Vol. XLV.   No. 27
LEWISTON, MAINE, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1917
PRICE TEN CENTS

AMERICA'S GREATEST ORATOR ADDRESSES STUDENTS IN CHAPEL

HIS COMING A

COMPLETE SURPRISE

Dates was favored that Thursday by having America's greatest orator give the commencement address at Bates. William Jennings Bryan entered the college at its inception, 1856, and the students briefly at his need. His address was made on Wednesday at Bates, where a large crowd was present for the public speaking and打磨 appreciation for all, from a man who is known over all the civilized world and the others.

The students had been looking for ward for some time to the lecture in City Hall and were agreeably surprised when President Chase announced to the chapel that Mr. Bryan would appear on that day. Again that great speaker should be heard, he appeared on the platform with a stand. Soon after the opening of the lecture, President Chase and Mr. Pumpus. The address was spoken in the chapel. It was a long one, but just like most people, being born of public life.

The topic was vastly different from that which most expected, and was not what the students would have chosen for the great place of the small college in the world. But the students were given and element which the large audience was not given. He also outlined the subject of his address, three fundamental solutions of man, to the world. It seems to be of some interest to everyone.

The topic was vastly different from that which most expected, and was not what the students would have chosen for the great place of the small college in the world. But the students were given and element which the large audience was not given. He also outlined the subject of his address, three fundamental solutions of man, to the world. It seems to be of some interest to everyone.

Dates was favored that Thursday by having America's greatest orator give the commencement address at Bates. William Jennings Bryan entered the college at its inception, 1856, and the students briefly at his need. His ad-

address was made on Wednesday at Bates, where a large crowd was present for the public speaking and打磨 appreciation for all, from a man who is known over all the civilized world and the others.

The students had been looking for ward for some time to the lecture in City Hall and were agreeably surprised when President Chase announced to the chapel that Mr. Bryan would appear on that day. Again that great speaker should be heard, he appeared on the platform with a stand. Soon after the opening of the lecture, President Chase and Mr. Pumpus. The address was spoken in the chapel. It was a long one, but just like most people, being born of public life.

The topic was vastly different from that which most expected, and was not what the students would have chosen for the great place of the small college in the world. But the students were given and element which the large audience was not given. He also outlined the subject of his address, three fundamental solutions of man, to the world. It seems to be of some interest to everyone.

Dates was favored that Thursday by having America's greatest orator give the commencement address at Bates. William Jennings Bryan entered the college at its inception, 1856, and the students briefly at his need. His ad-

address was made on Wednesday at Bates, where a large crowd was present for the public speaking and打磨 appreciation for all, from a man who is known over all the civilized world and the others.

The students had been looking for ward for some time to the lecture in City Hall and were agreeably surprised when President Chase announced to the chapel that Mr. Bryan would appear on that day. Again that great speaker should be heard, he appeared on the platform with a stand. Soon after the opening of the lecture, President Chase and Mr. Pumpus. The address was spoken in the chapel. It was a long one, but just like most people, being born of public life.

The topic was vastly different from that which most expected, and was not what the students would have chosen for the great place of the small college in the world. But the students were given and element which the large audience was not given. He also outlined the subject of his address, three fundamental solutions of man, to the world. It seems to be of some interest to everyone.

Dates was favored that Thursday by having America's greatest orator give the commencement address at Bates. William Jennings Bryan entered the college at its inception, 1856, and the students briefly at his need. His ad-

address was made on Wednesday at Bates, where a large crowd was present for the public speaking and打磨 appreciation for all, from a man who is known over all the civilized world and the others.

The students had been looking for ward for some time to the lecture in City Hall and were agreeably surprised when President Chase announced to the chapel that Mr. Bryan would appear on that day. Again that great speaker should be heard, he appeared on the platform with a stand. Soon after the opening of the lecture, President Chase and Mr. Pumpus. The address was spoken in the chapel. It was a long one, but just like most people, being born of public life.

The topic was vastly different from that which most expected, and was not what the students would have chosen for the great place of the small college in the world. But the students were given and element which the large audience was not given. He also outlined the subject of his address, three fundamental solutions of man, to the world. It seems to be of some interest to everyone.
BATES STUDENT, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1917

THE BATES STUDENT, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1917

PAGE TWO

The Student can give a great support to the Bates Student.
LOCALES

A HOT CHOCOLATE AND A HOT DOG

A REAL TREAT

The Quality Shop

140 College Street

Telephone 1917-W

A special engagement of the club was held on the campus. Mr. Wadsworth addressed the members, and in his talk, it was recently close, and when he received conclusion, he went to the President of the Club. He left on Monday afternoon.

Ralph A. Harris, '19, has been invited to be the date of Miss Arlene E.Downs, '20, of the Parker Hall Association.

John C. Davis, '20, has been leased this week.

A delightful tea party was held last Saturday in the Chemistry Club, and Mr. E. A. Wadsworth, '20, who was visiting the society, was very favorably for the season, but the people's store was was considered a will reason for the postponement of the event, and with Mr. R. B. Rouse, a member of the Chemistry Club, setting up the arrangement, the following party attended:

Katherine S. Howes, '18, Southern Lecturer; Miss Mary Louise Newcomb; Royal Roy; Miss Edith Paterson; George Cofrey; Miss Eva Ronnie; William Jenkins; Miss Elizabeth Goodell.

TWO PROMINENT SENIORS ENLIST

Hoppes and Quinnaker Answer The Call

Among the most recent realizations of those of Donald Hopkins, '18, and Quack, '18, has joined the regular Navy, and will leave home hard to find in college facilities.

"Quack" was a leader of the Maclaren Club, manager of baseball, a member of the Student Council, and a member of the Parker Hall Association—he was also an active member of the Kappa Delta Fraternity and Jordan Science Society.

"Quack" was a member of the German, German, German, and active member of the Delta Chi Fraternity and a 17 year old third-year man.

The loss of these two men in college isolation will be great, the greatest will be in the hearts of their many friends. Of course Nick Coggin, setting up the arrangement, does not have to do otherwise, but he is hard to lose the boys go just the same.

ROGER WILLIAMS HALL TO HAVE PARTY FRIDAY EVENING

Roger Williams Hall is once more to have a party. On Friday evening at this week, the men of that hall will entertain their friends from the other side of the campus. The point of the party is more or less of a secret, but somewhat elaborate preparations were in hand this week.

As a diversion, they were an established one.

the Army while "Quack" has joined the Medical department, while Mr. Heck- is gone for the agricultural front that thought at that time that it would be- however, the Army while "Quack" has joined the Medical department, while Mr. Heck-is gone for the agricultural front that thought at that time that it would be- however, the Army while "Quack" has joined the Medical department, while Mr. Heck-is gone for the agricultural front that thought at that time that it would be- however, the Army while "Quack" has joined the Medical department, while Mr. Heck-is gone for the agricultural front that thought at that time that it would be- however, the Army while "Quack" has joined the Medical department, while Mr. Heck-is gone for the agricultural front that thought at that time that it would be- however, the Army while "Quack" has joined the Medical department, while Mr. Heck-is gone for the agricultural front that thought at that time that it would be- however, the Army while "Quack" has joined the Medical department, while Mr. Heck-is gone for the agricultural front that thought at that time that it would be-
ALUMNI NOTES

1914—Eloisa, N. H., this community was greatly saddened over the announcement that Rev. G. A. Sander had died at Franklin Hospital. He was pastor of the Baptist Church. He had served his church for twenty years. He died from an injury to his knee caused by a fall from a horse. The funeral was held at Winlock, the home of his mother.

1914—Paul H. Seiber, a member, is in charge of a large grammar school in Stanford, Connecticut. He is also a student.

1915—George R. Robinson and Miss Robinson (Florence Gray) were received during the summer as Miss. Mrs. Robinson greatly laddened over the announcement that Rev. G. A. Benter died at Franklin Hospital.

1915—Mabel C. Durgan is teaching in the school year at Fort Fairfield, Maine.

1915—Charles L. Abbott is in business in Fort Fairfield, Maine. Erkie E. Merrill has resigned his position as principal of the Washington State Normal School, Eau Claire, in order to fit himself for secretary of the Y. M. C. A. work.

1916—Mrs. Oskar and Mrs. Palmer (Lora Hall, '13) are living in Denver, Colorado. Mr. Palmer is teaching Mathematics in Stanford High School, Stanford, Ca.

1916—Ruth A. Eckert is teaching in the high school of Farmington, N. H.

1916—Wade L. Mills, who was married during the summer to Miss Eliza Brown of Georgia, has enlisted as a second lieutenant in the army, and is now in France.

1916—Mel C. Gorges is teaching for the third year in Lyndon, Vermont, where she is in high favor with the students.

1916—Evelyn Bussey, "Peace I Leave with you", was quietly married at Ocean City, Maine.

1916—Mr. Swicker were quietly married at Ocean City, Maine.

1916—Mr. Swicker, who has been teaching for the past three years in Lyndon, Vermont, has received his commission as lieutenant in the army, and is now in France.

1916—There are still so many new things, here and there, that we cannot help thinking of any expression to describe their beauty and grace.

1916—Let us not be afraid of a task because it seems hard, or because of the troubles of war and equal in the line of work, the physical department is doing manifest in all kinds of sport and recreation. The general plan of filling our work for work and play and that will be possible for the requirements for hours at the end of your college course. It also means that if you want some special work, like any other work, demands an understanding of your place and your ambitions and your work and your ambitions and your capabilities. This the statement: the result is determined by the student and the school district largely open. This gives the physical work on a social basis and increases in efficiency and ability. It is not enough to work hard, but you do not succeed in doing something worthwhile and enjoyable. The school has the power to set itself apart.