INSTALLATION OF PHI BETA KAPPA
TAKES PLACE IN COLLEGE LODD
EXERCISES IMPRESSIVE BY THEIR DIGNITY AND SOLEMNITY

One of the most significant events that Bates has witnessed since its establishment is the installation of the Phi Beta Kappa Chapter at the college. This ceremony is an important step in the college's history, as it signifies the growth and development of the educational institution.

The installation ceremony was marked by the dignified and impressive presentation of the college's character. The Senior members of the college were present, along with the faculty and staff, to witness the ceremony.

The installation was led by President Grosvenor, who delivered a speech highlighting the importance of the event. He emphasized the significance of the Phi Beta Kappa order, which is dedicated to the pursuit of knowledge and excellence.

The installation was accompanied by a series of exercises, including the presentation of the charter, the reading of the college's anthem, and the presentation of a gift to the college. These exercises were conducted with great solemnity and dignity, reflecting the high standards of the Phi Beta Kappa order.

The installation ceremony was a fitting end to the academic year, and it marked a significant milestone in the college's history. The Phi Beta Kappa Chapter at Bates College is a testament to the college's commitment to excellence and intellectual rigor.
PHI BETA KAPPA

The initial ceremonies and the dedicatory address of Phi Beta Kappa at Bates is one of the most pleasant experiences of the college. Students and alumni are therefore anxious for the opportunity to be present. The officers of this organization have arranged for the recognition of the college as one of the original charter members. The recognition of the meeting was to be held this year in the Rainier Room of the library. Thursday evening the meeting was held.

A student can now read the current issue of the Boston Post, the period of that paper is the reception room of Greek Williams, and one day recently. When he arrived at the front door, he was on the second floor of the library. He discovered the Y. M. C. A. society and read some of the latest in the library. The reading of this particular volume was rather well written in the library. Students who are not chosen as members of the new fraternity are not elected. Only those who are in an attempt to plan something for the next ten years that will give them a membership is in the library.

We wonder if military service will make Phi Beta Kappa membership in the service of the war.

If your college, whose campus is located some distances from the college, is so large that your students live outside the city, you may elect them to membership in the Phi Beta Kappa. Installation of Phi Beta Kappa in College Chapel

The chosen seniors were received into the society in College Chapel, with a large attendance. The officers of the society consist of: President, George W. Brooks, B.A. 1917; Vice-President, George W. Brooks, B.A. 1917; Secretary, Charles W. Spalding, B.A. 1917; Treasurer, H. W. Harkness, B.A. 1917; Historian, H. E. Schlegel, B.A. 1917; Editor, George W. Brooks, B.A. 1917; and Librarian, L. H. Darling, B.A. 1917.

The society is composed of students who have shown themselves to be the best scholars and the most promising of all the students. The officers of the society are chosen by the students, and their duties are to keep the records of the society, to preside at the meetings, and to perform such other duties as may be assigned to them by the society.

The installation of the society was held on Friday, May 1, 1917, in College Chapel. The installation was attended by a large number of students, and the ceremony was conducted by Professor Davis, who spoke briefly, presenting the dedication of the society. The installation was followed by the election of officers, and the society was dismissed with a prayer by Professor Darling.

The installation of the society was a great event in the history of Bates College, and it was a source of pride to all the members of the society. The society is a symbol of the high standards of scholarship and service that are expected of all students of Bates College.
