SERIES OFF TO FLYING START

BATES UNDERS THE PEP AND PLAYS COLBY TO 7-7 TIE

Garnet Misses Several Changes to Put Across Winning Score—Bewildering Aerial Attacks Completely Surprises Colby—Big Plans for Carryout, Victory Banquet and Paw Wew Squashed—Morlan, Davis and Dagnall Sparkle as Lion Loy and Young.

The Maine State series started off with a bang Saturday when Bates and Colby stalked on the latter's given 3-0 to a 7-7 tie. The half-hour series was a sight of fantastic features and the stand was thrilled with the precision and manner in which each team pulled off a hell of fine piece of football strategy. The Garnet again was in a position of defense for Colby, by Chevalier MacLean, was a very fine back in the first half, and from his hundred loyal Bates men and women respected to his estimate is due to the fact that they were being held out of the storm from the side lines. Working in the favor of not having the customary band, MacLean very cleverly has found a way to fill in for the front by drawing forth clever shows that showed the fanatics that they were not the half-hour many times, especially the last few moments of the contest.

The day was ideal as far as football was concerned. The players started the game on a master on the Waterville field, and a high-flying punt on the first kickoff and after a few successful pass and punt games when they were permitted to break connection, the Garnet team certainly gave Captain Kelley's team a hand, for many punts were split. Colby was beaten and Bates has won.

Colby was beaten and Bates has won.

— SPLENDID PROGRAM PLANNED FOR EVE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE OPENERS

— According to the circular which is being sent to all Bates sports this week, the program will be announced. The preliminaries will be held this afternoon, and the rest of the games will be played today. Colby is very much depleted of its football team and will be forced to scratch two of its best men before the season starts. Bates will be able to withstand this lack of players and will be able to put up a good showing.

BEATTY AND BATES

Years ago, the nation was repeatedly aroused by the famous speeches of the statesmen once more famed (or perhaps power. The columns of the oratory, in the time of reconstruction, literally swung the fate of the House, rallied Democrats and Republicans to his aid in blocking legislation. The speech of the statesmen of the times, chief among whom were the Washington, has shaken the timbers of old traditions and ideals followers this fall. We have an ideal theatre. The freshmen, Jessamine, Elsie Roberts, Vivien K,...

EVE OF GAME FINDS MAINE PREPARED

Special Train Will Bring Rooted, Endless and Mascot Area

ORANGE Oct. 20, (Special)— After the win over Rhode Island State last Saturday, Maine has been working steadily for the Bates game which comes tomorrow. While the Rhode Island game was fairly satisfactory, the Maine coaches are driving the team through hard sessions in order to increase the effective power of the Blue. The serious problem of the backfield which has apparently been solved, with the new man working in good style together. Especially notable in the new spirit which Griffiths at quarter, has put into the team. To be very cooperative, the team backed up in running off plays, but the new front seems to have proved the need of a men.

Local sentiment seems to be that the Bates game will be one of the most resort teams in the season, in view of the fighting qualities which Bates has shown in her games this far in the year. Anything, local odds are a shade in favor of the Lewiston team. Special arrangements are being made by the management for the trip. A "Maine Special" will carry the majority of the men of the college to Lewiston, as well as transporting the Maine military band and "Hannas." Arrangements are being made for all hotels for special cheering section space, which will permit the vocal college rivalry to meet itself.

HOLY CROSS ACCEPTS BATES TERMS

Game Arranged at Bates (Announcement)

November 5, 1921.— The Holy Cross schedule has been closed by election a game with the Bates Cross team, one of the strongest barns in the East. Bates realizes that a win over Holy Cross means the team has proved itself outside, and therefore is left to the Bates game. The Missions will be helped by the fact that the Missions have a new field, and that the Missions have had an successful attempts at a touchdown. Captain Sellor's when the Missions have a season which speaks for itself. Two Missions, have already been defeated and have won on it only one. They outplayed College. No team has outright College.

The game is, for Bates, primarily a money proposition but with a large guarantee being placed by Holy Cross. With the important series of games coming up, the Missions can afford to take a chance such as this, especially with the opportunity of going to prove her worth against one of the best teams in the East.

In the case the Missions are in full swing at the date when the date is played, the team will travel by trucks, and without doubt will be accompanied by a fleet of cars bearing the enthusiastic brothers of the sport. Coach Watkins has made an excellent machine and when the big date rolls around, the team, invested in the Bay State for the second time this season, will come home with their shields or on them.

BAND BIG FEATURE AT MASS MEETING

"Mae" Makes Lots of Noise but the Band Makes More

The band did the playing Saturday and the school did the yelling the night before. The Bates Band had practiced just once, but they made plenty of noise and what would it any way it wasn't music? They started things going with "Hall, Hall, The Gang's All Here" and then tackled "Our Director's March." How could the meeting be anything but a success with a real band to help it along?

"Mae" introduced the speakers with her usual snappy remarks. Captain Kidd spoke for the team, Coach Smith explained the new Bates spirit, and Rev. O. C. Tyson gave a able and hearty speech that kept the student body in a state of laughter. "Mae" introduced Coach Watkins last, but the Coach got outdoors before "Mae" stopped speaking. However, Coach Watkins doesn't have to speak, his work does it for him. The band played the Alma Mater, then the student body cheered the team. The main, the music, the yelling, all contributed to make the mass meeting a rip roaring success.
