TRUSTEES NAME NEW ATHLETIC BUILDING FOR PRES. GRAY

Present Oliver B. Clason with Silver Loving Cup

The two important features of the meeting were the naming of the Clifton Athletic Building and the presenting of a loving cup to President Gray, to be called the Alumni Association Loving Cup for presidents, all of whom have given to Bates in the form of donations for the college.

In appreciation of his long and good service as a "great and good alumnus," a number of large boys were present at this meeting and the interest and enthusiasm was shown. The finances of the college are to be fully explained. New methods will be presented. The late Miss Polk was present at the meeting.

The conclusion was the presentation of the Alumni Association Loving Cup to President Gray at the close of the meeting.

PRICE TEN CENTS
There is another constant as in all good colleges. That is the subject. It is quite evident that the sun produced by the atmosphere of the classroom is thrown upon the teachers as well as the students.
We wish to believe the teachers were nourished by the regular student reader. We appreciate the fact that every good teacher is intent on getting every lick of sense out of every word. At the same time we feel the students cannot compete with campus activities in their enthusiasm to read the public press. This was not true of it is not that particular so much the time it has been through the institution. It was not the fault of the students or professors alone. It is the influence of the people themselves and the conditions under which this book is written that the reform was produced. The honor and good standing of the institution was not maintained by all students before the small masses. This is the nature of the fact that it is advisable to incur the change that is made to help meet the expectations of the public that tuition should be charged.

PLAYING WITH FIRE
It has recently become a habit among students of the College to go into the Industrial Arts building with matches, setting anything on fire in the place. But this evening it has been done, and at the College dance held Saturday night, the fire was not too pleasant.

CONCERNING THE COMMONS
By Chaplin

During the last two years or more that I have been at Colby, the Commons has been the subject of frequent and impassioned discussion. The greater portion of these discussions have been carried on in the dining-room, the student lounging-room, the dormitory, or the street. Those who have been most zealous in the cause have been known by the initials "A.T.C.," which stands for "Always Take Care of Commons." These people, however, have been in the minority.

The last important event connected with this cause was the one time in which J. C. was stopped by the police for using his matches in the Commons. He is reported to have said to the police officer, "But it was just a little bit, officer! It was just a little bit!"

The police officer then said, "Yes, it was just a little bit. But it was a little bit too much, Mr. Chambers."

The Commons case was then brought before the Board of Trustees of the College. Thew Board of Trustees voted unanimously that the commons must be saved, but also that it must be kept clean.

The outcome of this case was that the commons was saved, but that it must be kept clean.
