PRESIDENT GRAY AFTER NEW GYM

FIRST OF SERIES OF INTERVIEWS DECEIVES THE GREATEST NEED

The President is presenting this in the first, a series of talks by President Gray on college problems. How many of the issues of the day will be covered? The first of these articles should be concerned with the special aspect of the new gymnasium, established for the benefit of the students.

It has been the practice of colleges and schools to provide a gymnasium for their students. The purpose of this gymnasium is to provide a place for physical education, recreation, and social activities. The gymnasium should be a place where students can come together and participate in a variety of activities, such as basketball, volleyball, and wrestling. The gymnasium should also provide a place for students to socialize and build relationships with their peers.

The gymnasium should be designed with the specific needs of the students in mind. The gymnasium should be accessible to all students, regardless of their physical abilities. The gymnasium should also be equipped with the necessary equipment and facilities to support the various activities that take place in the gymnasium.

In addition to providing a place for physical education and recreation, the gymnasium should also be a place for students to socialize and build relationships with their peers. The gymnasium should also be a place for students to express themselves and develop their creative talents. The gymnasium should also be a place for students to learn about the importance of teamwork and cooperation.

Overall, the gymnasium should be a place where students can come together and participate in a variety of activities, socialize and build relationships, and develop their creative talents. The gymnasium should be designed with the specific needs of the students in mind, and should be accessible to all students, regardless of their physical abilities.

PREFACE

With this issue, the editors of the Junior Class assume the responsibility of publishing the Student. We are fully aware of the great possibilities for service which are ours, and it is our desire to develop these opportunities to the utmost.

It will be our constant purpose throughout the coming year to present a paper of which you will be proud—a paper which will be the true news publication. In publishing the weekly news we shall strive to be representative, to be non-partisan in undergraduate disagreements, and above all, to be at all times hosts to Bates.

With these goals before us, we enter our task, hopeful that the Student may experience a year of true success and advancement.

THE HARVARD DEBATE

Last year in New Haven we had the debating policy of Harvard University, when a team from that institution met three Bates men in debate. Tomorrow evening, the second debate between the two colleges is to be held.

It is highly desirable that relations between Bates and Harvard be freely cemented by such intellectual contests.

Representing, as she does, the most honored collegiate traditions, and being the dean of American educational bodies, Harvard represents a form most worthy of respect and a friend most ardently to be cultivated. There is little need to urge all Bates men and women to be present tomorrow evening—college loyalty will see that our team have adequate and enthusiastic support.

Be present, give the Harvard team a royal welcome, and cheer our men to victory!

INTERCOLLEGIATE BASKETBALL

There has been evident in the immediate past, a growing popularity of basketball. Much of this revival of interest has been due, no doubt, to the recent efforts to improve the game and place it upon a more scientific rule base. Many of the teams that cdles and colleges everywhere are recognizing in basketball an excellent nuclei activity and are hastening to build up their basketball teams.

In line with this general movement, Bates has provided for its first intercollegiate basketball team and is working hard with those of other colleges in stimulating the sport. It is an excellent move, a wise step in keeping abreast of the developments of modern athletics.

In basketball the small college finds itself able to compete fairly successfully with larger schools. Whereas great diffusion is needed in the building up of a football or baseball machine, fewer men can successfully form a winning basketball quintet. To be sure, the task of building up even a basketball team is immense—our point is that the task is not unaccommodating one even to the smallest institutions.

Basketball provides a most excellent means of keeping athletics in trim during the winter months when other outdoor basketball activities might have to be in abeyance to remain in the best physical condition.

That this fact is well demonstrated may be proved by considering the basketball activities at Bates. The stimulating effect of this basketball playing has been seen in the large percentage of football, baseball and track men who are found playing.

As a result of a letter writing in Director Smith an rush for his latest active venture. There is excellent material available for a team under the direction of a coach, and there appears to be much interested among undergraduates in the venture. Bates has added an activity to her athletic list which indeed bears promise of a successful future.

Bates Loses Game to Boston College
FRESHMAN PLAYERS PROVE GOOD MATERIAL

The hockey season opened last Sat-urday with a fast game between the rival teams of Boston College and the Bates varsity. The visitors proved to be the stronger team, especially in the early moments, and defeated Bates 5 to 2. The performance of the Boston college is celebrated the fastest team on the eastern seaboard, and the Bates forwards are noted as excellent defensive men. The game ended 5 to 2 in favor of the visitors. This result pleased the disappointed Blue and White fans into the arena who expected a much closer match. Manager Ireland is also to be credit ed with the management of the trip. It was through his efforts that the team was able to secure the valuable reward of a trip.

Manager Ireland thanked the trip a surprise in every sense. He stated, "The men were excellent and the team a success in every sense. We wish we could have won the game, but we are satisfied with the result." Manager Ireland then made his way down the bench to talk to the players.

The team is planning to play several more games this season. The next game is scheduled for February 20, against Colby College. The team will continue to practice and prepare for the upcoming games.

EIGHT NOUNS
The kennel of the Eight Nouns is located in the heart of the Bates campus. The kennel is known for its unique and talented hounds, which are trained exclusively for competitive racing.

The kennel's mascot is a black and white hound named "Buster," who is known for his exceptional performance in various competitions. Buster has consistently excelled in his races, earning numerous awards and accolades.

The Eight Nouns' kennel also features a variety of other hounds, each with its own distinct personality and racing style. The kennel prides itself on providing top-notch care and training for all of its hounds, ensuring their success in the competitive world of racing.

The Eight Nouns' kennel is open to visitors and offers tours of the facility, allowing guests to witness the hard work and dedication put into raising and training these exceptional hounds.

The Eight Nouns' kennel is a testament to the commitment and passion of its owners, who have dedicated countless hours to培育 these remarkable hounds. The kennel continues to be a source of pride and joy for the Bates community, inspiring awe and admiration from all those who experience its exceptional beauty and grace.

The Eight Nouns' kennel embodies the spirit of excellence and dedication, proving that with hard work and determination, anything is possible. The team is excited to continue their journey and make even more exceptional memories together.
FORT LOVE

The Young Lady Across the Campus says:

"That was such a lovely moment and dinner which the boys gave to City Hall last Saturday night. I think we miss a lot when we sit on our porch, and when we were the last group...

AMONG THE FIRST improvements on the campus which we noticed when we came back was a wonderful little arbor at the top of the Portland State Building. It helped to bring us a little more comfort when we tried to operate the rather complex subways which we managed to get both doors open fairly in the right position to pass traffic and go to Proctor. Mac's before he had completed the roll call.
