NEW TYPE OF DEBATE TO BE INITIATED ON CAMPUSS

Oregon System Closely Resembles Courtroom Procedure

Vermont to Conduct Prosecution, Bates has Defense

Judge Henry W. Oakes of Auburn to Preside

Monday evening marks the advent of a new kind of debate on the Bates campus.

In the Oregon System, which, while its bitterest heretics have been accused of being a "breeze-up," a "hot air bag," a "cherry-pick," and a host of other evil designations, a debate conducted by this plan closely resembles the kind of courtroom procedure followed in the Oregon system. Each team has a witness, who presents the entire constructive case for his side. Each witness is in turn examined by a lawyer from the opposing side, who for twenty minutes or more, by skillful questioning, is to bring to light certain facts damaging to the constructive case presented by the witness. The debate is concluded; for each side is bound down to a given number of witness statements, and the rejection of the claims made by the opposition is the terminus of the argument.

The subject for this debate in Bates is: "Is the Oregon System of debate an improvement in collegiate work?" With that question debated, the witness for the prosecution will be called upon to present his case in behalf of the system. The opposition will then be allowed to examine this witness, who will then be cross-examined by the prosecution. The opposition will then present his case, and the prosecution will then be allowed to examine this witness, who will then be cross-examined by the opposition. The subject for this debate is: "Is the Oregon System of debate an improvement in collegiate work?"

Junior Co-eds

Dance to-night

About thirty couples will be in attendance at the Junior dance to be held this evening in the "C" room of Chase Hall, from 7:15 to 10:30.

Professor Walmsley, Mr. Lane, Miss White and Mr. Thompson will play. The committee in charge of the Junior dance consists of Helen Grady, Dorothy Tilton, and Gladys Young.

CASTS FOR 4A CLUB

First Plays Chosen

Three One-Act Episodes

To be Shown Dec. 14

The streetwise, first-year man in the 4A Club, last Wednesday evening a half hour of incisive, realistic drama, was the tribute to the fresh faced thinking of the new men to who, by the strength of their convictions, are now leading the advance of their club. The floor was smooth, and everyone entered into the spirit of the play and cooperated fully with the director of the play, Mr. Walmsley, without whose direction and encouragement, it is almost certain that the affair would not have been a success. It must be remembered that all of the plays were written and produced by students, and that the understanding of the play, combined with the active cooperation of the entire cast, brought the play to a successful conclusion. The plays were produced in the French Hall, from 7:15 to 10:30.

PREPARATIONS UNDER WAY FOR ANNUAL Y. W. BAZAAR

Committee in Charge Adopt Novel Plan for 1928 Affair

To Change Chase Hall into Typical Railroad Station

Lunch Counter and Fruit Stand among Features

A very clever and effective plan for the T. W. Bazaar, December 3, has been adopted this year by the committee in charge. Chase Hall is to be converted into a typical railroad waiting station with all its characteristics and equipment. Each class is to have a booth in the station; the sociable, a florist shop in charge of Evelyn Wilks and Helen Hobbs, the Juniors, a huckster shop in charge of Mildred Northrup, and the Sophomores, a ticket booth (grab bag) in charge of Ethel Travers. In addition to these many of the other functions of a railroad waiting station are to be carried on by different groups; the faculty ladies to see to the lunch counter under the supervision of Mrs. Macdonald aided by Viola Smith, '28, the Annuals have charge of the beauty shop, and Miss Carter, '29, will keep the order in the soda fountain. The music for the affair will be furnished by a group of music students, and the singing will be done by the students under the direction of the Senior class. The entrance to the Bazaar will be by means of a ticket which the students will receive at the frosty weather breakfasts and will be good for all days of the affair.

Speak on Orient

The fact that Major Hayes A. Kroner, a military attache in the American Legation in Peking, China, is able to speak in such an interesting manner as to hold a good attendance at a lecture on China, suggests that he is well qualified to do so. His lecture was given at the Bates College Chapel on Wednesday, November 14, and was very well received by the students.

It was noted that the lecture was well received, and it is hoped that Major Kroner will be able to give similar lectures in the future.

For his ability to speak Chinese fluently, and in particular, his knowledge of the Orient, Major Kroner is very well qualified to speak on China tonight. His lecture was very interesting and well received by the students.

"IS THE TENDENCY OF MODERN ADVERTISING DEPLORABLE?"

New Style of Debate Introduced

The Women's Athletic Board which directs and controls the various events and activities held its regular meeting Friday, November 14. At this time the different matters pertaining to the regulations of tennis and hockey, two of the more prominent members of the board, were brought before the board. These matters were brought before the board. The committee in charge of the light tennis movement, Captain Karl Cahalan, Benedict, and Jimmy Delauer, tossed the coin to get the higher score. Captain Viles, Chesley, and Hobbs arc a trio of New Hampshire and Bates, should meet in New England, when so much depends on them. Lindsey, Hobbs, and Viles are the hands of Maine a few days ago, the other feature, and the shoe shine stand...
We all hear a great deal of talk about the activities of college students as a group in national and local events. Many hours of the time which they have been in school have been spent in computing the ratio of college students to the population. These have been worked out, for instance, to be 1,300 students per year in advance. In the years past Mr. Cutts, the editor of the Bates College Record, has had a good many of the Bates records. The Bates College Record, ingresar to the Bates College, is the official organ of the students of Bates College. It is published weekly, and the general policy of the paper is under the control of the Editor-in-Chief. As you can see, Mr. Cutts has been doing this for a good many years now, and he has always worked hard to carry on the paper to the best of his ability.

But we are pleased to notice that the College has passed a new law this season. By New Student Services, when after dinner, we used to head for the old sofa, and there before the fire. Entirely oblivious to all that was going on around us, moving with the glowing heat of the big base burner, and the principle means of training during the winter season. The string of accounts for the past five years.

"Wear no goggles. Walk about locally, and don't look in to get that Midnight Oil effect."

"Wear a 'Slaughter House' (regular) cloth cap."

"How something right is painted on your face, it will take a lot of work to get under that Midnight Oil effect."

"For University of Vermont students are to divide itself into a number of cliques in the accomplishment of their social obligations. They include representatives of many, and sometimes of all, of the campus organizations."

"There is nothing in the world so important as a college man's opinion. He has to let the slide cross the road and get on the road."

A Short History of Parker Hall

By Mortie Bills

It was in the summer of 1857. Maine State Seminary was a year. For the first time in the institution's history, the faculty had been called to the campus for the opening of classes. Parker Hall was planted and Rev. Cheney, Rev. Knowlton, with the aid of scores of other workers, tried to have the building ready for the opening of school. In speaking of that time, Pussy, Cheney said in his retiring address: "Parker Hall was a small dollar, a first step in a movement in Lewiston to establish a college... Not building any parrison, but building a church and students. The room in Parker Hall now used by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Whitbeck, Miss Hazel Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Sipprell, Miss Elsie Badger as "Minnehaha", William Hull, "Sitting Bull", and Rev. Cheney imperilled their lives. Money, even at the rate of twelve per cent, was not to be had for its own sake, and only for love, so far as we know. Yet, and brings the best and most modern expression at Newton Theological Seminary, Boston, from which he graduated in 1890 and where he later received an honorary degree of Master in Divinity for a time and at Yale Divinity School from 1894 to 1897. Johnson, Secor and Mahler Star for Bates

Clinging wildly across Gannett Field last Monday, Amosett Day, the White Mule was forced to punt into the goal post and then plunged for gains, and Secor threw most of the forwards in addition to hitting the line. The Bobcats strove to make by the Bobcats, let it be said who was the last Bates man to face Mahler and his best to give the Bates.

The Juniors' forwards worked well in the second period, placing the ball on Bates' seven yard line. The Mule backs eluded the secondary defense without a fumble and a Colby penalty, Johnson advanced 11 yards for first down. After a Bates fumble, O'Donovan went through the inner defense, one half of the football championship was over. The White Mule, flaunting his best game of the season, advanced 39 yards after a run of 24 and Maher intercepted a forward and the ball was over on the fourth down. The place kick was high and did not travel far. The Mule backs broke through to roll up the score.

The Bobcats' hopes intercepted a pass, and Donovan panted. "Bunny" Bornstein was forced to punt. Appleby broke through and held Colby for nothing. An exchange of passes followed, and Bates seven yard line. The Mule backs advanced for a score. Donovan panted.

The Bobcats' hopes intercepted a pass, and Donovan panted. After several forwards were tried, Colby intercepted one for Colby's 45 yard marker before he was stopped. The Bates line held and the game was over. The White Mule, overcoming the Bobcats, let it be said who was the last Bates man to face Mahler and his best to give the Bates.

GAME little "Bunny" Bornstein, playing for Bates. The Bates line held and the game was over. The White Mule, overcoming the Bobcats, let it be said who was the last Bates man to face Mahler and his best to give the Bates.

Lest we forget... Flags and music and applause nothing was too good for our young marching men those stirring war-time days.

Our young men came back—most of them. Among those who came back are living in peace and comfort today. But nearly 30,000 of them are sick and disabled—in hospitals under the care of the Veteran's Bureau. They need many things that our laws won't allow our government to give. And those things are furnished by the American Red Cross.

The Red Cross never forgets. It cares for the ill or wounded veteran as "The Greatest Mother in the World." The Red Cross never forgets... let us not forget the Red Cross. Let us respond to the Red Cross Roll Call NOW—"Lest we forget".
