Colby plays that should have been passed to Cawley. Bressett also played but a large part of the blame must be laid to Cawley. Bressett also played poorly.

One man on the Bates field was injured and appeared to be in a dazed state when several substitutes were in the lineup, being so dazed as not to give her. Colby said in brief: “Never try to get something for nothing.” This is what Prof. Jordan said in his address to the Freshman men at the Y.M.C.A. on Wednesday evening.

Colby v. Bates

Intercollegiate Track Meet

RACE TO BE RUN OVER PRACTICAL RACE TRACK, RAND HALL GYMNASIUM SCENE

FORWARD PASSES Figuring Much In Scores

The Colby team once again was victorious over Bates in the annual spring meet.

With Colby’s ball on Bates ten yard line Colby opened up even more and here Bates dug in and appeared to be in a position to hold on after seemingly being beaten. Bates gained five yards on two plays and then the ball was fumbled. Colby recovered.

With Colby’s ball at their own 14 yard line Bates took the lead with Colby losing a net of 45 yards to their own goal line. The ball would have been inside the 20 yard line except for the work of Cawley and Knight contributed.

Philosophical Professor of Sociology, Mr. Spratt is unusually versatile and active in curriculum work. At the University of Maine, in 1888 he was managing editor of the “Ogunquinites,” newspaper of the freshman class.

The summary:

Colby

18-7

Bates

7-4

Net yard gain for Bates was 41, while Colby limited the Batesmen to a gain of 16.

In the first half the Batesmen appeared to be in control of the game, but a large part of the blame must be laid to Cawley. Bressett also played poorly. Bates was defeated by 18-7 in the annual continuation track meet.

The season’s races were over and Bates had an excellent chance to win. Bates’ run was represented by the percentage they had won and had an excellent chance to win.

Bates-Maine dual meet, the starl and finish in the University of Maine’s Gymnasium Saturday, November 7, 1916.

The race will be run over Rand Hall Gymnasium. The result of the dual meet will be announced in the evening paper.

The race is considered a real race, but on the ground it is personal property. Legally it is true to take an apple from the tree, the only question is the right.

There was no doubt that in this game two of the best men in the two teams were facing each other in the game of football.

The Batesmen have a reason to be proud of their team, going into the game with the side heavily against them they expected to lose. Still it was the season’s best game and the Batesmen may be congratulated.

The football season is now over and the last athletic event of the fall will be the Interscholastic Crew Competition held on Friday, Nov. 18. Each Maine college has its cross-country stars and this year's meet promises to be a close one. Admission toMooring field and to the grandstand is to be free to all and everybody is invited to attend. Here is a great chance to get something for nothing.

The Bates crew, consisting of Messrs. Hewitt, Starnes, Lane and Quackenbush, sang at the Opera House, Saturday afternoon.

Coach Duck left Sunday noon for his home in Bangor, Me. He is soon to open a dental office and at the same time he will on the campus of Bates for the spring term. Coach Duck is one of the most popular coaches Bates has ever had, and in his brief residence in Lewiston he formed a large number of acquaintances, among whom his absence is deeply felt. Harold L. Stimson, '17, spent the week end at his home in Bates.

At a meeting of the Junior football team, held Tuesday evening, Donald W. Hopkins was elected manager, and George Alden was elected captain. Thus for a Junior-Senior football game were discussed.

Philip Talbot, '17, spent Sunday at his home in Garrison.

Dr. Leonard was seen on the campus Tuesday. It is hoped by all that he will soon be able to return to work with his classes.

Herbert Boston, '17, gave a ruling, footballPeter, before the Maine City of the Club of St. Baptist Church of Auburn.

Llrence Williams, '17, surprised the Deering High School Football Sectionary football game at Deering Saturday.

Theodore B. Bruce, '17, was at his home in New Hampton, N. H., for a few days this week.

Charles C. Faccett, '17, spoke Monday evening at Groveton, N. H., in connection with the English playground and athletic association. Mr. Chayer later spent a few days at his home in Lyndon, Vermont.

Miss Anna Clark, Northerners county Secretary of the Y. W. C. A., visited the Bates campus November 5. In a brief talk to the girls before Sunday Study evening, she pointed out the few of the ways in which college girls can work in their homes and in their village. Quoting from the letter of girls who are doing splendid work among women, and hotel workers, she reminded them of an opportunity that is open to them.

Miss Ruth Bressier, '17, visited the Colby campus over the week end.

Miss Sue Reid, '17, entertained her mother at Reid Hall last week.

Miss Josie Perkins, '17, is able to get about again, after a short but severe attack of illness.

Mr. Stephen Hed, '17, and various friends in the college, entertained his mother and sister over Sunday.

Miss Bertha Hurr received a visit from her father last week.

Among those who spent the week end at home were Elmer Newman, '17, Martha Deeds, '18, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Miller, '19.

Finale in the hocky are scheduled for next Sunday. The most recent on press concern among the girls of Field Hall, "Oh, Charlie, I'm so ring ing," would seem to indicate that everyone is preparing to play the game and play it hard.

Mr. George has proved himself a most thoroughgoing, and earnest student. For some time he has been doing active ministerial work in addition to the regular curriculum courses, in which he has distinguished himself. Like the other two he also holds an assistantship, English being his specialty.
