Bates Bobcats Yield Hard Fought Battle to Aggies

Garnet Team Showed Much Improvement Over First Game Despite Defeat at Hands of Massachusetts. Team. Playing of Secor and Anthony Features

A fighting Bates Bobcat was again" beaten by a resilient Aggie team on Saturday afternoon, but the margin was much smaller than the score indicated. The Bobcats were unable to take full advantage of their opportunities and were unable to convert several of them into touchdowns. The Aggies, on the other hand, were able to make the most of their chances and scored three touchdowns to the Bobcats' one. The game was a hard-fought battle, with both teams giving their all in an effort to come out on top.

The Bobcats had a chance to score early in the game, but were unable to capitalize on their opportunities. The Aggies, on the other hand, were able to take advantage of their opportunities and scored the team's first touchdown of the game.

The Bobcats came within striking distance of tying the game late in the second half, but were unable to convert their opportunities into points. The Aggies, on the other hand, were able to make the most of their chances and scored the team's second touchdown of the game.

The Aggies continued to dominate the game in the second half, scoring the team's third touchdown of the game to put the game out of reach for the Bobcats. The Aggies went on to win the game by a score of 27-6, putting an end to the Bobcats' hopes of a victory.

The Bobcats will be looking to bounce back from this loss as they prepare for their next game. They will be looking to improve their play and make the most of their opportunities in order to come out on top.

done for the rally tonight. The Bobcats have narrowed their group to 7 tonight.

Some real Organized Cheering.

Bates Graduates are Successful in Music

Erie B. Renwick, class of 17 Americans

Erie B. Renwick, 17, a "grad" who has made his musical work in the orchestras of the American Opera Company, has been prominent in many lines of work. He is editor-in-chief of the student opinion is of much more importance than the beautiful people who have been prominent in many lines of work. He is editor-in-chief of the student opinion is of much more importance than the beautiful people who have been prominent in many lines of work.

During the past few months Art B. Renwick, class of 17 Americans, has been prominent in many lines of work. He is editor-in-chief of the student opinion is of much more importance than the beautiful people who have been prominent in many lines of work. He is editor-in-chief of the student opinion is of much more importance than the beautiful people who have been prominent in many lines of work.

To sum up, the Bobcats have a bright future ahead. With the right attitude and determination, they will be able to come out on top in their next game. They will be looking to improve their play and make the most of their opportunities in order to come out on top.
You will find you printed in your copies of the Student for this week, a form of survey to be conducted between now and the issue in which the change is to occur. This ballot is to be used in determining the sentiment of students throughout the United States in a final analysis of collegiate results will be included with those of a great number of other colleges.

College life offers no privacy. For the man or woman who, in his or her dreams, would be a monarch of the world, in college life is a nightmare. It is too true, of course, that there are such people in the community. Worse for the community if there were not. College is, or is supposed to be, a school of public relations. It is to prepare students to be efficient members of society. Education—the knowledge means to lead out of one’s utmost the possibilities that lie there. Who wants, and who has the least chance, to discover his innermost secret self in a daily round of noisy dormitory, clinging dining hall, busy campus, and feverish fraternity house.

There is absolutely no place in this college, with all its offers, where a man may be quietly alone with himself. If by desperate trick he does get away, he is pursued by those who are afraid to let anyone be alone, the collegiate Rotarians.

We believe there are many cases in this college of vital personal traits that had to be substituted because of sensitive horror of college life. It offers little encouragement to the sensitive. It is unfatally insists on immediate and complete conformity. As usual, conformity means the level of the lowest, or the level of a low antecedents, religious affiliations and intelligence of those participating in the polls. But it is interesting to consider how this affects the kind of values that students hold, and the current we will think with sorrow of the students of this college.

Don't be sorry, we didn't mean to preach a sermon,—but we do want you to vote.

STRAW BALLOT

Privacy

We are printing below an editorial from the Tuft's Weekly, which is a fine expression of certain thoughts which come to each one of us at odd moments during our four years of college life. May you find a little time and solitude in which to think about it.

College Life offers no privacy. For the man or woman who, in his or her dreams, would be a monarch of the world, in college life is a nightmare. It is too true, of course, that there are such people in the community. Worse for the community if there were not. College is, or is supposed to be, a school of public relations. It is to prepare students to be efficient members of society. Education—the knowledge means to lead out of one’s utmost the possibilities that lie there. Who wants, and who has the least chance, to discover his innermost secret self in a daily round of noisy dormitory, clinging dining hall, busy campus, and feverish fraternity house.

There is absolutely no place in this college, with all its offers, where a man may be quietly alone with himself. If by desperate trick he does get away, he is pursued by those who are afraid to let anyone be alone, the collegiate Rotarians.

We believe there are many cases in this college of vital personal traits that had to be substituted because of sensitive horror of college life. It offers little encouragement to the sensitive. It is unfatally insists on immediate and complete conformity. As usual, conformity means the level of the lowest, or the level of a low antecedents, religious affiliations and intelligence of those participating in the polls. But it is interesting to consider how this affects the kind of values that students hold, and the current we will think with sorrow of the students of this college.

Don't be sorry, we didn't mean to preach a sermon,—but we do want you to vote.

STRAW BALLOT

Privacy

We are printing below an editorial from the Tuft's Weekly, which is a fine expression of certain thoughts which come to each one of us at odd moments during our four years of college life. May you find a little time and solitude in which to think about it.

College Life offers no privacy. For the man or woman who, in his or her dreams, would be a monarch of the world, in college life is a nightmare. It is too true, of course, that there are such people in the community. Worse for the community if there were not. College is, or is supposed to be, a school of public relations. It is to prepare students to be efficient members of society. Education—the knowledge means to lead out of one’s utmost the possibilities that lie there. Who wants, and who has the least chance, to discover his innermost secret self in a daily round of noisy dormitory, clinging dining hall, busy campus, and feverish fraternity house.

There is absolutely no place in this college, with all its offers, where a man may be quietly alone with himself. If by desperate trick he does get away, he is pursued by those who are afraid to let anyone be alone, the collegiate Rotarians.

We believe there are many cases in this college of vital personal traits that had to be substituted because of sensitive horror of college life. It offers little encouragement to the sensitive. It is unfatally insists on immediate and complete conformity. As usual, conformity means the level of the lowest, or the level of a low antecedents, religious affiliations and intelligence of those participating in the polls. But it is interesting to consider how this affects the kind of values that students hold, and the current we will think with sorrow of the students of this college.

Don't be sorry, we didn't mean to preach a sermon,—but we do want you to vote.

STRAW BALLOT

Privacy

We are printing below an editorial from the Tuft's Weekly, which is a fine expression of certain thoughts which come to each one of us at odd moments during our four years of college life. May you find a little time and solitude in which to think about it.

College Life offers no privacy. For the man or woman who, in his or her dreams, would be a monarch of the world, in college life is a nightmare. It is too true, of course, that there are such people in the community. Worse for the community if there were not. College is, or is supposed to be, a school of public relations. It is to prepare students to be efficient members of society. Education—the knowledge means to lead out of one’s utmost the possibilities that lie there. Who wants, and who has the least chance, to discover his innermost secret self in a daily round of noisy dormitory, clinging dining hall, busy campus, and feverish fraternity house.

There is absolutely no place in this college, with all its offers, where a man may be quietly alone with himself. If by desperate trick he does get away, he is pursued by those who are afraid to let anyone be alone, the collegiate Rotarians.

We believe there are many cases in this college of vital personal traits that had to be substituted because of sensitive horror of college life. It offers little encouragement to the sensitive. It is unfatally insists on immediate and complete conformity. As usual, conformity means the level of the lowest, or the level of a low antecedents, religious affiliations and intelligence of those participating in the polls. But it is interesting to consider how this affects the kind of values that students hold, and the current we will think with sorrow of the students of this college.

Don't be sorry, we didn't mean to preach a sermon,—but we do want you to vote.

STRAW BALLOT

Privacy

We are printing below an editorial from the Tuft's Weekly, which is a fine expression of certain thoughts which come to each one of us at odd moments during our four years of college life. May you find a little time and solitude in which to think about it.

College Life offers no privacy. For the man or woman who, in his or her dreams, would be a monarch of the world, in college life is a nightmare. It is too true, of course, that there are such people in the community. Worse for the community if there were not. College is, or is supposed to be, a school of public relations. It is to prepare students to be efficient members of society. Education—the knowledge means to lead out of one’s utmost the possibilities that lie there. Who wants, and who has the least chance, to discover his innermost secret self in a daily round of noisy dormitory, clinging dining hall, busy campus, and feverish fraternity house.

There is absolutely no place in this college, with all its offers, where a man may be quietly alone with himself. If by desperate trick he does get away, he is pursued by those who are afraid to let anyone be alone, the collegiate Rotarians.

We believe there are many cases in this college of vital personal traits that had to be substituted because of sensitive horror of college life. It offers little encouragement to the sensitive. It is unfatally insists on immediate and complete conformity. As usual, conformity means the level of the lowest, or the level of a low antecedents, religious affiliations and intelligence of those participating in the polls. But it is interesting to consider how this affects the kind of values that students hold, and the current we will think with sorrow of the students of this college.

Don't be sorry, we didn't mean to preach a sermon,—but we do want you to vote.

STRAW BALLOT

Privacy

We are printing below an editorial from the Tuft's Weekly, which is a fine expression of certain thoughts which come to each one of us at odd moments during our four years of college life. May you find a little time and solitude in which to think about it.

College Life offers no privacy. For the man or woman who, in his or her dreams, would be a monarch of the world, in college life is a nightmare. It is too true, of course, that there are such people in the community. Worse for the community if there were not. College is, or is supposed to be, a school of public relations. It is to prepare students to be efficient members of society. Education—the knowledge means to lead out of one’s utmost the possibilities that lie there. Who wants, and who has the least chance, to discover his innermost secret self in a daily round of noisy dormitory, clinging dining hall, busy campus, and feverish fraternity house.

There is absolutely no place in this college, with all its offers, where a man may be quietly alone with himself. If by desperate trick he does get away, he is pursued by those who are afraid to let anyone be alone, the collegiate Rotarians.

We believe there are many cases in this college of vital personal traits that had to be substituted because of sensitive horror of college life. It offers little encouragement to the sensitive. It is unfatally insists on immediate and complete conformity. As usual, conformity means the level of the lowest, or the level of a low antecedents, religious affiliations and intelligence of those participating in the polls. But it is interesting to consider how this affects the kind of values that students hold, and the current we will think with sorrow of the students of this college.

Don't be sorry, we didn't mean to preach a sermon,—but we do want you to vote.
Aspiring discus Intercollegiate circles is doomed to recept positions with Kresge during the now with Krestje's in "Detroit where he the customary five points. One's shoes, mnv regularly contribute being accosted on all sides by several sports in one season. Modifications, the adoption of the sport is tossing crates and boxes instead of Tufts assisted by Francis Purinton is evidence next spring. Coach Oeorge tion from the racquet wielders. Mentions tennis is claiming plenty of at- Word comes from "Babe" Adams Romeo Houle. saucer sealer supreme, With the opening of the fall tourna- Breed ability knows few peers among the event was run off. None of the diamond The second year niin «how-
Bates Bobcats Yield Hard Fight Brought to Page Two

Inexperience and Lack of Weight in Shooting Factors in Defeat

Coach Finn is proud of the fine show of his game, but was chagrined to see the famous undefeated Hebron citizens to 157 losses in a row. All the same he was not discouraged by the Big Force to a standard the first quarter, but his men showed up in the rest of the game. The Hebron force came well into the third quarter by off-table plays which procured the only point of the game.

The difference of the two teams was manifested Hebron theirs was a hustling defense in every single section.

Bates guards, Marsden and Long, both two years, and the tall walks were taken over by Reeves and Phillips. These three were going to make the Big Force to be checked, but they did not have enough men in the line back to nip the Bates guard, 157. The line of the Hebron force was amazing as they were so much in the same line back.

The Beginner completed several re and made all the passes the Bates back was up to, and the other. The first one of the two teams was given the advantage of the Hebron force.

The Bates back was up to, and the other. The first one of the two teams was given the advantage of the Hebron force.

"Why," said Father Shea, who appeared to be in a hurry, "you haven't proclaimed anything!"

"No," said O'Rourke, "but—"

"Let's hear nothing but murder—" said O'Rourke.

"No," said O'Rourke. "but—"

"Well, you haven't committed murder, have you?"

"But, oh, then, by a few prayers of Father Shea, who wasthickness place in the first of the trials and third in the finals. This was the best mark ever run by a Bates back, and it was a victory for the Bates back in the full sense of the word."

Bates

HERRICK

Ratzer, 11, J. Murphy, E. Murphy

Atwood, Herbert, 11, J. Murphy, E. Murphy, 11, J. Murphy, E. Murphy

Calderwood, Wes, 1, J. Murphy, E. Murphy

Mardell, Charles, 1, J. Murphy, E. Murphy

Marsden, Charles, 1, J. Murphy, E. Murphy

McDonald, Albert, 1, J. Murphy, E. Murphy

How, Albert, 11, J. Murphy, E. Murphy

Hollingsworth, 8, J. Murphy, E. Murphy

Hart, Bert, 11, J. Murphy, E. Murphy

Smyth, Marc, 11, J. Murphy, E. Murphy

McKee, Cyril, 11, J. Murphy, E. Murphy

Sweet, Bert, 11, J. Murphy, E. Murphy

Hogan, Mike, 11, J. Murphy, E. Murphy

Flaherty, Jim, 11, J. Murphy, E. Murphy

Chaplin, Joe, 11, J. Murphy, E. Murphy

Chaplin, Joe, 11, J. Murphy, E. Murphy

Bates 6 5 0—12

Touchdowns: Power, Hart, Referee.

"There's nothing like combining business with a pleasant social event," said the tailor's daughter as she lovingly waved the fan in her lover's face. "A good one!"

Recommended by the English Department of Bates College

WEBSTER'S COLLEGIATE
The Best Abbreviated Dictionary—Based Upon

Massachusetts Aggies

Factors in Defeat

His next important victory was at the Harvard Stadium he finished first in the 3000-meter run. He was a victory for the Bates back in the full sense of the word.

Bates Grad on Campus

For a Day's Visit

(Continued on Page 1)

Operates with a minimum of profit to Serve the Students of Bates

TUFTS BROTHERS Printers

Rubber Stamp Manufacturers

293 Middle Street

Bates College

LEWISTON, MAINE

We Solicit the Business of Bates Students

The College Store

LaFlame

PHOTOGRAPHS FOR

WILLIAM J. WHITE CO.

417 Bates Street

AUBURN, MAINE

We are a member of the Bates Students of

ARTISTIC MEMORIALS

James P. Murphy Co.

New Line of Lighter" after 5 years, a leader in the field of plating, and as such was in great demand. He was a great leader in the field of plating, and as such was in great demand. He was a great leader in the field of plating, and as such was in great demand. He was a great leader in the field of plating, and as such was in great demand.

His next important victory was at the Harvard Stadium he finished first in the 3000-meter run. He was a victory for the Bates back in the full sense of the word.

Bates Grad on Campus

For a Day's Visit

(Continued on Page 1)