BOBCATS LOSE TWO BATTLES ON TRIP TO MASSACHUSETTS

Tufts and Brown Victorious.

Bates Team shows Evidence of Forced Lay-off.

After trying vainly four times to play ball in the State of Maine the hardest and longest game, the Bobcats Monday afternoon to play Tufts had a second chance to make the best of it in the decider of the day. Infitant washer has caused the postponement of all the games which is scheduled to be played.

The Bates game was played with the University of Maine. The team has looked for favorable weather conditions for the past. The field has not been used in the last few years, but it is expected to be in good condition.

The game started at 3:00 p.m. and the Tufts team made a score of 5 runs in the first inning.

The Bates team struggled in the second inning but were able to get only 1 run. In the third inning the Bates team made a score of 4 runs, bringing the total score to 9 runs for the Bates team.

In the fourth inning, the Tufts team scored 3 runs, bringing the total score to 12 runs for the Tufts team. The Bates team continued to struggle in the remaining in innings and was unable to score any runs.

The final score was 12-0 in favor of Tufts.

College Graduate

Attacked as Snob, Loser and Waster

Professor Wyman, who has given class开学 since the beginning of the year, has been attacked as a snob, a loser and a waster in an article published in the Bates Woman's Companion. The article, written by the editor of the paper, portrays the problem of a young college graduate and how he is viewed by the society at large.

The writer says that it is absurd to think of a college graduate as someone who is not interested in material things and who seeks comfort for the sake of comfort alone.

The article concludes by saying that the problem of the college graduate is one that needs to be addressed by society as a whole.

The BATES STUDENT, FRIDAY, MAY 20, 1927

The Garnet Sport Pan "Not" Op. Editor

Well, Brandies has put another State record on the books. This was a fine victory, we are told, for Brandies. The number one on the books now is a worthwhile victory. Next year the meet will again be in our hands, and there will be a different story to tell.

The weather was reasonably good, but the meet was a little late. It was a fine opportunity to get a good taste of the beauty of the campus. There was no lack of sunshine, but there was a good deal of wind.

The meet was a success, and we hope that next year it will be even more successful.

Yale to Construct New Law Buildings

Development Will Occupy One Entire Block

New Haven, Conn., May 19—Yale University has announced plans for the new buildings for the Law School. The buildings will be erected at the junction of the estates of the late John W. Storrs, who owned the property, and the City of New Haven, and will furnish Dr. Storrs's remains a proper resting place.

The buildings will be occupied for the first time during the fall of 1928, and will be used for the Law School and the University in general.

The buildings will be constructed of granite and marble, and will be adorned with statues and other decorations.

The buildings will be opened to the public on the day of dedication, which will be the third of October.

Twilight Symphonies

Several months ago we heard reasons that this Spring would see the Bates Orphpie Society giving a supper concert on the steps of Corum Library. Immediately we had visions of warm, lazy evenings, perhaps sitting on the steps on a lawn chair, listening to the music being given by some devoted students from their books, exotic seads wandering beneath the campus maples, and the soft strains of orchestral symphonies pouring forth in the twilight. It was a real romance.

Well, it didn't materialize, and we realized that a large part of our admiration for the music of the Bs was due to our imaginations.

This week we were given the chance to realize that our imaginations were more accurate than we had given them credit for.

It was the twilight symphonies of the Bates College Band, and they were a real treat.

Troy Atkinson, '29, and William M. Johnson, '29, both of the band, are the conductors of the group, and they have been working hard to produce a symphony that will be a real treat for the eyes and ears of the students.

The symphony will be given on the steps of the library on the afternoon of the first of June. The program will consist of a selection from Tchaikovsky's "Pathetique," and a selection from Beethoven's "Pastoral Symphony."

The band will be accompanied by the Bates College Choir, under the direction of Miss Alice Bonney Record, '96.

The symphony will be given at 8:00 o'clock, and will continue until 9:30.

The program will be repeated on the afternoon of the second of June, at 2:00 o'clock.

In 1925, the Band was voted the most popular group in the college, and it is expected that the symphony will be a great success.

The College Band is under the direction of Mr. Albert H. Johnson, and it is the most active and popular group in the college.

The symphony will be broadcast over the college radio station WCTR on the evenings of the first and second of June.

The symphony will be given as a part of the program of the college's spring graduation exercises.

FINE PROGRAMME ENDS SEASON MACPHERLANE

Last Monday evening in Rand Hall an exceptionally planned programme was presented by the MacPherson Club. The many hours of good music which were present certainly appreciated the efforts of the programme committee and the audience. After the intermission the musical portion of the programme marked the culmination of the season's work of this college year. The programme, consisting of both vocal and instrumental music, was varied enough to please everyone.

Programme:

2. Vocal Quartet—Friends, a new composition of three minutes duration.
6. Instrumental Trios Song—Wagner.
7. Vocal Trios—Friends—Marie B. Borden, Eagle, Black, Marion Black.
9. Vocal Trio—"Song of the School"—*Marie B. Borden, Elizabeth Price, Dorothy Eames.
10. Instrumental Song—Wagner.
11. Vocal solo—Friends—*Marie B. Borden.
12. Vocal solo—Friends—*Dorothy Eames.

DEAN PEOPLES GIVES VOCATIONAL TALK

Shows Value of Higher Degree of Education

"Personality and Position" was the theme of a one-hour talk given by Dean Peeples at a meeting of the Sophomore and Junior classes last Tuesday evening. The talk dealt with the results of the decade of today in the American social system. It was only comparatively recently that the value of the liberal education has been recognized by the American youth. Considering the value and ultimate success of the liberal education, the talk was made to work into the final department of the liberal education, the high school graduate, Dean Peeples reported the many ways in which the liberal education has proven its worth. Practically there are certain definite advantages of the college girl over the more limited education. She is more adaptable, more versatile, and a broader background. Furthermore, there is the matter of employment. It is the small things, and being versatile, it is the small things which are the really important types of training. The training is to start on a low rung of the corporate ladder quickly as ability permits.

"It is on the average and varied work one year open to women, Miss Peeples reported. Specialization in some department of a large branch of work is not necessary for the many departments of medicine, law, and the like. Some of the college work is individual upon her graduation from college, but a large amount of the training is over in the liberal education. Dean Peeples, in conclusion, urged the college girl to show that she is self-sufficient and increasingly determining and more and more use the中国市场goes.

OF THE STUDENT. It is planned to have as well the activities of the student body.

Those of Oxford and Cambridge.

The University is unable to give full financial support for the expense of the trip but debaters plan to pay part of them by working.

They say that a certain faculty mem-
