INTERCLASS FOOTBALL

Yearly, about this time, after the regular football season has closed, there inevitably swells over the college a craze for interclass football. Thus far in our history it has appeared in two upper classes and, although the enthusiasm of the older students, who have attended more years, opportunity has never been given them to prove their ability in open conflict. This full the interest from the junior and sophomore classes, as ever and plans have been made for a game between the Seniors and Juniors. And yet it has never been true that only the men who have here not determined to have a good time together, like in play, will be enforced, but with an occasional tendency to violence. The same teams must play for at least ten days prior to the contest. As interclass football bullet notes and public announcements of the game which the college will be called upon to face, that the rating of the contest whether or not it is advisable to add to it, the results not determined at all.

OBERVANT CITIZEN

Two events have not failed for the right reasons, and they are lovely, for a time. A day and hour, and also a city. The sunshine we ever come to having a better shop installed on the campus and only a few miles away. The second is the show this all over the city. Now that the small shows are still under the street, the list will be restricted to the two upper classes and if interclass football games are a problem, because annual events, should not schedule, so Bradbury taking dates. So far as we can determine, the meeting is made to govern the contest must be announced in the editorial column of the Student Office at Lewiston, Maine.

This is a device by which human consciousness becomes sensitive to the innumerable influences of the environment in which it is placed. For this reason it is of the utmost importance that the environment be such as to give consciousness of the highest order. From this standpoint, we see that the human machine, as a whole, is a most precious thing, and that the greatest care must be taken to see that it is properly used and not wasted. The subject of this lecture is the intelligence of the human being, and the way in which it is developed and formed. The lecture was delivered by Dr. McDonald, who has been a student of this subject for many years, and who has written several books on the subject. The lecture was given to a large audience, and was very interesting and well received.
Friday evening, November 10, when the following program was given:

Introductory Speech, Mildred Jukienski, Women in Turkey; Joan Roolve, Indian Women; Marion Denolle, Piano Solo; Lenora Hodge, Women in Japan; Beatrice Hamilton, Women in the United States; Annie May Brown.

At Kate Gros, Friday evening, Nov. 10, the following program was given:

Evelyn Cora, Current Events; Dorothy Harris, Song; Ethel L. Skow, Early Life of Mary Lyon; Lida Peterson, Mary Lyon and Mary of Holyoke; Kay Ace.

Miss Dave Robinson and Mike Ducey, adventure presented at Band Hall last week.

Miss Lewin Day spent Sunday with friends in Portland.

Miss Marguerite Thomas, '37, visited Louise Parke, '19, at her home in Auburn over Sunday.

Miss Ruth Cunningham, '38, was called home on Monday by the death of her grandmother.

Among those who spent the week end at their homes are Roy Moody, '17, Shirley Whitney, '19, Vera Molkin, '30, and Linus Dunlap, '28.

Mrs. H. R. Bezos delightfully entertained a group of Junior and Senior girls at her home on Mountain Avenue, Saturday afternoon. The guests were Mary Chiles, Sally Smith, Mrs. Laura Mansfield, Diilla DeWolfe, Florence Rood, and Ethel Huse.

Interesting results were obtained from the rating of the Bates women held recently. A large number of reports were obtained on election day, 102 votes were reg-istered at the polling place in Bates Hall, where the secret ballot was used on all of the regular election offices were used in evidence. The votes cast included 25 Republican, 23 Democratic, and 2 unidentifiable.

Next Saturday afternoon from 2 to 3. a block of silver tea will be held in Band Hall, Saturday evening. All college girls and faculty ladies are invited to come and bring their friends. The affair will be under the supervision of the home committee of the V. M. C. A., and other contributions, for the purpose of improving the evening, will be in order.

Harry W. Rice, General Secretary of the V. M. C. A., returned Monday evening from a three days trip to Mount Desert Island. While there he invested libraries and libraries in Maine, 1913, the Executive Secretary of the Harvard Secretarial Association, who was attending meetings at Southwest Harbor, Bass Harbor, and Little Cranberry Isle.

A number of Sophomores were present a very enjoyable week end at the camp at Lake Upham, and other camp at Lake Upham. Among those in the Sophomore group were: John Foreman, Harold Shuhman, Murray Watson, Vernold Sampson, Phillip Talbot, Gordon McQuaig, George Brown, William Longley, Horace Mason, Eugene Eauclide, Arthur Berkford and Raymond Russell.

Captain Perl of the Maine reserve military district was the guest of Phillip Wake, '27, Saturday and Sunday.

"Rats!" Conly, '27, who was advised to go home by illness for some time, has again resumed his college work.

"Jimmy" Beardsley, '37, attended the Harvard football game at the stadium Saturday afternoon. This was in accordance with the usual custom of ending the majority of the first football teams to big games.

D. E. Dushler and L. E. Goodrich of Toddens College were week end guests of Merrill Farlow, '29.

The first trip of the musical clubs will be taken in January to the northern Maine, New Hampshire, and Massachusetts.

Nurse Malner, '28, accepted the position of the Bates Street-Baptist Church at Sunday morning and evening. Quite a number of the students had as opportunity to hear two excellent sermons. Ida Runn, '30, was the soloist at the same church in the morning.

Edwin Parenton, '28, was entertained at Wells, Maine, during the week end. Dr. R. P. Weeks of Andover was the speaker at the Y. M. C. A. meeting. November 10. The subject was the Relation of the College Man to the Church.

THE PUBLISHING ASSOCIATION
