

Bates College

SCARAB

The Morning Star

Muskie Archives and Special Collections Library

12-24-1862

The Morning Star - volume 37 number 39 - December 24, 1862

Freewill Baptist printers

Follow this and additional works at: https://scarab.bates.edu/morning_star

Recommended Citation

Freewill Baptist printers, "The Morning Star - volume 37 number 39 - December 24, 1862" (1862). The Morning Star. 1767.

https://scarab.bates.edu/morning_star/1767

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Muskie Archives and Special Collections Library at SCARAB. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Morning Star by an authorized administrator of SCARAB. For more information, please contact batesscarab@bates.edu.

MORNING STAR.

For Terms in full, see last page.

REASONS ASSIGNED FOR CHANGING PASTORS.

These are numerous, and sometimes appear exceedingly weak, not to say absurd. I probably shall not name a title of all that are sometimes mentioned.

There are reasons, that will justify any church in dismissing their pastor and seeking another. If his conduct is such as to bring a reproach upon the cause of Christ...

Changes are more frequently made for some frivolous cause than for any good and sufficient reason—often made because two or three captious spirits desire it for the gratification of their will.

There is a great deal of talk about the South African mission. It was formerly the head quarters of missionary operations in Southern Africa; very little now remains.

Having taken a ride with Captain Holmes round the Lion mountain, I enjoyed the view of the long line of country seats, stretching the mountain side near the shore of the bay.

Another says, Our minister has been here two or three years, and I guess it is about time to have a change, and a new gift will be acceptable.

Another says, Our minister preaches politics, and I want here. This usually proceeds from one political party, and generally has reference to preaching against slavery or intolerance.

resources of this country than you could get in the same time anywhere else.

On the opposite side of the street, there is an enclosure of perhaps two acres, occupied by a money market. One day, the teams being taken out of the country, and one by one took up their position on one side of the grounds.

There are many large and lumbering. If oxen are used, the team is made up of from six to eight yokes, seven being the favorite number. They drive by a rope of green hide, instead of chain.

The operator is one Dr. McCoy, who officiates in a Presbyterian church located on Esplanade Avenue, opposite the United States Mint. The congregation, although there seem to be mostly of females, and scattering at that.

Another peculiarity of the city is, that every body commences with the following admonition, viz: "In discussing this subject, we never forget the fact that we are in the presence of our Saviour, there was an institution on earth called slavery."

How do you like it, my brother? Clear as mud, isn't it? What think you of the gear? Does it not need to be tinkered? We have heard recently that the Dr. is to have a place assigned him at Et. Dickers, where he will have ample opportunity to repair, if he chooses.

Directly the rain came pouring down in torrents, drenching us all to the skin. This supplied the ladies with the necessary ballast, and the descent was prosecuted in safety.

But "tribulation worketh patience," and all other Christian graces are developed, exercised and strengthened, as a consequence.

But the sufferings of Christ represent his whole life, his entire earthly mission. His whole earthly career was sacrifice, and the fact of his sufferings is a certificate for all he performed for the redemption of man.

Whereas man benefited by these sufferings, and the atonement received by man as a consequence, constituted a commercial transaction, the sufferings of Christ were transferred to the credit of the sinner.

Now I ask, why should we confine ourselves to any one of these answers? May it not be that Christ intended to touch us on every side, and stir us up on every hand, by his sufferings, and by his death?

How do you like it, my brother? Clear as mud, isn't it? What think you of the gear? Does it not need to be tinkered? We have heard recently that the Dr. is to have a place assigned him at Et. Dickers, where he will have ample opportunity to repair, if he chooses.

Directly the rain came pouring down in torrents, drenching us all to the skin. This supplied the ladies with the necessary ballast, and the descent was prosecuted in safety.

Directly the rain came pouring down in torrents, drenching us all to the skin. This supplied the ladies with the necessary ballast, and the descent was prosecuted in safety.

row-striker sinner as I am." And yet, in such a case, one feels the need of his benefit, and is far more likely to embrace it, than one who endures no suffering; for then he says: "O, I am strong, and do not need the aid of the gospel."

But the sufferings of Christ represent his whole life, his entire earthly mission. His whole earthly career was sacrifice, and the fact of his sufferings is a certificate for all he performed for the redemption of man.

Whereas man benefited by these sufferings, and the atonement received by man as a consequence, constituted a commercial transaction, the sufferings of Christ were transferred to the credit of the sinner.

How do you like it, my brother? Clear as mud, isn't it? What think you of the gear? Does it not need to be tinkered? We have heard recently that the Dr. is to have a place assigned him at Et. Dickers, where he will have ample opportunity to repair, if he chooses.

Directly the rain came pouring down in torrents, drenching us all to the skin. This supplied the ladies with the necessary ballast, and the descent was prosecuted in safety.

Directly the rain came pouring down in torrents, drenching us all to the skin. This supplied the ladies with the necessary ballast, and the descent was prosecuted in safety.

Directly the rain came pouring down in torrents, drenching us all to the skin. This supplied the ladies with the necessary ballast, and the descent was prosecuted in safety.

fore, any one of the disciples could accomplish more towards the salvation of souls than was done by these miracles, of course the work which such disciples performed would be a greater work than the miracle itself.

But the sufferings of Christ represent his whole life, his entire earthly mission. His whole earthly career was sacrifice, and the fact of his sufferings is a certificate for all he performed for the redemption of man.

Whereas man benefited by these sufferings, and the atonement received by man as a consequence, constituted a commercial transaction, the sufferings of Christ were transferred to the credit of the sinner.

How do you like it, my brother? Clear as mud, isn't it? What think you of the gear? Does it not need to be tinkered? We have heard recently that the Dr. is to have a place assigned him at Et. Dickers, where he will have ample opportunity to repair, if he chooses.

Directly the rain came pouring down in torrents, drenching us all to the skin. This supplied the ladies with the necessary ballast, and the descent was prosecuted in safety.

Directly the rain came pouring down in torrents, drenching us all to the skin. This supplied the ladies with the necessary ballast, and the descent was prosecuted in safety.

Directly the rain came pouring down in torrents, drenching us all to the skin. This supplied the ladies with the necessary ballast, and the descent was prosecuted in safety.

there is a potency in gospel truth that no other theme contains. When men gain an insight into what has been done for them, the depths of the heart are stirred, and the emotions set forth by those who intercourse and sympathy with him enables them to portray it, their hearts will melt. How would the young wife cherish the memory of a brother, who had saved the life of her husband by a sacrifice of his own? With what affection we regard the soldier who places his life in imminent peril for his country? And how do we cherish the memory of the man who, by whose death we, as a nation, now live?

But the sufferings of Christ represent his whole life, his entire earthly mission. His whole earthly career was sacrifice, and the fact of his sufferings is a certificate for all he performed for the redemption of man.

Whereas man benefited by these sufferings, and the atonement received by man as a consequence, constituted a commercial transaction, the sufferings of Christ were transferred to the credit of the sinner.

How do you like it, my brother? Clear as mud, isn't it? What think you of the gear? Does it not need to be tinkered? We have heard recently that the Dr. is to have a place assigned him at Et. Dickers, where he will have ample opportunity to repair, if he chooses.

Directly the rain came pouring down in torrents, drenching us all to the skin. This supplied the ladies with the necessary ballast, and the descent was prosecuted in safety.

Directly the rain came pouring down in torrents, drenching us all to the skin. This supplied the ladies with the necessary ballast, and the descent was prosecuted in safety.

Directly the rain came pouring down in torrents, drenching us all to the skin. This supplied the ladies with the necessary ballast, and the descent was prosecuted in safety.

the gospel does not come with the very letter of truth, however potent that truth may be in itself. But it comes with the Holy Spirit, and with power. The letter killeth. The words which Christ speaks are spirit and life.

But the sufferings of Christ represent his whole life, his entire earthly mission. His whole earthly career was sacrifice, and the fact of his sufferings is a certificate for all he performed for the redemption of man.

Whereas man benefited by these sufferings, and the atonement received by man as a consequence, constituted a commercial transaction, the sufferings of Christ were transferred to the credit of the sinner.

How do you like it, my brother? Clear as mud, isn't it? What think you of the gear? Does it not need to be tinkered? We have heard recently that the Dr. is to have a place assigned him at Et. Dickers, where he will have ample opportunity to repair, if he chooses.

Directly the rain came pouring down in torrents, drenching us all to the skin. This supplied the ladies with the necessary ballast, and the descent was prosecuted in safety.

Directly the rain came pouring down in torrents, drenching us all to the skin. This supplied the ladies with the necessary ballast, and the descent was prosecuted in safety.

Directly the rain came pouring down in torrents, drenching us all to the skin. This supplied the ladies with the necessary ballast, and the descent was prosecuted in safety.

Poetry.

"WATER TROU IN ALL THINGS."
Patience—life is very brief;
From doubt and murmurs free; character. Well, you see, we had in our society, as there always every society social gathering once a fortnight.

Miscellany.

THE COST OF THE WAR.
The report of the Secretary of the Treasury at length places us in possession of the war bills which we have to pay.

THE DEBATE.

The above extracts from the revised reports of the speeches of Senators Wilson, Sherman and Trumbull, give the salient points of the somewhat divided Republican opinion.

Obitaries.

Particular Notice! Persons wishing obituaries published in the Morning Star, will do so at a moderate price, and with equal facility as a line, to insure an insertion.

Advertisements.

FARM FOR SALE IN MICHIGAN.
The subscriber offers his farm for sale, comprising 100 acres, located two miles from Hillsdale college, and is equidistant between the villages of Hillsdale and Jonesville, on the Mich.

Don't run in debt, never mind, never mind, if your clothes are faded and torn;
Fix 'em up, make 'em look like new set,

UNKIND WORDS.
Do not use such words as those, they make you look like a mother and a child, who are disputing over some play-

THE DEPARTMENT, & REPORTS.
THE REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF WAR consists of a review of the military condition of the country. The total number of men in the United Army is 800,000, and when the quotas are filled will reach 1,000,000.

THE NAVY.
Secretary Welles speaks in the highest terms of the efficiency of the blockade, gives an account of the operations of the fleet, and of the progress of the war on the sea.

DR. WILLIAMS' VEGETABLE BITTERS.
THE People's Remedy. Try it, and if it does not prove to be all that is claimed for it, then return it, and get your money back.

NOTICE.
THIS may certify that I have given to my son, J. H. F. Prescott, his share of the estate of my late father, J. H. Prescott, deceased, and that he has received the same.

The Family Circle.

For the Morning Star.
CURRENT WINE.
"Take a little current wine, Mr. Newton," said Mrs. Smith, passing him a glass.

Little Lizzie's Death.

A Brooklyn correspondent of an exchange, tells this simple, touching story of a little Sunday-school girl's death.

Agriculture, Etc.

For the Morning Star.
"PRairie Tea."
Bro. Burr:—Since you published my article headed as above, in the Star of Oct. 29th,

Principles of Agriculture.

According to a writer in the Philadelphia
Ledger, the soil of the Allegheny valley,
situated near Windsor Castle, about twenty miles
southwest of London, occupies one thousand
acres, one hundred of which are never plowed,

Principles of Agriculture.

According to a writer in the Philadelphia
Ledger, the soil of the Allegheny valley,
situated near Windsor Castle, about twenty miles
southwest of London, occupies one thousand
acres, one hundred of which are never plowed,

Principles of Agriculture.

According to a writer in the Philadelphia
Ledger, the soil of the Allegheny valley,
situated near Windsor Castle, about twenty miles
southwest of London, occupies one thousand
acres, one hundred of which are never plowed,

Principles of Agriculture.

According to a writer in the Philadelphia
Ledger, the soil of the Allegheny valley,
situated near Windsor Castle, about twenty miles
southwest of London, occupies one thousand
acres, one hundred of which are never plowed,

Principles of Agriculture.

According to a writer in the Philadelphia
Ledger, the soil of the Allegheny valley,
situated near Windsor Castle, about twenty miles
southwest of London, occupies one thousand
acres, one hundred of which are never plowed,

Principles of Agriculture.

According to a writer in the Philadelphia
Ledger, the soil of the Allegheny valley,
situated near Windsor Castle, about twenty miles
southwest of London, occupies one thousand
acres, one hundred of which are never plowed,

Principles of Agriculture.

According to a writer in the Philadelphia
Ledger, the soil of the Allegheny valley,
situated near Windsor Castle, about twenty miles
southwest of London, occupies one thousand
acres, one hundred of which are never plowed,

Principles of Agriculture.

According to a writer in the Philadelphia
Ledger, the soil of the Allegheny valley,
situated near Windsor Castle, about twenty miles
southwest of London, occupies one thousand
acres, one hundred of which are never plowed,

Principles of Agriculture.

According to a writer in the Philadelphia
Ledger, the soil of the Allegheny valley,
situated near Windsor Castle, about twenty miles
southwest of London, occupies one thousand
acres, one hundred of which are never plowed,

Principles of Agriculture.

According to a writer in the Philadelphia
Ledger, the soil of the Allegheny valley,
situated near Windsor Castle, about twenty miles
southwest of London, occupies one thousand
acres, one hundred of which are never plowed,

Principles of Agriculture.

According to a writer in the Philadelphia
Ledger, the soil of the Allegheny valley,
situated near Windsor Castle, about twenty miles
southwest of London, occupies one thousand
acres, one hundred of which are never plowed,

Principles of Agriculture.

According to a writer in the Philadelphia
Ledger, the soil of the Allegheny valley,
situated near Windsor Castle, about twenty miles
southwest of London, occupies one thousand
acres, one hundred of which are never plowed,

Principles of Agriculture.

According to a writer in the Philadelphia
Ledger, the soil of the Allegheny valley,
situated near Windsor Castle, about twenty miles
southwest of London, occupies one thousand
acres, one hundred of which are never plowed,

Principles of Agriculture.

According to a writer in the Philadelphia
Ledger, the soil of the Allegheny valley,
situated near Windsor Castle, about twenty miles
southwest of London, occupies one thousand
acres, one hundred of which are never plowed,

Principles of Agriculture.

According to a writer in the Philadelphia
Ledger, the soil of the Allegheny valley,
situated near Windsor Castle, about twenty miles
southwest of London, occupies one thousand
acres, one hundred of which are never plowed,

Principles of Agriculture.

According to a writer in the Philadelphia
Ledger, the soil of the Allegheny valley,
situated near Windsor Castle, about twenty miles
southwest of London, occupies one thousand
acres, one hundred of which are never plowed,