4 A PLAYERS WILL CLOSE SEASON WITH A SHAKESPEAREAN COMEDY

"Twelfth Night" to be Presented Tomorrow Night and Friday, Seniors May Landa and A. C. Wright.
Professor Robinson Directs Production

The final production of the A Play art drama season will take place on Thursday and Friday nights at 8:15. This time, Uncle John, credit to Professor N. M. Robinson and the truth to the truth in which they work for their own art, will be presented with a Shakespearean comedy, "Twelfth Night." A large audience is expected, and the students' acting will be a real inspiration to them.

The play will be presented by the Bards, the university's oldest dramatic society, and directed by Dr. E. G. Weathered. The cast will consist of seniors, juniors, and sophomores, and the production will be given in the University Auditorium.

Fire Threatens Thornacrag Cabin Woodland Burned

Bates Students Respond Well But Assistance Not Necessary

The fire that threatened Thornacrag Cabin, the home of the Bakewell brothers, was averted by the quick action of the students who were present at the cabin. They worked hard to extinguish the fire, and the situation was saved. However, the students who were present were able to save the cabin from being destroyed.

By John Fuller

It took only seven minutes, fifty-two and seven-tenths seconds for the Bates relay team to win the National Championship and thus is a moment to win honor for themselves and for Bates. The small group of students who made the big point to Philadelphia were more than repaid for their long and in some cases arduous trip, when "Capt. Ohio" Chapman broke the tape going away from the field and looking back to see what his margin was. As a matter of fact he beat Ohio State by more than 10 yards, with Hallowell of Harvard a good third. The race itself proved perfect since they worked with everything looking like a clock. Norman Cole started for the Kemper in third place from the pole. He was off fast, but caught in a mixed-up on the first corner, stumbled, nearly fell, but gained speed and won an easy victory. Chapman set a time of 1:50. His main objective was the national championship and he had it. Chapman set a time of 1:50. His main objective was the national championship and he had it. promise for the future as far as Bates is concerned. What the student body are as follows:

... family and tradition and inter-collegiate prestige are of prime importance to the faculty and to the administration of the college. It is the purpose of this column to present the views of the faculty and the administration on the matter of initiation at Bates, and if so, why.

There are many of us who are in college at present who have the desire to create personal enmity. The fall of San Jose State doesn't stay long, and we'll bet you're working for a white day! Maybe they aren't working for a white day!

WOMEN ACTIVITIES

W. A. A. NEWS

So many of the girls have expressed a desire to learn the use of the ping pong table that W. A. A. is going to have one brought over and set up in the gym this year. There are already a beautiful game and a paddle tennis court in the gym and these games ought to provide plenty of activity on nice days when the tennis courts are not available.

Four new paddle tennis courts have been constructed on the site of one of the girls courts of last year. The outdoor courts promise to be even more popular than the indoor ones which have been a great deal of activity this year.

In order that there may be no misunderstanding, we are printing the rules for these. Those who have obtained their handbooks can use this copy for reference.

Challenge Rules:
1. If a player misses a return and the opponent fails to net the ball, the player may not receive the next ball served. Challenge must then be accepted.
2. If interrupted in a challenge with three or more games left to play, girls may continue as at the last delay. (If there are less than three games to be played, they must either be finished or, if new set is played later, challenge must be accepted and slips reversed.
3. A challenge must not be accepted from a person whose game you have played within the last forty-eight hours.
4. No challenge may be accepted until after the first set is played off. In case of tie in ability to play match the next day, challenge must be cancelled and slips reversed.

Bates Girls Attend Stu. G. Conference
At Univ. of Maine

Last Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, three Batesans, Charlotte, Betsy, Rat, and William Bostrom attended the annual conference of the Women's Student Government Association at the University of Maine. All of the coeducational colleges of Maine were represented.

The meetings were attended by representatives from Wellesley, Smith, and Vassar. The girls said they had rarely seen a greater display of talent and interest in college work and that they gained many valuable suggestions from these conferences.

TALKING OVER THE PENNS.

Put up the steaks,—no, no! hang them up, you know. Jolly lads have been hanging them up for the past two days. They have changed the older boy, and let everybody down. There is no such thing as hanging up the meat, and doing it right. Coach Thompson's hard-working and testing meat for his next project, and has brought back his "little black book." Now, naturally, no one knows what advantage he will get from this policy. The secret of the meat is not yet known, and no one can tell when it may be used.

Jimmy Cole worked in a night club he will be watched with interest. If he is a success, the avalanche. Once fell in on the football team, but not expected that the box score of the National title, can long maintain its educational school of 600 pupils that baseball, football, tennis, or poker as our ears. The men continued with their Bates students afford this monchalant & haps not yet out of the high-school ship on Dave's part, and a supreme to travel with the team on the condition experience of watching Osie outrance the one but a dyed-in-the-wool college man of the favorites to give Chapman a turn to keep the team well up in the after all, the best thing we can say about the runners is that we will never.—

Start Practice For Tennis Candidates First Match May 9

MEET COLBY HERE

Tennis prospects this year are as good as for several seasons and Bates is looking forward to a successful campaign. About twenty candidates, including those of last year's usually, are expected to enter this year. Coach Thompson's team is sure to be the strongest and freshest in the state, but no one knows what advantage he will get from this policy. The secret of the meat is not yet known, and no one can tell when it may be used.

The town and Brown Wednesday afternoon and Friday and Sunday, beginning with 10 hits against the Bobcats' three general by Barry, Casco, and Jondrohs. Bobcat, the Bobcat lead-off, was finished third base but was only the one so far as the game's going.

BATES-RHODE ISLAND

A rally with three runs in the first inning ended Rhode Island State by a score of 9-0. Bates led for two runs, and the game was ended in the eighth inning. Anderson placed a fine game up to the eighth inning. Bates-Boston University

Cooper after 9 a. m. in the eighth inning scored Bates State to Cuba by a score of 5-0. By H. M. Cooper, the Maine boy, was finished at both bases, with six runs to defeat Bates 8-0. Runs—Jukins 2, Picard 2, Sheeban, Beaudry, and Capp, 1 each. Batting average: .300.

As usual Shakespeare Night was held on March 9. The whole school was divided into the "Romeo and Juliet" and "Hamlet" parties. The "Hamlet" party performed the play while the "Romeo and Juliet" party performed the music. The two parties then met and performed the play together. The performance was a great success and the audience was much entertained.

The Bobcats will be on the court here, and Bates will be watched with interest. If he is a success, the avalanche. We mean, pass around the ticket table and the Juniors are expected to fight out of place here to pay tribute to Coach Thompson, Chippman, Visa, Linde, and Capp, who have been absent from the field all season, and without whom the team would have been hard put to it to travel with the team on the condition experience of watching Osie outrance the one but a dyed-in-the-wool college man of the favorites to give Chapman a turn to keep the team well up in the after all, the best thing we can say about the runners is that we will never.
