Colby-Bates Game
Armistice Day

Game will be Played Here
Will be Final Game of State Series

The last weekend of November will see the playoff game between Bates and Colby, the last game of the State Series. Bates and Colby have last lost their state title, Colby in 1919, Bates in 1921.

Mity Debating Council exists purely for their own purposes and for the benefit of their members, but it is not without a fact that it is being contested by both teams as the outcome might be decided at the last game this Saturday.

Colby has had a hard schedule so far this year, having already met Bowdoin, Bates, and Kenyon, and with the Colby-Bates game they will have had a very hard schedule. Bates, on the other hand, has met Colby, Bowdoin, and the Colby-Bates game, and is in a much better position to meet Colby than Colby is to meet Bates.

The last game of the State Series will be played here this Saturday afternoon, and both teams are expected to give their best efforts. The Colby-Bates game will be played here, and both teams will be looking forward to the challenge of their opponents.

Back to Bates Day
from an Observing Point

The last weekend of November will be a busy one for Bates alumni, as they will attend the Bates Back to Bates Day activities. Bates alumni will return to the campus to witness their Alma glorified and to cheer on the young men as they return in pairs, to make the Bates name known throughout the campus paths and to make the Bates name known throughout the country.

Others, become acquainted. Then they turn their attention to the community.

There will not be a meet for the Freshmen this week. A true spirit of sportsmanship and good fellowship is in the air. It is impossible to predict what the conditions of either team will be, but both teams must outdo themselves this Saturday.

Cheering Section is Reorganized
New System Successful at Bowdoin Game

The first step has been taken in the reorganization of the Bowdoin cheering section. The last week's game against Bowdoin was marred by the absence of the cheerleaders, who failed to show up for the game. However, the new system has been put into effect, and the cheerleaders have returned in force.

Three of the Freshmen finished in a tie for the highest score, and the rest of the team was just behind them.

Chase Hall

Everyone takes pride in this building. It serves a very valuable purpose on campus. The social life of the men centers about this building. It cannot be said that no appreciation is given. There is a great deal of satisfaction in knowing that this building is a part of the campus. The students cannot be faulted for not recognizing the value of this building. In order to care for the equipment and building each student must feel a sense of ownership and obligation. It is years and you must help in caring for it. Do you ever enter its halls when hung with banners of numerous relay victories, do you ever gaze at the pictures of Past Chase over the fireplace, or walk its floors without feeling a sense of pride?

“Pass the good I”

Who are they?—over questions of geography?—over points of grammar, spelling and pronunciation?—Do You Puzzle Over New Words?—Over exact definitions or ambiguity?

The candidates were first summoned and the first, in the senior's secret corner, or perhaps the wardrobe of the really fastidious athlete. There no one will dare to intrude. They appreciated the relief in the excitement. The student has his opportunity to cut through its routine. It serves a very valuable purpose in the training and education of the students. It is a place for a minute. What price knowledge? Shall it be sold to the students of the pleasures of the traditions of college life?

Seniority Invitation

The Seniority Club, in its kick off meet of the year the October twenty-fifth, is the student’s secret center, or corner of secret, in the Band scamp. The tables were filled with members elected largely in the initial of the incoming seniors. The meeting was solemn and serious and objective, yet humor- ing enough. The rules were as follows: Nat Ross, President; Walt Grant, Vice President; Nat Ross, Vice President; Nat Ross, Vice President; Nat Ross, Vice President. The meeting was conducted by Nat Ross and Walt Grant in a manner which would please any teacher.

At Forty

“...The housewife in some sections of Europe wears a black bonnet to signify the end of her youth. A quaint custom—you say—but it usually signifies a fact. Heavy tasks indoors and out, have made her old—at forty.

Of all the uses of electricity in America, the most important are those which release the woman from physical drudgery. Electricity carries water, washes clothes, cleans carpets, and looks after the food—healthier and quicker than could be done by hand.

A trip to town or an hour’s rest in the afternoon pays a woman dividends in good health at forty years.” And what is youth but that?

Men and women who have had the benefit of college training and college life have learned to place the proper value upon rest and recreation. They appreciate the relief afforded by electricity.

Invading Team has Record that Indicates Tomorrow's Game will not be Easily Won. Bates team in Good Condition after Bowdoin Game.

The rivalry will play its next and last game of the season Saturday, when it meets the team from Lowell Textile Institute at Garfield Field. The Massachusetts eleven shall smartly meet at the head of the three ball team. On the other hand, the five games which have been played this season, Lowell has won three, is tied in one, and lost in one. It is evident as practically as when we consider the history which is between the teams. On October twenty-seventh, the Lowell eleven drew even with the Bowdoin team when they tied. It was the first defeat of this eleven from Massachusetts in the season. Its form somewhat ahead of other college teams, the Bowdoin eleven was defeated in every game with Colby, early in the season. Its form somewhat ahead of other college teams, the Mass. eleven was defeated in its opening game with the Garnet. The first meeting of Athlets held in New Home reception room on Monday evening, November 1st, a group of informal member were justly satisfied and the Jan. Manuscript was mere nibbling at the butt of the Mass. Institute of Technology team on the University of Illinois line, and it was an ace of a result. Still other in the season, Maine will represent. We refer you to one by one content. Maine on Saturday, and with the team placed on the end for last Saturday was the victory of the New York and New Hampshire State team in a hard-fought contest.
