THE NEW INITIATION PROGRAM

At last we have presented to us the plan which is hoped to rid our campus of the sinister attitude toward the upper-classmen, including the Sophomores. Most of us have read it over. Some of us have formed opinions, for or against it. Tomorrow it is to come before us, in all probability, for a final vote.

In reviewing the constitution of the assembly, we shall call attention to Section two, where all Sophomores are expected to aid in the different college activities. And in passing, it might be well for the Student Council to see that this portion is rigidly adhered to. Also, this section indicates the attitude which the Sophomores have toward other colleges, in so far as the proceedings are to be kept secret. Open publicity is always a powerful weapon, and it is utilized in dealing with the Sophomores problem elsewhere. In some instances, the names of the offenders, the infraction and the punishment are published in the college newspapers. In Batesmen we are better off. We certainly hope that there will be no investigation of the assembly which sometimes exists between the Council and the Student Assembly which it represents. A closer relation is hoped for.

As for the new plan, we shall not express an opinion or advice. Each student must do his own thinking. But certain points in this plan exist which trouble many, and we should reserve the due consideration of each man. The first provision is decided upon. Let us pass that.

The second article is questioned mainly on the clause which stipulates that the Faculty Advisory Board shall pass on the posters issued by the Sophomores. The wisdom or naivete of this provision is one of the points of disagreement.

Second Section, in the same article states that the posters shall be allowed to exist if it is to allow one class to determine whether or not these rules shall be enforced. Are these rules to change from year to year? A following article mentions a committee of enforcement, evidently a misnomer, since it has to power at all to except over the names of offenders, while the Council has the power of judgment and ENFORCEMENT. It would be better to call this committee the 'Watchful Waiting Club!' The institution of such a body would be better still, why not eliminate it? Let each member of the Student Assembly constitute himself a committee of one, to observe and report directly to each member of the Council.

Other discrepancies will suggest themselves, but whether these can be overcome without a different stipulation of the plan, go to Chapell tomorrow and register your opinion. If the plan passes, and you by your vote do not decide against it, and you argue against it, it is not written by you toward it will be necessarily discounted. It is the duty and privilege to vote. See to it that your share is filled.

The reelection of Governor Coolidge in Massachusetts is good. It may bring us a return to common sense on the part of some Americans with Bolshoiev tendencies

LOCALS

Grae O'Donald was a week-end visitor on the campus. He put up this week in Room 211. The furniture in Parker Hall has a habit of moving around when the actor isn't looking. Sunday morning a table walked into the room from an adjoining room, and the Students were afraid human assistance.

Paul Potter has just received two violin lessons from Sunny Olshin. He started him in with an "initiation of Pumpernickel Water", and ended with "Madelin's Dance".

Blythe Baton enjoyed his monthly haircut last Saturday. He is wearing his hair parted in the middle now.

Bill Talbot, Roy Biddle, Art MacNiece, Frank Cunningham, Frank Stowe, and Bob Hopkins were on the campus Saturday, putting their college plans into effect.

Graham Cranlaw Knight '21, motored up from Turner Saturday evening the girls met as usual in Fiske Hall for a Vesper Service and then Miss Weisel gave us a short talk. She laid stress upon the importance of academic work and the advisability of using every opportunity to get a college education. Miss Weisel's talk was fresh and stimulating. In the last week of term, the girls were to attend Vesper Service and then the student body were to have a large meeting in the gymnasium.

The College Store will probably be open for your pre-promotion, and the pool tables will also be at your disposal.

Last but not least we want to announce the relaxed state of the campus. Besides the usual evening functions, someone is sure to have a friend coming and the chance of a good supply of puzzle games. Let's everybody come and make this a real Bates Night and a real Bates Night.

"Fat" Johnson visited the elder sister in Buckwheat Sunday afternoon. It's got to be out of training, isn't it, Fat? Albert Fulton's brochure from M. C. L. came down to go to the campus today. Otto Tracy visited his summer residence in Durham, Sunday afternoon. "Zack" was there also.

Next Sunday night at the Hammont Street Methodist Church there will be a "Visit the Mission Field" program. There will be no admission charge. Otto Tracy, Come and bring your Invoice.

The Junior-Senior football game is scheduled for Nov. 11. Details will be announced later.

Stephens have been taking serious inter-class and inter-fraternity games with the Object Club. Coach Smith. Four letters have already been received regarding good performances of individual members of the team.

Managing Tracy has secured a baseball game with Brown. This will be the first time for six years that we have played Brown. While we may be looking forward to finding Wood in a field.

Some time about the time you are standing on the steps of Haines Hall, look in the corner room on the second floor of Parker and see Otto Tracy.

Apothecary Shoppe has been secured by J. W. Tracy for the second time in six years.

Apothecary Shoppe is again in the corner room on the second floor of Parker and see Otto Tracy.

A WORTHY WINNER

"While Franklin Field is fielded to overflowiing with spectators at the football game this afternoon, basketball enthusiasts will witness the finish of an Intramural long jump contest in Syracuse, N.Y. There will be over one hundred rounds of jumping and the distances will be measured to the nearest inch or less. In the high jump event, there will be ten rounds of jumping and the results will be tabulated. In the broad jump event, there will be six rounds of jumping and the results will be tabulated. In the long jump event, there will be four rounds of jumping and the results will be tabulated. In the high jump event, there will be ten rounds of jumping and the results will be tabulated.
