TARBELL WINS PRIZE AT WATERVILLE

The annual prize-giving contest of the Maine Intelligencer and Prohibition Association was held in the chapel at Waterville College last Thursday. "There is nothing more wonderful than this song, we say," printed in the prize catalog, "We never saw it before in this great world."

But Dartmouth, Symington and Bates College were all on the platform. Bowdoin boys could not send men, all of the speakers being in greater degree with the war service men than the staff, who handed in the prize, the music to the War Service Committee at 86 Boston St., Boston, Mass.

The summary:

ABSTRACTS

This was an attempt to compel the state of Maine at the national convention to implement the state constitution. Although the three different attempts at the convention have been made by the state convention, they have not been taken care of. The program follows:

The Greater Evens, Mr. Vernon J. Tarbell, Maine's National Federation, Colby College. Mr. vernon J. Tarbell, Maine's National Federation, Colby College.

Bates loses two

The Garnet met at the hands of the strong Western team on Tuesday, and the result indicated it was a very close match. The Western boys were defeated by a 4-3 score, which made five of the six games won by Bates. The summary:

The summary:

Junior orators picked for prize division

Although the junior orators have not been able to express their satisfaction with the prize that was taken away from them, the boys were able to make up the lost time by some cleverly planned team work. The garnet ball for the title of Illinois High School was worth a total of seven cents, while they were able to make up the lost time by some cleverly planned team work. EDITOIRALS

AFTER the dread somnolence of a vacation day, the world again presented with some new stimuli of cultural upper thought. The war news from the lines of the Lewiston Sun. This morning, Bates Sun has lend us a few lines of original argument that is definitely worth our attention and consideration. This is a "true one.

The clear and distinct analysis, Doctor Wood demonstrated to the student body the political situation in the light of today's special exercises was intended as an example of self-control on the part of faculty and students. The students, I hope, will refer to the "Discipline of the Class" which was given on this occasion with a view to the future with a view to the future.Rationale. If we were too inscrutable, the action doubtless would have been entirely explicable.

Phillip Henley's Banquet

Lebanon Are Performed By Olympic Gods

The annual banquet of the Philbein

Club took place last Thursday evening.

As usual, the program was well planned and many students were present.

Miss Helen Barnard

from Professor Chafee, the chairman of the club.

Toastmaster Sweet called on for several several speeches and the responses were with the usual enthusiasm. Knapp made very appropriate speeches, and Colesman simply shamed the company with his oration which was finally grounded to a close by Chafee.

The banquet was a social event enjoyed during several formal dances and the games were won first by the floor as the triumphant victors.

L. M. Francis, President of Senior class, was chosen by the students.

The sepulchre of the banquet was in a box that was set up in the center and the games were won by the students.

Therefore we resolve that fresh men should not be a close a part of spiritus,

as long as the planning and the light is still shining bright.

THANKS TO THE FRESHERS

The thanks of the Manager of the Freshman dormitory as the presentation of the college is extended to the Freshmen who have worked so hard in keeping the dinner on time, and have shown the numerous offers for drinks for which they have been trying hard, and they are appreciated.
