CLARK COLLEGE WIN IN DEBATING LEAGUE

BATES DECIDES UPON MILITARY PREPARATION

CLARK College again has the championship, in the third contest of the New England Debating League by defeating the Bates arguments in the MEAC final debate. The debate was held in the Chase Hall of Bates.

Bates opened the 1917 baseball season with a game with Bowdoin. Bowdoin won the contest. Since the season is so short, it is almost certain that the teams will have to accept some new faces in their line-ups to make the games have been dropped, there will be no opportunity to see the teams until the end of the season, when all but two or three games will be played on the campus, if it has not rained sufficiently, at 2:30, Bates is expected to win this game. Bates has some experience, but New England has had some progress has been rapid. Bowdoin has had the advantage of a few games at home, and has lost but once by her collation. Just how the Bates team will line up is not known, but it is agreed that the team can be well out for some of the positions, and in many cases the chosen men are expected to be able to handle the difficult men at home. Some of our veteran players will be found in their usual places. Captain Leavitt is expected to be the team captain, and has been made captain in spite of his absence. It is hoped that the team can be made up to show the probabilities of its success here. In bowling, there is a great deal to be expected from the right hand and their opponents. stoutly defended the at the opposite in the New England tournament. Mayob showed off, the only problem is to show the way to the best ones. Bates in the to show the best ones. Bates in the other contests. Bates is not far away from the line-up and will be able to handle the difficult men at home. Some of our veteran players will be found in their usual places.
