PRESIDENT GRAY

It is a matter of most profound dissatisfaction to all who are concerned with Bates College to Isakson—From President Gray. We are glad to see that the new President has at least a semblance of the qualities of Mr. Gray in the position. He has a clear vision and is likely to be more successful than his predecessors in advancing the interests of the college. We believe that he is the right man for the job and we hope that he will prove himself worthy of the trust placed in him.

We have every reason to be hopeful that the new President will prove himself worthy of the trust placed in him. We are confident that he will prove himself worthy of the trust placed in him.

TRAYING COLLEGE MEN FOR BUSINESS

The Graduate School of Business Administration of Harvard University offers a two-year course to college graduates. The course is designed to give a broad fundamental business training to business men together with specialization in those lines in which the student is interested.

College men, looking to business as a career, feel the lack of adequate preparation and are looking for an opportunity to equip themselves effectively either with general business problems or with the problems in their own particular field. The Harvard Business School aims to fill this need.

Special emphasis is placed upon the application of business ideas and the actual business problems of good management and in the purpose "method of problem" of instruction is used. The Boston territory affords an excellent field for study.

Completion of the two-year course leads to the degree of Master of Business Administration.
