
Thy tendrils n'er cease these loved walls to cling.
We are planting with thee, visions bright,
fraught with no fears,
Love and faith and loyalty to grow through the years.
Ivy, oh ivy, we are loyal, we are true
Ivy, oh ivy, climb high to the blue.

When far away and these happy years have past,
Come work or play, memories hold fast.
Thus thy tendrils clinging, gentle ivy planted
here,

To our hearts are bringing, thoughts of all most dear.

Ivy, oh ivy, may thy leaves be ever green
Ivy, oh ivy, for our Bates fourteen.

—MILDRED M. RYDER.

STUDENT NOTES

Grading is being done on the part of the campus adjacent to the new chapel. Work has begun on the laying of concrete walks. The row of trees directly in front of the main chapel entrance has been removed, with the exception of the two trees nearest Skinner Street.

The new chapel organ which arrived Sept. 1, is stored temporarily in the corridors of Libbey Forum. It is hoped that the progress on the chapel may be so rapid as to permit the installment of the organ in its proper place at an early date.

A famous picture, copy of one of the celebrated Florentine gallery, has just been placed in the Art Room in Coram Library. The picture is a representation of Herodias and Salome, based on the two New Testament narratives of Herodias exacting from Herod the Head of John the Baptist in fulfillment of his pledge to Salome. This picture is one of the largest in the Art Room; and in a frame and setting of unusual value.

The first lecture in the George Colby Chase course of lectures will be given in November by Dr. Banks on "The Scriptures and the Spade."

At the dedication of the new chapel, one of the addresses will be delivered by Mr. Coolidge of Coolidge & Carlson, architects, for the erection of the chapel building. Mr. Coolidge, who is president of the Boston Board of Commerce, is an interesting and versatile speaker.

This week will witness the completion of the four towers of the chapel.

FRESHMAN CLASS MEETING

At a recent meeting of the freshman class the following officers were elected: President, Mr. Hinton; Vice-President, Miss Richmond; Secretary, Mr. A. Purington; Treasurer, Mr. Murray.

CLASS ODE

Ye who have struggled and fought with us,
Battles with courage high;
Ye who have followed and brought to us
Spirits that cannot die.
Knights of an order that needs no sign,
Comrades and brothers true
Come drink from the stein of Youth's clear wine
A Toast to the class, the blue.

Here's to the class that is to-day,
Here's to the class to be;
May none of her sons ever call us "they"
Forgetting the old time "we."
Here's to our Alma Mater bright,
Here's to the garnet sheen,
Here's to the spirit "to work," "to fight,"
Here's to the class "fourteen."
