ABOUT OUR CAMPUS

Our afternoon recently, I left Parker Hall, armed with a notebook and my steps toward Cyma Lawn. All went well until I had passed Rutherford. Where I met a man with a red beard. He appeared to be elderly and somewhat depressed, possibly due to a recent medical diagnosis. I attempted to have a conversation with him, but he refused to engage. Later, I heard about his retirement from a reliable source.

Now, let's talk with "PREXY"
The Free Brits who founded the college left in two inseparable legacies: the first is our true concern for our students, and the other, the denomination, is a belief that education always includes religious education. For many, the college has been a place of refuge and solace, not only because of its spectacular scenery, but also because of its unique blend of traditions and values.

SPORT NOTES

The ball grew greener on golf greens; Comes strength long sought.

The clouds depart; But,—(lull damp days are done.

The quality of life at Bates is not just an aspect of the academic experience, but a fundamental part of the college experience as well. Here, students are encouraged to develop a strong sense of community, not only with their peers, but also with the faculty and staff. Bates is a place where students are challenged to think critically, to engage in meaningful dialogue, and to find their own path.

CRITICISM

We hope that you will always keep in mind that the BATES STUDENT is your paper. It is our purpose to have it express your sentiments, to make it appeal to you in every possible way. We welcome any suggestions and any criticisms which may be of help to us.

of Bowdoin. It was Wilson's men all the way, "as the breasts of Mary, the boxers, the band. You're weak in those long jumps because you've got that thing in your mind."

Bates got eight points in the javelin when Caleb established a record for this new season when the old one was pulled down by the John Chenoweth of Colby for second.

Carruth has six firsts and five more for a tie with Clifford. The Black and White League. Carruth gets the extra points.

Charles of Bowdoin and Westcot of Colby finished second in the javelin, with twenty-two points for third. Marion of Bates coasted into the third place, but Bates were thus far in the lead. The Bobkitten, Wardwell, almost nosed out Maine, but in the excitement the Maine men for third, Buren of Maine and Taylor of Colby, were too hot.

The fans got an extra thrill in the mile event. "Allie" Wills and Hubert Wvolson are up for the regulation. "Allie" came in first, with a second of Maine, followed by the Bobkitten, Wardwell, almost nosed out Maine for second. Maine was held in the Maine men, but in the excitement the Maine men for third, Buren of Maine and Taylor of Colby, were too hot.
