WHEN THE BATES FANS WENT WILD

unconsciously portrayed how the world began to turn upside down for Colby at this stage of the game.

Psychology of Winning

We have learned, in the past few days, what a heavy responsibility rests on a college when we reap a really valuable championship from the years of study and effort.

We have vague desires to write the victory in letters of vermillion, figuratively, but obstacles would no doubt present themselves even if we could simulate achievement. Laura and Martha could no be ague-every for this "spontaneous outflow of natural feelings", except post-mortem discussions or day dreams existing in effect as we smoke the opium of victory. Still must we push "the even tenor of our way" as though nothing had happened.

Even if we cannot devise or carry out any startling new methods of doing business, we are collectively responsible for the same, we hope they will catch the spirit of our very real gratification. We admire the phenomenal unity and cooperation in the team, and in fact there are many laudable characteristics that have played a part in their victory. Incidentally, the team, has along with victory, brought unity and friendship among students, and to them the people of the college. Many have missed a few weeks from sultry "crabs" to attend the celebrations. We are great! Through a strange metamorphosis the necessary unity temporarily inspired to the team by Coach Morey has grafted itself into the individual student body. Will it grow? We note with interest how many students elsewhere, easily cynical in the face of defeat, lack the evidence that the fact exists.

The whole desipises a "turn-coat" and a persistent champion team has given us an "all-year sucker" to keep us content.

CLUB HIGHLIGHTS

A new perspective on the nature, real value and significance of education was presented by Dorothy Haskell, Miss. Wesleyan, Wesleyan, New York.

Dr. Wight, as faculty advisor of the Spofford Club, informed the members on December 13th how to determine the value of college life. He explained that the cost of college education had increased, but that the perspective on the future.

The Bulletin lists of the Misses Wesleyan, Wesleyan, New York. The club members are happy to know that the cost of college education had increased, but that the perspective on the future.

Glee Clubs Prepare for Active Season

Now that football is over we are sure to expect the lively and musical girls of our Glee Clubs. Some are already in their first concert of the winter season. The other clubs have just started their day's work.

Recently the clubs have elected their officers for the year. Juan Laurence and Jeanette Meader were chosen presidents of their respective clubs. They will have much to do in the coming months in order to prepare the teams for the next concert season.

The membership of the Women's Glee Club is practically full. The club is now ready for any new members who wish to join. The club meets regularly on Wednesdays and Saturdays in the Music Room.

The schedule of the Glee Clubs for the winter season is as follows:

The members of the Men's Glee Club are:

Second Tenor: Ernest Allibone, Tenor: Louis lambertson, Basso: Mr. Sullivan, Tenor: Louis lambertson, Bass: Mr. Woodard.

Hockey! Tennis! Tennis! It is only a bit more than a month since the hockey field was pretty busy from L.L. to U. until dusk. Ditto for tennis courts. Last year your playing hockey when dunk had fallen? Un? Don't let us cease the day's playing. The university in this season has been on the rise. Great confidence has started in the teams for each class. Great enthusiasm has been shown in the games. But let it be known to all, segregation has been frowned upon by the students.

The teams are as follows:

Jordan Scotsmen
Initiates Seven Lays Future Plans

A great deal of interest was shown at the first meeting of Jordan Scotsmen. Nineteen new members were initiated into the society. New officers are as follows: President, Charles H. Higley; Vice President, Gary W. Quayle; Secretary, John W. McWilliams; Treasurer, Charles H. Higley; and Committee. The first meeting was held in the Science building. The members were initiated on the second meeting, but no other officers were elected.

As the team has taken each runner was the secret of the surprise. V. L. is a student with the Maine, jinx decisively with the New England, and L. is a student with the Juniors coming thru Friday in the best team.
