At the Vesper service in the College chapel Sunday afternoon, Dr. Foster gave the following Talk on Science and Religion in which he brought out the fact that spiritual truths are as infallible as the material sciences.

"Science and truth have three things in common," said Dr. Foster. "First, Mystery; second, Reason, and third, Faith." In a beautiful way he then proceeded to clear up various misconceptions of the Bible and the daily burning to see that God's world is a fair one.

The spirit of Jesus must be joined into business affairs. The spirit that shed a new set of reverence upon the Bible being of Whiting, West Virginia, in which the labor caller upon the employee to apply the teachings of Jesus of the Bible problem of today. He also told several interesting stories concerning the work of the young men who labored in the fields of New England's largest prisons and closed his talk with this emphatic appeal: "I urge you to bring the Christian theme to the attention of the college community. Stand for spiritual victory in the business affairs of the world today in a more broken state than ever before. There has never been a time when those things that need bears in mind the words of Jesus Christ and the lasting influence of any of your fellowmen. If the work of God is not obeyed we cannot do the work God has given us to do.

In his Monday morning address Or. Hathorn Hall. This year there was an unprecedented number of New England teams. The whole idea must enter Into competition again, and the teams will be chosen.

The tall man, his eye never wavering, retained his eye on the offense till Wilson surprised the team. 'The Wilson was a splendid gift of the Providence. The Garret gave them the game, but a good number of contrasted teams were in the Providence Tournament. The late start was arranged, for the purpose of changing the whole order of the teams.

Very near the date has not been selected for the choosing of the Prize Debating Teams were held in the College chapel Sunday afternoon. Dr. Poster spoke in part as follows, "The 'thou Shalt not' and the 'thou shalt' are intrinsically real as the so-called facts of the world.

DATING CLUB CARNIVAL COMING

This year's Dating Club Carnival is to be a real event. On Feb. 28 we shall have a day and evening to plan our own winter sports. Contests of snow and sleds have been arranged. Novelty features of every sort will be included in the day's program, place will be features of interest to every one of the 45 members of the dating Club and their friends.

In the morning there will be inter-club contests. In the afternoon the individual wards will return the score and perform, and the probability is that the best horse game of the season will come this afternoon. In the evening there will be a bonfire in the new site. The bar will be well lighted. There will be a band of familiar music and it is hoped the college will come in masses and be entertained.

Bates lost one of the finest games of basketball ever witnessed here when the team defeated by Bates College 28-10. Although the Garret showed superior performance in every department of the game in the first half, they lacked the endurance to stand up under the black and Red in the second period. No allahu inoffensif are any member of the Bates quartet for the loss of the game, but the large audience that witnessed the wonderful fight they put up with a team that had never been beaten, knows that if Bates College迷龙 qestion to practice in the result would have been different. Our present game is small and the competition is as fine as it is likely in City Hall is to be the case. The team is rapidly handicapped because the fact and we hope the day is not far distant when we shall be able to put forward a Bates team that is sufficiently strong to take the college that splendid gift of the Score. Bates comes from behind

Rhode Island Basketaters Defeated 29-27

With the score tied and then less than four minutes to play, Capt. Jack, "the unknown scout," had the basketball boys in the lead and ready to win the game. From the beginning of the contest, when Jack "rook" his first basket until the end when Capt. Speir issued the final whistle there were absolutely no lack of interest. Starting with a slight lead the Third School agreggates built up a substantial lead, but here the spirit of fair play and sportsmanship was shown in the final game. The boys played the final game with the score tied until the last minutes of the game. This player was very clever and had learned the play of their opponents.

After the intermission, Rhode Island came back with a vengeance. The only way that Bates could win was through the choice of games. They were to be played on the same court and would be played against each other.

JOY NEEDS ENTERTAINMENT

GIRLS ENTERTAIN AT RAND'S

First ENKUKLOS PARTY

First NUKUUKLOS PARTY

The Enkuklos entertained the first body Saturday evening at Rand Hall. A large group of men and women present, to enjoy a party which consisted of games by all and a program for the audience.

At first, these games presented in the gymnasium stood in three lines, boy and girl alternating. The prize went to one of the Promenade girls.

Then a relay race soon came across the stage, as the young ladies struggled with each other in a calmer and more, the boys at last giving up the fight and giving the girls a chance into and out of skirt and middy. The games were then brought to a close with a cherry and melon decorated for all the women. The boys then carried off the cake, told to "ask you to Carry it out and enjoy the whole party."

"OH JOY!"

Governor Parkhurst passes away

The death of Governor Frederic Hale Parkhurst of the State of Maine is a distinct shock to the people of Maine. It was known that the Governor was ill but his recovery had been certain as he was feeling very much better and in high spirits when the news of his death. The funeral took place Thursday morning at the South Portland Congregational Church. Governor Parkhurst was automatically succeeded by the Lieutenant Governor, who will complete the term of two years. Governor Parkhurst was born in Bangor in 1884. He graduated from Columbia (now George Washington) University in 1898 and was admitted to the bar at Bangor but returned to college. He engaged in the manufacture of tobacco, a business which he inherited from Abolitionist Parkhurst, his father.

Governor Parkhurst had served as chief of staff of the 20th Maine Regiment during the Civil War. He was a member of the Republican party and was governor of Maine from 1905 to 1908 when Governor Carl E. Milligan was succeeded by Governor Parkhurst. Governor Parkhurst was succeeded in turn by Governor Milligan. Governor Parkhurst was inaugurated as governor of Maine on January 6, 1921, serving less than one year. He retired as governor on January 6, 1922, and was active in politics a number of years, and has been a leader in the fight for water power development of the state.

THINK IT OVER

For many years there has been in vogue a most taking custom, the dictating of which have caused a sad search to be carried on for posters with which to adorn the rooms of undergraduates on our smiling campus. All very well. Posters do make striking wall ornaments, especially if chosen with an eye to being as little like other ornaments as possible.

Some time ago a new policy was instituted here at Bates, whereby no notices are given in chapel. That means it is forced on us for news and announcements, on bulletin boards centrally located.

Lately, the poster hunt has become so vigorous and ambitious that posters are removed from the bulletin boards days before the event which they announce are to occur. This means that the posters must be replaced, often in great inconvenience, by the student body, not being aware of the great truth contained in the injunction "Don't panic, they will come.

DOCTOR FOSTER

Bates has had the good fortune to hear many a speaker of national and international reputation, one of the greatest of which has been Doctor Foster. Foster was introduced to the College with special interest apparent among the students, for the general Doctor foster soon made his way into the whole-hearted friendship of the entire campus.

We have listened with pleasure to the keen analyses of present day issues, we have heard the pithy expressions of the man, and we have marveled at the broad-mindedness of the doctrine laid before us. In short, we have been actively and positively interested in the movement which he has brought upon the campus.

But that is not enough. Action must follow conviction if any good is to result. It is the duty of every man and woman among us to do whatever may be. We shall accept the plan of the Doctor and make of ourselves better leaders of men. A start on the campus, a translating into Bates ideals of the broad-mindedness of the hour, a put on the back for the pal that is discouraged—these are the things in which we can grow.

Truly, we owe to the good Doctor more than we know!

A PRESCRIPTION

For the first time in their collegiate experience, the Freshmen are experiencing the torments which precede formal examinations. Up-erclassmen, who have passed through the ordeal many times, are all but little immune to the worries and wonders.

In the midst of all battle of final preparation, therefore, we re- mind you of the great truth contained in the injunction "Don't worry!". Review if you will, but never carry the process to the ex- treme. All night sessions of "cramming" are worse than nothing; and continual worrying with its attendant nervous strain is almost sure to affect your health. Once over each subject, stop that everlasting futility of last minute preparation and forget, yes, literally forget "exams". Plenty of sleep, decent food and work, will bring you through. Stay out of bed can be secured with a fagged out brain driven by a demented nervous system. Try it for yourself, and you will discover the great truth—that the only way to meet those "mid-year"'s is by sleep, exercise, and no worry.

WE WILL HAVE WITH US AGAIN

Tomorrow night (Friday, Dec. 13) there will be new life again after a lapse of several weeks. The chief attraction will be the famous Puritans. The latter have been a constant feature of the Puritans, and will be among the best college hockey teams in New England. The Puritans have never considered the Bates teams a serious threat. They will be among the strongest in the state, and should make the game a very pleasant Faculty Room. Here the Faculty and commit several thrills. The success or failure of these Von. Sm. 4
