1-20-1928

The Bates Student - volume 56 number 02 - January 20, 1928

Bates College

Follow this and additional works at: http://scarab.bates.edu/bates_student

Recommended Citation
http://scarab.bates.edu/bates_student/360

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Archives and Special Collections at SCARAB. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Bates Student by an authorized administrator of SCARAB. For more information, please contact batesscarab@bates.edu.
Tour for Debaters Planned in New York Number Committee Includes Prexy and ex-Governor Milliken

Last week President Prexy attended the annual winter carnival of the New York City Association of Colleges for Women in New York. The women's debate teams from 10 New England and Middle Atlantic institutions were interested in meet next is a highlight of the season for the Bates Women's Debate Team. Prexy and Milliken, ex-Governor of Maine were honored at the dinner of the Association of Colleges for Women.

Columbia's Tackle Bag Full

Dr. George J. Thorndike, Columbia's football coach, welcomed his team back from the season's final outing full of the spirit of victory. The Columbia team was victorious over the Aggies of Texas A. & M. in a thrilling game in front of 25,000 fans at the Cotton Bowl. The score was 14-0.

Winter Carnival Coming Directly After Mid-Years

The Winter Carnival annually staged under the auspices of the Student Council will be held this year on Thursday, January 26.

Two More Lectures Given in Girls' Vocational Series

On Monday evening of this week, the Red Cross chapter staged a lecture on the care of burns by Miss A. F. Foster, of the Red Cross, and on Tuesday evening, a lecture on the training of nurses was given by Miss M. E. Prentiss of the Boston Hospital.

The Knights of Columbus, sponsored by the Student Council of Bates College, will present a short play on Thursday, January 26, at 8 p.m. in the Gymnasium. The play is entitled "The Story of the Little White Ship." The cast consists of many of the regular members of the college dramatic group, and the play will be produced under the direction of Mrs. H. M. Withington, who will act as stage manager.

Y. W. M. Instrsles

Coming Jan. 28

West Pakistan

Several prominent women and young women of the city will be returning home during the week with the report on the condition in Pakistan and the West Point Cadets. Both the United States and the United Nations have given the opportunity to the women to explore the conditions in the second period, such taking a part in the world conference on the Arabic world, is to be held this month in the World Council of Churches on the Arabic world, is to be held this month in the World Council of Churches. The delegates from the United States and the United Nations will be represented at the conference by Dr. Francis B. Park, President of Bates College, and Miss Margaret H. Beall, who is to be the representative of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

The delegates of the United States and the United Nations will be represented at the conference by Dr. Francis B. Park, President of Bates College, and Miss Margaret H. Beall, who is to be the representative of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Lambdha Alpha has a Get-together

To night, at the Town House, the Lamda Alpha’s reunion and the Bates girls, the Lamda Alphas, and their friends gathered to give in the form of a bridge party. The Lamda Alphas are a group of women who are interested in bridge and who meet regularly to play the game.

Winter is Here

Outing Club

Ready to Help

Winter has come at last and the Outing Club is ready with a large program of winter sports and plans for the season. The club is run by a group of students who are interested in outdoor activities, and they are always looking for new members.

The club offers a variety of activities, from skiing and snowmobiling to snowshoeing and cross-country running. They also have a team that competes in various winter sports, and they host social events for their members.

The club is open to all students and is a great way to stay active and have fun during the winter months. For more information, contact the club at (phone number 123-4567) or visit their website at outingclub.bates.edu.
Subscriptions, $12.50 per year In advance.

opinion should decide as to whether this much-discussed tradition than live on as something to be laughed at. Faculty and student immune to changes by usage and custom. When the fathers gathered changeth, yielding place to new. "It is easy to imagine this hoary

This custom has so little force that it has become little more than a gible tradition. There are traditions, perhaps pseudo-traditions, pledge themselves to a certain candidate, with the development of a fairly efficient system but entirely different from what other examples can be cited, such as the non-enforcement of the Massidate. A fairly efficient system but entirely different from what

We agree with our friend. Small

"The old order changeth, yielding place to new." It is easy to imagine this hoary

Mildred E. Beckman, '30

Bichard 1. Stickney, '30

Philip E. Tetreau, '29

James N. Solomon, Jr., '29

Lawrence C. LeBeau, '29

Printed by Merrill & Webber Co., Auburn, Me.

"The old order changeth, yielding place to new." It is easy to imagine this hoary

Tempos fugit, O tempora, O mores, sounds forth just as frequently

We refer our attention to the tradition, as set forth in the administration booklet, which states that Bates men shall not smoke on the campus. This custom has so little force that it has become little more than a

The Chase Hall Dance last Saturday night was planned in the Armory, and a good crowd gathered in the bleachers of the basketball court. The dance was well attended and enjoyed by all who attended.

The dream of the winter sports team

Bates is not without its traditions. Many of them are in the figures which stand with bored minds in reverence for an insatiable

troo of some seven years sit for hours

We refer our attention to the tradition, as set forth in the administration

booklet, which states that Bates men shall not smoke on the campus. This custom has so little force that it has become little more than a

The Chase Hall Dance last Saturday night was planned in the Armory, and a good crowd gathered in the bleachers of the basketball court. The dance was well attended and enjoyed by all who attended.
Student Committee Devises New Plan

"Blue Slips" to be Filled Out by Societies Which Want Special Dates

The "Blue Slips" plan makes a wide advance in the program of the Student Committee on Student Functions. This plan provides that an organization wishing to secure a date for a special program will first fill out the slip, obtainable at the office of the Dean of Women, or from Howard Bull, the chairman of the committee. The name of the group, name of the speaker, and date and place of the program are filled in and the form, thus filled out, is returned to the committee. In the average case it will be a simple matter to arrange for a date; however, in the case of special meetings such as senior balls, the committee will have to arrange for governing more completely the Chase Hall functions.

Last fall, the committee met, the faculty decided upon the policy, making one or two restrictions. The first of these was to the effect that no organization should monopolize the dates—that all should divide them equally. The next was that preference should be given to organizations which would benefit the college—in other words—to college societies only.

According to the New Student Service, last year's constitution have been mentioned, and one or two restrictions. The first of these was to the effect that no organization should monopolize the dates—that all should divide them equally. The next was that preference should be given to organizations which would benefit the college—in other words—to college societies only.

The committee on student organizations, which was appointed by President Gray before the last two are Juniors and all the others are Sophomores. The committee has been formed, and those committees have been directed by the Student Committee on Student Functions. After this report of the committee in charge of the social functions has been submitted, the committee will make recommendations for the future social life of the college. It is expected that the committee will meet at least once a week and that its meetings will be announced in the campus paper.

The University of Maine has disapproved of the inactivity of its faculty the past few years and has, on the contrary, the charge that the faculty is too active, that it is giving too much time to the outside world. This is not true, however, as is shown by the fact that the faculty has been making more and more of the work of the university.

Among the members of the committee are: Dean of the College, James F. Hart; Dean of the University, James K. Hanes; Dean of Students, Walter J. LeClerc; Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Frederick H. Wilbur; President of Boston College.

The University of Maine has disapproved of the inactivity of its faculty the past few years and has, on the contrary, the charge that the faculty is too active, that it is giving too much time to the outside world. This is not true, however, as is shown by the fact that the faculty has been making more and more of the work of the university.

Among the members of the committee are: Dean of the College, James F. Hart; Dean of the University, James K. Hanes; Dean of Students, Walter J. LeClerc; Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Frederick H. Wilbur; President of Boston College.

The University of Maine has disapproved of the inactivity of its faculty the past few years and has, on the contrary, the charge that the faculty is too active, that it is giving too much time to the outside world. This is not true, however, as is shown by the fact that the faculty has been making more and more of the work of the university.

Among the members of the committee are: Dean of the College, James F. Hart; Dean of the University, James K. Hanes; Dean of Students, Walter J. LeClerc; Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Frederick H. Wilbur; President of Boston College.

The University of Maine has disapproved of the inactivity of its faculty the past few years and has, on the contrary, the charge that the faculty is too active, that it is giving too much time to the outside world. This is not true, however, as is shown by the fact that the faculty has been making more and more of the work of the university.

Among the members of the committee are: Dean of the College, James F. Hart; Dean of the University, James K. Hanes; Dean of Students, Walter J. LeClerc; Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Frederick H. Wilbur; President of Boston College.

The University of Maine has disapproved of the inactivity of its faculty the past few years and has, on the contrary, the charge that the faculty is too active, that it is giving too much time to the outside world. This is not true, however, as is shown by the fact that the faculty has been making more and more of the work of the university.

Among the members of the committee are: Dean of the College, James F. Hart; Dean of the University, James K. Hanes; Dean of Students, Walter J. LeClerc; Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Frederick H. Wilbur; President of Boston College.

The University of Maine has disapproved of the inactivity of its faculty the past few years and has, on the contrary, the charge that the faculty is too active, that it is giving too much time to the outside world. This is not true, however, as is shown by the fact that the faculty has been making more and more of the work of the university.

Among the members of the committee are: Dean of the College, James F. Hart; Dean of the University, James K. Hanes; Dean of Students, Walter J. LeClerc; Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Frederick H. Wilbur; President of Boston College.

The University of Maine has disapproved of the inactivity of its faculty the past few years and has, on the contrary, the charge that the faculty is too active, that it is giving too much time to the outside world. This is not true, however, as is shown by the fact that the faculty has been making more and more of the work of the university.

Among the members of the committee are: Dean of the College, James F. Hart; Dean of the University, James K. Hanes; Dean of Students, Walter J. LeClerc; Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Frederick H. Wilbur; President of Boston College.

The University of Maine has disapproved of the inactivity of its faculty the past few years and has, on the contrary, the charge that the faculty is too active, that it is giving too much time to the outside world. This is not true, however, as is shown by the fact that the faculty has been making more and more of the work of the university.

Among the members of the committee are: Dean of the College, James F. Hart; Dean of the University, James K. Hanes; Dean of Students, Walter J. LeClerc; Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Frederick H. Wilbur; President of Boston College.

The University of Maine has disapproved of the inactivity of its faculty the past few years and has, on the contrary, the charge that the faculty is too active, that it is giving too much time to the outside world. This is not true, however, as is shown by the fact that the faculty has been making more and more of the work of the university.

Among the members of the committee are: Dean of the College, James F. Hart; Dean of the University, James K. Hanes; Dean of Students, Walter J. LeClerc; Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Frederick H. Wilbur; President of Boston College.

The University of Maine has disapproved of the inactivity of its faculty the past few years and has, on the contrary, the charge that the faculty is too active, that it is giving too much time to the outside world. This is not true, however, as is shown by the fact that the faculty has been making more and more of the work of the university.

Among the members of the committee are: Dean of the College, James F. Hart; Dean of the University, James K. Hanes; Dean of Students, Walter J. LeClerc; Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Frederick H. Wilbur; President of Boston College.

The University of Maine has disapproved of the inactivity of its faculty the past few years and has, on the contrary, the charge that the faculty is too active, that it is giving too much time to the outside world. This is not true, however, as is shown by the fact that the faculty has been making more and more of the work of the university.

Among the members of the committee are: Dean of the College, James F. Hart; Dean of the University, James K. Hanes; Dean of Students, Walter J. LeClerc; Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Frederick H. Wilbur; President of Boston College.
Garnet Debaters to Uphold Affirmative Side of Question Extra-territoriality Treaties in China is Subject

On Monday evening, January 23rd, Bates will meet Yale University at New Haven in a debate on the proposition: Bates will meet Yale University at New Haven in a debate on the proposition: 'FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC TREATIES TO DATE HAVE NOT RECOGNIZED THE RIGHT OF CHINA TO ITS OWN TERRITORY."

BATES DEBATERS TO MEET YALE TEAM MONDAY NIGHT

West Park leads the International basketball league this year, and from all appearances looks as though it could claim the trophy that East Parker has held for the last two years. They have fast, well organized teams, and have promptly taken the lead in other departments they have played. Johnson and Foster are the individual stars, but they have been held behind when it comes to filling up baskets.

West Park heads with Roger Williams, Occ-Camp, and John Bertram. Their one game so far, however, John Bertram runs second in the tourney, having just lost a game with the best-organized band. The other teams have played but two games, and lost one of those. They have turned in a victory. This was the Occ-Camp team, which played the East Parker team and won by three goals. Two books will be donated to the Occ-Camp and East Parker teams for each of their victories.

The editor is a professor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The secretary, John Bertram, will help in the tourney. The editor will hold the debate in the thirty-minute period following the debate with Roger Williams. The debate will be held on Tuesday, January 23rd.

The editor is a professor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The secretary, John Bertram, will help in the tourney. The editor will hold the debate in the thirty-minute period following the debate with Roger Williams. The debate will be held on Tuesday, January 23rd.