Two Bathers Attend Wellesley Conference

Delegates from over fifty women's and co-educational college students of the Women's International Association of Student Governments, met at Wellesley College November 11th and 12th. The arrangements were conducted by Donald P. Fuss, President of Student Government and Reginald W. Allen, Vice-President.

Is Academic Rather Than Political Question

Before the United States enters the World Court certain stipulations should be made regarding its participation in the tribunal. The American people need to understand the organization of the Court and its relation to the League of Nations. Many are trying to rush to authorize this country into the Court without arousing substantial public opinion for it.

Those who object to the immediate participation of the United States have urged constitutional and administrative stipulations and conditions as well as general reasons of advocating a policy of isolation and of preparing war to win as the main reason against participation. If such arguments believe that America's will' grow to diminish chances for war was 110 ever to be attained by this attitude toward the World Court. Consequently they have little patience understanding people are examining the real benefits and implications of it.

The danger lies in stampeding public opinion haphazardly. Indeed, main mass meetings centering in the offices of the World Court are all right but they should not have mass meetings in the out of place. It should remain peaceful and well-organized.

We need to investigate and make sure that the Court is independent of the United States Government. We must not consent to coordinate policy operations in the World Court and we cannot consent to coordinate policy operations in the states. We have already discussed the courts which the League Congress has not yet been created.

The United States would be the only great power not a member of the League.

Before joining the Court we want to be assured that we shall not be required to join the military and naval forces and we do not care to have settled there. We feel that the United States should be an instrument for establishing world public opinion against us. And we are not willing to see the Western hemisphere make off with the two great wars involving North and South America. In a word we should know the "what", the "why", and the "wherefore" of the projected organization.

FROSH, MEET HEBRON IN FINAL SQUAUBLE

The Freshman football team received an invitation Saturday by meeting Hebrew Academy on ground field. Although the Big Dog School team rolled up a score of 30 points, the Kittens made them fight all the way to collect each punt.

The Freshman team out-sized itself in the first quarter, and held the big green team to no gain at every turn, but as the game progressed the varsity started a well organized offensive and marched through the Freshman team two goals to one in the second quarter, two in the third, and one in the last.

The running of the Freshman backfield was a feature of the game, that of Max H. Culley proving to be a strong running back. His ability to get a foothold on the halfback team is a sure shaper.

The game was won without the services of McElrath who broke some bones in his foot, but the game of Eells, Cole, and Tumagwa was better than any that they have displayed all year. The Freshman line worked like Tilpegin to show the title of the Hebrews, and although they were defeated they fought right through to the finish.

The Freshman line worked like Tilpegin to show the title of the Hebrews, and although they were defeated they fought right through to the finish."

The enormous size of the Hebrews made it difficult for Bates to make anything big. The Freshmen played a big game of offensive football and had a fine time. Bates should be entitled to receive the Freshman line, and the Freshmen should be entitled to receive the Freshman line, and the Freshmen should be entitled to receive the Freshman line.

The Hebrews were in fine shape.

The West Parkers were given the start and the little runner finished well outdistancing the third position for Bates and came in 8th and was 14 behind the lead. The Bates team won the race. The Bates team were the best runners who have ever run at Bates.

Hail to the Champions of New England! Our men previous to the last race Monday were not considered to be in the running for positions on the team, but the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Maine reign. The victory under these conditions was doubly sweet, especially so when the Maine poak could do no better than fourth position. The rare showed plainly the results of the cooperation of a fine group of men, running for their college and for a real coach. Allie Wills did yeoman service in staying with the team and pulling them along. Wayback showed his worth in finishing in the form of the race. Thanksgiving comes next week—one of the two days in the year when we want more than anything else to be at home, a day when it makes us mighty homesick to be anywhere else. For the last three years our homes have been adged to be content with a one-day holiday, which meant, for most of us, that we had to eat out only once during the week. Christmas, however, are remarkable for the number of our friends who are able to come home to Texas. In the Christmas season, practically every one of the residents of Texas will have the privilege of seeing friends and relatives. The number of friends and relatives with whom we are going to meet is not on the same scale as the number of friends and relatives we are going to see in the colleges.

I feel that I owe Hil Hubbard an apology, in that I neglected to mention him as one of the men who have participated for the last two years in Bates gridiron football. His work this season, and the way he has handled the team as a whole, has been of the highest order, both defensively and offensively.

Overcome by Gas

Fumes Hedge Lah

Last Monday afternoon, while work was being done to install the new boiler, nitrogen gas was accidentally discharged. The gas, a colorless, odorless, tasteless inert gas, is used in the manufacture of lead, the glass, and the photographic industry. It is also used in the production of motion pictures. It is a gas which is odorless, tasteless, colorless, and has no smell.

The gas was released from the boiler and entered the building, causing a panic among the workers. The gas caused a number of employees to become ill, including several who were overcome by the gas. The workers were rushed to a nearby hospital, where they were treated for minor injuries.

The gas was also released into the air, causing a panic in the nearby neighborhood. The authorities were called, and the gas was quickly removed from the area. The workers were allowed to return to their jobs, and the gas was released into the atmosphere. The gas was caused by a leak in the boiler, and the workers were allowed to return to their jobs.

PRINCETON MAKES ENTRY TO DIVISION LEAGUE

Princeton has been invited to enter the Eastern Intercollegiate De- vision Baseball League, a move that is expected to benefit the college. Princeton is scheduled to begin play in the league in 1925.

The move is expected to benefit Princeton in several ways. First, it will provide the college with a stronger schedule, as the college will be playing against some of the best teams in the country. Second, it will provide the college with a greater opportunity to improve its record, as the college will be playing against some of the best teams in the country. Third, it will provide the college with a greater opportunity to improve its record, as the college will be playing against some of the best teams in the country.
HEDGE LABORATORY

Hedge Laboratory—what a place of activity! Here the boys and girls heads boil eagerly discovering some new idea of the past to work on an old one.

Perhaps we have all taken Hedge Laboratory as just another building on campus but if we look back at a Bates student of 1889 we realize what a stir its construction created. The old boys and girls paper at that time said:

"The greatest change which has recently taken place at the east of Hall-rooms lying out of use is the front of the gymnasium and the auditorium. The old boys and girls building that formerly stood on the refract is a whole shaft boys dormitory—are all means to an end. The "old" is our new chemical laboratory which will all have to see the front of the hill at the left of the west.

Hedge Laboratory was dedicated on the 20th of May, 1900, and was opened to college classes immediately after the dedication. It was named for R. H. Hedges, M. D., Waukon, Iowa, a native of Woodville, Maine, whose family has contributed greatly towards its construction.

This chemical laboratory is another of the attractive and interesting building developments at Bates. It is a two story brick building with latest equipment. The building contains a room on the first floor and a large chemical laboratory with all its fascinating array of colors, tools, and glass and about $250,000 was spent on its construction.

Here, under the able direction of Professor H. S. Judd, students work and learn perhaps to pattern and duplicate a little too.

SPOFFORD CLUB TO BUY BOOKS

On a week night last week the Spofford Club met in the library of the college. A joint meeting was held with the book committee of the college, which is a club of carmel and his friends. At the meeting there was a motion presented to the effect that the club should purchase a number of books which will be used by the club members as a means of increasing knowledge on modern literary subjects.

The motion was seconded by Mr. H. D. Hamlin, who was chairman of the committee on the books.
