"WIG" TALKS TO BASEBALL CANDIDATES

Looks over Situation as It Is Today

Curtis Wigg's valiant effort to be the baseball candidate last Monday night at Chase Hall to give them a talk on the importance of a strict training table this year. Perhaps the lack of the practice of training here the past few years, the fellows do not realize just how important it is to get in thorough knowledge. He says that the practice is the only way to develop a winning team. It is not breaking the rules of training to be on the field, but it is the only way to develop a winning team. He feels that the fellows here are missing a great opportunity by not getting in shape. In his desire for a training table here at Bates, he insists that those, who are out for the teams, will have brought much honor to themselves and to your school.

RAPID CITY, Chamberlain—It was the first meeting of the Debaters and the first meeting of the Debating League in the history of the high school. The meeting was called by the leaders of the school, and they are interested in everyone in the school. In order to get the same results that the Debaters have here, the fellows who follow principles of fair play, good sportsmanship, and loyalty to the school.

"WIG" intends to start small talks about the rules, and the fellows are welcome to give their views on the rules. He says that he wants the fellows to talk, and not just sit in the dormitory. It is the only way to develop a winning team.

So fellows, you who are in the upper, and you who are not, let us realize the benefits of a strict training whether in athletics or in life itself and derive a result of Curtis Wigg's remarks.

Dear "PREXY,"

I am a first-year Providence student at a college on the east coast. I have recently met a fellow named "PREXY" Gray, who is the head of this college, and I must say that I have never seen such a charming and attractive young man. He is always well dressed, and his manner of speaking is very pleasant. I was wondering if you could give me some advice on how to become more like him.

Best regards,

Sincerely,

Your Student

Write's "Cyrk" McGinley A Fine Letter

Dear Cyrk,

Your congratulations are accepted and thanked. I found in your letter while I am in the glory of the victory yesterday I traveled to Louisville to take the flying which was given to all those who defeated us. We both, however, in different events in the Central A. E. C. events here at this city Friday night, the night before we ran in Louisville. That with the 150 mph time to Louisville on Saturday ought to prepare us well for the race on that same eve.

My thanks for the detailed account of my race here the other night. I notice by the Student that John O'Connor is doing it hard to fill up the sport column. If you do not think the account which I am sending you has, apart from it, to jealously do it just let it the Student and then I will not have to write it over and over as much.
