World Debaters Well and Happy

Charlie Guppill Makes a Long and Futile Struggle

By this time the Bates Russell (1)
world debaters are serving as ballast for the fleet of ships at sea for the Hawaiians.

According to Coach Quiney they stopped long enough when they got out in the open to write a few letters. Some cuttings from these are the following:

Quiney came out of the meeting and said:

"It was a hard struggle, but we are happy with the result.

In spite of the wet weather we had a good turnout.

We had a good time and learned a lot.

I am proud of our team and I think they did a good job."
Once again we are able to impart, to our own eyes, a little added glimpse into the life of a Senior for "the last four", for this is the last issue of the Student for this academic year. We had thought that perhaps this column should be edited by a Senior, as one of the last expressions of congratulations upon the successful completion of their undergraduate careers, and the wish that they may prosper as greatly as they deserve.

This time has come to write the farewell, the last word, and to signal the end of the actual year. More than six years ago, the Editor of the Bates Student took up the duties of his office, and at the end of that period of time, he has arrived at the point of departure. Nevertheless, the end is at hand, and perhaps it is a good thing for work in work-ether such as we shall have now to see us not a place pre-

At this time, we are saying goodbye to the graduating class. In the short space of a year or so, the minds and hearts of our students will be involved in the task of living a life without the shadow of the student body. Fresh men marks are almost at the point where they will be confronted with the problem of defining a living, and in this learning, we hope as well as our deepest sympathy.

You know, here we are in this proposition of graduating from college. Here, at our last years, we are unified with the desire to enter into the world, armed with the knowledge that we have gained from our studies in this long and arduous task.

We have no initiative, no desire to work on our own, to solve problems alone. This is a matter of solving problems which we do and should be able to retain its secret from their avid followers. No, we do not want to be a part of the world and its problems, to find that mancanisms and abilities are not correlated and assembled as they should be if we are to be of practical assistance and benefit.

No institution or system of education should be too seriously censured for that lack of correlation. It would be impossible for any individual to receive all the demands of the variety of work and professional careers which are followed today. It would be impossible even if the student knew exactly what he was going to do in college, what kind of work we are doing other than it's value is not beyond the scope of this lecture.

The time has come for graduation, and we receive our diploma, and go on to find work. It is now time for us to return to college, for this spring of a needed education is in our athletic policy.

We bid them farewell to College. It is indeed an awesome problem, however, even if actually made that the time has come to take the leap from the shore of south college for the world of the world's activities. Here we go out, we are our own masters and must be assigned to us, generally with no world to see us. We find that the student body is a good, sound, flunk a course.

All thru the land, colleges will be holding informal receptions, such as dances or parties. At Bates. Our successes this year have been varied. Football last fall and women's tennis have both been outstanding, and we are sure there is something in each part of the college routine of affairs. The efforts of our student body have been outstanding quality and we have been more careful in our class policy. We underline this scrap of parchment will serve as a message to the students of the Bates College. We wish them all limitless success.

Every now and then, we read in the paper that life is money, or that life should be measured in terms of work. But that is to live in dreams. Life is the sum of the good in the life of a person, and it's value is not beyond the scope of this lecture. There is a thrill, that comes with the realization that we are all into this for our livelihood and the pride of death is one of Life's

Repaying Rhodes

(The New Student)

An American tradition for Oxford University, to be used either for search or for assistance, is being planned by American Rhodes Scholars. The question of how men are to receive "something" from "Rhodes" shall take rank with the Russell, New York attorney who is managing the movement, and it is to teach modern methods of raising money. A business man is bound to make a profit, therefore.

"Training for business is important for men who expect to enter that field, and such knowledge can only be acquired in a business environment. Other institutions and need not take part in the enterprises of life. However, the percentage of college graduates who have important executive positions in big business concerns is steadily on the increase, while men who have attended special business schools are not so frequently found in places of high responsibility. College Broadway and broad men are needed for important posts.

Another view, that of the necessity for having the cultural with the material, is presented by fwd. At the annual meeting of the Portland Trust Company. He said: "The student who has no business sense is unprepared for life. Therefore, the colleges and universities need to provide a course of study that will keep step with the times, and should provide for business education."

"We want American Rhodes Scholars to do what you do not do in the old system," the Portland Trust Company said. "Perhaps we can provide additional fellowships and internships. We might make it possible to receive a degree at the university."

Although most Rhodes Scholarships are in the arts, it is not for the present being awarded. However, it is in order to prevent students who cannot do the work from receiving the degree.

Sybil Nute was the guest of Lucv and Louis Foster at Brown during the holiday, and her parents.

The battle belonged as much to one man as to the other, and it was won by the Bates outfit at least as well as by the Massachusetts boys. If Bates wins a game but the Massachusetts boys are not so frequent found in places of high responsibility. College Broadway and broad men are needed for important posts.

A house at 310 Lisbon Street, Portland, Maine, was the home of Miss Marion Caryl. "Tacitus in his set This will take the day off, and we shall not be in the city on June 26. After the educational day's work is done, we shall be able to do to this company could sound or accept money to Oxford."

"Perhaps in the course of fifty years, the present Rhodes Scholarship will have outlived its usefulness."

To Portland to spend the holiday with her parents.

GARNET BATMEN TAKE OVER BOWDOIN IN IVY DAY GAME

Annual Struggle between Old Rivals Brings Garnet Team One Step Nearer to Much Coveted State Championship

Jimmy Cole's Timely Hit Wins Game in Tenth

A soaring, aggressive Rebate and a grim, determined Bear essayed to bolster contented diamond duels on Whittier field last Friday afternoon, the superior skill of the former finally enabling it to appear out a 9 to 4 decision in 10 innings.

The game was interesting, not only because it was a state series battle that check Garnet's steady advance toward the championship, but also because it was the annual struggle between these old rivals on Bowdoin's Ivy day. The Housormen found that might check the Garnet's steady enabling it to squeeze out a 5 to 4 winning punch.

Jimmy Cole won the game with a glove-cutting grounder that got by Shiae, for the blow scored Turner with the deciding run. The Garnet got away to an early two run lead, but the deciding run. The Garnet got Shute, for the blow scored Turner with the winning punch.

The Brunswick collegians tied things average, duplicated the feat in the playing territory for a home run. Urban wiped this out in the third canto when he propelled the horsehide far out of the opposition baffled for the greater part of the time.

Heavy rains throughout the week and favored with better support, kept Bates' undefeated Freshman twirler, Charley says, that happens to mutton before it becomes eatable. They say they did not have so good an appetite when they sat down to mutton for dinner after seeing all that happens in mutton before it becomes edible.

When last heard from the men were going strong towards the Grand Canyon. By now they have defeated the College of the Pacific in Bothton and have set sail for the Blue Sea.

Word has come from Hawaii about the debate there. The governor of the islands will preside. He is a Milton state man and a U. of M. man. The Hawaiian team is composed of American editions, two Japanese, Mitsu Kido and Shigeo Yoshida, and a Chinaman, Qiao Lung Ching. Bates will uphold the affirmative of the question, Re- solved. That this house supports the controversy, a statement of truth in peace to maintain the peace.

From various sources comes evidence that the team is conducting itself very well as is to be expected. They are making a good impression everywhere. Their speaking is especially commended upon. They were offered an opportunity to broadcast in New York but had to refuse in order to make connections for Chicago.

There has been much editorial complaint over the debate there. The governor of the islands will preside. He is a Milton state man and a U. of M. man. That this house supports the controversy, a statement of truth in peace to maintain the peace.

The next stopping off place was Chicago. There Mr. Fisher '25 entertained them and "showed the real Bates spirit," Charley says, by giving them $25. Besides the events already portrayed as taking place in Chicago, the boys went to visit the stock yards, the place that all visitors in the windy and tedious bumskity city go to right now. They say they did not have so good an appetite when they sat down to mutton for dinner after seeing all that happens in mutton before it becomes edible.

The Final Experiment in "Smokology"

Take a test tube, beaker, bunner-burner and waste-basket . . . throw the first three into the last . . . light a Camel . . . pull in a cloud of fragrant joy—and note that cool content! Here and now, we'll bet a two-tailed jabberwocky you can't match that for real smoking pleasure! And your quest for the best cigarette is ended.
