Hub Papers Declare Pres. Gray to be the Winner

Wednesday, March 10, Boston, Mass. Hub was giving its ability to people eager to hear the noted Chicago debate. Professors Clinton Gray and President Martin Browne debated on the subject: "Resolved: That woman's place is in the home.

In speaking of the makeup of man and woman, Dr. Browne said, "A man is as well known to society that he can be just as misrepresented."

Mr. Gray's opening position was that the woman's work is as important as man's. But Mr. Davis, upholder of the affirmation, said that it was so obvious that the woman's work was more important because she was woman.

The picture for the weekly Saturday was described by the group as being a "quick and easy" one. The following speakers were elected: First, Frances B. Davis; Second, Charlotte M. E. Wilson; Third, W. E. Jr. Davis; and Fourth, Miss Eliza F. B. Walker. The schools chosen without a second vote, but it was known that the outcome would be another big step in the history of the Hub.

SCHOLES' PROPOSITION OF 1833

The 1833 Scholes' proposition of the Kansas and Nebraska was that the "best" soldiers should be selected for the army. It was debated on these points:

1. The soldier should have a background of military training.
2. The soldier should be physically fit.
3. The soldier should be mentally fit.

The following speakers were elected: First, Mr. E. H. Brown; Second, Miss E. C. Davis; Third, Mr. W. H. Thompson; and Fourth, Mr. W. H. E. Johnson. The soldiers chosen without a second vote, but it was known that the outcome would be another big step in the history of the Hub.

A notice in the Orange and Blue enthusiastically expresses the gratitude of Campus and College to the University for its splendid 1928-1929 year. It is held up as an example of what our institutions are capable of, and a model for the expressions of our organization which have been so prolific.

The Board is pleased to see that the University has remained strong in its traditions, and that its influence has grown. The Board is grateful to those who have contributed to this success, and looks forward to continued progress in the future.

The dean of women at Heidelberg College has declared that the most important purpose of which "is to bring students closer to each other through the medium of music."

The plan briefly stated is as follows. Every second week half of the girls date at the Men's Ball while half of the men go to the Women's Ball for the second need. The idea is at least interesting.

Northwestern has adopted a new means of forming a bond between the University and the community. The University band, which has been a mainstay of the University since its organization, will now perform at public events in order to bring the University to the people.

Colby is planning the half century celebration of its founding which has been an important event in the history of the University. The celebration will be held in May of this year and will include a variety of events to commemorate the University's past.

University band, all marched to the University by Leonhard Seppala, noted dog driver, who drove through the country itself 15' east of Bowdoin. But the University of Maine, that venerable institution seems to be censoring the awakening of the Chinese people as regards the future of the Union, for the University has forbidden the use of foreign languages in the classrooms. This is an arbitrary act which has caused the unfavorable comment of some students. The President and Secretary, however, have put their time and thought into this matter, and the students are more opposed to the system than the rest were actively in favor of it.

The spring is passing thru the land
And as there are poets.

Another mood comes. We remember
What's in an airy, fairy kiss.
As it is startlingly fleet.
An ecstasy as poignantly sweet.

The cherubs have made the swords of the eagle.
Have made the swords of the eagle.

The arches of desire have spanned
In web of ghostly green arrayed.

The spring is passing thru the land
Amidst blood in man and maid.

Let us forget things for minutes and days
For July the fairies leap and dance a moment
And then—very slowly—annihilate.

I whistle: why not?
I saw a snow-flake in the air,
A shiver of the heart.

The spring is passing thru the land
As there are poets.

Another mood comes. We remember
With the first red haze of the budding
Will it always be like this until I am dead?

First the mood in spring is exultant.
I saw a snow-flake in the air,
A shiver of the heart.

Another mood comes. We remember
Each spring must I bear it all again
As there are poets.

First the mood in spring is exultant.
I saw a snow-flake in the air,
A shiver of the heart.

Will it always be like this until I am dead?
