GARNET MAKES LAST STAND FOR STATE TITLE TOMORROW

Loss will definitely put Bates Icebirds Out of the Running, but Army Victory Has Given Team new Hope.

Game Promises to Be One of Season's Fastest

Bates takes on Colby in her fourth battle this season. In the previous three, Colby, the defending champions, scored 3-2 wins against Bates two weeks ago ended in a 3-2 tie after a few hours of play. This time around, both teams have yet to win their first victory game.

The standing so far has declared Colby as the most hopeful of the two. The Bates Boys have handled Colby twice and Colby was able to score a commanding lead for state honors. The Garnet has yet to return from a triple trip during which time they lost both games.

Bates Boys have turned out in their finest form, and the team is ready to take on Colby. Bates Boys have never lost a game against Colby, and they are determined to prove their worth this time around.

SOPH, DEBATERS CHOSEN FOR PRIZE CONTEST

A group of six were selected from the 13 sophomores eligible for the prize. One of the difficulties will be the lack of a sufficient number of debaters.

The six who were chosen are (in alphabetical order) Jeanne O'Connor, Isabel Glick, Wendell Harlow, Jeanette Stack, Alice Eastman, and Dorothy Wood. They will meet at Colby this weekend, and the debate will be held at the college.

There is still hope for Bates Boys to come out victorious, and they will continue to play their best in this opportunity.

Debate Trials for Freshmen Next Tuesday

Next Tuesday afternoon those who would like to compete in the debate will have the opportunity. The trials will be held in the gymnasium.

Miss Blouin is Speaker at 4-A's

Little Theatre Movement is Subject of Talk

The regular meeting of the 4-A's took place Monday evening at the Woman's Club. Miss Blouin, who is a member of this organization, spoke on the subject of Little Theatre.

Miss Blouin mentioned the recent production of "Arms and the Man." She discussed the casting of this play, the acting, and the overall production. She also briefly touched on the upcoming season and what is to come.

She mentioned that the group is looking forward to a successful season and that they are excited to bring new works to the stage.

The meeting concluded with a discussion of upcoming productions and plans for future meetings.

Bates to Send Three Teams to B.A.A. Relays

Two-mile Team is Best Bet

As the college is looking forward to the upcoming track season, it will be interesting to see how the teams perform. Bates Boys have shown promise in the past and are expected to do well.

The track meet is scheduled for next week, and the teams will be traveling to the meet. The meet will consist of various events, including sprints, hurdles, and long jumps.

Everything possible has been done to make this track meet a success. Bates Boys have been practicing hard, and the coaches are confident in their team's ability to perform well.

SHAW'S "ARMS AND THE MAN" TO BE PRESENTED MON. AND TUES. BY VARIETY PLAYERS

J. Stewart Bigelow and Faith Blake hold Leading Roles in Annual Presentation. Miss Blouin, Bates Graduate, Coaches Exceptionally Well Balanced Cast

The Bates Faculty's Round Table heard its annual Guest Night Friday last evening, at the reading of "Arms and the Man." The many guests who attended with pleasure to hear the debate of their own sex were presented with the production of the Variety Players.

The production was directed by Prof. R. H. Hamblett, and the students present at the trials, it was decided to hold one mixed debate this year, instead of separate debates for men and women.

Miss Alice Blouin, who is coaching the Little Theatre Movement, was the guest of honor at the trials. She spoke of the importance of Little Theatre in the lives of students.

The play is a social comedy, written by J. B. Bury, and directed by Prof. R. H. Hamblett. The production is set for next spring, and the cast is being selected now.

The play is set in a small village in Sicily, and the story revolves around the lives of the inhabitants. The play is a classic of modern British theatre, and it is sure to be a hit with Bates Boys.

The play will be presented on Monday and Tuesday of next week, and the Variety Players are working hard to put on a memorable performance.

Disco Mixed by Television Host

The Variety Players have hired a professional disc jockey to mix the music for the evening. The disc jockey, who is a local favorite, will be playing a mix of popular hits and classical pieces.

The performance is sure to be a hit with Bates Boys, and it is sure to be a memorable experience for all who attend.

All in all, the Bates Faculty's Round Table has presented a night filled with entertainment and excitement. With the Variety Players' production of "Arms and the Man," Bates Boys have much to look forward to in the coming weeks.

Unfortunately we referred in the last column this week to "the most difficult player in the game". It could have been more accurate to say that perhaps, when persons were accustomed to reckon things in terms of college generations, the word "recently" might be taken to mean something less than a year. As a matter of fact, Bates has enjoyed the highest rating for many years, and has been on the Carnegie Foundation list since 1907—a record of which any like college may be proud.

The Conning Tower

Ed. Milk, Editor

We are curious to know just what happened to "Bates University", as described by our rambler, gathering the hearts of the students and reciting the following splendid oration: "Whether it be the hope that the glee club will find its way to the concert hall, or the hope that the glee club will find its way to the concert hall, we all feel that there should be more opportunities for the students of Bates College to enjoy the arts and sciences of our country."

There's a punch in the Man with the Rainbow, it is said, is rather a bad dream. It is the result of a long, arduous, and laborious effort to make the man live for the next generation and not for himself. The man who lives for the next generation is not a good man, but a bad man.

Sophs Defeat Younger in Track

The summaries:

Frosh Win from Canton

The Frosh hockey team easily outclassed a brilliantly uniformed Canton side on the ice at Fountain Street yesterday morning. The game was over in the first period.

Israel Winner

Saratoga backs could not stop the Frosh. victory would indicate that this year's frosh teams will be a point winner in the coming track season.

At Boston Feb. 9th, The Frosh and Sophs will play against each other in a short track tourney in the gym of each school. The Frosh gave the Sophs a close run in last Saturday and showed especial strength in the field events. Those Frosh however will not be eligible forVarsity standing until after mid-year. In spite of the loss of last year's champion the Frosh has still some good men who some day will be the winners in the broad jump and in running the 100 yard dash. "B.A. is outstanding and the shot put but a shadow by com-parison to keeping him from a good per-formance. The hurdlers are all great except Kilburne. Qualler and Norton who are just as good as the others. In the chin-ups is known of the strength of the Portland boys but the determinacy of last year's Frosh, wickher would indicate that this year's Frosh is all Freshman."
