"See Aroostook First" was the motto of the Bates Debates in a new home for the season.

"Dell" Luce '30 distributed the pro-motion which was perhaps the most effective, largely because it was not adapted to the needs of the occasion. Raymond Hollis did more than justice to the negative, and when they were not quite so happily chosen as in the previous debate, the affirmative side was perhaps the most effective, largely because it was adapted to the needs of the occasion.

The All-Maine team is an annual event, and the selection of the best performers from the state is considered a significant honor. The list includes not only the names of the players, but also a brief description of their contributions to the team.
