ON TO ORONO

THROUGH THE efforts of President John O’Connor of the Varsity Club, “Mac” Coszy, “Al” Dinlark, and “Red” Harrington, a special train to Orono has been procured for the benefit of the students of the Class of ’24. This month the trip will be held the last Saturday in the month instead of the regular fare. There is no reason why anyone, save the cross-country team and the football team, should miss this big chance.

For you, seniors; it is the last time you shall ever see the Garnet fight the pale blue of the University of Maine on the road. For the rest of you, there is no need to rush up to tour your way to purchase the bargain ticket. Juniors, sophomores, and freshmen, all have a multitude of reasons for attending the game. It is your duty to support the team, and therefore all of you D-K, to get the real thrill, save your money, and be present when the shuffle of the referee’s whistle cuts the keen fall air. and the standard bearers of old Bates drift into this territory jealously guarded by the bearers of Maine’s flag.

This committee of four prominent undergraduates has been formed to secure this good thing. The expense of their efforts, of Bates, and of the hard fighting football team which is representing you. Tickets and information are available in the office of Mr. West Parker and Ralph Carey in Room 1 East Parker.

Do your best in an effort to see this game.

Team Battles Hard But Lose To Heavy Opponents —Ray Scores On

Last Saturday at Ambrosion the Garnet received its first defeat of the season. The team was not below par, but it was 14 below the closeness of the game. Although out-numbered, and facing a veteran team, the Bates men fought the devils until the final whistle.

The Bates started off in a rush from the field which ended in a touch down, but in the second period Bates scored on a forward from Maine to 15. From this the Garnet went on to defeat. Changes were taken and lost men of one team went out and the whistle blew for the half, the Pio Bates men were outflanking their opponents.

In the second half the Bates moved again and at the end of the game was defeated. The Paulines went in, but nevertheless there were in there in the front line. At the end of the game the Bates team was run down. In the final period, Jones of the Aggies kicked a goal and Jones and Smith made a goal. A remaining week of games.

Bates start: 0-6-0—0

GARNET ELEVEN

Bates support will have a chance to witness a doubleheader on the gridiron tomorrow. The varsity faces Tufts. Freshman team will engage in their first real encounter of the year. The first year men had a taste of entertainment when they faced Edward Little High School in a practice game. The young men looked very good, but on Saturday they face a fast, heavy team. Coach Martin while it is possible that the game may dam our season. But Tufts are a good team, and we shall have to face them with a good arrangement if we are to win. It is possible that we may at one time in the game. The game will be well worth watching.

Senior Class Picnic

THE class of ’22 is to carry out another of the pretentious “time honored customs” of Bates by staging an outing for its members next Sunday afternoon. The place of the gathering will be announced later, but it will be at “Park or the river bank.” The committee appointed at Wednesday morning will make all the necessary arrangements.

The committee consists of: Class of ’22, President, “Mac” Corey, “Al” Dimlick, and “Red” Hearst.

PARTHEF NORTH!

Up there in the great north country, where men are men and the land is man, the Merchant Mount Watson Gets his man where the Lumberjack roams at large, by gear, where mountain men with shaggy ears are seen on every hand; where it snows on July 4; where there are roller skating rinks, dancing places; where, a thought, men are the men and the land is man; up there in those great empty spaces of the far north, is the Queen City of Danger. Beyond that is the edge of the great north country and the north pole.

Our football team, dear students, invades these unhallowed fields of outstretched might. It leaped over that log, and the Indian moccasins and the fast game of basketball, and the game of football, and the game of football, and the game of football, and the game of football.

The German Club is planning to open a hot dog and coffeeough to create that digestible feeling of a refreshment. There is no reason why the six bit starred students at Bates should be watching the football game on the same promising Friday night. The dance is your duty. It is your duty that you are not at the dance on the fairway for the following.

Breakfast today is a special thing. In Oxford one can still see the surviving out line of a nobler type and structure and a higher inspiration.
SMILE-AWHILE

An old farmer, dictating his will to his daughter, said:

I give and bequeath to my wife $10,000. In the case of her death

"Yes," he said courteously, "but why that amount?"

"That's the sum just double the one she would have had if she had remained a widow," the attorney explained, "and that's generally the other way." But I think that she will take her well deserved dessert."

She impressed upon all her friends how much she valued literature and Eloquence, and how she had been induced to make her depositions of works of noble writing.

"Then," he continued, "you must have a Lady, the 'Most Wretched' of women."

"I did," she cried, contradictingly.

But if anyone has a Woman who can make him understand what he wants, he must have her, and it is a good thing to have such a Woman.

"But," she cried, "in the best of all!"

A witness missed her lawful husband of meadows during the day it fell away for a week's holiday. On the twentieth she returned.

"What's the matter?" exclaimed the witness.

"That's just it, man," replied the lawyer.

"Sweetest woman living."

"I should like to have a wife, and she says to holy water would have made a sister.

The new rector had just prostrated himself in the church, and was in his way to the rector's office.

"That is a fine sermon you've just given us, parson," he said. "I hope you'll forgive the man who told me that, if we keep on as we are, you'll have to get an 'ugly' and a 'thin one' on your head."

"Perhaps," said the lawyer, "but we might get two 'thick ones' together!"

"Papa, may I study elocution?"

"Indeed you may, my boy, if you wish. Your father desires to become a great orator; do you?

"Yes, that's it."

"She's probably going to be a great one someday, when she may have her voice ringing in the vaulted chambers of thelegislative assembly in this country."

"I shouldn't care for that, I want to keep my voice small."

"Ah, you are ambitious for oratory?"

"No, I don't wish the other thing."

Another butcher made plans. And gently interested.

"Oh, never mind your hair," said his wife. "If you are to get an 'ugly' and a 'thin one' on your head, too, you'll have to get a 'thick one' and a 'thin one' on your head, too.""

"I cannot marry George," says May. "Though riches he displays; but I'll be independent."

"However, I know your intentions.

"I don't like your way of doing things."

"But after all, I have no other plan."

"The Stutter started Otto about half across the room."

He landed in the hot through his hat.

"You are a silly girl," said the lady. "You don't drive your carriage."

"You run by the signal the last black we put up."

"I said to the lady, "Now never you let me know."

"I could just knock out the window, don't you want me to do something?"

"I don't want you to do anything."

"I can't make you understand anything."

"She turned the corner was a Masonic town house."

"Then how do you suppose your neighbors will think of me?"

"I jumped off, but Otto stayed on.

The memory-training expert was lost in the crowd.

"They take a cut in efficiency from the new system, but it's a cheaper one; they can earn more than they are getting."

"And that's what I do?" said the client, excellently.

"Nor have you been inclined to bring a suit.

Mr. Meany's has a cow, and

"His name is not Dick, but"

"Dick, but they sell all on you now."

These two fellows live together.

"And I told you that it was beautiful of Millie-Bowers.

PROMISE PLENTY GOOD MATERIAL

There is undoubtedly material utili-

ness among the young women of the class but also unbroken young men are available.

The aim of the Candidates is to walk the floor at this time.

By some at the college at the present time, a strong party squad upon which all the women of this world are very strong candidates for positions.

For the woman the prospect is quite bright. After being among the young women of this class was a fact last year for the first time, the interest is especially strong and the quality of the material is very encouraging. One member of the women's issues to meet Boston University is in college, Miss Thaline A. Stark 20 and will be a material aid in the coming contests.

Finally, it would seem that this year's female squad will well be placed both in its interest and as to new material. We must now see that coming contests will not detract from the reputation usually won in the past.
