Bates Loses Game To New Hampshire

Sociology a three hour course organized by the American Council of Learned Societies, has been divided into three different sections, each section having its own instructor. One of these sections is engaged in an effort to meet the needs of students who are not able to take a full four-hour course. The remaining two sections of the course are open to all students who are interested. The course is designed to provide a comprehensive understanding of the field of sociology, with a focus on contemporary issues and current research. Doris R. Sims, an American sociologist, has been appointed as the director of the course. The course meets every Tuesday and Thursday from 12:00 to 1:15, and is currently enrolling students. Students interested in enrolling should contact Professor Sims at 123-4567 for more information.

Soccer Teams of Four

The soccer teams were paired on Saturday afternoon for the first time in the season. Two teams have shown an unusual amount of interest in this form of the game this year. The teams are as follows:

- Team A: Billie McFarland, Maine, and John P. Davis, Dartmouth
- Team B: George Mitchell, Harvard, and Frank D. Tubbs, Bowdoin

There were many who felt the burden of training for the first time in this respect. The matches were held on the campus, and there was a good sized crowd present. The results of the matches were:
