STUDENTS GIVE ATHLETES RECEPTION

The whole student body turned out in Chase Hall, Tuesday evening to give a reception to the football team and the cross country runners who achieved marks of honor in the recent meets held at Lewiston and Andover, Mass., and at Boston. The students all paid their tribute to the boys for their glorious work in the big hotel and daily, temporary setting aside their studies and paying a becoming tribute to the athletes with the athletes in a general social good time and celebration in Chase Hall.

The Alumni Council combined with the Student Council in furnishing a generous supply of refreshments—in addition to the customary free drink which each such affair would have been incomplete. The college officials played a large part in the success of the evening by lending us spirit in art and style, and representatives of the three organizations that support the Alpha Mu for their hospitality to the corporation, Robert R. Watts, '22, act as toast master and called upon "Jack" Abbott 23, in behalf of the student body. Mr. Abbott's remarks were concise and to the point, namely, expressing satisfaction of the student body with the results of the football and the cross country meetings.

Dr. Harttsen was next called upon to express the views of the faculty. He did so in a cleverly emphasized manner. He said: "The Gold Turtles, always ready to clean up everything," and that he knew too well the valuable work that all who have followed in this field of sports have made. He began by speaking of the need of weight, and added: "We refer this matter for the final report to our next meeting." Mr. B. H. Class, '22, of French, reported the Alumni Association. The student body was next called upon to make an expression of pride in the fact that Bates College has been represented in the intercollegiate contests today and a snare with the others, whose kudos in sports, agree in the fact that those results would serve to bring to the halls of learning an increased interest in athletics. The usual operation of reporting to the next meeting of the Student Council was carried on, and during a social hour were enjoyed. Revd. P. Taylor, '22, acted in the capacity of secretary of ceremonies, and under his direction nothing was wanting.
