Bates College Chorus Presents Excellent Concert First of its Kind in History of the College

On that Friday evening the college presented a very planning concert program. The college presentations in the first program of this type over problems of history, the successful access is a true guarantee of Bates' music work. The music work is due to the sincerity of the music committee, and especially the president, for their efforts in organizing the rules, and to the music committee, and especially the president, for their efforts in organizing the concert, and to the music committee, and especially the president, for their efforts in organizing the concert.

The faculty has decided to give full credit to the remainder of the year to all student classes who fail to make up their mark for the fall term. This means that if a student wishes to have college credit for any of the courses he is taking, he must plan to work to the best of his ability in the fall term. The committee also stated that arrangements will be made in the fall for giving credit to students who were late because of the length of the work. In taking this action, the faculty believed that the student's interest in the course will be maintained in the fall term in order to prevent the loss of the full term's work. Donald W. Hopkins has returned to college following a brief visit at his home in Greenfield, N. H.
