The Bobcat bill and duels opened their season Saturday with a 15-0 victory over Northeastern at Franklin Field, Boston. The game was a perfect score.

The route opened with Vibes and Whitten taking the lead closely followed by Groody of Northwestern. The rest of the opening five was, however, not fast for the Bobcats, as the Boston runners and they began to lose with a wind. Vibes then, in addition to his own mark, had been passed the entire Bates team was placed in the lead of their leader's leading. Vibes and Whitten still held the lead at the half, with the figures of 2 for Vibes and 1 for Whitten.

Although the defense was not unbeatable

It was a great body of almost all who went against the Bates team saw the minute that Vibes and Whitten crossed the line in hand and hung up a perfect score.

The Opposition

The opposition to the New Deal has expanded today with the announcement of the progessives in the Senate. Under President Roosevelt's recent policy of public works and the New Deal, there has been a split in the major political parties. Therefore, it is best expressed in the following: "The opposition to the New Deal is by the Progressives in the Senate."

In the Senate, there are two groups of opposition: the progressives and the conservatives. The progressives believe in a strong federal government that will address the problems of the depression and promote economic growth. On the other hand, the conservatives believe in a smaller federal government that will allow the states to take care of their own problems. The progressives have argued that the New Deal is a step in the right direction, but the conservatives have opposed it on the grounds that it is too much government intervention in the economy.

The opposition to the New Deal affects both candidates in the upcoming election. The progressives have endorsed Franklin Delano Roosevelt for the Democratic nomination, while the conservatives have supported Alfred M. Smith for the Democratic nomination. The progressive candidates are expected to be stronger in the states with large urban populations, where the New Deal policies have been more popular. The conservative candidates are expected to do better in the rural areas, where the New Deal policies have been less popular.

In conclusion, the opposition to the New Deal is by the Progressives in the Senate. It is a split within the Democratic Party that will have a significant impact on the upcoming election.
PHIL-HELLENIC HAS INITIATION

The Phil Heleneic initiation ceremony was held in the second floor of the Hazard Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock.

The officers of the initiation, Misses Grace Driscoll, Grace Page, and Gladys Underwood, were in charge of the arrangements for the evening. We are all grateful for their efforts to the end that the ceremony may go off satisfactorily.

Dr. H. C. Mellen, Professor of Greek, was the after dinner speaker. His speech was lively and interesting. The brothers of the Phil-Hel group in the junior year were on hand to welcome their new members to the club. The music was furnished by the glee club and the dance music was played by the orchestra of the Phil-Hel group.

FRESHMEN GIRLS ATTEND “SCHOOL” FOR INITIATION

New Girls Become Members Of Stu. G. Humor

Not a basketball game or a paddling tournament willرار the occasion of the annual Freshmen meeting of the Stu. G. Humor this Thursday night. Rather, the initiative of the Freshmen was taken in the form of a study of initiation for the incoming women members of the organization.

Although the judge and jury were limited to the rather insensitive age of the freshman girls, the investigation was not unmindful of the seriousness of the occasion. The procedures of initiation were subjected to investigation by the Freshmen themselves, and even by some of the more degrading practices. Freshmen ceremonies were being held by John Smith.

Bates-Norwich

The first half was scoreless. The second half was marked by a display of skill and ability on the part of both teams. The first half was scored by Bates, who went on to win the game. The second half was scored by Norwich, who went on to win the game.

The outstanding player on the field was "Ollie" Borden, the flashy halfback. Drabovalski was the leader of the defensive line. Edwards, Ferry, rhb; Borden, qb; McClusky, Kogers, Aura, fb; Fullerton, Wilmot, Mayberry, Lund.

Due to the unusual interest shown in the game this year, the smaller and less-known aggregations were faced with the possibility of being overwhelmed by the larger schools. This was especially true of the higher and prep schools of the State. It was feared that this might result in a postponement at the last minute. How- ever, the freshmen did not let this affect their performance.

Freeman, the upperclassmen striving to win the championship for Captain Viles and McGraw, was in fine form. Carpenter, Sampson, Baron, King, and Butler, Raymond, Semotnuski, and D. Smith.

In the backfield Bates had two new men. Bornstein's two dashes in the last game were a bit of fool's luck, so the Bates fans and followers were hoping that the Bates team would do as well as they have been doing.
