Juniors and Seniors in Tie for Second Place

The Freshman class is sitting proudly step by step the leap after one of the best in and out of the basketball tourney staged at Bates. Led by Stanton, Flately and Bornstein, the Freshmen closed out in all three games and definitely asserted their superiority, rolling up 131 points to 55 for the Sophs, 136 to 59 for the Juniors, and 146 to 60 for the Seniors.

On the opening night the Freshmenipped out with their right foot and opened the basketball season Senior 52-27. Stanton and Flately were the big guns in the Freshman attack scoring 20 and 15 points respectively.

As usual the Freshmen brought the 39ths into the cellar; in fact, the Sophs did them in. The Juniors were outflanked but not defeated and the tournament started and ended with the Juniors. Smith started for 24 and Carrive upheld the honors for the Sophomore team.

Last contesting the Freshman team was in the third contest of the opening games between the Sophs and the Juniors. The Sophs did not flinch in the face of their challenges; the Sophs were not to be trifled with. The game was a long one and the Sophs were able to get the best of it.

The basketball tourney, placed at the disposal of the junior class, served as a type of competition between school and college. The Freshmen will most likely come out as the winners.

The opening night of the basketball season featured the Freshmen and the Sophs. The game was a close one and the Sophs were able to get the best of it.

The basketball season for the junior class is off to a good start. The Sophs are the team to beat and the Juniors are the team to watch. The Freshmen are just getting started and will walk away with a decisive victory.

Dr. W. J. Moulton Speaks
The debate was very interesting and the last round was won by the Senior team. The debate was continued and the Juniors were able to get the best of it. The Juniors are the team to beat and the Sophs are the team to watch. The Freshmen are just getting started and will walk away with a decisive victory.

With a Clean Slate

Come Through Tournament

As was expected, the Sophomore class chalked up a win in the Basketball Tournament this year. The Sophomore women decisively showed their superiority in the game by not allowing the Juniors to cross the 100 mark.

The final standing:

Sophomores 2 0
Seniors 1 1
Juniors 1 2
Freshmen 0 3

The second concert of the year given by the Music Department will go on sale at the City Hall at 12.30 P.M. A special concert was given by the ensemble of the music department to the selection of the Junior choir, the Freshman choir, and the Sophomore choir.

The Junior choir, under the direction of Mr. George Drabble, and the Sophomore choir, under the direction of Mr. Harry Green, will sing on the program.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR CREDITS

We are often introduced to the well-worn statement that there are far too many extra-curricular activities in college life, while there seems to be a growing sentiment that such activities have been without notable accomplishments. Certain students are far too preoccupied with the part of the curriculum to give much attention to the extramural activities. And yet, the opportunity to participate in a variety of activities is one of the more important aspects of college life. The student who does not take advantage of these opportunities loses a valuable part of his college experience.

In recent years, the college has made efforts to improve the quality of its extramural activities. The administration has worked to ensure that the recognition given to extramural participation is fair and meaningful. This has been achieved by creating a system of extra-curricular credits that rewards students for their participation in extramural activities.

The system is designed to recognize and reward students for their participation in activities that contribute to the college community. The credits are not awarded for participation in extramural activities that are not approved by the college. The system is designed to ensure that the extramural activities are conducted in a manner that is consistent with the college's values and standards.

The system is open to all students, and the credits can be accumulated over the course of a student's college career. The credits can be used to supplement the student's academic work, and can be used to help students achieve their goals.

The system is intended to encourage students to participate in extramural activities that contribute to the college community. The system is designed to provide recognition for the efforts of students who participate in such activities. The system is intended to encourage students to participate in extramural activities that contribute to the college community.

In conclusion, the extra-curricular credits system is an important part of the college's commitment to providing a well-rounded education. The system is designed to reward students for their participation in extramural activities that contribute to the college community. The system is intended to encourage students to participate in extramural activities that contribute to the college community.

The Institute of International Education has sent out the following notice to American colleges which is of special interest to sophomores:

"American college students can now spend the junior year in France. This year's junior program of study consists of two years of an American college and a summer session of a French university. Travel in France, room and board, tuition fees, and all other necessary expenses except clothing will be granted by most colleges. No courses are available in the language. A minimum of four years of French, in high school and in college, is required. A limited number of scholarships of $1,000 each will be awarded only to students who are to be members of organized and supervised groups approved by the Committee on Junior Study in France. Preference will be given to students who can demonstrate a civilization other than one's own. Opportunity to see and to possess in half of the countries of Europe collections of painting and sculpture; and possessions of time in the college course and at an average twelve weeks vacation trip to Europe.

The most important problem that confronts seniors during their last semester in school is choosing the 'job' that will begin when campus-days are over. To make the right start in the business world is the ambition of every college man. And must men with foresight and vision realize that it does not matter so much where they start or what they do, as long as there is a good chance for future advancement.

To college men of that type the S. S. Kresge Company offers exactly that sort of an opportunity. We are picking college trained men for our future store managers. These men begin at the bottom exactly that sort of an opportunity. We are picking college trained men for our future store managers. These men begin at the bottom and are thoroughly schooled in Kresge methods of store operation. They are given experience in every department of our rapidly expanding business, and when their training is completed, they are placed in charge of our stores—dignified positions that carry incomes above the average.

If you think that you can fill our requirements and are willing to work hard and study our business, write to our personnel department. A graduate of your own college who has found his future in our organization will be sent to see you.

American college students can now spend the junior year in France. Junior courses for which full credit will be granted by most colleges toward the Bachelor of Arts degree. The program of work is not as easy as one and only those should undertake it whose record at college has been uniformly high. A minimum of four years of French, in high school and college, is required. Preference will be given to students who can demonstrate a civilization other than one's own. Opportunity to see and to possess in half of the countries of Europe collections of painting and sculpture; and possessions of time in the college course and at an average twelve weeks vacation trip to Europe.

Before I took up the Kresge work I had carefully studied the opportunity in more detail. I had attended the University of Pennsylvania Law School and had been admitted to the practice of law in the States of Pennsylvania and Ohio. I had previous experience of a few months character, and carrying to the most present circum-
