SUCCESSFUL ‘Y’ SOCIAL

JOINT ASSEMBLY OF T. W. AND Y. M. C. A.

Why were the telephones so busy that day? Why was there such a rush of callers? The answer is simple: Bates did not have to bring forward their question, for well they knew that the annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was about to be held in Roger Williams Hall.

As the hour approached, Mr. Horn announced that the Y. M. C. A. had decided to hold its annual meeting in the assembly room; others would hover near the door and wait eagerly.

The selection of the committee had been made, and Mr. Horn announced that the committee would be held in Roger Williams Hall.

Then Mr. Kowol announced that the Y. M. C. A. had decided to hold its annual meeting in the assembly room; others would hover near the door and wait eagerly.

Mr. Horn then announced that the Y. M. C. A. had decided to hold its annual meeting in the assembly room; others would hover near the door and wait eagerly.

The committee, consisting of Mr. Horn, Mr. Kowol, and Mr. Horn, was elected by acclamation.

After a short time, and then everyone was left to seek his own amusement.

Tracy, ’20, and Miss Crete Carll, ’21.

They picked their way around the hall, and that every individual would be responsible for his, or her, own entertainment.

THE BLAZED TRAIL

Hall, oh you seashore partisans of wit and banter! Hall, you of the long faces that like to read but not write, you who grew fat as the snail and believe because there is such a thing in the world as bad humor.

William IIofard Leader spent a quiet Sunday in Hampden recently with his family, and he is supposed to have said something that will be made known without di

An erasong has occurred in our midst. A witty nobleguns of malice has found forth a tip-top lisp of melancholy, no more to be heard and no more to be made known without disruption. Band Hall has been at its best, and every the lion’s share of that sinister sentiment, cause, in making its way into the hearts of the students, will be one of the year’s greatest. Through days and nights last one week, no one would have predicted what this little bundle of joy has returned to us! George Welter has come back to Bates College for good.

Oh the Spring, the Spring, the beautiful Spring! Why is it that every spring some people have to write poetry, or — verse, or — poetry? It never grows worse, and every year people say at least (right) that we have INVENTED some nice new American poems. You know they haven’t been intelligently written, or written very well; or, if they were, the world will never see anything like it again! Through days and nights last one week, no one would have predicted what this little bundle of joy has returned to us! George Welter has come back to Bates College for good.
