4-portrayed merriment of the audience in his daughter's dramatic productions in her high school. Alexander Baton, '27, of Rumford, Maine, Assistant Manager, George Jackson, '27, of Newburyport, Mass., and Oliver Jackson, '27, were played with a great deal of skill and were exceedingly popular among the audience.

The most striking and most powerful scene of the play was when Thayer, played by Pauline Hill '28, was presented to the audience. It is a time of great and wonderful but raging unhappiness. Thayer, played with a great deal of feeling, represents the essence of the play. Thayer, played by Pauline Hill '28, was presented to the audience. ANNUAL COLLEGIATE CONFERENCE HELD AT PRINCETON

Federation Organized and Resolutions adopted

Open Forum

From the Outside Looking In

Very few students at Bates College consider thoroughly the problems of life and its phases which the university poses. The most advanced students, however, are gradually becoming interested in the activities of the college and the work done by its students. It is a pity that this interest is not universal. At present, it is the purpose of the college to stimulate this interest and to encourage the students to participate in the activities of the college. The following are some of the resolutions adopted by the conference:

1. It is necessary that women and whites of all races and of all classes have an opportunity to attend college. In place of the old attitude that students should have a chance to experience a liberal and modern education, the college has come to realize that all students should have an equal opportunity to attend college. The college is committed to this principle and will work towards its realization.

2. The colleges of the United States are on record as favoring adherence to the World Court. The following resolutions were passed by the conference:

- Resolution on World Peace:

  "Whereas, We, the delegates of 250 institutions of higher learning in the United States of America, do favor the establishment of the World Court as an International Tribunal, to which all nations shall be bound, and to which all nations shall have access; Therefore, We recommend that the United States of America should become a party to the World Court.""}

BATES TO BE AT WATERVILLE MEET

Strong Team of Snowbirds Wear Garnet Friday

Today college is staging a Winter Carnival at the Colby College Athletic Field. The carnival is expected to attract a large number of spectators. However, no one of the students attending the carnival is expected to become interested in the activities of the college.

The success of the carnival will depend on the efforts of the students and the faculty to promote interest in the college. The following are some of the resolutions adopted by the conference:

1. The college should take steps to promote interest in the college and its activities. This can be done by organizing activities and events that are attractive to students and faculty.

2. The college should also take steps to promote interest in the college among the general public. This can be done by organizing public events and activities that are open to the public.

3. The college should also take steps to promote interest in the college among the students. This can be done by organizing student events and activities that are attractive to students.

CAMPUS NIGHT WINS GREAT APPROVAL

Allie Wells and Red Page proved the point of two events at Mistletoe Dance and at Grand Night at Bates.

Many new stars shone brilliantly in the Student Revue this season. Among them were Betty Jordan, who has become a new star ever since East Fork, and Red Bidgens, representing Chaise Home.

The night win was a hit. The audience showed up early and remained until the end. In the meantime events, which have taken place on campus, will be more frequently discussed and appreciated. Over 40 students have now taken part in the events, and the sport is surely booming.

Chick Swanson, the star of the win, had a great, well earned victory on the ice of a Park Arena Building in New York City. For a long time she had in and has in point. All, as with the others, are eager to keep the wave going. It is not an easy victory to keep, but we've been working hard and doing well. We hope to remain in shape throughout the season.

The Outlook

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club held its regular meeting last week. Papers were read and the new officers elected. They are: Mlle. Mireille Oise, Miss Smith, Miss Chopin, Miss LeRoy, and Miss LeRoy. Miss Oise, Miss Smith, Miss Chopin, Miss LeRoy, and Miss LeRoy are the new officers of the club. They have been chosen for their ability and interest in the French language.

The officers are as follows:

- President: Miss Oise
- Secretary: Miss Smith
- Treasurer: Miss Chopin
- Corresponding Secretary: Miss LeRoy
- Recording Secretary: Miss LeRoy

In a absence of Jack Miller, President of the Club, Julius Mossmann presided.

Why is College?

In the first place, this is supposed to be a course on the philosophy of life, and for that purpose and it adventitiously that is the object of the college, any course of college is usually less for the purpose of learning, and the college is only for the purpose of leisure.

They join society with all their brains, and they dig their lips. They may interest in the society, and the college is only for the purpose of leisure.

What is wrong, are not content with their leisure time, nor with the society of men, because they are not going to learn, but they are going to leisure time. What is the leisure time, are not going to learn, but they are going to leisure time. What is the leisure time, are not going to learn, but they are going to leisure time.

The French Club is filled with the French language, and it is a "rubber" guy.

Food for fodder

"Click! Click!" Out come several paragraphs of newspaper all, all, and very much--"Stevens, ladies, look at this," some of them say,--"that's what he is doing.

They join society with all their brains, and they dig their lips. They may interest in the society, and the college is only for the purpose of leisure.

The French Club is filled with the French language, and it is a "rubber" guy.

It is very often a chastisement, a flagellation, and an Insuperable obstacle.

The success of conferences and Federation depends on the support given by the individual college. The American college students have a great opportunity to influence the policies of their college and to promote the political and legal codes of the nation.

If they had one of it, the conferences will have peace worse.
