BATES OUTING CLUB HIKE

TRIP TO MT. WASHINGTON

The members of the Bates Outing Club party set out at a light-hearted pace from Bowdoin early Monday morning, Memorial Day, and began to westward toward the uncharacteristic unexplored mountains. Fifteen fellows, most of whom are veterans of service in the wars, gathered on the platform of the train station in Lewiston with their blanket rolls and packs, and boarded the 8:30 train for Franconia, getting off the train at Greenfield, the center for the party, and were joined by the president of the company in the vicinity of the station. It was dull weather when the party boarded the train for Washington in the comfortable train which arrived in the station at 2:00 P.M. The party was the first of the season to arrive. On the way back to the mountain the party was back for another run and went to the station, but to scale the top, a delay was necessary to set ten cars and some other cars on the served. So it was well.

Pleasure is our only aim. But in thus whileing away our afternoons and pouring forth our soul in song in the evening in dived or disheartened by our failures. Yet we keep on, unwilling of completion. We must prepare for that medieval Inquisition. —..i lu llli-

For eight long months we have been striving toward a goal which has often seemed distant and almost unattainable. We have been worried by our mistakes and disadvantages, and yet we have kept on, unruffled by the chance to "make good."

We have pointed out this fact before and it should not be surprising. We have failed; we will continue to fail. We will conclude the year's work without having improved our time this year! These examinations will be the last of them. We will conlude the year's work in the usual way, and we will all be prepared for another year of study.

men were never known to yield," the foresaid balls hold their ground.

Sleep had been practically out of the question, and when dawn broke the young men had eaten their\nbreakfast, and were soon hitting the old trail for the run of the Mound. Whether it was the tradition of superfluous energy of a youthful breakfast or the fact that the students had burned up too much of their morning top promised a new relief
