The members of the Soil S. A. C. were fortunate in having the privilege of hearing last night at the Union Church, the Hon. Frank A. C. 11 and eleven officers of the 20th U. S. Infantry in Foxboro, Mass. Unfortunate afternoons. The conscription act will take effect in the near future, and the speaker de- cided when he said that the speaker could not take that chance. He made beginning his talk Col. Cunningham stated that "he was glad to be switched up here and would endeavor to tell some- thing of the various stories through which the young soldiers passed." He paid a trifle right here to the S. A. C. and pointed out "what was the right here right now.

The speaker told of the influence of the "three B's," birth and blood, birth for young of many of our young men. It was a tremendous change in their lives. In two or three days he gets his uniform and is supposed to take on the bearing of a soldier.

From the entrance of the ball to the next the boy has had the experience of elaboration and told of incidents on the voyage over. Col. Cunningham pointed out the trainer of the new soldier with a few words as follows: "They are the boys who face the hard ships. There is the chance that they will make it or not make it out of two million tons of harm. They told of the four that night. There were twenty of them each at 5 P.M. Then they found out that there are two hundred boys and a tale of abandoned ship drills for four or five a time. And the boys and the men are "doubtful's." JORDAN SCIENTIFIC ORGANIZERS FOR THE YEAR

Work To Continue As Usual

It has been learned with satisfaction that the Jordan Scientific Society is in continuing its work this year. This society is taking up the study of a number of important subjects, and our former officers have received new positions in the faculty at Bates. The society has also been granted a new building, and will be found in the basement of the Library.

ания institutes to the work, and we now have a better understanding of the subject matter than we did last year.

BATES S. A. T. C. TAKES ITS SECOND HIRE

Advance Turn Swamp Main Feature

As a result of a survey of the student body, it was found that there was desire for a second edition of the '20' edition. This edition will have been revised and corrected, and will contain all the latest information on the subject.

THEY'RE GREAT

We believe that our students have made a wise choice in selecting this work for their classes. The '20' edition was very well received, and we expect that this edition will be equally successful.
