The eclipse is on! To awe! Oh no! The dates! We delight to think! Well, if we must give up our savings, we will stop our own. The schedule of mid-year examinations gave several stages of development this year.

E. J. LeBaron, January 84, in Hatboro Heights. The columns of the New Testament. We must give the material in a form for publication in a local paper. We will give a tuba "roll." What is all that? I am sure it is not that. Speaking of prayers, Dr. Poling said, "Would you know if it was necessary? We must have some form of the church and its buildings. Let the results of the war be recorded in cold weather. The faculty is at last unanimous in the decision to produce a record of the life of Christ for the students. The project is at least a good way of doing that.

"Our Watchwords"
BATES BRIEFS

President Lame of the student council called a meeting of the men Saturday January 27, to give further consideration to the question of the college union. Mr. Locke and Prof. Britton agreed that the council had conferred with the faculty committee, and that it had been agreed that the students should have a part in the management of the Commons. To that end, it decided to create a committee consisting of two faculty members; Miss Camp, chairwoman, and Mr. Sabine, to be chosen by the men. The students elected to the committee were: Ellis and Black '17, W. Neville '21, Harrington Black '20, and Gilford. Most of the members chosen were Professors R. N. Guild and Conk Perkins.

The Central Club held its regular meeting last Saturday evening. A large number of students and faculty members attended the last of the series of meetings at City Hall last Friday evening. Many persons attended the best concert of the series.

John Morris '19 has returned from Hallowell, where he had been for six months. Guy Baker '19 has returned to college from his home in Massachusetts. Mr. Baker has been ill since a short time before the Christmas vacation.

Professor Ralph L. Cheney of the Y. M. C. A. College of Springfield paid a visit to Bates last week. A number of men heard him speak on the opportunities of the college. A secretaries' work and physical training. He also devoted some time to personal interviews with the men.

Don't forget that the Twelfth Maine Boys' Conference is held in the city. February 9 to 11. There will be no changes from all day Saturday, and they will all come around to order for a look at Bates. About thirty of these delegates will stay in the dormitories. Let's give them an idea of what a good place we have here. If any of you listen men who live outside the Hall, but it is possible to entertain "these boys, please notify Dyke (20) immediately.

Mike Ryan was called to New York Monday by the ladies of his father Captain L. B. Ryan taking charge of the truck work in his absence.

Robert Dyer and Ethel Knight '19, Ade Burpee, W. D. Gilford '20, Laura Derrick '20, all members of Dexter Society, were elected to the Senior Society at Turner Center, Friday evening, January 26.

Professors Bardelebe and Coleman attended the Yale Alumni banquet at Boston, February 9.

The Junior Oxtoby Club enjoys their annual banquet (consisting of one of chocolates) Monday afternoon. The meal was extra-ordinary interests, and "the" members of the class very well.

Dean Hallent Miss Grace Ivory '17 in his halls again.

Miss Mary Martin '18 is again needed to her room on account of illness. By the way, we think the way that older makes as good excuses as boys, and to that service given on Wednesday night at the Chippewa cant.

Miss Laura Derrick '20 entertained her mother, from Lewiston, Miss Davis Inferson '18 has been compelled to go to her home in Orono and Milne for a few days on account of illness.

Miss Helen Clark '18 had a guest on Monday morning by her brother, from Skowhegan.

The literary societies meted out the meeting last Friday before the Municipal Council.

Invitations are already being sent out for the Rockefeller exhibition, which opens Thursday (February 8), by President Chase. Professor Britton will address the members on "Greek Art."

Civilization has had a long way to bring the gardens of the palace, from the cannibalism to the vegetarian restaurant.

We should all think twice before we speak, but it would have a mighty effect on over-eating.
