Probable officers in school who could have been more appropriate for the commencement of the annual college day of prayer than the service which was conducted Thursday morning by Dr. Samuel Woodrow in the college chapel. Taking as his subject "Come and Say," Dr. Woodrow gave a real message of Christianity which was appreciated by the student body.

Acknowledging the importance of the natural sciences and other subjects of a college curriculum, Dr. Woodrow emphasized the importance of the Christian religion even more in its purport. Because of the failure of so many to realize this fact, he attributed many of the dangers of the world not to the unsaved masses, but to the educated few who forget their religion and act in an godless and wicked way as well mannered.

BASKETBALL PROSPECTS FOR GIRLS

FOUR CLASS TEAMS WORKING HARD AND PROMISE COMPETITION

The prospects for the class basketball games which will be played off the last of February are very promising. Each class has the material and chances for a good team.

The enthusiasm on the part of those who are interested in the teams has never been so great. Taking into consideration the fact that the girls are putting in the extra hours of preparation for Miss Davis, the games will be a good test for the development of the four class teams.

1922 MIRROR BEING PUSHE

GIVES PROMISE OF BEING THE BEST EVER

The 1922 Mirror is going to be the biggest and best ever published. Albert H. Zor, the business manager, is going at his work in a business-like manner. The work is being handled very efficiently. Already one-half of the group pictures have been taken. The cuts this year will be better than ever before.

Those in charge are putting by last minute. Since Mr. Zor has taken the management, there is little chance that the 1922 Mirror will be less than promised. The enthusiasm among the girls and the students is very great. In the last trip to Lewiston, there were about forty students interested in the Mirror. The total number of students who are working on the Mirror is about forty.

BATES BASKETEERS GET 31-18 REVENGE ON MAINE

The rejuvenated Bates team came in to its own Saturday night, and playing the best game of the year, trimmed Maine to a feminine home sufferer 31-18. A shift in the position of Coach Smith verified his "hunch" that the team could come through even though it was supposed to be the under dog. Line placed center, Perkins was shifted to center, as was Cap, Davis, and this move was successful. Perkins guarded. Kempton remained in his own position. No substitution was made. The most spectacular game of his career, Hopkins the dope that Bates had one or could shoot, 18 times out of a possible 11 did the decisive march for the ball for a final goal—wonderful performance on a strange court, he seemed to be the most perfect in the Rescue to the Bates supporters, and he succeeded in taking John and Williams, playing guard, played the role to perfection. Davis was used, and Kempton in the half. Sargent, who never ran out for the teams has very promising, his views of Greece, in the Music room, was appreciated by the audience.

A NEW SCHOOL OF WRITERS

Since the war, there has arisen a small group of novelists who seem to be heading for the complete commercialized literature.

The old masters of the American war, two of the most brilliant are France Scott Fitzgerald, a Princeton, Stephen Vincent Benet, Yale.

Mr. Fitzgerald’s novel, The Beautiful and Damned is to be published in book form, by Scribner. The famous F. Scott Fitzgerald is famed for his work, and the story is distributed in every reading room in the country. The characters are well drawn from life—his stories are a revelation of the human soul, which are written with a hand so sure of them—this is the story of the first century. The author reveals the new ideas and experiences of the day. Stephen Vincent Benet is only 21, yet has written a book that is destined to be a classic of our time.

ARMY TOO STRONG FOR GARNET

BATES DEFEATED 4 TO 1 IN CLEAN, FAST HOCKEY GAME

West Point, N. Y., Jan. 25.—The Army was a fast hockey game from Bates today, 4 to 1. The Maine college showed a well developed knowledge of the game but they were badly outweighed and opposed by much more experienced men. New articles gave the Army goal lead in a long afternoon. He registered the goes before the afternoon was over. Six man hockey was played through the game. Cogan was the star of the Bates team.
