SENIORS ENTERTAIN FRESHMEN
DULLY PARTY HELD IN HAND GYMNASIUM

The first party of any sort for the girls of the college was held at Bates College. Many of the senior girls invited the freshmen to be their guests for the evening. All the dormitories were decorated with flags, balloons and garlands, and some of the co-eds showed the festivities from the gallery.

After the party was over, the gymnasium looked very gay with rugs, pillows, seats, and a Victoria as the central feature. As soon as the guests arrived they were seated at one of the many tables set up, and a short program was presented by some of the seniors. The first number was a concert consisting of Miss Heddings, Hokson, Christiansen, Reed, Hinds, Smith, and Tom McMillan, with suitable pantomime, of the all knowing. The second number was presented next, and was followed by a reading by Mary Leslie Norwich, relating the personal experiences of an X. Y. Z. C. man under fire. The last number was a song and dance by Misses Harvey, Jones, Tyghsh and Shorey appropriate to the program. As the accompaniment was played three had fully grown older men, who holding themselves as if dignified, disappeared also. The climax of the program was a "turg hit number" produced by the freshman girls. The characters were as follows: Roberta Robinson, Chauncey, and Yon Millbank.

This production fairly enlivened the routine of the regular Lawns Lawns in the role of locomotive.

Sheets of college songs were then distributed, and all the girls sang "Deck the Halls, " "Pardon Me, " and "Blanket Coons." After the time was up the weary and tired girls made their way to their rooms. While rehearsals were being taken, several of the officers of the College experienced the antics of Burgin MacColl.

The reminder of the evening was much more gay. Those who were left, a wild game of "Poker," and "Top of the World." Then everyone drew up around the pianola and sang "The Middle Man," "I Like the Game," and kindred compositions. By midnight almost everyone was sound asleep.
